

A Sibling Survival Story

Chapter 1

"Jesus Christ Mom! Do I have to babysit him literally everywhere? Ben can do things on his own too you know? He isn't ten anymore!"

"Kaitlin please... It's only for today, once we are off the boat and at our hotel you can do whatever you want. Gosh, I really wonder what happened to you these last few years, when you were younger we always had to pull you two apart."

"Maybe that's because people grow up Mom! I'm fairly sure that Ben has his own interests now, just like I have my own!"

Ben sighed and threw himself into the conversation between his older sister and mother. "Just chill Kait, why don't we grab some drinks and go from there. I can legally drink here so why not enjoy it while we can, without getting shitfaced of course."

In the meantime, their father returned with the keys for their rooms and joined his wife's side. "Still going with this you two?" He asked before handing over the keys to his son and daughter. "Just get along this day would you? Your mother and I are going to get some sun on the outside deck so I would take that suggestion Ben spoke off."

"But Dad!" Responded Kaitlin loudly.

"No but's Kaitlin, for once can you not rebel against everything and just enjoy the start of your vacation? Your brother is going with you and that's final!" Answered their father with a sterner voice.

"Ugh! Fine! Come on Ben, let's grab those drinks, and I'm not so sure about not getting shitfaced anymore!" Said Kaitlin with an aggressive tone and walked off.

Ben shook his head and followed his sister with a steady pace.

Their parents watched them off before they started to laugh. "She really is just like you when you were younger darling... Daddy's little girl."

"Glad that I outgrew that period rather fast, thanks to a certain someone standing close to me..."

They then shared a short, but passionate kiss before going outside.

All the commotion had attracted the attention of a couple on the other side of the ship who were still closely following the two siblings.

"I think that we have you our targets... Let's get to work, shall we?"

Kaitlin and Benjamin Collins weren't always acting like they had now. They always were close together when they were younger, some might even say too close as they literally did and shared everything together. From hobbies to sports, to personal interests and tastes, they always were on the same line.

It all suddenly changed when Benjamin turned eighteen, Kaitlin became more and more distant to him as they grew older. Now at the ages of twenty and twenty-two they pretty much remained the same. Ben still has no idea what triggered his sister's drastic change of personality, was it something he did in the past? Or has Kaitlin her own personal reasons for trying to avoid her younger brother as much as possible?

Ben was determined to find out the reason behind it, and this very vacation they were on would reveal everything to him in the end.

"H...y w...k..e u... B....n! C...m..e o...n!"

Ben could vaguely hear a voice speaking to him as he tried to decipher the words that came from said voice. He noticed that he had trouble to come to his senses, he felt like he had been hit by a freight train head-on. Slowly he managed to open his eyes slightly, his hearing came back as well.

"Come on Ben! Wake up goddamnit!"

The same repeating words came from his very own sister, she was poking his face and shaking his body. Her words were chaotic and she sounded... Scared? When he opened his eyes further he was greeted with her flushed face, her dark-red colored ponytail swung from side to side and her light freckles lit up thanks to the bright light that surrounded them, Ben had to admit, his sister turned into a cute and attractive woman after reaching adulthood.

As his hearing returned further he was greeted with the ambience of their surroundings, he could hear waves quietly crashing together and sea-gulls chirping away high above them. Of course his sister's voice was the loudest of them all.

"K-Kait?" He mumbled as he felt her arms pulling him up into a sitting position. "Holy shit, it feels like somebody knocked me out, or somebody spiked our drinks with some very special stuff!"

"Seriously? The first think you do after waking up is making jokes?"
Asked Kaitlin slightly annoyed.

Ben noticed that her voice changed, it became softer, meaning that she had calmed down a little. "No really, what the hell happened to me... To us I guess, where are we? And are you okay too Kait?" Asked Ben.

"I have no idea; I woke up like twenty minutes ago next to you. It took me about ten minutes to get rid of the feeling and dizziness that you probably are going through now. After that I... I stayed with you, waiting for you to wake up." Spoke Kaitlin quietly as she scanned her eyes across the beach.

Ben reached her hand with his own and held his sister, he could feel her body reacting to him as their hands came together. "Thanks for looking after me Sis, I appreciate it."

"Y-Yeah... No problem." Mumbled his sister back to him without looking in his direction.

Ben started to scan their surroundings as well. It was clear that they were on some sort of beach, to the right of them a rounding with a large formation of big rocks that were stuck in the sand. To the left was a long extension of the beach with a lot of trees further inland. And in front of them the vast ocean with its blue, clear water and the hot burning sun that reflected off it.

"Looks like the pearl white beaches just as in the brochures that we went through before our vacation, only this one without all the accommodations and hordes of people that were on them." Said Ben as he stood up.

"First that stupid boat trip and now I'm stuck in the middle of nowhere with my little brother! Could this vacation get anymore fucked up as it is now?" Grumbled Kaitlin, her mood had apparently taken a quick one-eighty in the short time span.

"Keep that anger for when we need it, Kait. Let's check our surroundings, maybe we can find something useful." Said Ben to his sister, calm as usual. He knew how to handle her after all this time.

"Ugh! Whatever... Like we got anything better to do! I'll go left and you go right, okay?" Spoke Kaitlin.

Ben simply nodded to her and before they knew it they were on their way, scanning parts of the beach for goodies and useful stuff that they could use.

The only thing the siblings had in their possession at the moment were their clothes, or the lack of them in that matter. Ben only had his knee-length swimming trunks, his tank top and his sneakers. Kaitlin only had her two-piece bikini, daisy dukes and flip-flops.

As their searching continued Ben occasionally peeked towards his older sister to see what she was doing, this also gave him the time to check out her rather well-developed body. As a child he always had a crush on her for some reason, maybe because they were so alike and close together.

As mentioned before, his sister had grown up into a fine female specimen. Her body had all the right curves thanks to her healthy lifestyle, she clearly got the looks from their mother as she too was still a very good looking woman. Her breasts were full and perky, the top of the bikini perfectly folded around them, stretching the fabric a bit because of their voluptuous volume. Her plump, round ass was a sight to behold as well, especially while she was wearing her Daisy Dukes.

Suddenly Ben's dirty thoughts got interrupted by the voice of his rather attractive sister.

"Ben! Come over here, I found some sort of supply crate with a note attached to it!" She yelled into his direction.

He quickly made his way next to his sister who was busy removing the small note from between the cracks of the crate. The crate itself was about the size of a large suitcase.

"Let's see what it says." Said Kaitlin as she stood close besides her brother. She flipped open the folded note and read the words on it out loud.

"Survive, and find yourselves..."

Both siblings stood quiet for a while, taking in the words that were on the small piece of paper. It didn't take long before Kaitlin exploded into her pissed-off persona once more.

"Oh my god! What kind of bullshit is this cryptic shit! Does this person, or persons, get off to the thought of two people being stuck on some island? I bet we're being spied on this very moment!" Kaitlin then turned towards the jungle like area behind them. "Hey assholes! Stop jerking around and get us out of here!" She shouted as loud as possible.

Ben grabbed her by the arm and turned her around again. "Jesus Kait! Calm down would you! It's obvious that we are stuck here together, and that some sort of lunatic set this whole mess in motion, so for once lay off that 'fuck everything and everyone' attitude of yours and focus on what's important!" He said to his sister with an equally loud tone.

Much to his surprise his sister did not give him one of her usual responses, he had expected one coming from her, especially after raising his voice to her.

Kaitlin had calmed down and gazed down upon the crate before talking. "It's... I'm sorry okay? I'm just freaked out about what's happening to us at the moment..." She said quietly.

Ben let go of her arm and looked at the crate as well, a little shocked that his sister was giving him a calm response. "It's okay Kait, let's just... Figure this shit out okay? Here, I'm gonna crack this thing open to see what we got." Said Ben before kneeling down next to the crate.

Kaitlin responded with a silent nod and took a seat next to her brother. After a couple of minutes of fidgeting around they finally managed to open the crate. "Well, let's see what our mysterious creep left us, shall we?" Joked Ben.

The crate contained a couple of items of importance to the siblings, first off were a couple of cans of food and filled water bottles. Next was a backpack that only had a compact flashlight and a pocketknife in it, it seemed like the pocketknife had all kinds of appliances on it like a screwdriver, bottle/can opener etc. Last but not least was a single sleeping bag and a bigger bag that contained a simple two-person tent that you could set up in a few steps.

"At least it's something..." mumbled Kaitlin as she counted the cans of food and water bottles.

"Yes it is..." Sighed Ben.

He stood up and took another look at their surroundings, the sun was slowly but surely going down and it wouldn't be long before darkness would take over. He noticed a perfect place for them to set up their newly acquired tent at the edge of the beach, close to the start of the dense jungle that presumably spread across the island.

"Kait, how about we set up this tent over there and call it a day, it's going to be dark before we know it and I still feel like shit after waking up like we did." Asked Ben.

"Yeah... Sure, I still feel a bit off as well. How about you start setting up the tent while I transport the rest of this stuff over there?"

They both nodded and went on with their plans, it didn't take long for Kaitlin to move the items to their new location, as soon as she was finished she helped Ben with the tent. Only a couple of hours alone together and it seemed that the two of them already were becoming the persons they were before the whole falling out moment from years ago.

Ben and Kaitlin had been in the scouts together when they were younger, the skills they learned at that time would surely come in handy because of the situation they were in now. After setting up the tent they managed to start a small campfire to light their surroundings as the darkness came in rather quick, there was little to no wind so the fire kept on burning without any trouble.

Sitting next to each other at the fire made them feel a bit better after everything that had happened, they finally had a moment of peace to sit down and talk.

"You think Mom and Dad are looking for us at this very moment?" Asked Kaitlin as she opened one of the food cans with the pocketknife.

"No doubt about that, I mean how could both of your children suddenly disappear from a busy cruise ship? I'm still baffled by the fact that someone managed to get us off that ship without alerting anyone. It's just all so fucking weird." Answered Ben as he took a sip of water.

"Amen to that." Was all Kaitlin said before she took a few bites and passed the can over to her brother, Ben switched it with his bottle of water before taking a few bites of the food himself.

The siblings were quiet for a little while, simply staring at the waves as they softly crashed onto the island while switching the can of food and water bottle between each other.

"You know... I'm glad we are together in this mess instead of ending up all alone..." Said Kaitlin after a while.

"So, not bad to stick around your little brother once in a while after all, isn't it?" Asked Ben, looking forward to how she would react to him.

Kaitlin fidgeted with her hair a little as Ben asked her his question. "N-no... I guess not..." Responded Kaitlin quietly. She knew she was blushing a little but the darkness prevented Ben from noticing it.

"Having you here with me comforts me, you know? The perfect partner in crime. I know we can get through this shit together Kait, we've been through tougher times." Said Ben.

"Like that one time at uncle Richard's place?" Asked Kaitlin who was now smiling.

"I think that's a fair comparison yes, especially when his homemade fireplace started spitting out flames into the living room." Responded Ben before laughing which made his sister laugh as well.

They laughed for a little while, bringing up things from the past before the silence took over once more.

Ben stood up after a while. "How about we call it a day and get some sleep? It's getting rather chilly out here wearing only our 'summer' attires." Asked Ben to Kaitlin who was rubbing her arms to keep them warm.

She too stood up and turned towards him, with a quick peek Ben noticed that his sister's nipples were poking through the tight fabric of her bikini, making it clear that she was cold.

"W-why don't you take the sleeping bag Kait? I... Uh... I think you need it more than me." He mumbled to her.

"Too late for that little brother, I already zipped it fully open so we could get under it together. Besides, I noticed that you have goosebumps on your arms as well." Answered Kaitlin who had entered the small tent in the meantime.

"Alright then..." Responded Ben before following his sister inside.

The fire outside kept smothering for little while longer before it completely died out.

"What shall we do tomorrow Ben?" Asked Kaitlin as she turned herself so she was facing her brother.

"I was thinking about entering the jungle a little bit, it isn't too overgrown so we should be able to explore a little. We can take our supplies with us since we don't got much of them anyway." Said Ben.

"I agree, the island seems to be pretty big so maybe we will be able to find water and food sources deeper down the jungle. I just hope we won't encounter anything dangerous out there." Added Kaitlin.

"Maybe there is a reason we got dropped off on this particular island? I doubt our captor, or captors want us to get into trouble, I mean why would we be given all these supplies in the first place?" Spoke Ben again.

"Honestly Ben, I have no clue what's going on anymore. The only thing I know is that I'm happy that you are here with me. Like you said before, we will get through this thing... Together." Replied Kaitlin before letting out a yawn.

Ben smiled to himself as he felt his eyelids becoming heavier and heavier. "Likewise Sis... Sweet dreams..." He whispered back to Kaitlin.

It didn't take long before the siblings succumbed to their sleep, whatever would happen on this island, at least they would be together.

Chapter 2

"You sure you got everything Kait?" Said Ben while collecting the remaining pieces of the tent before they would be heading out.

Kaitlin sat on a rock nearby, she rolled her eyes and sighed. "Christ Ben, this has been the third time that you asked me the same question, YES little brother, everything is in the backpack so stop asking!"

"I rather ask it too many times instead of finding out that we lost something later along the way." Responded Ben a bit more aggravated.

Kaitlin ignored him and looked away towards the sea.

"Jesus, it's like a dice roll with her each and every day. Why can't she act like last night? She was calm, friendly and... Cute." Thought Ben to himself.

After a couple more minutes of making sure they had everything they finally were up for exploring the island further. Ben took the tent and sleeping bag while Kaitlin carried the backpack with their supplies.

They both looked at the dense jungle like area in front of them, now that it was sunny and bright again they could decide where to enter and start their journey. The left side seemed more open and less covered with vines and trees. Ben and Kaitlin looked at each other and nodded, confirming that they had the same idea.

"I'll take the lead little brother." Said Kaitlin with confidence as she stepped forward and trailed off.

Ben quickly followed her as she darted off towards the jungle.

"You sure, I mean, I don't mind walking in fro-" Tried Ben to say before Kaitlin turned around getting more annoyed.

"Ben, we've been in the same scout class for years, we learned the same things and earned the same stupid badges. I think I can handle myself, okay? Now follow me and can it!" She said before turning around again and walking off.

Ben decided to give it a rest, when she acted like this there would be no way to convince her otherwise. Still, for someone reason he felt the need to protect her, to make sure that if something would go wrong that she would be the one ending up unharmed. But he knew she could handle herself, easily, she had always been a role model for him.

And so the siblings moved through the first part of the jungle, the sound of the sea and seagulls were traded in for the ambience of the jungle and all different kinds of its inhabitants. They indeed made the right choice to follow the left side as it was easily traversable, you had your vines, bushes, height differences and other obstacles but it was do-able for them.

"Ben look!" Said Kaitlin out of nowhere.

Ben stopped dead in his tracks and followed his sister's finger that was pointing at something.

It was to the right of them in the more overgrown part of the jungle, up in a tree were three monkeys simply chilling and staring in the direction of the siblings. Two bigger ones and one that Ben assumed to be a newborn tracked their every move.

Kaitlin looked back at him and smiled. "Aren't they just cute?" She said with her girly voice.

"Like I said, like a roll of a dice." Thought Ben again, seeing the other side of his sister appear once more.

"Yes, let's hope it stays with their cuteness. I think we won't be so cheery if an angry boar or whatever shows up on our tracks." Responded Ben.

"Mpff... Way to ruin my happy thoughts little brother... Anyway, let's continue, shall we?" She said before moving on.

Ben followed suit, since the backpack covered her upper body he had to resort to watching her juicy, jiggly ass in front of him. It certainly took his mind off the walk and the heat they were bombarded with.

After a half hour of travelling through the denser part of the jungle they managed to find a more open spot along the way. It was less overgrown and easier accessible but the downside of it was that the burning sun had no problem shining through.

"How about we take a short break in the shadows over there." Asked Kaitlin as she removed the backpack, revealing her glistening, sweaty back to her brother.

"Yeah sure, I think we both can use some refreshments." Answered Jake as he too laid off his equipment.

Just when Kaitlin was about to grab a bottle of water she froze.

"Kait? Something wrong?" Asked Ben as he watched his sister closing the backpack again for some reason.

She threw it over her back and turned her head to Ben. "Follow me, quick!" She said to him before she darted off again. This time faster than before.

"Goddamnit Kait, wait!" Shouted Ben at her as he quickly picked up their other stuff. He followed her as best he could, she was way ahead of him across the open area before taking a left turn into the jungle once more.

Ben turned left when he reached the same spot where his sister had turned left. He could see that another open area was on the other side of the small part of jungle his sister's presumably ran through.

He quickly maneuvered himself through the small streak of jungle before ending up at the other side. "Kait? Where are yo-" Before he could finish his sentence he got hit in the face by a splash of... Cold water?

Out of reaction he dropped their equipment and started to rub the cold water out of his eyes, in the background he could hear his sister's all too familiar giggle.

After rubbing his eyes, he could see his sister standing in a small, but pretty deep stream of water that ran along the side of the streak of jungle they just went through. Her backpack laid on the opposite side of it.

Before he could speak he got hit by another splash of water followed by the same girly giggles.

"Oh you've down it now, you minx!" Shouted Ben with a smile as he joined his sister in the small stream of water to give her a taste of her own medicine.

Kaitlin yelped as her brother returned a huge splash of water that covered her from head to toe. Instead of a bottle of water the siblings had found something else to cool and hydrate them.

Their playful water fight lasted for a little bit before both of them sat down next to the stream.

"Kait, how the hell did you know that there was water here?" Asked Ben as he wrung the water out of his soaked tank top.

"You know, that's why they called me eagle ears instead of eagle eyes at the scouts." She giggled. Kaitlin then averted her eyes to her brother's naked torso and noticed how muscular he looked, she felt her body tense up for a second, it had been awhile since she saw him like this.

At the same time Ben was staring at his sister's chest too, her bikini was wet which made her voluptuous breasts stand out even more as the fabric clung around them.

Kaitlin looked away first and saw her brother staring at her chest, usually she would have snapped at him but for some reason she remained quiet this time. After a few seconds she started to talk again.

"So yeah, when I was about to pick our bottles out of the backpack I could hear the stream of water very quietly, I wasn't hundred percent sure but it seemed that my intuition was right."

Ben snapped out of his stare and quickly looked up at her with a smile.

"Well, thank god for your super hearing then Sis! You probably know what we must do now, to rank up our survival rate." He said to her.

"Uhu, we follow the stream. See if we can find its source. Usually, things of importance grow fairly close to water so we could have that advantage as well." She answered before taking a sip of the water. "It's clean too!"

"Alright, so, five more-minute break time?" Suggested Ben.

Kaitlin nodded her head. "Sure, but after that I'm leading again, seems that you need your big sister to survive this mess."

The long walk along the stream was a lot more pleasant than what they went through before. The burning sun was hot but the water next to them gave them the opportunity to take a break or cool off every time they wanted to. The jungle was less dense along the stream so they had no problem traversing further.

"We've been walking for an hour or so now, it amazes me how big this island actually is." Said Kaitlin.

"Yeah... Well at least we found a source of water for us, that's the most positive thing that happened to us so far so let's keep our spirits up and hope for more good things to come." Responded Ben.

"I wonder what Mom and Dad are going through now... I can't imagine how they must feel..." Said Kaitlin again.

"Uh... Lost I guess, just how we are! Knowing Mom, she's probably on the line with the military and what not to demand them to search for us." Responded Ben again, hoping to bring their spirits up a bit more with humor.

He could swear he heard his sister snicker after what he said.

After another half hour or so of walking along the stream they came to a new open part of the jungle. To the left of them was a large open area with big rock outcrops that covered the end of it. Ben suddenly stopped which got the attention from his sister.

"Something the matter?" She asked as she wiped the sweat from her forehead away with her hand.

"Yea... It seems... Come on Sis, follow me." He simply said, this time him taking the lead.

Kaitlin sighed but didn't complain or anything, she knew her brother was serious when he was like that. She followed him towards the rocky outcrops in front of them, which seem to grow bigger and bigger the closer they came to them.

"I fucking knew it!" Shouted Ben all of a sudden and stepped up his pace, he grabbed Kaitlin's hand and pulled her with him.

"Eek!" Yelped Kaitlin as her brother pulled her with him. For some reason she started to blush, feeling his warm hand around her own.

As they came even closer Kaitlin could see why her brother took her here.

"Holy... Shit..." She said, taking in what she saw in front of them.

"You take the words out of my mouth Sis... I think we found our place to stay." Said Ben as he pulled her closer to him.

In front of them stood an old but still in good quality, expertly made wooden shack. It was the size of a small garden house, it was built so that it stood under the rocky outcrop, preventing rain or heavy sunlight from hitting it.

Together they entered the shack through a simple self-made door, heck the whole thing was self-made, it seemed that the person or persons who build this knew what they were doing.

The place had a musky smell to it and it seemed that the previous owners had gone away head over heels. They could still see inside but at later parts of the day they would need to make a fire or something to illuminate the shack.

To their surprise they could see that there were a couple of objects that resembled furniture. A wonky but acceptable small table. Two small but wide blocks of wood that looked like makeshift stools. A small, wide frame in the corner of the shack what looked like outer edges of a bed and finally, a circle of rocks in the middle of the shack, a place where fires could be safely started.

"This is... This is incredible, maybe there are more people on this island together with us!" Said Kaitlin excited.

"Mhmm... I doubt it Sis." Responded Ben. "It seems like this place hasn't seen people in quite a while now." He then picked up one of the stool like pieces of wood and shoved it in front of the open door.

"Right, this way we can easily see inside of the shack for a while without the need of a light source." He then removed the large bag with the tent and sleeping bag in it and placed them next to the bed shaped wooden frame.

"I'm gonna take a look outside, explore our surroundings a little bit, see if I can find some useful stuff for us lying around." Said Ben to Kaitlin.

"Then I'm going to look around this shack, who knows, maybe I will find some other hidden away stuff that could help us." Responded Kaitlin as she placed her backpack on the wonky table.

Ben opened the backpack she just laid down and took out the pocketknife. "You might as well give our supplies a place in here, separate our stuff so it's more organized."

Kaitlin turned to him, looking quite annoyed. "Oh what, I'm going to have to be the housewife all of a sudden Ben? We just found this place for Christ's sake!" She said sternly.

"Oh come on Kait! Can you just... Just be happy once in a while? It's not like I ask you to make me a five course meal, okay?" Responded Ben, more serious than ever.

Kaitlin again was shocked when her brother showed his more serious side to her, just like the day before he managed to calm her down.

"Sorry Ben... I'm sorry, okay? I know I should be happy." She said to him quietly.

Ben sighed and walked up to her before giving her a hug. "It's okay Kait, I know this mess isn't our usual cup of tea, routine of the day stuff for us but we gotta stay strong together, alright?" He whispered to her, calming her down even further.

Kaitlin hugged him back and held him tight. "I know... I won't let it happen again Ben, we gotta, no, we are going to get through this together." She whispered back.

After a couple of more seconds they let go of each other.

"Alright, I'm gonna take a look around the place, probably collect some wood for the fire. I'll be back in a bit. If something happens just shout." Said Ben as he walked outside.

"Sure, you do the same when something happens. Be careful little brother." Responded Kaitlin.

And so the siblings went their own way for a bit, Ben searching their surroundings and Kaitlin the mysterious shack.

In a short period of time Kaitlin managed to give their supplies a place in the shack just as Ben had suggested her to do so. She kept the empty backpack and the tent in one corner of the shack. Their food and water supplies were on the wonky table and so was the small flashlight. She had zipped open the sleeping bag and laid it between the wooden frame in the other corner of the shack which seemed to fit perfectly.

"Alright, now that's done I can take a closer look around this place, who knows, maybe I can find something that we haven't spotted before." Said Kaitlin to herself before she started to look around.

At the same time Ben was outside, close to the water stream collecting branches of wood with the use of the pocketknife, He even managed to spot a few coconut trees that he could probably climb into.

He looked back into the direction of the shack and had to agree that they sort of hit the lottery ticket with this place.

"Finally something good happened to us, I hope we can stay on this same pace and eventually get out of here." He said to himself before returning to cutting off branches.

Back in the shack Kaitlin managed to take a quite good look at it, outside at the back of it she found a small, self-made box with a lid which contained, you guessed it, a couple of self-made tools. There was a hammer, a small rake and a small spade all made out of wood. To her surprise she also found a still sharp looking handsaw and boxes of nails.

Currently she was exploring the inside of it further and eventually managed to find another, smaller box under the table, shoved against the wall of the shack.

"Well what do you know, another point for Kaitlin the explorer!" She praised herself.

This one had a lid as well. She took the box with her and plopped herself down onto the sleeping bag she had laid out for them to sleep on later. The sun was at such an angle that the light illuminated their 'bed'.

"And what do we have here?" She said to herself again as she opened the little box.

The first things she found were small pieces of black crayon, but after taking a closer look she found out that they were made out of charcoal, they looked like pencils.

After that she found two old looking batteries that seemed the right size for their compact flashlight, hoping that they would still work, or at least have some power left.

The last item she found looked like a book, she carefully took it out and noticed that it indeed was some sort of book. The outside of it was very dusty so she had to blow on it to clean it a little. The numbers two-thousand-and-sixteen appeared in the upper right corner.

"This book has been from at least two years ago..." Said Kaitlin to herself before she opened it.

The first page had a lot of text written on it by someone with a very pretty handwriting. She placed the opened box next to her and laid back on the sleeping bag to read it.

This is the diary of Joanna Sterling, in this diary I will be writing everything I have experienced on this island, together with my brother Alec. If someone manages to find this, then I hope you will treasure it in case of us not being able to do so. We've been on this island for far too long and it has changed us drastically, emotionally as physically. I hope you will understand what you will be reading if you decide to do so, and to not judge us by any means. If you find, and I hope not, yourself(s) in a similar situation as us then you will do good to read through all of this. I have pointed out several things that could aid and help you.

Kaitlin gulped as she had read through the first paragraph, she quickly flipped through all of the pages and noticed that the piece of text she had just read was probably entered later into it. The way it had been written gave it away and it was less faded than the other entries below it.

Every entry was written per day it seemed, this way Kaitlin could make out what happened and at which times.

"I can't believe another pair of siblings were, or are on this island, it's just so... unbelievable. Is this place cursed or something or is someone really pulling the plugs around here?" She asked herself in her thought's.

Day one to two looked awfully similar to what she and Ben had experienced themselves. They both woke up at the beach and found supplies and what not, also the same message was applied to their crate of goodies; 'Survive, and find yourselves...'. It seemed that the two of them had spent an extra day at the beach instead of going through the jungle right away like she and Ben did. It told Kaitlin how the two of them spend time with each other, comforting themselves to keep each other strong. After reading that part she felt some sort of jealousy washing over her, it looked like the siblings in the diary were close, very close, similar how she and Ben were when they were younger.

At day three things started to change.

Day 3

Alec and me managed to find a perfect place for us to attempt to make a sort of base. It's shielded by these heavy rock outcrops that hide us from the rain and burning sun. Close to it is a stream with fresh water and behind the rocks are plants with berries we could eat, thanks to my biology studies I knew that they weren't poisonous or bad for us.

Kaitlin took a mental note of what Joanna had just described about the berries, with a bit of luck they should still be there. She then continued to read further.

We started building the shack Alec had in mind right away. I'm so glad that I have such an incredible handy brother! We helped each other where we could, I'm not as an engineer as he is so I took up the task to gather us fresh water and food which he really appreciated. That handy little saw and nails that came with that crate we found really saved the day, it was a field day for Alec and he was so determined to make sure that we were going to be okay. He told me several times that we would get through this together and that he would make sure that nothing ever happened to me. Hearing him say that felt so... Romantic I guess?

Again Kaitlin felt another ping of jealousy running through her body, Joanna described her brother as some sort of god and it was clear that she loved him very dearly.

She decided to skip over a few days as it pretty much remained the same; Joanna and Alec building the shack further, them collecting resources and the usual praising of Joanna towards her brother.

After skipping over a few more days her attention was suddenly grabbed, under day eleven was a particular piece of text that said; 'personal stuff'.

Today I couldn't hold myself any longer, the last couple of days we've been getting closer than ever. Sharing our food, sharing the bed, sharing our thoughts and feelings... I've also been noticing that we touch each other more, a bump here and there, whether they are accidental or not, or a hug when one of us needs one. I don't know if Alec notices it as well but I certainly do.

So today when Alec went to wash himself in the stream I... I spied on him. I don't know why I did it but I just needed to see him... More of him. His attractive physique, his beautiful eyes, his delightful face. And today... His beautiful cock, big and strong as I imagined it to be.

Kaitlin gasped for air when she read the last sentence of Joanna's writing. She could feel her heart beating faster and her temperature rising, she was sweating now and the same tingly feeling from before washed over her. The same feeling, she felt when she was together with Ben... Her own brother.

She took a deep breath and decided to read further, her hands were shaking a bit and she had to focus to keep herself under control. Was it the fact that she was reading something naughty, or something completely different?

As Alec washed himself in the distance I laid down onto the ground in such a way that he couldn't see me, I unbuttoned my shorts and kicked them off me. I could feel it stinging, it wanted me to do it because of him... because of my brother. I then shoved my panties to the side and I... I started masturbating.

Kaitlin could feel her heart beating rapid now. In the time she was reading one hand had trailed down her Daisy Dukes and had unbuttoned them just like Joanna had done to her shorts in the diary. With her other hand she held the book, it shaking heavily from her nervousness.

She started to picture the scene as Joanna described it in the diary. She visualized a man standing in the stream of water, washing his body, his muscular body and his... Big, impressive cock.

She slipped her free hand down her bikini bottom and came in contact with her burning pussy. It was soaked and squishy as she traced her finger through her cunt lips. "Oh my god... Mhmmm" She moaned quietly as she started tracing her fingers in a circular motion over her pussy. She focused on the diary again while stimulating herself.

I couldn't control myself any longer, I started to thrust my fingers inside of me slowly while keeping my full attention on Alec... My handsome, sexy brother. I imagined being over there together with him washing myself, he would peek at me every chance he could get and fantasize about his big sister's body...

Kaitlin was now moaning continuously as her fingers slowly worked itself in and out of her sopping pussy, her breath became heavy and her nipples began to sting painfully. She started to imagine it was her in Joanna's position, but she wasn't spying on Alec... She was spying on Ben... Her own, cute little brother.

A short spurt of female nectar squirted out of her pussy when Ben came up in her mind. "Oh... Ben..." She moaned louder before diving into the diary, and her imagination again.

His cock would get erect because he couldn't contain himself any longer, at that exact moment I would turn around and simply smile at him, making him feel comfortable, letting him know that I don't mind. I would tell him to play with himself... For me... For his big sister and show me how much he loved me.

"Yesss, show me... Ben... Show your big sister how much you love her." Moaned Kaitlin to herself as her pussy was being pounded by her own fingers. The squishy and sloshy sounds that came from her roamed through the shack together with her moaning.

Alec would masturbate for me and I would watch him, encourage him, say all the naughty things that I could think of to make him want me, to make him shoot his thick cum just for me. I would play with my own pussy to show him that I yearned for him... For his touch... For his cock to fuck me.

"Oh god, oh god, oh god!" Moaned Kaitlin back to back. Her body began to tremble and buck a little from the overwhelming sensation she went through. She visualized Ben stroking his big, hard cock for her... Just for her while she played with herself, seducing him to take things a step further.

And then... Then Alec would blow his load for me, unable to contain it any longer, showing me that he got off to his own big sister.

Kaitlin felt that she was getting close now, her juices splattered around her thighs and onto the sleeping bag, her hips began to buck and squirm. "Cum for me Ben! Cum for... Big sister, yes!" She moaned.

At that very moment my imagination ended and I looked in the direction of Alec, his head was turned to my direction. I got the full picture, his fit body, his beautiful cock and his handsome face... I came to the sight of it... I came because my darling brother simply looked at me.

The ending was the last straw for Kaitlin too, the diary dropped out of her hand before she placed the same hand on her mouth. She rammed her slicked fingers deep into her squirming pussy one last time and exploded herself. Her hips bucked and her body shook as her pussy convulsed, she was cumming hard, cumming at the image of her naked brother masturbating to her. Her hand muffled her screams of pleasure while her pussy squirted small streams of female nectar. It took a long minute before the orgasm finally washed away.

Kaitlin tried to catch her breath as she laid spread across the sleeping bag. She couldn't believe what she just had done, she had made herself cum while thinking about her little brother. Her tired body shook a couple of more times before she noticed sounds coming closer to the shack.

"Yo Kait! I got us some shitload of branches, we won't be needing to go out for fire wood anytime soon." Shouted Ben as he walked back to the shack.

"Shit!" Cursed Kaitlin before getting up, taking away the makeshift stool that acted as a door stop and slamming the door shut.

Ben looked surprised when he saw the door shutting before his eyes. "Did I do something wrong again sister dear?" He asked, trying to figure out what she was doing.

"N-No I... I'm uh... Changing, Yes! I'm changing and I don't want you spying on me, little perv!" Yelped Kaitlin back, sounding panicked.

Ben started to laugh. "But Sis, you only have your bikini and Daisy Dukes! What is there to change?" He asked.

"It's just... Just some woman stuff that you aren't allowed to see, okay?" Answered Kaitlin. "Look, I found some sort of toolbox at the back of the shack, you can store the branches over there so they won't get to soggy." She suggested as a scapegoat.

"Well... Okay! But do you think you are done with your secret 'woman' thingy when I'm done?" Asked Ben again, still a bit surprised.

"Yes! Now... Do your thing!" Responded his sister agitated.

Ben sighed and followed his sister's suggestion.

"Alright Kait, clean this mess up as best as you can, hide the diary and return to your usual self." Thought Kaitlin to herself as she scanned the room.

First of all, she grabbed the bag where the tent was in to wipe away her splattered juices as much as possible, she was sure the rest of it would dry due to the heat since they were not sleeping anytime soon. Once she was satisfied with the result she turned to the diary and the small box. She placed the old batteries on the table and then returned the diary into the box together with the pieces of charcoal. She placed the box in the corner of the shack and placed the bag that contained the tent on top of it, assuming that they wouldn't be needing it anytime soon.

Kaitlin sighed with relief before she lowered her head to her hip area. Her bikini bottom and Daisy Dukes were still soaked with her juices that slowly trickled down her legs, she had to get rid of the blatant evidence.

She stormed out of the shack and ran off to the water stream as fast as she could. Just in time as Ben came back around the corner to spot his sister splashing water over herself.

"Heh, must have been the heat." He thought to himself, he then turned his attention on making a small fire pit outside.

After Kaitlin had cooled and cleaned herself she returned to help her brother with the fire pit.

"Are you okay Kaitlin? You seemed a bit off." Asked Ben, sounding genuinely concerned as he used her full name, something he didn't do often.

"Yes... Sorry for that, must have been that heat and musky smell combined together." She answered to him.

Ben nodded his head. "So, found anything more useful inside of our newly acquired little shack? By the way, those tools could come in very handy."

"Uh... No, I mean the only thing I found inside was a couple of old batteries which I hope still work. Other than that uh... No sorry, nothing else." Said Kaitlin, keeping the diary a secret.

The siblings worked on the fire pit for a while before something came up in Kaitlin's mind that she has read before.

"Oh Ben! I actually found something else, there are a couple of bushes behind the rocks that contain berries that we can eat." She said.

"Okay, that sounds good and all, but can we eat them? I mean, I don't want to end up dead you know?" Asked Ben.

"No it's fine, I remember them from my uh... Biology studies when I was at school, we did a whole project about what was poisonous and what not." She lied to him.

"Mhmm... Okay, why don't we collect some right now? I could use a bit of a snack at the moment." Suggested Ben.

Kaitlin, glad that he believed her, smiled at him. "Sure, I'm all up for some sweet, tasty goodness." She replied excited, hoping that Joanna her biology skills were true.

And so the siblings walked together until they reached the other side of the rocky outcrops. To Kaitlin's surprise there were hundreds of bushes with red berries in them, over the course of two years they must have grown rapidly.

Ben snickered to himself. "A couple of bushes she said..."

He expected a snarky comeback from his sister but it didn't happen. He noticed that she was already plucking berries to his right side.

"How about you start from the left so we can work our way to the center?" Asked Kaitlin.

"Sure, sounds good to me." Agreed Ben.

As the siblings collected berries they had woken up one of the jungle's many inhabitants. A relatively large snake crawled under the berry bushes, noticing the intruders that were fondling with the surroundings of the area that it claimed as its home.

The snake's left eye spotted a woman while the right spotted a man. The snake then made up its mind and crawled towards his potential victim.

Chapter 3

The snake had made its decision as it slithered towards his prey, feeling threatened by the sudden ruckus the two humans brought to his area that it claimed as its home.

"How you doing Sis? The pockets of my shorts are getting pretty full now." Said Ben as he looked into his sister's direction.

Kaitlin held up her thumb to him. "Pretty much the same here! The pockets on my Daisy Dukes are so small that I'm unable to carry much anyway, you will be the provider today little brother!" She responded with a smile.

"Alright, I'll grab a few more and then we will call it quits!" Said Ben as he leaned forward, reaching the last few bright red berries on the bush.

Suddenly he felt an intense, burning pain coming from the side of his shin. As a reaction he stumbled back from the bush before falling down on his back. "Fuck! Goddamnit!" He shouted as he noticed something darting off under the very bush he was just plucking berries from.

Kaitlin shot up from her crouching position once she heard her brother scream and swear. Without any hesitation she dropped the berries in her hand and sprinted in his direction. "Ben! Ben! What's going on!?" She shouted towards him, her voice sounding concerned and panicked.

As she came closer she saw Ben inspecting his shin with a pained look in his face. She could see two clear bite marks where blood slowly trickled out off. "Oh god..." Gaspes Kaitlin, feeling that her heart started to bump into overdrive.

She quickly sat down besides Ben and started to inspect the bite herself. "Ben... This is a-" She said quietly.

"Snake bite... A goddamn snake bite... Shit, how could I have been so careless!" Interfered Ben. He then felt his sister's soft hands touching his hand and leg, somewhat countering the stinging pain.

"Ben I have to... I have to suck it out, it might have been a poisonous snake!" Shouted Kaitlin to him, clearly panicking now as she wiped away the trickles of blood with her trembling hands.

Ben looked at her and could see the concern written all over her. Her arms had goosebumps, she was breathing fast and her eyes sparkled with panic. "Like a dice roll..." He thought to himself again.

"Kaitlin look at me..." He said calm as possible, his hand touching hers gently.

Kaitlin looked him directly in the eyes, small tears started forming in her own.

"First we need to calm down, okay?" Spoke Ben. "You know just as well as me that the whole 'sucking out the poison' thing isn't true, if it's in my blood then... it's not coming out..."

He could see a tear trickle down his sister's cheek, her eyes filled with sudden helplessness.

"How can I calm down now Ben...? We have no clue what kind of snake it was, or what kind of poison it might be! We don't have medical supplies so we won't be able to do anything! We have nothing! And I... I don't... I don't want to lose you!" Shouted Kaitlin at him, tears now streaming down her cheeks.

She lunged forward and wrapped her arms around Ben's neck, pulling him close to her as she sobbed further. "I don't... Want to lose you... I can't lose you Ben!"

Ben gulped before slowly wrapping his own arms around his sister's body, tightening their hug even further. He could smell her distinctive fragrance as his head was nuzzled against her large breasts, for some reason it numbed the pain of the bite down even further. It was just like when he was younger, Kaitlin would hug him every time he had cried or hurt himself and every time it would calm him down, cure him from his pain.

The siblings sat down like this for a little while. Kaitlin quietly sobbing as Ben too felt at a loss. Was this it? Would this be the end for him? But he had made his sister a promise, a promise to get through this thing together, no matter what would happen.

"We will get through this Kait... I made you a promise and I will never break it... We will get through this thing... together." He whispered to her as he comforted her, running one hand through her red hair while his other gently rubbed her back.

"I know... Just like we always do..." Whispered Kaitlin back to him after her sobbing had stopped. "We should get back to the shack... We'll see what happens from there."

"Yeah... We should." Responded Ben.

Slowly they both stood up from their emotional embrace. Kaitlin and Ben looked each other deep in the eyes, seeing that they both still had that sparkling gaze of hope. Kaitlin leaned forward and gave a soft but lingering kiss directly on Ben's lips, surprising him.

"I love you Ben..." She said with a flushed face after ending her kiss.

"I... I love you too Kait." Responded Ben, feeling butterflies in his stomach after seeing his sister's incredibly rare cute side.

He then felt her soft hand and fingers intertwining with those of him. She smiled at him before slowly walking off towards the direction of the shack, taking him with her.

After a few steps she stopped and looked back at him. "You can walk... right?" She asked slightly concerned.

"Y-Yeah... I mean, it stings but I... I can handle it." Answered Ben.

Kaitlin simply nodded and started walking again. Both siblings slowly made their way back to the shack without ever letting go of each other.

"Shall we eat outside today? The sun is behind the rocks now so we have a lot of shadow to sit in." Asked Kaitlin when they returned to their 'home'.

"Yeah sure... We can sit at the fire pit we made a few hours ago. I think I still have berries in my pockets, we could eat those together with one of the cans we have, I worked up quite a hunger after everything that happened." Suggested Ben as he felt his wound burning with pain.

Kaitlin nodded and guided Ben next to the fire pit and helped him sit down. "But before we are going to eat I will take a look at that bite and disinfect it as much as I can." Said Kaitlin a bit more sternly.

Ben looked up to her and smiled. "Certainly nurse, I'm in your hands now."

His sister's face turned red. "I-Idiot... Still joking after what happened..." She mumbled to herself before heading towards the shack.

After a minute or so she returned with the can of food, a bottle of water and a long piece of cloth. She then took a seat besides Ben and started to focus on his wound.

"Sis, where did you get that piece of cloth from? You didn't have spare clothes, right?" Asked Ben as he observed his sister washing and cleaning his wound with water, wiping away the blood and dirt that surrounded it.

"I ripped it from that tent bag, I figured out that we won't be needing it much more so this will be perfect to bandage your wound." She answered without losing her focus on his wound.

Ben remained quiet and watched his sister tend to the bite on his shin. She looked so motherly and caring, just the way she was before she became so distant. Again she managed to make him feel less pain from the burning wound, not only because of her caring kindness but also the fact that her impressive pair of breasts jiggled with every move she made. Ben knew it wasn't the right situation to look at her like that, but he could feel her curvy, erotic body having an effect on him in more ways than one as his cock started to respond.

"Aaaand done!" Said Kaitlin proudly as she finished bandaging Ben's shin. "Alright, lemme fill this bottle up with clean water from the stream before we start eating."

Ben nodded and started to retrieve the berries that were still in his pockets while Kaitlin walked up to the water stream to refill the bottle.

She returned with a full bottle and a large leaf that she placed in front of Ben. "Here, put the berries on this so we won't lose them."

Ben did as she told. He then leaned forward and reached into his back pocket, fishing out the pocketknife before handing it over to Kaitlin. "Here Sis, use it to open the can... Or you could use your teeth if you want to try something more adventurous."

Kaitlin let out a sudden giggle which made her brother smile.

"Jeez Ben... You really know how to stay positive no matter what happened, do you?" She said, followed by another giggle.

"It's the only thing we can do Kait... Just stay positive and everything will be fine." He responded.

Kaitlin smiled at him and nodded before opening the can of food. "I call dibs on the first few scoops of food." She said as she greedily used her fingers to scoop food out of the can.

Ben started to laugh. "Like I have a say in that, you look like a proper cave woman now Sis!"

"Me hungry! Me need food!" Shouted Kaitlin out of nowhere, mimicking a 'proper' cave woman as her brother mentioned her to be.

Both she and Ben started to laugh now, both knowing that a bit of humor would lighten up their situation.

The rest of their outdoor diner was quiet but good. Unlike the snake bite, the berries were not poisonous as Joanna had stated in her diary, they were sweet and delicious, something that the siblings thoroughly enjoyed. They broke up the silence and spoke about what they would do if they returned to their real home, among other things. It had been a long time since Ben and Kaitlin had a normal conversation with each other, and they both had to agree that it felt good communicating on this level again.

They decided to stay outside a little bit longer after their diner, looking at the sun hanging just above the trees, a bright orange glow that covered the island as the night came in closer and closer.

"It's... Kind of pretty, don't you think so?" Asked Kaitlin, sitting close next to Ben.

"Yeah... It is..." Responded Ben quietly.

The silence remained for a bit as the siblings watched the sun go down slowly in the far distance.

Suddenly Ben felt an all too familiar feeling on his hand. He looked to his side and noticed that his sister had placed her hand on top of his, holding it tight but with her sisterly, gentle touch.

He then took in the full picture; his beautiful older sister being blessed with the orange tint of the sun. She had a small smile on her freckled face, a face that said that everything would be alright in the end.

Kaitlin noticed from the corner of her eyes that her brother was admiring her. She felt her heart beating faster again, simply because he was looking at her with a gaze full of love.

"B-Ben can we si-... C-cuddle, like we used to do?" She asked shyly after a while.

Ben knew what she meant in an instant and started to blush. "Y-Yeah... We can if you want to."

His sister turned her head to him and smiled. "I... I want to."

Ben nodded and spread his legs, opening himself up so his sister could snuggle up with him between them.

Kaitlin pushed herself unto her knees and crawled between her brother's legs before she turned around and laid back against his chest. "It's... It's been a while, you know, like this..." She said to Ben.

"Y-yeah." Was the only thing he said as he felt his sister's curvy body pushing itself against him, her fragrance roaming around him again like some sort of perfume.

"Ben... Can you... Can you hold me?" Asked Kaitlin again, feeling her body reacting to being close to her younger brother.

Without a word from her brother she felt his strong arms crossing her waist and pulling her even closer to him. The simple feeling of him holding her made her body react even more extreme. She could feel her nipples harden and her pussy tingling with excitement.

The same thing happened to Ben, his cock starting to harden and throb because she, the woman he had a crush on, was close to him.

"Does it still hurt... Your wound?" Asked Kaitlin to focus on something else.

"It still stings but... But thanks to you it isn't so bad, I can handle it." He responded.

"G-good." Said Kaitlin quietly as she snuggled even tighter against her brother.

And then they were silent again for a while. Both of them enjoying each other's presence and touch as they watched the bright, orange glowing ball of heat sink down further and further.

"I meant it Ben... I meant it what I said back then... I can't... no, I won't lose you, no matter what happens." Whispered Kaitlin to her brother out of nowhere.

Ben could feel her body tense up as she said her words, knowing that she wasn't lying.

"I... I..." Mumbled Ben, not knowing how to respond to her.

"I love you Ben... I love you so, so much..." Whispered Kaitlin again, meaning every word of it.

Tears started to well up in the corner of Ben's eyes. Her words and being together with the kind, loving sister he had missed for so long became too much for him.

"I love you too Kaitlin, I love you so fucking much." He whispered back to her through his sobs.

Kaitlin also felt her emotions taking their toll. She placed her own arms over her brother's and held him even more tight, not wanting to let him go.

Both siblings sobbed as their bodies cuddled together, grasping at each other for love and comfort. This moment they were one again, just like they used to be, how they should be.

Darkness rapidly overtook the island once the sun had disappeared into the ocean. This made Kaitlin and Ben decide to go back into the shack and call it a day, both tired and exhausted from everything that had happened.

Ben already laid down on the spread sleeping bag, barely managing to keep his eyes open. He watched as his sister started a small fire on the fire pit inside of the shack, she felt more comfortable falling asleep with a small light source present instead of the total darkness.

"Kait... I'm going to sleep now; I can barely stay awake." Yawned Ben to his sister as he wiggled himself into a better sleeping position.

Kaitlin looked at him with a smile. She then crawled to his side on her knees, giving him a full view of her cleavage as her breasts jiggled side to side like pendulums.

"It's okay Ben, go to sleep. I'll be awake for a little bit longer and then I will join you." She whispered to him with a gentle, motherly like voice.

She leaned forward and gave her brother a short but passionate kiss on the side of his lips. "And no snoring mister! Otherwise I'll use some drastic tactics to make sure you don't!" She said to him jokingly.

Ben smiled at her before reaching his arm up to her face, he swept a few loose strands of her red hair behind her ears and caressed her cheek for a bit, making her eyes sparkle with a look of love.

"Goodnight Sis... See you tomorrow." He managed to say with his remaining strength before his arm drooped down and his eyes closed, drifting off to sleep immediately.

Feeling sleepy herself, Kaitlin carefully moved over her brother and laid herself onto the sleeping bag next to him. She let out a long yawn and felt her eyes getting heavier with each second.

The only thing she heard now was the fire crackling softly and the jungle animals in the far distance. She looked up at the ceiling of the shack and went through everything that had happened in her thoughts. The biggest problem on her mind was the snake bite that her brother got earlier today, would he be alright? He seemed to do okay for now, so that was a tiny bit of relief for her. Still, she could feel that something was going to happen sooner or later, whether it was good or bad she did not know, but one thing she knew for sure is that she would be there for Ben, no matter what would happen.

She then slowly drifted off herself, unable to keep her eyes open any longer.

"Kait? Wake up Kait... It's time."

He waited a few seconds before speaking again.

"Kait? It's time to say goodbye."

Kaitlin slowly opened her eyes, seeing Ben standing in the middle of the water stream.

"Say goodbye now Kait... Before it's too late." Said her brother again.

"Ben? What is this? Why are you... What is going on?" She asked him as she woke up, lying on the ground outside of their shack.

"It's time for me to go Kait... I just wanted to say goodbye before I go."

"Stop this Ben, it's not funny!" Said Kaitlin as she stood up from the cold jungle ground before walking towards her brother.

"Just say goodbye Kaitlin! Stop being so fucking stubborn for once in your life and show me that you care about me!" Shouted Ben back to her with an aggressive tone.

Kaitlin tried to shout back at him, that she did care for him and that she loved him. But the words did not come out of her mouth, her lips moved but she made no sounds.

She could see the sadness in her brother's eyes as he assumed that she wouldn't show that she cared. He slowly turned himself around and opened up his arms.

Kaitlin did her best to talk to him, to move into his direction but everything was futile. Her body stood frozen just a few meters away from him.

She then noticed the giant snake's head that came into view through the dark foliage of the nightly jungle. It came closer and closer to her brother as he stood there. The giant head opened its mouth, showing its terrifying poisonous fangs. And then it lunged forward towards Ben.

Ben turned his head back to Kaitlin before speaking his final words to her. "Goodbye... Sister."

And then he was gone... Kaitlin was alone now, all alone...

"Ben!!" Screamed Kaitlin as she violently woke up from her nightmarish sleep.

She breathed heavily while sitting up and scanning her surroundings. She was still in the shack, on the sleeping bag where she fell asleep. The fire pit was still smoldering a bit, barely lighting up the inside of the shack.

She let out a huge sigh as she realized that she just woke up from a horrible nightmare.

"Shit... It felt so real..." She thought to herself as she slowed down her breathing. "I better check on Ben to see how he is doing..."

She poked his body next to her a couple of times but got no response from him. She could hear him breathing but it was awfully rapid. The inside of the shack was almost pitch black so she couldn't see him either.

Kaitlin carefully stood up after a few seconds and walked towards the small table that stood against the wall. She picked up the pocket flashlight and returned to their makeshift bed.

She turned on the flashlight, lighting up the inside of the shack in the process and then proceeded to check on her brother.

Ben started to mumble as she carefully pulled him onto his back.

"Just checking on you, sleepy he-"

Kaitlin grew silent and her eyes widened, her hands started to tremble as tears started to form in the corners of her eyes.

The part of the sleeping bag under Ben was soaked with his sweat, his eyes were half open and his pupils darted from left to right. He breathed in fast, short bursts while his body shuddered every few seconds. The snake that attacked him had indeed been poisonous and now the results were starting to show.

"No... No!" Shouted Kaitlin as she started to panic, not knowing what to do.

She looked around the shack trying to find something that she could use, but they had nothing. No medical supplies, nothing.

"Ben!... Ben!!" She shouted again as her tears started to run down her cheeks.

"Please don't... Ben!... We must be together! No matter what!" She sobbed as she held his body tightly while swiping the sweat from his brow with her hand.

Suddenly a loud beeping sound came from the entrance of the shack.

Kaitlin yelped and buried her face against her brother's chest, scared and confused of what was going on.

Open me, save the boy... Open me, save the boy... Open me, save the boy. Repeated a strange, deformed voice over and over again.

Kaitlin slowly looked up with her teary eyes to see a small case of some sort lying just in front of the entrance door.

She quickly let go of her brother and walked up to it. Without any hesitation she opened the case knowing that she would do everything in her power to help Ben, even if she had to trust some mysterious creepy voice.

The same mysterious voice returned as soon she fully opened the case, but this time it had a message for her.

We did not expect this to happen... In this case you will find an auto-injector with an antidote already equipped, inject it directly into the boy's bloodstream and its healing effect will be administered immediately. It might come with a somewhat 'explosive' effect on the boy, but we know that you already are at that stage to handle it... After administering the antidote be sure to keep his body clean and cool, remove his clothes and tend to him, let his body breathe.

The mysterious voice paused for a bit and then spoke again.

You two are making exceptional progress, so far in a few days... It must be a record... We knew you two would be special once we laid our eyes on both of you... Now, keep on surviving... And find yourselves...

Then the loud beep from earlier returned and the mysterious voice stopped speaking.

Kaitlin took the injector out of it and threw away the case in anger, angry at the fact that their mysterious onlooker(s) did nothing earlier after her brother got bitten. She calmed herself down quickly and then focused her full attention on Ben.

She grabbed the water bottle that she filled earlier from the table and took a seat next to him. Ben's body was still in the same state as before which frightened her for a bit.

She shook her head once, trying to clear her head. "Come on Kait, no time for being scared now. I'm going to save Ben and nothing will stop me from doing so!" She thought to herself.

The first thing she did was getting rid of her brother's shirt. With a strong pull she ripped it apart from the neck, since his body wasn't cooperating this was the easiest way to get it off him. She rolled the pieces of cloth into a ball which would be acting as a sponge so she could tend to his body.

She opened the bottle of water and poured it over the ball of cloth. She then took his upper right arm and searched for his brachial artery which she found rather fast, another thing she learned at the scouts. She cleaned the area of his arm with the drenched cloth as best as she could before preparing the injector with the antidote in it.

"Everything is going to be fine little brother; big Sis is by your side." She whispered to him before injecting him with the antidote.

Ben let out a groan as the injector shot the antidote right into his bloodstream. His body shook a couple of times out of protest before the antidote started doing its work.

Kaitlin noticed that his pupils stopped darting around immediately and that his fast breathing calmed down further after every ten seconds or so. Whatever antidote the mysterious onlooker(s) gave her was working right away, just as they promised it would.

"Oh god... Ben..." Whispered Kaitlin as she felt her own fast beating heart calm down. She slipped next to him on the sleeping bag and gently held him for a while, making sure that everything went okay.

She scanned her eyes over his muscled torso, not having seen her brother like this in a long, long time. She had to admit that he had grown from the scrawny kid she used to know into a strong, handsome looking guy. She placed the palm of her soft hand on his chest and started to caress it softly. It seemed to have some kind of effect as his breathing slowed down even further.

"Oh right... I have to keep his body clean and cool... So that means..." Kaitlin gulped as she knew what was coming next.

She sighed once and shifted her body so that she could get rid of his remaining clothes. First she took off his shoes and shorts which required no struggle at all since his body was calmed down.

In-between taking off his clothes Kaitlin noticed that his body started to sweat again, more than it did before. "Maybe it's a side effect from the antidote? That mysterious voice mentioned that it would have an effect on him." She thought to herself.

All there was remaining now were Ben's boxer shorts.

Kaitlin sighed again and prepared for removing the last piece of clothing from her brother's body. As she moved her eyes and hands up to his boxers she suddenly stopped dead in her tracks and let out a shriek.

"Oh my... God!" She said as she saw the huge bulge that was pulsing up and down under his boxer's.

She could feel her own body start getting hot while an all too familiar feeling shook through her body, her pussy tingled and her nipples began to harden at the sight of what had to be her little brother's apparently huge cock.

Kaitlin shook her head once more, trying to snap out of her horny thoughts. "I... I have to tend to him... I need to cool his body down... Come on Kait, focus!" She spoke to herself as her trembling hands took hold of the waistband of her brother's boxers.

She closed her eyes and pulled his boxers all the way down until she could take them off. She then slowly opened her eyes again, followed by letting out a loud gasp as she took in the sight before her.

Ben's large cock was softly throbbing against his stomach, he was quite hard and even producing a small batch of precum at the tip. For some reason it looked painful to her, it did not look natural and it seemed to bother Ben as well.

"This... This has to be that side effect from the antidote... Did they add this on purpose or something? It almost looks like he had his fair share of aphrodisiac." Mumbled Kaitlin to herself as her eyes remained glued on her brother's hard cock.

The sight of this had her thinking back to the things that Joanna had written in her diary. Her she was, admiring her brother's naked body and the big, hard cock that came with it.

"Oh... Ben..." Moaned Kaitlin lightly as she felt her body starting to react even more fierce. Her pussy started getting wet and her now erect nipples started to sting. Even her clit decided to let her know she was getting turned on like never before.

"N-no Kait... We have to help him, keep his body cool and clean... His health is priority number one now! I... I could always h-help him... Later." Thought Kaitlin to herself.

She then took the water soaked ball of cloth and started to tend to his body like the mysterious voice had instructed her to do. She tended to his face, arms, torso, and legs while never letting her eyes wander off his throbbing, hard cock.

Kaitlin started breathing heavier and her erogenous zones started teasing and tingling her even further as she washed her brother's trained body. This went on for several minutes as she tried her best to avoid his groin area.

Her pussy was now a soaked mess. A dark, wet spot was visible through her Daisy Dukes showing how aroused she was. She did her best to not give in to her feelings but the desire to rip off her shorts and to start masturbating were increasing with every second.

Suddenly her arm movements were stopped when she was close next to Ben's groin. Kaitlin yelped because of the sudden touch of a hand wrapped loosely around her wrist. She quickly looked up at her brother's face and noticed that he was staring directly into her eyes through his tiny slits.

Kaitlin remained quiet for a while as they just stared at each other. She could see that there was relief in his eyes but also pain. Ben mumbled something to her that she couldn't decipher, he was still recovering from the bite and the antidote was still in the process of patching him up.

"Ben? Can you hear me? Is there... Is there something you want me to do for you?" She asked with a gentle, motherly like tone.

She then felt his hand weakly pulling her own closer... Closer towards the erect cock she had been admiring for a while.

"B-Ben? What are you d-doing?" She asked him quietly.

The ball of cloth slipped out of her hand as she was being guided closer and closer to the thick, throbbing man meat of her brother. Ben mumbled something again as he kept pulling her closer without taking his eyes off his sister.

Kaitlin gulped once more when she felt the sweaty, slick skin of her brother's cock touching the tip of her fingers.

Ben let go of her wrist and moved his hand of top of his sister's hand. He then pushed her down until her soft palm was directly touching his cock.

Kaitlin felt a shock of pleasure running through her body as she came into full contact with her brother's impressive penis.

"Is it... Is it hurting you? D-do you want big Sis to... to... H-help you...?" Whispered Kaitlin to him, feeling nervous like she had never been before.

Ben tapped his fingers on top of her hand a couple of times and again tried to say something to her. He then closed his eyes and relaxed his body, his hand slipped off Kaitlin's and his heavy breathing returned.

Kaitlin knew what he wanted her to do, his none natural erection was troubling him, maybe even hurting him. She was about to do something that she had only dreamed about before, something she had imagined her doing to him. Things like these were the reason why her behavior had changed towards him, to prevent her from acting upon her true feelings, to her prevent her from crossing the forbidden line.

But this time there was no choice or debate. He was hurt and she was the only one that could help him now. They promised each other to be and stay together, no matter what happened.

She wrapped her fingers around the thick girth of her brother's cock, holding it steady with a tight grip as she watched it standing full mast pointed upward.

"Oh my god..." Moaned Kaitlin slightly louder as she took in the impressive fuck-stick of her brother. She had seen cocks before but this one was massive, and it belonged to her own little brother.

Slowly she started running her hand up and down along his shaft, thanks to the sweat she could easily work his cock. She ran her fingers up until they reached the underside of his precum oozing cockhead before sliding down again along his throbbing shaft.

"Does this... Does this feel better little brother? Is big Sis making you feel better?" She purred as her eyes were fixated on her hand moving up and down along his shaft.

Ben mumbled something, trying to answer his sister's question.

Kaitlin let out a small giggle. "I do, don't I?" She purred back to him.

She placed her other free hand on his balls and started fondling them carefully. She could feel his body reacting to her touch, she was making him feel good.

After stroking the shaft a couple more times she stopped her hand at the tip of his cock. With her thumb she spread the big gob of precum over his cockhead before placing the palm of her hand on top of it.

She wrapped her fingers around her brother's cockhead and started gyrating her hand with short quick motions. She could feel his precum coating the inside of her hand as she caressed his sensitive tip.

"Mhmmm you naughty boy, dirtying your older sister like this." Purred Kaitlin again, her arousal taking her over as she was now determined to make her little brother cum.

When her hand was coated enough she slipped it back down along his shaft again, now increasing the tempo a bit faster.

Squishy, slick sounds were now heard as she ran her hand up and down along her brother's sweaty, precum coated cock shaft.

Kaitlin shifted her ball fondling hand on top of his cockhead, wetting it with a fresh batch of precum before returning it to his balls.

One hand was now rapidly running up and down his shaft as the other fondled his balls with a gentle but powerful touch.

Kaitlin started moaning as she felt the thick cock of her brother pulsing against her hands, her pussy cream was now running down her thighs. The smell they produced was incredible, this was herself and her brother in heat, doing one of the many forbidden things she dreamed about.

"Mhmmm yes... That's it little brother, show your big, fat cock to your sister. Show me how much you really love me." She purred at him, wanting to tease him.

Though Ben wasn't able to respond to her clearly, she could feel that his body told her everything she wanted to know. His cock was throbbing even wilder than before and the precum he produced came in greater quantities.

She stroked him like this for a couple more minutes before switching up her tactics. She brought her balls fondling hand up to her face and stared at the glistening liquid that was spread across it. Without any hesitation she licked across her palm taking in a sample of her brother's strong tasting precum. Her whole body shook from excitement and a small squirt of cunt nectar shot out of her soaked pussy.

"Oooh Ben! You taste so good... And just for me!" She giggled before spitting some saliva on the palm of her hand.

"How about you show your big sister how much you really love her?" She said to him as she also wrapped her saliva covered hand around her brother's thick shaft.

Ben let out another loud mumble, presumably expressing his excitement as both of his sister's soft, wet hands were now wrapped around his throbbing cock.

"Oh my! Just look at this little brother, your cock is so big that I managed to wrap both my hands around it!" Said Kaitlin proudly, totally hypnotized by his cock.

Slowly she started moving both hands up and down, the combined liquids of her saliva and his sweat and precum made her movements extremely fluid. The squishy sounds became even louder which got Kaitlin even more aroused.

She was now lost in her own world. Finally, she was showing the man she loved how much she would do for him to make him feel good. Was this the start of their forbidden relationship? Would Benjamin want this as much as she would? Only time would tell, and time they had.

Both her hands were now rapidly running up and down his shaft, shifting from ordinary stroking to complex gyrating and other movements making sure she hit every sensitive spot on his cock. She even let her spit dribble down on top of his cockhead making the whole act even more dirty.

"Oooh so big! My naughty little brother has such a big cock for his sister!" Moaned Kaitlin overjoyed as she did everything to please him as much as possible.

After a few minutes of intense masturbating action, she could feel that his body started to tense up, his breathing and mumbling became louder while his cock started to throb wildly and expand. His precum trickled out of his cock-slit as an active volcano, covering his shaft and his sister's hand with the smelly substance.

Ben could feel that his balls started to hurt, his sister was about to make him cum like he had never cum before. His own big sister was about to give him an unbelievable orgasm.

"Mhmmm that's it Ben! Are you going to cum? Are you going shoot out that thick, warm and tasty semen for your big sister? Are you going to show me how much you love me?" Moaned Kaitlin loud without a care in the world. If those mysterious onlookers were still observing them then they would get a hell of a show.

"Cum for me Ben! Shoot that thick load all over your sister's slutty hands! Mark your big sister as your own!" Shouted Kaitlin out of excitement to him.

The erotic words and soft hands of his sister became too much for Ben. He let out a final loud mumble before his body tensed up and his cock started to spew his thick, potent semen. Spurt after spurt of his cum shot up in the air, it drenched his sister's hands and landed in large streaks across his chest.

Kaitlin had grown silent as she realized that she had made her own brother cum his brains out. Suddenly her own body started to quake and shudder, the smell and the sight of her brother's cum all over the place had triggered her own orgasm.

She moaned and moaned as she embraced the orgasmic bliss of their incestuous coupling. She fell back onto the ground and started breathing heavily, almost passing out herself from the intense experience.

It took a while before she regained control over her exhausted body. She slowly pushed herself up into a sitting position and was confronted with the aftermath of their 'healing' session.

"Did we... Did we really do this?" Asked Kaitlin herself.

She could see that Ben was out for the count, he was snoring softly as he had fallen asleep. She observed him for a bit and came to the conclusion that the antidote had done its work. The only thing left for her to do now was to clean up herself and her brother's body.

She reached for the cloth ball and quietly started to clean up the mess they both made, making sure that she wouldn't wake up her brother.

After her silent cleaning treatment, she could now clean herself up a bit. She took off her soaked Daisy Dukes and placed them on one of the stools so they could dry, leaving her only in her bikini.

She checked on Ben one more time to make sure he was okay. She hadn't bothered to dress him up again as it was too hot anyway. Her eyes darted over his now relaxed body and came to stop at the same place that she was tugging on earlier. Even calmed down his cock still looked huge to her, she still couldn't believe that her own little brother was blessed with such a beautiful tool.

"You really are remarkable little brother." Whispered Kaitlin to herself with a smile on her face.

She reached for the flashlight and the opened bottle of water and took them both with her. She had decided to clean herself a bit in the stream as her own groin area and thighs were still sticky and soaked with her pussy juices. She would fill the bottle back to full again while she was at it.

Normally she would be scared to death to go outside in the dark at an unknown location, but this time she felt safe and fine. Maybe it was the adrenaline from the situation beforehand that was still lingering inside of her.

Kaitlin gently washed herself in the cold water stream as the sounds of the jungle surrounded her. She was deep in her thoughts, thinking about her and Ben, about their parents and what the hell was truly going on. Their mysterious onlooker(s) had to have a reason for doing this, what would they gain out of the fact that she and her brother were stranded on some island?

With all these things roaming through her head she went back to the shack. She returned the water bottle before walking up to their 'bed'. She smiled again as she looked at Ben, finally calm and sleeping peacefully.

She got down and let herself fall onto the sleeping bag next to him, not bothered that he was fully naked.

Kaitlin was dead tired after everything that had happened today, she turned her body around so she faced her brother. "Big sis took care of you today, didn't I Ben? No matter what happens, we will always be together... Because I love you... And I know... I know that you really love me." She whispered to him as she gently caressed his cheek.

"So, goodnight little brother... And we will see each other again in the morning..." She whispered to him with her last remaining strength before falling asleep.

Ben woke up with a loud yawn while stretching his body like a cat. It felt like he had been hit by a freight train before he went to sleep only to wake up as a phoenix rising from its ashes.

Then it hit him as he remembered everything that had happened. Him getting bitten by the snake, the poison that slowly took its toll on his body, his sister's tears and screams for help and finally... A sight of her that would be burned forever in his brain.

Ben gulped as he thought back to what she did and how he felt when she did so... He could see her cute, sexy, erotic face when she did 'that' to him, the things she said to him. It was like a third personality of her. You had the bitchy sister, the cute sister and now the sex crazed horny sister.

"Does she... Does she feel the same way about me as I have these deep feelings for her?" He asked himself in his thoughts.

It was true that he was the one that started it, that strange injection got him feeling better, but also very horny at the same time. He was the one that guided her, who wanted her to do the things she did. But he could feel that there was no hesitation from her side, she wanted to do it and the way she did was incredible.

Ben looked down and could see that he was fully naked, it made him wonder where his sister was. Usually she would scold him if he showed her even a tiny bit of naked skin.

He turned his head to the other part of the sleeping bag before coming into contact with his sister, the sight of her left him breathless.

Kaitlin was on her back, snoring softly. Her bikini top had shifted to the side, revealing both her full meaty breasts in all their glory. Her tiny pink nipples were hard and erect, poking into the air on top of those two fleshy mountains.

Her bikini bottom had nestled itself into the crevice of her tight, juicy pussy. Her lips were molded around the tiny patch of fabric that seemed to be... wet?

Before he knew it his cock was at full mast again, just as it had been the night before. He could feel his body reacting to her naked presence, every molecule of him was now focused on her, on his beautiful older sister's stunning body.

He then picked up that she was mumbling something in her sleep.

Ben nervously pulled himself closer to her to try to find out what she was saying.

"Ben... I love... You... Yes... Fuck my... Fuck big sister's tight pussy..." She mumbled softly.

Ben gasped "S-she is having a wet dream... About me!"

The image in his mind of him fucking her made his cock throb, his body shaking with anticipation. He imagined her lewd face as he fucked her harder and harder, her screaming her lungs out declaring how much she loved him.

He took another glance at her beautiful body before deciding that he would.

Ben gulped as he stared at his older sister's exposed body as she kept on dreaming and mumbling words of her affection to him. His eyes roamed across every nook and cranny of her incredible erotic body.

He felt his hands shaking out of pressure. In her dreams she was longing for him, saying things that he never expected to come from her. As if on auto-pilot he was being drawn closer to her, to her smell, to her exotic hot body, to her because she was Kaitlin, Kaitlin his older sister which he loved like no one else in his life.

He could feel his cock throbbing out of anticipation, it was the one part of his body that seemed to have regained full energy after the poisonous bite of the snake. He still felt a bit light-headed, but he was conscious and knowing damn well what he was doing. Even if the rest of his body was in a weakened state, he wanted to embrace her, to love her back how she loved him the night before.

"S-should I... R-really do this...?" He mumbled to himself getting closer and closer to a dreaming Kaitlin.

Ben shifted his sight to her cute, freckled face. She was sleeping with a smile, a bit flustered but she was happy, would it be really wrong at all to make her feel good too?

He hadn't really been with a girl before at all, and definitely not with a beautiful naked creature as his own sister. He had been so madly in love with her that he rejected offers from other girls and thus never really experienced love making at all. Of course he watched his fair share of porn, he knew what would make a lady feel good but he never had gotten to the practical side of it. It would be the first time for him to pleasure a woman and in this case it would be the one he longed for, his own older sister Kaitlin.

"I... I have to do this... I can't leave her longing for... Attention. She helped me yesterday, and now it's my time... No, it's my duty to return that love to her." Said Ben to himself.

He laid down next to her again as his body was still a bit funky feeling from waking up. He shifted to his side and suddenly let out a moan. He looked down and saw that his erect cock was rubbing against her silk feeling thigh, a small precum trail spreading across it as his cock moved with his now heavy breathing.

He was now incredibly close next to her, both their heads a few inches apart. He could smell her sisterly fragrance running up his nose, her cute freckled face blushing in contrast with her bright, fierce red hair. She was still muttering words of affection which only aroused Ben even more. He made his decision final, he had to do this, for her, and for himself.

He lifted his hand and reached out to one of her voluptuous breasts, as he came closer he started to tremble even harder but nonetheless he continued.

He carefully placed his hand onto her fleshy globe, his palm pressing onto her erect nipple as his fingers slowly sunk into her softness.

"Holy shit..." He whispered as he was feeling up his sister's large breast, the first one in his life.

He started kneading it softly, exploring the erotic female part before focusing his sight on her face once more. He noticed that she twitched a bit with every knead, her breathing became more rapid and soon he could hear soft moans instead of her quiet snoring.

He then let out another moan himself as he felt his cock being rubbed by her thigh. As he was fondling her breast she started to wiggle her hips in her sleep, presumably because of his touch.

Ben became a bit more daring as he shifted his hand onto the other breast, kneading it too but this time also flicking his fingers across her engorged nub which seemed to have an even greater effect on her.

The mumbles about him had stopped and now she was only moaning softly, accompanied with quick breaths as if she gasped for air.

He kept on playing with her tits for a while, switching between breasts as it seemed to be highly effective on her, he knew that woman had certain spots that could accelerate their arousal faster, and he was sure that his sister's breasts were one of hers.

As his sister shuddered from his touch, his eyes trailed down to her special place. His eyes grew wider when he noticed the wetness that was splattered all over her groin, due to her wriggling her hips together. The place was soaked and it was all because... Because of him.

As if possessed by a spirit he let go of his sister's firm breasts and started to slowly trail his hand down across her fit body. Slowly across her stomach, dipping a feel at her cute belly button before coming closer and closer to the place that should have been strictly off limits for him.

As his hand came closer his cock started to throb wilder, softly slapping against her already precum coated thigh. Kaitlin remained squirming and moaning, possibly feeling the touch of his hand and maybe even his cock on her thigh.

Ben gulped again when his fingers went under her tiny bikini bottom and approached her mound, her short trimmed mound to be exact. He felt a shock running through his body as his fingers dwelled further down through her short pubic hairs. He then felt his fingers running over an erect, wet nub. It had to be her clitoris.

Kaitlin's body shook heavily, accompanied with a shriek as his fingers traveled over the hardened nub.

Ben got spooked by the sudden motion and stopped moving for some time. He waited a bit for her to calm down further, his fingers now being drenched by her sticky wetness that drooled out of her pussy.

After a second or thirty he resumed his movement, his fingers slid down her soaked labia until they reached the end before slowly moving up again.

"Holy shit!" Said Ben a little louder, experiencing a brand new experience. He was now so close to sexually satisfying his own older sister that he felt his whole body heating up intensely. Again his hand went into auto-pilot, his fingers going up and down her soaked labia, hitting her clit every time he reached the upper part of her pussy.

Out of excitement his own body started to move on its own as well, his hips thrusting slowly forward, scraping his erect cock along her silky thigh, spreading his precum even further across it. His own breathing became heavier and sweat poured off his face.

"I can't believe it! It feels so good, Sis feels so good! And her smell, amazing!" Announced Ben proudly, his mind blocking off his surroundings.

He then stopped his fingers on top of her labia and waited for a bit, he let out a big sigh as he knew that there was a single step left to cross the line.

"It's now or never Ben... Show her that you can make her feel good too, show her that you lo-"

Out of nowhere he felt his cock being grabbed by something warm and soft, holding his shaft with a tight grip.

Out of reflex Ben turned his head to be greeted by the bright piercing open eyes of his older sister, staring deep into his own as if she was about to suck out his soul.

Kaitlin had clamped her hand around her brother's stiff cock as they just laid there staring at each other in silence, Ben's hand and fingers also still on his sister's wet pussy.

"O-o-oooh I.. I'm S-sorry S-Sis I.. I d-don't k-know w-what I'm..."
Stuttered a panicking Ben, his head red as a tomato.

He tried to pull his hand away but got stopped by Kaitlin who quickly placed her own free hand on top of it, resulting in her letting out a sexy moan as she pressed her and her brother's hands hard on her pussy in the process.

"D-don't stop... Just... do it." She whispered to him with an incredible cute girly tone, her face flushed red again.

Ben gulped as he felt her hand slowly coming off his, two of his fingers now with their tips inserted in her vagina.

"O-okay... I... I will..." He whispered back to her, still a bit shocked from the sudden situation. He then felt her other hand losing her grip on his cock slightly, but not letting go of it.

Still confused he looked at his sister again, her eyes still staring deep into his before she whispered to him again. "Ben... It's okay... Do it... D-don't... Don't leave me like this."

"A-alright I... I can do it... For you..." He responded before slowly sinking his two fingers further into the crevice of her soaked pussy.

Kaitlin whimpered as she felt her brother's fingers slowly entering her. Her head fell back onto the spread sleeping bag and started to moan.

Ben swallowed his saliva once more before focusing onto his fingers and her private part again, inexperienced but determined to make her feel good he started to work both his fingers further into her vagina.

He let out a moan himself as he felt his sister fumbling her thumb around on the sensitive skin of his rock-hard cock which she still had trapped in her hand.

She started to wiggle her hips again as Ben's sunk his fingers further and further into her pussy until they were at the knuckle. She let out another shriek out of excitement and thrashed her body a bit.

Ben watched with his eyes open wide as he saw his sister responding to him, he was doing this, he was making her feel good.

He then slowly worked his fingers up again before pushing them down into the depth of his sister's pussy repeatedly, her rapid moans and shakes confirming him that he was giving her pleasure.

He could hear the squishy sounds coming from her pussy as his fingers worked her cunt, her vagina walls sucking his fingers deep inside, coating them with her juices.

In the midst of their incestuous activities Kaitlin threw her free hand unto her breasts and started mauling away at the soft, sweaty flesh, occasionally pinching her nipples which her made her squirm even more.

The sight of his sister being pleasure aroused Ben greatly, as a reaction his own hips started to move again with the same movement as his fingers. Slowly his hard cock started to fuck his sister's soft hand, his cockhead sliding against her thigh when he pushed up.

This made Kaitlin moan even louder when she felt his precum oozing cock grind against her. She weakened her grip a bit more so he could move even easier.

Brother and sister were now moaning in sync as both their bodies were being pleased at the same time in an incestuous way that they both had dreamed of so many times.

Ben took in the full picture as his eyes roamed across his sister's body. Her eyes closed and mouth agape as her cute little moans ringed through his ears, her own hand caressing her twin globes with precision, his fingers plunging in and out of her steaming hot pussy, her wide hips that wiggled and crushed together from the intense feeling, and finally her other soft hand that was still wrapped around his thrusting fuck-stick. It was another image that would be burned forever in his brain, all the porn he had ever seen came nowhere as close to arousing him as much than his own sister did.

He started working his fingers in and out of her pussy even faster, her wetness now coming out of her with squirts. This made his hips thrust faster as well, his cockhead now poking into her soft skin with every thrust forward, every thrust backward made his precum dribble along his sister's fingers and onto the palm of her hand.

"This is... Oh god... This is..." Moaned Ben, unable to finish his sentence as he grinded his teeth together, experiencing a pleasure he never felt before.

Kaitlin's sweaty body shuddered non-stop now and her moans, accompanied with gasps for air, became even louder and faster. A trickle of drool ran out of her open mouth as she shook her head side to side, her being in the same boat as Ben, experiencing a pleasure she never felt before.

The two of them moved together like a perfectly, well-oiled machine. After a couple of minutes of non-stop pleasuring their bodies came at critical levels of having shattering climaxes.

Ben wanted to do one more thing, thinking that it would certainly push his sister over the edge if it would work.

With his final thrusts inside of her steaming pussy he formed his fingers into a hook, knowing that girls could have a weak spot if he managed to hit it like this and apparently, his sister was one of those girl.

Kaitlin's body suddenly bucked and trashed as she let out an ear-shattering scream that would certainly have grabbed people's attention if they were around.

Ben felt his fingers being sucked into her pussy once last time before her vagina walls tightened hard around them and then released his fingers with such a force that they literally shot out of her cunt. Multiple big, splattering squirts of female nectar followed suit and shot out of her pussy as she screamed her lungs out.

Her orgasm triggered her hands to squeeze their fingers together, resulting in her mauling one of her tits and her other hand to close around Ben's cock like a vice.

"Ooooooh fuck!" Shouted Ben as he felt his cock literally being squeezed dry. After seeing his older sister cumming in front of his eyes this was the last straw for him as well.

His cock started erupting shot after shot of his thick, potent seed all over his sister's thigh. Even as he came his hips remained thrusting back and forward while his sister's vice like hand still stroked his cock. The warm seed splattered unto her thigh and coated her skin into a gooey mess, some shots even managed to splurt upward unto her stomach.

Both siblings had climaxed like they never did before, they both had crossed another forbidden line and at the moment, crossing that line felt pretty goddamn good.

Kaitlin's hand released Ben's cock as her exhausted body became numb. She quietly muttered undecipherable words in-between her gasps for air. Her body shook and shuddered from the aftereffects of the climax.

Ben himself was pretty much in the same state. The orgasm had taken a toll on his body, combined with him still recovering from the poison made him fall back asleep on the spot right away. The only thing he heard before his eyes closed were the sounds of his sister moving around.

A few hours later Ben finally woke up from his exhausted slumber, feeling a lot better now.

He pulled himself up into a sitting position and scanned through the shack. The place where his sister had been lying was empty, he then noticed that the door to the shack was open and blocked by one of the stools so it didn't close. A light breeze flew through the shack, the outside lighted up by the burning sun, it was going to be another hot day.

He let out a yawn and stretched his arms before he started to look for his clothes. He quickly found his boxers and shorts lying on top the table, neatly folded by probably his sister. Underneath it stood his sneakers.

He then remembered vaguely what happened to his shirt the night before. Ben chuckled to himself, considering the warm weather he didn't really need his shirt anyway.

After getting into his remaining clothes he ventured his way outside. The first thing he did was looking around to find his sister. After looking around a bit he could finally see her sitting at the edge of the water stream, her legs brought up to her chest and her arms folded around them.

"Yo Kait!" He shouted to her, no response.

Ben felt that something was off and proceeded to walk towards her. As he stepped beside her she still did not give him any response, she was just staring in front of her.

"Kait? What's the ma-" He tried to say before she spoke up.

"It's wrong what we did Ben." She said with a cold tone.

"Wh-? What? You me-" He tried to say again.

"Come on Ben, you know damn well that we can't... We just can't do this together, okay? We are brother and sister." Said Kaitlin as her eyes shifted to her side.

She sighed and spoke again. "Even if we have these... Feelings for each other. It's wrong and you know it... What if Mom or Dad found about what we have done, they would go ballistic!"

Ben shook his head and turned defensive. "Kaitlin, look around you, do you see Mom or Dad, or anyone else for the matter?" He asked her as he held his arms out wide.

"No, because we are stuck on this fucking island! The only one else around is that fucking creep that babbles this dumb-ass 'Survive... And find yourselves' riddle and spies on us like we are some goddamn experimental pet project." Responded Kaitlin aggressively to her brother.

Ben shook his head again and sighed. "Kaitlin... What is this all of a sudden?"

"What is this? WHAT IS THIS? Ben! We were on the verge of having sex with each other!" Shouted Kaitlin to Ben.

"What? You were the one that asked me to continue and you loved it!" Returned Ben with his own loud voice.

Kaitlin stood up, clearly mad now. "You took advantage of me! I woke up seeing my little brother's hand rubbing my pussy for Christ sake!"

Ben let out a short laugh. "I took advantage of you? How about you? Miss 'Oh please cum on your sister's slutty hands!'" He said to her, mimicking his sister from the night before.

Kaitlin opened her mouth, wanting to say something before she turned around and tried to walk away from her brother.

"Oh no Kait, not this time!" He said to her as he grabbed her hard by the arm.

"Ouch! Ben you are hurting me!" Yelped Kaitlin as her brother's hand grabbed her arm like a vice.

He ignored her and started to speak again. "Seriously Kaitlin, I have no clue what the fuck has been going on in that head of yours these last few years, I just can't figure you out anymore! Why do you keep avoiding me and sometimes, all of a sudden show me affection like you always used to do!"

Kaitlin stood still and remained quiet.

"Yesterday for example, after I got bitten you hung around me, cared for me like I was some sacred person, saying how much you love me and don't want to be separated from me. Am I like, some puppet you can wrap your hand around if you want to have some attention or something? Only to get all pissed off again after a while?" He continued.

"Y-you just don't understand..." Mumbled Kaitlin to him, tears starting to form in her eyes.

Ben was on fire now as he spoke aggressively. "Understand what? That my once incredibly cute, funny and adorable older sister has turned into some egocentric bitch that only seeks my attention when she needs to feel better herself? You know, maybe you should have left me to die so Mr. creepy-ass would have to end his little game and return you home, back home without me because you don't seem to care all that much fo-"

SMACK!

Suddenly he felt a stinging pain on his cheek. "H-how... How d-dare you!" Stuttered Kaitlin as tears streamed down her face, now crying like she never had done before. Her brother's outrage became too much for her so she had slapped him, hard.

Ben was shocked and went silent, realizing that what he had said was out of utter anger. He had no right to judge his sister as he indeed did not know what was bothering her so much after all this time.

"How can you say all those things Ben! You want to know why I have been like that the past few years? That's because I'm in LOVE with you! You blind asshole!" Shouted Kaitlin through her tears.

She sobbed for a while before she continued to speak "I knew it was wrong for a sister to love her brother like this! That's why I have been avoiding you, trying to take my mind away from it but I... I couldn't Ben! I could not get you out of my mind! I have been in love with you ever since we were little and until these last few days together I walked around years feeling ashamed of myself, I saw myself as some sicko freak that would only hurt the one she loved if it ever came to his attention."

Kaitlin slipped out of her brother's grip and fell onto her knees, still sobbing loud, her eyes colored red from her crying. "And here... Here on this island I've finally been able to be myself, to express myself to you as much as I could, hoping that you would take the hint..."

Ben kneeled down with her and pulled her close to him, holding her tight as she poured her heart out. "Ben you... You almost died in my arms and I... I just... I just want to go home! I want us to go home to Mom and Dad!"

Kaitlin stopped talking and succumbed in her brother's arms, crying out all her pent up emotions that she had collected over all these years. Ben slowly rocked her back and forth, holding her tight as he too had a thousand things running through his thoughts.

Had he really been that blind to not see that she was in love with him? And what about himself, if she would have known how he really felt about her would everything have been different? Maybe he had been just like her, afraid to tell the one woman he really loved how he felt about her.

The siblings sat together in an emotional embrace as they were surrounded by the ambiance of the jungle, they had a lot of explaining to do to each other. But here, here they had the time for that, all the time in the world.

Kaitlin's eyes were still red and puffy, even after an hour of her and her brother having a deep conversation with each other, cuddled together next to the streaming water that had a calming effect on both of them.

She sat between his legs hearing his own confession to her, which occasionally brought her back to tears. Ben had told her how he too struggled with the fact that he had forbidden feelings for her, that he too had been afraid to approach her, that he thought that it was him that pushed her away from him, In the end it seemed that both siblings had developed feelings for each other at a very young age and simply did not know how to tell it to each other without feeling disgusting, scared of what would happen if they told the truth and drove the other person even further away.

"And... That's about it Kait... I'm sorry... Sorry for the things I said to you, sorry for being such an asshole..." Whispered Ben to his sister while he wiped away his own tears.

Kaitlin sniffled and laid her head gently against his shoulder. "It's okay Ben, you don't have to apologize, it's not like I've been the most caring person towards you these last few years too... I think we have to start with a clean slate... Okay?" She whispered back to him.

"Yeah... Yeah, a clean slate." He responded quietly.

"Hey Ben...? Cheer up, okay? I want to see that goofy smile of yours again." Said Kaitlin as she turned her head and used her hand to turn her brother's head to her.

Ben looked deep into her sparkling eyes and his smile returned. They kept staring at each other for a while, he taking in her angelic freckled face, so innocent and beautiful, and she, looking up to the once young boy that had turned into a hunk of a man.

Slowly their heads came closer and closer to each other, until finally their soft lips met. What followed was a long, passionate, love filled kiss that seemed to last forever. The siblings could both feel each other's hearts beating fast as they confirmed their love.

"Kaitlin I... I truly love you." Whispered Ben after their long kiss broke.

His sister blushed and whispered back to him. "And I... Benjamin Collins... I truly love you too."

A few minutes later they decided to explore the jungle a bit further. Holding hands, they walked along the water stream, enjoying each other's presence. As long they followed the water they wouldn't have any trouble finding their way back to their shack.

"How are we going to tell Mom and Dad about... You know, us?" Asked Kaitlin after a while.

"Uh, by opening our mouths." Responded Ben jokingly.

Kaitlin let out a giggle and punched his shoulder softly with her other free hand. "Jackass... I'm serious here you know?"

Ben let out a soft sigh before speaking. "I think... I think they would understand if we told them Kait... I donno, but Mom and Dad were always open about... Well, pretty much everything to be honest."

Kaitlin nodded in agreement. "Yeah... I think so too... I guess I've been too hard on them before, if someone would understand us than it definitely would be Mom and Dad."

"Hey, do you remember when you slammed Dad's racing bike against the front porch, right through Mom's flower field?" Asked Kaitlin with a sly grin on her face.

"Ugh... Don't remind me, I mean, how could I have known that he had two handles for shifting gears and another two for breaking, I just happened to pull on the wrong ones!" Said Ben embarrassed.

"H-hey! What has that to do with any of what we talked about anyway, are you making fun of your poor little brother again?" He said as he gave his sister a poke in her side.

Kaitlin yelped and let out a giggle again. "Noooo, I wouldn't dare baby brother!" She smiled.

"I meant what happened after you crashed, both Mom and Dad came out panicked and the first thing they did was rushing to you, picking you up, comforting you. You were priority number one, Dad didn't care about what happened to his bike and Mom didn't give two craps about her plowed flower field... What I mean to say is that... That we always have been their priority, no matter what happened. So, just like you said, if someone will understand our... Relationship, then it probably will be Mom and Dad." She explained.

Ben nodded. "I guess so too Sis, but first we have to cross another hurdle, a big hurdle, getting the hell off this island." He said.

"I know... And I also know that we will succeed Ben... I can feel it, because we are together now... Truly together." Responded Kaitlin.

Ben felt his sister grasping his hand tighter as she said her words. "Yeah... We will Sis. We will." He said.

After another twenty minutes or so of walking along the stream Kaitlin suddenly stopped and stood still.

"Kait what are..." Asked Ben before he shut himself up, his sister was listening again. He saw her concentrating hard. "You heard something?" He asked again.

Kaitlin nodded. "Yes... Yes! Follow me little brother, right through here!" She said as she started walking, pulling her brother with her.

After a short, minute walk through some more jungly area they came at a standstill as they both overlooked what they had found with glistering eyes.

"Holy... This is..." Said Ben.

"Beautiful!" Said Kaitlin, finishing her brother's sentence.

They had stumbled upon a fairly large pond, the water was clean as can be, easily able to see the bottom of it. In the back was a small waterfall that came crashing down from the rocky outcrops at the back of the pond.

Kaitlin then shrieked and giggled loud as Ben picked her up and spun her around with a big smile on his face. "Kaitlin you super hearing wonder woman!" He said before putting her back on the ground.

"Last one in is a loser!" He said childishly as he kicked off his shoes and shorts before sprinting towards the very inviting pond.

Kaitlin smiled with a seductive grin as she watched her brother run towards the pond. When he was out of sight she pulled the strings of her bikini top and bottom open, letting the two pieces of fabric fall unto the ground before she chased and dived after him.

"Fuck! This feels so goddamn good!" Shouted Ben out of excitement as he came out of the water after diving into it. The pond wasn't that deep so both of them could easily stand in it.

He looked back to where he and his sister were before, only to spot a shade coming towards him from under the clean water.

Ben smiled to himself, getting ready to pull her up out of the water and swing her around again. He remembered that his sister loved it when he did that at the pool.

He timed his attack and struck when she was at the right angle. With a big splash he pulled her from the water.

"No sneaky surprise attack from below this time Sis, the water is way to clear and I could easily... see... y-you..." He said excited before his voice started to stutter.

"Guess you caught me, little brother..." Said Kaitlin with her foxy voice, loving the look in his eyes when he realized that she was fully naked.

After half a spin he carefully placed her down right in front of him. "I... I did not expect this... Uh... Sneaky surprise from you Sis." He stammered.

Kaitlin only smiled as she shook the water out of her red hair, which was now hanging wetly over her shoulder.

Ben gulped as he ogled his older sister's wet, fit and tanned body. He noticed that she had developed some light tan lines from her bikini, something he had not noticed before, but it made her look even more sexier.

She truly looked like a water goddess as she stood before him, carefully wringing the water out of her hair. Her massive breasts jiggled a bit as she tended her hair, her wet hourglass figure burning a mental image in his brain. She spun around a bit, first giving him a good look at her at her tits and pussy before showing off her bubble-butt.

Kaitlin let a giggle as she observed her shy brother. "Cat got your tongue... Little brother?" She said flirty before her eyes noticed the bulge in his boxers.

"W-wow Sis... Uh... I did... I did not expect this..." Stammered Ben again.

"I guess you didn't, but seeing how 'you' react to me, I don't think you have any problem with it... BIG brother." She purred to him.

Ben noticed her eyes gazing down and quickly did the same. "Oh! Oh... Uh... Sorry Sis, I didn't mean to..." He apologized to her as he too had laid eyes on his massive erection.

"Sorry? Sorry for what?" She purred again as she came closer until she stood right in front of him.

She looked into her brother's eyes and giggled again before whispering to him. "We started with a clean slate a few hours ago little brother, weren't we supposed to be... Lovers by now?"

She then slowly grabbed his now rock-hard cock through his boxers with her hand.

Ben let out a moan as he felt his sister's tender hand wrapping around his girth, only the fabric stopping from a direct touch. "I...I think so Sis." He answered nervously.

Kaitlin giggled again before licking her lips. "Then come with me... Loverboy, big Sis is going to show you what us, being lovers, is all about." She said with a seductive voice.

Without letting go of his cock she walked past Ben towards a small rock to the side of the pond. She then gave a playful little pull so Ben would wobble with her, who was still surprised by the sudden situation.

As they came close to the rock she let go of his cock. "Sit down over there little brother, and remove those pesky boxers will you? We won't be needing those." Said Kaitlin as she placed her hands on her hips, giving a very seductive pose.

Ben felt his arousal growing by the second. He happily obliged to her words and did as she had told him to do. With one swift movement he removed his boxers and threw them to the side. His cock throbbed up and down, standing full mast and already leaking a bit of precum.

"Oh my... Is that all for me?" Purred Kaitlin to him, feeling her own juices starting to flow out of her tingling pussy along her thighs.

Ben smiled at her, not nervous anymore. "It is my dear sister, and only for you.

Kaitlin giggled as she walked over to her brother, crouched to her knees so her head was at the same height as his fuck-stick, her bubble-butt just sticking out above the clean water.

She stared at her brother's big cock for a bit, first time seeing it up close. She licked her lips again before looking up to Ben. "May I?" She asked with a sexy tone.

Ben smiled at her again. "You may Sis... Whenever you want." He then laid back a bit, steadying himself for the upcoming experience, his older sister was going to give him his first blowjob.

Kaitlin nodded, placed her hands on her brother's legs for extra grip and lunged forward. She stuck out her tongue and gave one lick from his balls all the way to the tip of his cock.

"Oh god!" Moaned Ben as he felt his sister's tongue licking his shaft.

Kaitlin poked his cockhead with her tongue a couple of times to tease him before she clamped her mouth over it and started to suck gently. Her mouth was coated right away by her brother's tasty precum. She swirled her tongue all over his tip, poking into his slit with her tongue a couple of times as her lips held his cock in place.

Her eyes kept focus on her brother all the time, not letting him out of her sight. She bobbed her head down a bit further, his cockhead now poking against the roof of her mouth.

Suddenly she felt his cock starting to expand and throb, before she knew it she could feel her brother's thick cum blasting into her mouth, she clamped her lips tighter around his cock and started to swallow every load he blasted into her.

The new pleasure Ben felt was too much for him right away, plus the erotic sight of his sister looking up to him as she sucked his cock wasn't making things any easier. He let out a powerful moan as he started to climax straight into Kaitlin's mouth.

Kaitlin greedily swallowed all the spunk her brother served her, after the final blast she let go of his still rock-hard cock with a loud plop. She then licked the remaining sperm off her lips with a smile. "Mhmmm... Deliciously tasty little brother." She purred.

"S-shit... Sis I'm sorry but it... It felt so good!" Apologized Ben to her.

Kaitlin started to giggle again. "Sweetie, you don't have to apologize. Plus, I don't think Mr. Big over here has planned to calm down right away." She said with a loving tone, amazed at the sight of her little brother's still hard penis.

They kept gazing into each other's eyes for a bit before Ben gave her a nod.

Kaitlin nodded back. "This time I'm going to suck you dry." She purred before plunging her mouth back onto her brother's cock, now taking him in half-length straight away.

"Oh fuck! Kait!" Moaned Ben loud as his still sensitive cock was being sucked again by his hungry sister.

She started to bob up and down, her saliva drooling out the tight gap where they were connected, coating his shaft. She expertly swirled her tongue around it with every bob she made while going down on him in different angles.

Again her bright eyes never left those of her brother, she could see that he tried his best to help himself from cumming again which aroused her even further.

Ben himself felt like he was in heaven, and his sister was the first angel at the gates to greet him. The squishy sucking sounds of her mouth was music to his ears as she kept on bobbing up and down. He noticed that her juicy bubble-butt smacked onto the water with every movement, making the water ripple and splash. The moans coming from his sister vibrated his cock, adding more pleasure to the mix.

Kaitlin then braced for impact as she suddenly swallowed the entirety of her brother's cock, her nose coming into contact with the small patch of pubic hair he had. She had given her brother his first blowjob and now also the pleasure of being deep throated.

"Holy... Fuck! Kaitlin!" Moaned Ben again, feeling her taking him to the max, her tongue slithering around the length of his shaft. He knew that if she kept it up like this then he would be cumming again pretty soon.

His sister slowly, bobbed her head up all the way to the tip before going fully down again, she did it as slow as possible, knowing that if she would do it rapidly he would be cumming in no time.

Her movements went on like this for a few minutes, shifting back and forth between deep throating and doing bobs up and down only reaching half. She was surprised and amazed at the same time that her brother could hold it off so long before he would cum considering that it was his first, well, technically his second blowjob.

But all good things had to come to an end eventually. She could feel from the way his cock reacted and to the moans he produced that he was close again. This time she wanted to feel his hot seed all over her skin again.

She let go of his cock with another loud plop and quickly wrapped both her soft hands around his throbbing shaft and started to jerk him off.

"Ooooh Kait! I love you!" Moaned Ben out of pleasure as his sister had a horny grin on her face.

She thrust her impressive bust forward and started to aim his throbbing cock, she wanted the first shots to coat her tits and the remaining ones to splatter across her face.

"Ooooh little brother! Are you going to cover your own, sexy, older sister with your delicious spunk? Can you do that for me baby?" She moaned to him, feeling her erect nipples stinging out of pleasure.

"Yes! Yes Sis! Oh shit! It's... It's coming!" He moaned back at her.

Kaitlin let out a high pitched yelp out of excitement. "Then do it baby brother! Coat this horny sister of yours with your delicious, thick seed."

After one final stroke she let go of his cock, quickly cupped her tits together and pushed them forward. Just in time as Ben started to erupt rope after rope of his cum. His cock throbbed wild as he shot his jizz all over his sister's large breasts.

"Yesssss Ben! Splatter that warm scalding seed all over big Sis!" Yelled Kaitlin hard, enjoying being bathed in her brother's semen.

She then leaned forward a bit further so the final ropes of semen splattered against her face.

"Oooh fuck Sis! This was the best... Thing... Ever!" Said Ben proud, catching his breath as he came down from his explosive climax, his body shuddering every now and then.

He watched as Kaitlin scooped up his seed from her breasts and brought it to her mouth, licking a few fingers before she returned them to her breasts and rubbed the white, warm cream all over her globes and nipples.

She bit her lip in excitement as her body started to buck and shudder too, she then placed two cum coated fingers right on top of her nipples and pressed hard against the erect nubs.

"Ughhh! Ben!!" She shouted loud before her own orgasm triggered.

Ben quickly got off the rock and held his sister close to him, preventing her from falling over as her body bucked wild because of her climax. She wrapped her trembling arms around his strong torso and looked up to him with tears of pleasure in her eyes as her orgasm was still going.

Ben wiped away her tears after she had calmed down, they both looked at each other again and started to laugh. Kaitlin then threw her arms around her brother's neck and pulled herself up for a sweet, loving kiss.

"I love you little brother." She said with sparkling eyes after their kiss ended.

"And I... I love... YOU!" Responded Ben with a big smile before throwing his sister into the deeper part of the pond.

She yelped with joy before landing in the water, she then quickly swam like a fish towards her brother, slipped past him and emerged from the water. She jumped on his back and threw her arms around his neck once more.

"Dance for me, you lump of meat!" She giggled as Ben tried to shake her off.

The siblings, apart from being stuck on an island, were now fully enjoying themselves and each other's presence. Bridges had been burned and the two of them finally confessed how they really felt about each other, the love they already had started to blossom into something more. Would this have satisfied their mysterious onlooker(s)? Or were they still waiting for something... More?

The sun was above the trees as Kaitlin and Ben returned to their shack, smiling and holding hands. The orange glow would shine across the island a little bit longer before darkness would prevail once more.

"Really? I can't believe you said no to Jenny Hopkins! She was like what? One of the hottest cheerleaders at your school?" Asked Kaitlin as they scuffled back.

"Well, she might have been, but she wasn't you!" Responded Ben with a blush.

"Awww! Come here you big cuddle bear!" Coed Kaitlin before kissing her brother on the cheek.

Ben laughed before he saw something pinned onto the door of their shack.

"Kait, look!" He said as he pointed at the door.

Kaitlin looked to the door and noticed the rectangle figure too, it looked like an... Photograph?

The siblings quickly ran up to the door of their shack and inspected the object, Ben pulled it off the door and saw that it was indeed some sort of photo.

"Look! It's a satellite image." Said Kaitlin. "You see? These rocks here are where we are, you can slightly see the water stream too."

Ben nodded before he spotted an area being circled with a red marker, it was way up, far beyond the berry bushes location. With a quick calculation he came to the conclusion that it would at least take them one to one-and-a-half hour to reach it, plus it was undiscovered terrain so it might even be dangerous.

"oookay...? So we got a treasure map of some sort? Geez, I wonder who left this here." He said sarcastically.

"Flip the picture, maybe there is something on the back." Suggested Kaitlin.

Ben flipped it and indeed there was something, it was sentences written by what looked like a very old typewriter.

It seems you have found our little gift! You can think of it as a present to celebrate both of your impressive progress! You two are getting closer, but still aren't there quite yet.

You can go and find our supply drop once the moon stands above your heads, but beware, it won't remain there forever, you have three hours to reach it, after the time is up it will be removed immediately. We won't spoil what's inside of it but it could come in handy!

Choose wisely my young 'love birds'... And remember... Survive, and find yourselves.

Kaitlin shook her head right away. "No way Ben, we are not going after that, no matter what 'handy' stuff their might be in it."

"Well, they... or he or she did give you the antidote to save my life. I mean, there could be something important in it!" Responded Ben.

"Ben please listen to me, that was because something unexpected happened, they even said so to me. Also, we have to go there at night! Who knows what lurks out there, we don't know the terrain, nothing! Hell, they might even be lying to us! I say we stay right here, we got fresh water and food, we don't need anything else."

Ben rubbed his chin. "Mhm... Fair points."

"Besides... I... I kept something from you that I found on the first day here..." Said Kaitlin, a little ashamed.

Ben looked up at her slightly confused. "Oh? What was it." He asked.

Kaitlin fidgeted with her fingers. "It's uh... A diary... A very interesting diary."

"So? Show it to me now." Suggested Ben.

Kaitlin shook her head again. "Ben please, let's just sleep in early today, I'm tired and so are you... We can't risk it... So again, please, let's go to bed. I'll show it to you after we had our breakfast, I promise."

What could be in the mysterious supply drop? Who knows? Maybe something to reach out to the world of the living? But then again the risk/reward is there, and the risk part was obviously at a way higher stake than the reward aspect.

Chapter 5

"Are you sure that's enough Ben?" Asked Kaitlin slightly concerned as she watched her brother adding the last pieces of wood to the large heap of dried twigs, branches and other burnable objects on top of the rocky outcrop.

Ben let out a sigh and wiped the sweat off his forehead. "It has to be Sis, it took a while to build this up and I'm fairly sure that it will burn for a couple of hours. If not for the light, we should be able to see the smoke coming off it." He responded to her.

Kaitlin let out a sigh of her own as she returned inside of their shack and collected the spare batteries and a few bottles of water before putting them in the backpack.

At the same time Ben managed to start a fire under the big pile of wood. It would be acting like a sort of lighthouse/searchlight for them so they could see where their shack was positioned at.

"There... It's started to burn so we can go through with this." Said Ben to Kaitlin as he returned to the shack.

"Mpff... Here..." Responded Kaitlin mildly annoyed as she pushed the backpack in her brother's hands. "I can't believe that we are actually going to do this!"

"If it can get us off this island then it's worth it Kait..." Said Ben to her as he flipped the backpack onto his back.

"Indeed, you said it correctly; IF!" Sneered Kaitlin back to her brother.

Though she had been opposed of the idea to venture out into the night she didn't hesitate to go with her brother at all. She wouldn't leave his side ever again, no matter what would happen.

Ben ignored his sister's rant and pulled the pocketknife out of his shorts. "Kait, look at this, I found out about this thing when I was playing around with it." He said to her as he held out the knife in front of him.

Kaitlin sighed again before looking at the knife. "Hey... Wait a second, is that a build in compass? It's so small! No wonder you just discovered that." She responded.

Her brother let out a short laugh. "Yeah, no shit. But look at the satellite photo, the place we need to search is directly north of us, so even if the fire went out we should be able to backtrack by going south from that position. Of course being able to see the fire and smoke would make it easier, but this compass would be a close second." He explained.

He then looked up at the sky and scanned around for clouds. "Mhmm... It's as bright as can be... Full moon too, the light illuminates pretty much everything around us, it's the perfect night to get to that location. I wonder if our mysterious stalker friend(s) planned this, if so then they must know a lot about this island and its surroundings..."

"Can you say creepy?! Ugh... I swear I don't know what's worse, being stuck on this island or being stalked by some complete weirdo(s). But anyway, I'm taking control over this." Said Kaitlin as she flipped the small flashlight on.

Ben started to smile at her. "Look at you, my big sister the ultimate adventurer! Are you ready to take the lead Lara Croft?" He said jokingly.

Kaitlin let out a giggle herself and stuck out her tongue to her brother before responding. "As the older one of us, I should to be honest. But..." She suddenly grabbed her brother's hand and intertwined her fingers with his. "We will both take the lead, I'm not letting go of you anymore little brother... Never again." She said in a more serious tone.

Ben looked her in the eyes and could see that she meant every word of it. He tightened his grip on her hand and nodded. "That's... That's something I can standby Sis..." He responded, a slight blush coming onto his face.

He then checked their gear one last time and let out another sigh after confirming that they had everything with them. "So, ready to go? We can do this Kait."

"I know we can Ben, so let's get this stupid treasure hunt out of the way." She answered his question with confidence.

And with that final statement they went off into the unexplored part of the jungle, seeking the so called supply drop that their mysterious onlooker(s) had left for them.

The first forty-five minutes of their trip to the location was relatively easy to navigate, sometimes they came across a few obstacles, ranging from rocks they had to climb, overgrown jungle parts they had to navigate through or streams of water they had to cross.

Kaitlin kept her word of not letting go of her brother when it was not needed, they remained holding hands for most of the time, something that greatly helped them both to continue on. The simple feeling of their touch relaxed them both and kept their minds sane.

The terrain itself that they had to cross was much more traversable than they thought it would be. Apart from a few places of lush jungle the rest of it contained more open areas, some of them covered with rocks and dirt. All and all it was do-able.

"So how long do you think we have been going on now?" Asked Kaitlin as she lighted up the path in front of them.

"If I have to guess... About forty, forty-five minutes. I think we are making some good progress, and the jungle has been kind to us as well for not throwing some impossible challenges our way." Responded Ben.

"So according to your calculations from before, we should be about half way now, right?" Asked Kaitlin again.

Ben nodded his head. "That's correct, forty-five more minutes of adventuring and we should be at the location of the supply drop." He responded.

Kaitlin then stopped in her tracks and turned around to her brother. "How about we take a break then? Get some fresh water in our systems and give our bodies some rest before we continue."

"We can... We can do that, yeah." He said to her as he looked around them.

The area was pretty open and lit up by moonlight, it looked like the perfect place for them to take a well-earned pit stop.

Kaitlin nodded with a smile on her face, turned the flashlight off and proceeded to help Ben by taking off his backpack. As she was taking the water bottles out of it she noticed her brother climbing into a tree.

"What are doing Curious George?" She said to him with a giggle.

"Just checking in on the home front..." Ben answered her. As he reached the top he turned his head and looked south of their current location. In the distance he could see the glow and smoke coming from the fire he had started on top of the rocky outcrop where their shack was located.

"Good... The fire is still going strong, alright, let's give our pipes some refreshing oil, also known as water." He said as he jumped down the tree and sat down next to his sister.

Kaitlin handed over his bottle of water before taking a sip out of her own. "Goddamn, who ever created water deserves a medal." She said with a giggle after drinking half of the bottle's content.

"All praise the beautiful lady known as mother nature!" Responded Ben with a goofy sounding voice.

Both siblings had a laugh, feeling safe in each other's presence.

"You know, apart from that stupid snake this island seems pretty peaceful. I mean, we haven't encountered any other scary animals." Said Kaitlin as she cuddled up to her brother.

"Well, I did encounter another one to be honest." Responded Ben.

Kaitlin looked up to her brother with a curious gaze. "Oh really? What was it?"

"Some rare species, it got all aggressive towards me for some reason. After we woke up on that beach it was fuming, spouting around it's angry cries. I recall that it looked a bit human like, I also recall the color red... Only on the top though." He said with a grin on his face.

After a few seconds Kaitlin realized that he was joking again, making fun of her. "Oh! You asshole!" She yelled, giving him a playful punch before straddling his lap.

Ben laughed again as he blocked his sister's punches while maintaining his balance as she wriggled on his lap. He then took ahold of both her arms, holding them next to her body so only her giggling face remained in front of him.

After a few more seconds of wriggling and giggling Kaitlin calmed down and looked her brother deep in the eyes. They fixated on each other, not saying a thing but only taking in the eyes that told them everything.

Slowly both of their heads moved forward until their lips met. Ben carefully let go of Kaitlin's arms who then brought them up to hold her brother's face.

The siblings started making out. Deep, long lasting, love filled kisses were shared between them. Their tongues mingled together, swapping their saliva as their moans of lust trembled through their mouths.

Minutes went by as both of them kept on passionately kissing each other, not wanting to stop the feeling of being in each other's arms, showing each other the love they had as brother and sister. There was no doubt about it anymore, Kaitlin and Ben were made for each other, made for being together for the rest of their lives.

After another minute Kaitlin finally separated herself from her brother, a long string of saliva hung between their gasping mouths. "Wow... Ben, this was wonderful... I love you so much..." She whispered to him.

Ben took ahold of her and held her close to him. "I love you too Kait, and I love that we can do this together... Makes me want to marry you..." He whispered back to her.

Kaitlin started to blush because of his words and started giggling again. "You are so silly... But that's what I love about you... Makes me want to marry you too..."

The two of them kept cuddling for a little while longer before they decided to continue their search for the supply drop.

"Oh come on Kait, just a little bit pleaaaaaaase? Just a few tiny details of what's in it, give me something to look forward to!" Asked Ben to his sister as they traversed the terrain towards the supply drop.

"Ugh... Okay then, one tiny detail is all you get from me... Well, it's actually pretty big now that I think about it." Responded Kaitlin as she aimed the flashlight in front of them.

She took a glance at her brother, which she was holding hands with again, and got greeted by his puppy dog looking eyes.

"Alright, alright you doofus... Stop giving me that silly look." She said to him, hearing him chuckle.

"The diary was written, at least the things I have read, by a girl named Joanna Sterling. She and her... Brother were also stranded on this island, pretty much like we are now. Apparently she and her brother made the shack we are staying in." Told Kaitlin to her brother.

Ben was quiet for a bit before speaking. "You got to be shitting me... You mean two other people, who also happen to be brother and sister, were stuck on the same island as we are? Then where did they disappear to? What happened to them?" He asked in disbelief.

"I don't know Ben... I haven't read that far into it. Joanna was actually the one that had discovered that those berries growing behind the rock were eatable, after that part I stopped reading..." Answered Kaitlin to him, knowing damn well that there was one other thing she read about.

Her brother scratched his head before asking her something again. "So why didn't you show me it before, I mean, maybe there is loads more of things we ought to know in it!"

Kaitlin started to blush as she remembered what else was written in it. "Well... It also had some other... Stuff written in it but..." She paused for a bit and looked back at her brother again. "Let's just go through it when we return, okay? It's a lot to explain and I do want you to see it for yourself first."

"Alright...? Okay, we will do that. When we get back I want to see it, and then we will read everything that's in it together, okay?" Suggested Ben.

Knowing what else was written in it, or at least the part she had read, made Kaitlin blush even more. "S-sure, we can do that..."

The siblings then resumed their path into the unexplored jungle further. They were confronted with another couple of obstacles along their way, but nothing too serious. Ben had a good feeling about the supply drop and hoped that it would be something that would aid them greatly. Kaitlin on the other hand was not as enthusiastic as her brother, it just felt off to her, the time limit thing, the weird location, it felt like it was some sort of test.

However, she did appreciate seeing more of the island at night. Combined with the illuminating light of the full moon above them it looked like some sort of paradise, she even felt some sort of calmness roaming through her body as they traveled together further into the unknown.

"It shouldn't be far now; we've been walking for another forty to forty-five minutes after we had our pause." Mentioned Ben all of a sudden.

Kaitlin snapped out of her thoughts and focused on what was in front of them again. "Did the place have something specific looking that you might have spotted on the satellite photo?" She asked.

"Yeah, it looked like it was in the middle of a group of large rocks that lay in a circle." He responded to her.

Kaitlin then focused her flashlight so the beam of light shined further in front of them. "Alright, I can see in the distance that we're coming to a part with less trees and bushes. It might be another one of those open areas, maybe we will find what we seek over there."

As they reached the more open area they were greeted by large boulders of stone that could resemble the place that they sought.

"Let's take a walk around them Sis, we might have won the jackpot."
Said Ben.

Kaitlin nodded before they started to walk around the place. It indeed seemed that the rocks were laying in a sort of circular figure, so all there was left for them to do was to get access to the center of it.

"Look Ben! I think we can fit through here; I can see the other side through it." Said Kaitlin as she pointed the flashlight at a big crevice between the large boulders.

They made their way to the crevice and came out on the other side. There was a small pond to the right of them and a flat grassy area to the left, in the middle was a small group of trees surrounded by bushes with berries in them.

"Nice place, it might be a contender to where our shack is located, all these large rocks that surround it makes it a safe area as well." Said Ben as he looked around the small hidden area.

"Yeah yeah, enough admiring little brother. Show me that photo, let's make sure that we at least, possibly found the right place." Asked Kaitlin.

Ben took the photo out of his backpack and looked over it together with his sister.

"This must be it Kait, come on, let's search around here. The moonlight is right above our heads lighting up the place, we should be to find it even without the flashlight." Said Ben.

"Maybe, but I'm still using this bad-boy. Okay, I'll take the left side and you the right, we'll work our way to the middle from there." Suggested Kaitlin.

The siblings started searching every nook and cranny of the well-hidden area. Nothing was to be found around the pond to the right and the left side didn't offer much to be found either. They then came together at the small group of trees where Kaitlin, thanks to the flashlight, spotted a large, black box sneakily hidden in between the bushes that surrounded the trees.

"Look! Over there! Oh my gosh, it's a big box!" She yelled in excitement to her brother.

"Ha! Bingo!" Said Ben with a smug grin on his face.

He took the handle of it in his hands and started to pull the box towards them while Kaitlin kept the spot lighted up with her flashlight.

"Holy... Shit! This thing weighs a ton! I think we won ourselves the grand prize Sis!" Said Ben overly happy.

"I know, I know! This is so exciting! This thing has to have something good inside of it!" Said Kaitlin back to her brother, equally happy as he was.

"Alright, this is it, here we go Sis!" Announced Ben before lifting up the heavy lid, it required a lot of strength from him to open it. But when the lid finally crashed against the backside of the box they knew that this was it.

Kaitlin quickly brought the flashlight close and illuminated the inside of the big box. With bright smiling faces they took a peek inside of it...

What they saw slowly turned their excited, smiling faces into those of a kid that didn't get something from his parents at the store.

"You got to be fucking kidding me... Tell me we are dreaming Kait..." Spoke Ben quietly after a while.

Kaitlin slowly dropped onto her knees next to her brother and sighed. "We aren't little brother; this is as real as it can be... I knew that this whole thing would be a waste of time..."

Inside of the large black box lay a single piece of paper, nothing else. Was this whole supply drop thing a cruel joke? Something for their mysterious onlooker(s) to laugh at as their puppets did everything they would suggest them to do?

Ben grasped the piece of paper out of the box, getting angrier with the second.

"Give me some light." He said annoyed.

Kaitlin sighed again and shook her head before turning the flashlight onto the piece of paper.

"Great, just fucking great. We found a piece of paper with three different numbers on them. That's totally what I expected our 'supply drop' to be." Said Ben angry before violently grabbing the backpack off his back and stuffing the piece of paper inside of it.

Kaitlin wanted to say something but refrained from doing so, she simply let out another sigh and shook her head again.

They both sat down silent for a little while, staring at the empty large box in front of them.

"Shall we go back Sis...? I think I've had enough treasure seeking for today." Whispered Ben after a while.

Kaitlin gently took his hand again and whispered back to her brother. "Yeah... Let's just go back."

The siblings made their way through the crevice again and looked south. In the far distance they could still spot a small orange glow with smoke hanging above it.

"Well... I guess one thing worked after all..." Said Ben quietly as both of them started their trip back to the shack.

No word was being said as they traversed back, they were so disappointed that they even skipped their break. Holding hands, the siblings wished to return to their little safe place on the island. To forget about the hyped up supply drop and to just go to sleep, hoping that a new, bright day would give that little bit of hope back to them.

"Goddamnit!" Shouted Ben in anger as he kicked a few rocks away from the fire pit that was in front on the shack.

The siblings had returned to their safe haven after a tedious walk through the jungle, the fire on top of the outcrop had done it's work and was still smoldering this very moment.

"Jesus, Ben calm down, would you!" Yelled Kaitlin from behind him.

This time the roles were reversed, and a very rare situation played out between them. Usually it was Kaitlin who couldn't hold her temper, but this time Ben was the one that raged around.

"I still can't believe it! All that wasted time for a single piece of fucking paper!" Shouted Ben again.

"I warned you, didn't I? But noooo Mr. Indiana Jones over here just had to ignore me. Thanks a lot, little brother!" Said Kaitlin back to him, a bit pissed off herself too.

The words of his sister angered Ben even further. "Just shut up Kait, I'm not in the mood for those snarky comments of you now!"

"Or what? Look at you, you are acting like some loose projectile, you big, dumb brute!" She said in return.

Ben balled his fists. "I swear Kait, keep this up and I'm gonna..."

Kaitlin started to laugh. "Yes? You are gonna do what? Attack me? Don't make me laugh! The always calm little Ben is going to teach his older sister a lesson? What a joke!"

With a quick movement Ben turned himself around and walked up to his older sister. He stopped right in front of her and looked down at her, easily towering over her.

Kaitlin returned her gaze and looked deep into his eyes. She could see anger, but also something else, something she had seen before. She felt her body tensing up, her nipples starting to harden and her pussy started tingling with excitement.

Ben too could feel a deep hunger inside of him, waiting to burst out as soon their eyes connected with each other. His anger had turned into lust, lust for his sister's body, he wanted her now and he was going to have her now.

"Come on then little brother! Where's that big mouth of yours now? Be a man and punish your older sister! Show me how much of a man you are!" She teased him, waiting for him to make the first move.

And then Ben attacked, his arms darted down to his sister's curvy frame, his hands taking a firm grip at each of her jiggly ass-cheeks and pulled her up to him.

Kaitlin let out a shriek of excitement as she was pulled up by her brother, his hands sunk into the soft flesh of her ass as her large tits crashed against his chest. As a reaction she wrapped her arms around his neck and her legs around his waist, feeling his cock poking against her body.

"That's it little brother! Now punish me! Punish that naughty sister of yours!" Was the last thing she teased him with before his lips crashed against hers.

A furious tongue battle ensued as Ben grinded his body against that of his sister. Her bikini covered pussy rubbed against his hardening cock while her massive tits and her nipples brushed against his torso.

The siblings hungrily lapped at each other, they both knew that this time they would go all the way. They were going to take the final step in their incestuous relationship, not caring about the consequences, not caring that it was wrong. Their love for each other had built up to this very moment and nobody was going to stop them. This was the night that would change their lives forever.

Ben started walking towards the shack while they both kept making out, moaning into each other's mouths as their tongues swapped saliva.

He kicked the door open and carried his sister towards their makeshift bed. In front of it they remained kissing for another long minute before Ben gently lowered his sister onto it.

With a loud smack their mouths separated, saliva splattering onto both their faces. Kaitlin let out a giggle and kept her own love and lust filled eyes onto those of her brother. Ben quickly reached for her bikini top and ripped it off her, freeing her voluptuous tits with a big bounce. Without any hesitation he jumped on top of her and started a barrage of kisses, licks, and sucks unto his older sister's breasts.

Kaitlin threw her head back and let out an ear shattering moan of pleasure. "Ooooh Ben! Fuuuuckk!" She moaned loud as her brother ravaged her sensitive tits. No spot was missed by him, she felt him licking across her flesh, sucking her nipples, biting her nipples, all while his hands mauled away at the sides of them.

"Sis I... Mhmmm... I wanted... Oh! To do this... For so long!" Moaned Ben back to her in-between his actions.

"Me toooooo! Oh Ben, every time you looked at me with those hungry eyes of yours... And now we are doing it!" Yelled his sister back to him, one hand clawing at his back, nails digging into his skin as the other held the back of his head and pushed him down harder onto her tits.

She could feel her brother's erect cock sawing between the crevice of her bikini bottom clad pussy as he assaulted her breasts. Trickle of female nectar ran across her thighs, soaking the fabric into a gooey mess. Her labia molded itself around the outline of her brother's thick cock every time it slicked across her lips.

Ben too could feel his sister's aroused pussy craving for his cock. It took a few seconds before the outside of his shorts were covered with her juices, and the inside of it coated by his own precum.

He then pushed both of her massive mammarys together and managed to start sucking on both of her diamond-hard nipples at the same time.

"Mwoooah! Ben!" Screamed Kaitlin as she arched her back from the intense pleasure she felt. She could feel her juices squirting out of her cunt as her brother attacked two of her sensitive erogenous zones at the same time. He clamped his mouth around her tasty nubs and pulled them up while sucking at the same time.

Ben could feel her body starting to convulse, she was close to having an orgasm. But he wanted to hold her off from cumming to soon so he sucked her breasts a few more times before letting go of them with a loud plop. Her sweaty, saliva covered breasts gave a bounce and jiggle as they were released from his hungry mouth.

"Noooo Bennn! Stop teasing meeee, you bully!" Whimpered Kaitlin with tears of pleasure in her eyes. She tried to pull her brother back onto her breasts but he was too strong for her to do so.

Ben gave his sister a sly grin before he pulled himself up to her and mashed his mouth onto hers again. Again they French kissed for a little while with no resistance coming from Kaitlin. After a minute or so he slipped off her again, which made her produce another unsatisfied sounding moan.

He trailed his tongue down her neck and slowly started to decent across her body. Kaitlin cooed as she felt her brother's warm tongue traveling through the cleavage of her breasts, along her fit belly where he circled around her belly-button for a while, giving it teasing pokes with his tongue.

The taste and the smell of his sister's aroused body drove Ben insane with lust, she really was his dream-girl, the love of his life that he was about to satisfy without ever doing it with another girl. Even with his minimal experience he was confident that he would be able to pull it off.

He slowly trailed his tongue further down until he had reached her bikini covered pussy mound. He could feel the hotness, the wetness and the alluring smell coming from her soaked cunt. It was drawing him in like bees to honey.

He took a glance upward to see his sister looking down at him, breathing heavily as her teary eyes focused onto him. He gave her another sly grin as she gently played with her breasts and hardened nipples. To tease her even further he blew softly against her fabric covered pussy.

"Stoop Bennn! You meaaaanieee!" Whimpered his sister again incredibly cute, wriggling her hips together as his face hung mere inches away from her soaked cunt. He could see her pussy contracting out of excitement, it longed for his tongue to taste her juices.

He carefully brought his hands up to pull the ties on each side of her thighs to remove her bikini bottom. His sister let out another soft moan as she felt it being removed, the breath of her brother colliding with the bare flesh of her labia.

"It's... It's so beautiful Kait, I never knew that a pussy could look this delicious in real life." He whispered to her before letting out a chuckle. "But I'm talking about you, everything about you is beautiful..."

His simple words made Kaitlin's body shake with excitement, she let out another cute, girly moan when she saw her brother running his tongue along the fabric of her soaked bikini bottom.

"And you taste so delicious too Kait..." Whispered Ben again before throwing the small piece of cloth to the side. "But I want to taste you there, straight from the source..."

He could see that his teasing words had an effect on her. Her juices ran out of her aroused, contracting vagina, soaking the spread sleeping back where she was lying on. The immersive smell that came from her cunt made him feel light-headed.

"Do it... Lick my pussy little brother, taste your big sister..." Whispered Kaitlin back to him, gyrating her hips in a seductive way, inviting her brother over to her as her legs spread open further.

Ben gulped a single time and then released his breaks, he couldn't wait any longer, seeing his cute older sister begging for him to eat her out became too much for him.

He placed his tongue on top of labia and started making circular motions with it, poking slightly into her nectar filled honeypot. The intense taste and smell made him even hornier, he knew that he was going to make her cum like this, even with his inexperience.

"Ooooooh Gooooood!" Moaned Kaitlin loud as she threw her head back again. She could feel her brother's tongue darting across the flesh of her pussy like a hungry puppy dog. Even if he was inexperienced, the simple fact of him being her brother made her go crazy.

Ben ran his tongue through her tasty, meaty lips. His hands caressing her legs while he lapped up and down at her cunt. Her whole mound was soaked with her juices; her small patch of pubic hair was also completely splattered with cunt cream.

Kaitlin yelped every time she felt his tongue running up and down her slit and at the end poking against her painfully, stinging erect clitoris. Her body started to shift and push up against her brother's face, wanting him to stick his tongue even further inside.

And Ben was someone who would gladly attend to his sister's wishes. He took a firmer hold of her legs and started plunging his tongue deeper into her cunt. He lapped at her insides as a possessed person, barely able to keep him from drowning in her juices.

His whole face was splattered by her creamy substance, the pokes of his tongue worked so well that every time he did so he was greeted with a spurt of fresh, warm pussy juice.

"Mwoaah! Mhmmm! Ooooh!" Moaned his sister loud, a trail of saliva running out of her gaping mouth as her eyes rolled back into her skull. Her own little brother was eating her pussy like a pro, it wouldn't be too long before she would cum.

Hearing his sister's moans, and her body responding more and more to his pussy eating work made Ben ramp up his actions. He started flickering his tongue against her clit, switching between running his tongue along her slit and sucking the erect nub.

He then felt his sister's legs closing until his head was stuck between her thighs, all of a sudden she became strong as an ox. He let his arms fall to her sides when he suddenly felt her hands grasping at his own. Their fingers intertwined, his sister wanted to hold him as he ate her out. The simple gesture of her wanting to keep him close aroused him greatly, he felt his cock throbbing out of excitement.

He now attacked her cunt and clit with everything he could, licking, sucking, nibbling, kissing. He did everything he could to give her the satisfaction she sought, and it worked quite well.

"Yesss! Eat my dirty pussy little brother!" Screamed Kaitlin as she was being overwhelmed by pleasure. Her body was shaking, tears were running down her cheek as she was transcending into orgasmic bliss. "Ooooh Ben, I'm cumming! Your big sister is going to cuuuuummmm!" She announced with an animalistic scream.

Ben wrapped his lips around her clit and gave it everything he could. He then heard another thundering scream before his mouth was being flooded by squirts of warm, tasty cream from his sister. Her legs crashed open and he was released from her tight grip, yet he kept lapping away at her orgasming cunt.

The juices splattered against his face like a geyser, he eventually had to let go of her and sat back to watch her riding out her orgasm. She moaned loudly as her body convulsed, shaking and trembling from the things he had done to her.

After giving her a while to rest he slowly pulled himself up to her again. He was a bit concerned for her as he had never experienced something like this. But as soon their eyes met again he knew that everything was alright.

Kaitlin had a huge grin on her face, breathing heavily after her own brother gave her the best orgasm of her life. "Damn... Little brother.... You sure know... How to eat pussy!" She spoke to him in a stuttering sentence.

Ben started to laugh and his sister followed him. After a bit she cupped his face with her hands and brought her lips to his. They started to kiss passionately, she tasting her own juices that she had just blasted all over his face.

Kaitlin then pushed her body with her regaining strength against her brother's which made him slowly tumble onto his back. Now she was on top of him, her breasts mashing against his chest and her soaked pussy grinding against his throbbing cock.

After a few minutes more of kissing she separated herself from her brother, gave him a seductive grin and slid down his body just the same way he did before on her. Ben said nothing as he kept his eyes focused on her, seeing what she was planning.

She stopped at his groin area and inspected the huge bulge that was forming under his shorts. She let out giggle, before grabbing the thick meat stick through the fabric with her hand. Ben let out a moan as she did it.

"Just look at this beast... Did I do this to you little brother?" She said seductively to him, licking her lips out of excitement.

Ben said nothing as he watched her stroking his hard cock through his shorts, running her hand along his shaft and gyrating it a bit on top of his cockhead.

She looked up to him just like he did before to her. "But this isn't fair, isn't it? The poor thing is all trapped in those tight shorts of you... You got to see my cunny, so it's only fair for your big sister to see your BIG cock too, right?"

She then yanked his shorts down with a quick pull, freeing his pulsating cock in all it's glory. The precum that had formed at his tip flew away and splattered onto his sister's face, next to the corner of her mouth.

Kaitlin let out a giggle before licking away the precum. "So aggressive, are we little brother? I think you need some punishment for that, you bad, bad boy!"

She grabbed his cock at the base and brought her tits up to it, she then slapped his cock between her cleavage and onto the flesh of her globes. Loud slapping sounds roamed through the shack as his precum scattered across her fun bags.

Ben started to moan as he felt, and watched, his sister slapping his cock across her impressive bust, she had a wicked smile on her face as she played with him.

She then brought her tongue to the tip and teased him by slowly rotating it along his cockhead, coating it with her saliva and his own precum. His body started to shudder which made his sister giggle again.

"See? That's how I felt when you teased my pussy before... Makes you want me to do more, right?" She purred to him.

"Shit Sis... Please..." Said Ben between his moans.

Kaitlin giggled again. "Oh little brother... You are lucky that you are so cute, and that I can't resist you like this." She purred before taking a firm grip around his girth once more.

She brought her tits even closer, slapped his cock between her cleavage and proceeded to wrap them around his fuck-stick. His whole shaft was engulfed by her tit-flesh and only his tip was sticking out at the top.

Kaitlin dribbled saliva down onto his cockhead, watched as it mingled with his precum and lubed up the hole where his cock was trapped in. She then brought her hands to the sides of her breasts and started moving them up and down.

"Oooh... Fuck!" Moaned Ben loud as his older sister was giving him his first tit-fuck. He watched with amazement as his cock disappeared between the twins. The feeling of being trapped shocked jolts of pleasure through his body. Her warm, soft flesh covered every part of his throbbing cock.

"Oh Ben... I knew you would like this... You know, I watched you for years ogling over my titties, and now they are wrapped around that big piece of meat of yours..." Said Kaitlin proudly as she watched her brother's face twist in pleasure.

She started to move her hands in different ways, making her breasts jiggle and bounce in all sorts of directions. It stimulated him greatly as he kept on moaning. After a while his own hips started to thrust upward, smacking against the underside of her tits as his cock slid through the tight gap of her tit-pussy.

Her whole cleavage was now lubricated with her saliva, his precum and both their sweat. His cock slid through it like a hot knife through butter.

"Yes Ben... that's it... Fuck your big sister's juicy tits! Fuck them until you explode all over them." Spoke Kaitlin to him with her aroused voice.

The two fun bags bounced and jiggled as his cock smacked up and down between them, creating dirty squishy sounds. Kaitlin stuck out her tongue every time he thrust upward so that she poked his piss-slit with it. She did this for a few times before she couldn't resist any longer.

After another thrust upwards she wrapped her soft lips around his cockhead and an inch or so of his shaft.

Ben let out a loud moan and stopped his thrusting, the feeling of both her tits and mouth wrapped around his cock became a bit too much for him.

"Dwonth sthoph Bwhen! Fhuck mwy mouf nd thitty pwusshy!" Mumbled his sister to him as she tightened her tits around his shaft and her mouth around his cockhead.

The overwhelming feeling made his body turn on auto-pilot. His hips started thrusting up again, fucking his sister's tits and mouth at the same time. He groaned and moaned, experiencing an incredible stimulation, it was a deadly combo that would surely make him cum in no time.

Kaitlin moaned too as her brother's massive rod slipped between her flesh-pillows and fucked her mouth. spurts of precum shot out of his tip every time he thrust up into her. Her drool, mixed with his liquids, trailed down along his pistoning pecker.

She slurped on his cockhead, flicking her tongue against the tip while rubbing her tits as hard as possible against his shaft. She could feel his cock throbbing wildly, his speed going up with every few thrusts.

The sounds that they produced were a mix of gagging and slurping combined with the slapping of flesh on flesh. Pure nasty sex sounds that stirred their arousal even further.

"Oooh fuck Sis... It's going to come out!" Shouted Ben to his sister as he felt his balls starting to hurt. The whole eating his sister out had already put him on edge, the sudden tit-fuck/blowjob combo was the cherry on top.

"Chumm! Chummmmm!" Moaned his sister with her mouth full of cock, her moans vibrating through him. She quickly mashed her tits even harder together and took in an extra inch of his meat-stick.

Ben gave a few more thrust before he felt his pent up sperm reservoir releasing its substance. With a loud scream of pleasure, he started to unload shot after shot of his thick cum into his sister's mouth.

Kaitlin's eyes shot open as her brother's throbbing cock started spewing his seed into her mouth, she managed to gulp down the first couple of shots before it became too overwhelming.

She yanked her mouth off his cock with a loud, wet plop and watched in amazement as more ropes of her brother's creamy liquid shot into the air.

One large rope shot across her face while the rest flew onto her tits, onto his own body and unto their surroundings, all accompanied by the orgasmic moans of her brother.

After the final splurts she carefully unleashed her brother's cock from her titty-trap. Her breasts were a mess as she gazed at them. They were covered with sperm, spit and sweat.

Ben was breathing heavily, feeling dizzy as he came down from his intense climax. He watched his sister scooping up the cum from her face and greedily swallowed the creamy substance with a look of happiness.

"Mhmmmm... Soooo tasty..." She moaned as she feasted herself on his sperm.

After a minute or so of calming down she noticed that her brother's cock was still standing full-mast. Just like the day before it didn't calm down after doing it just one time.

With a giggle and a smile on her face she crawled over to her brother's side on her knees.

Ben pulled himself up so he was in a sitting position, noticing his sister crawling towards him rather seductively. He smiled at her as she did the same.

"I think we punished each other enough little brother..." She purred to him before she straddled his lap, her bare pussy coming into contact with his erect cock.

"Really? I think I can go for one more round Sis..." Responded Ben, wrapping his arms around his sister's curvy body.

Kaitlin started to blush and leaned in next to his ear. "But your big sister doesn't want to be punished anymore... I want to be loved." She whispered to him.

Ben knew what she was hinting at, although being excited he also had its doubts. "It's... It's going to be my first time Sis..."

His sister let out giggle and pulled herself back so she could look into his eyes. "Do you want to know a secret Ben...? It's going to be my first time too..." She admitted to him, her face becoming even more red.

"But... But how? You had boyfriends before and-" Asked Ben in disbelief before he was cut off by his sister who pushed her fingers against his mouth.

"True, but I didn't love them like I love you... I wanted my first time to be with the person I truly love... And that person is right in front of me..." She whispered to him.

Ben had no idea how to respond to that verbally, so he did it physically.

He pulled his sister even closer to him and mashed his mouth against hers, who responded to him right away. Tears trickled down her face as she made out lovingly with her brother. They felt as one now, skin to skin, body to body and mind to mind. It was the very moment they had longed for, for so long. Today would be the day that they truly confirmed their love to each other, the final step in their taboo relationship... Or was it?

Kaitlin had wrapped herself around her brother's body, kissing him aggressively as he started to move. He gently placed her on her back onto the spread sleeping bag just as she was before, but this time he didn't let go of her.

She could feel his erect cock rubbing against her thighs, slipping through her pubic hair, leaving trails of precum on her lower body. Her sweaty, dirtied breasts and nipples mashed against his equally dirty chest. Their tongues battled as she felt him positioning himself to enter her.

Ben too could feel the heat coming from both their bodies, his cock seeking out her hotbox as their bodies wriggled together. He was finally going to made love to the one woman he fantasized about for so long.

He felt one of his sister's hands wrapping itself around his throbbing cock and guiding him towards her sacred entrance. He could feel his cockhead brushing through her pubic hair before coming into contact with the hardened nub that was her clitoris. She circled his cock around it a couple of times before guiding it down further.

Both he and she moaned as his tip slid up and down her soaked labia, their juices mingling together, lubing each other up before the main course.

Kaitlin pushed his tip into her opening, her lips molding around the head of his cock. She then held it steady in that position and looked up to her brother with teary eyes.

"Ben... I want you to enter me slowly, carefully and gentle... I already broke my hymen when I was a naïve, young teenage girl after experimenting with myself... it felt horrible and I never did something like it again... It's still a bit scary but I trust you..." She whispered to him.

Ben smiled at her and leaned in for a short, but strong, love filled, passionate kiss. "You know I would never hurt you Sis... You are my most prized jewel... My true love... I'm going to make love to you and give you all the pleasure you want."

New tears streamed down Kaitlin's cheeks as she looked her brother deep into his eyes. She let go of his cock with her hand and relaxed her body.

"Then go ahead little brother... Make love to me... Make love to your big sister..." She whispered back to him, wrapping her legs around her brother's waist and her arms around his neck.

And then it happened. Ben carefully pushed himself forward, his cock entering his sister's oh so tight and wet vagina. They both moaned as he felt him being sucking inside of her and she feeling her pussy adjusting to the size of his thick cock.

Inch for inch he gently entered her, both of them moaning and whispering words of love to each other. Ben leaned in and started to kiss his sister once more, this time slow and very intimate. She responded with a cute little coo as she returned the kisses.

They both let out a loud moan when Ben had entered her completely, his cockhead was poking against her cervix. He was now balls deep inside of his sister and they were the perfect fit for each other.

They remained connected like that for a while, their kissing had stopped and they just breathed heavily, adjusting themselves to each other. Forehead to forehead they kept staring into each other's love filled eyes.

"Do it..." Whispered Kaitlin to her brother.

And so he started to move his hips, his deep buried cock making movements in her tight, juicy cunt.

Kaitlin's juices seeped out of the tight gap where they were connected, producing a sort of suckling sound as her brother's cock made love to her.

With every movement his cock exited and entered her cock craving pussy further. His slickened shaft showing more of itself until only his cockhead remained clamping around her entrance.

"Mhmmm... That's it Ben... Gently fuck your older sister's pussy." Purred Kaitlin through her moans.

"Oh God... This is... This is incredible Sis... You feel so good!" Moaned Ben in return.

Their fuck-sweat covered bodies slowly slapped together, their combined juices splattering over their lower bodies with each thrust forward. Kaitlin's bubbly ass and fleshy tits jiggled every time her brother entered her deep.

They didn't care that they were stranded any more, or that they were being stalked by mysterious onlooker(s). They were finally together as one, brother and sister in an incestuous love relationship, the way it meant for them to be together.

Kaitlin playfully kissed and nibbled at her brother's face as he moaned and groaned, holding himself off from cumming to soon. Her pussy was wrapping its fleshy walls around him, sucking him vacuum as it demanded more and more stimulation.

He sped up his thrusting, his cock now pounding into her with moderate speed. Their sounds of copulating became louder and nastier. Both their breathing became more rapid and their kisses more aggressive.

Ben's balls slapped against his sister's asshole as he fucked her. His cock being coated in a white, thick cream every time he almost exited her completely, only to be splattered across them when he plunged back into her balls deep. With every thrust he knocked against the door to her womb which seemed to suck onto his cockhead, begging for him to release his potent seed.

"Fuck me, fuck me, fuck meeee!" Moaned Kaitlin loud as she felt her brother's thick cock invading her. She clawed her hands onto his back, her nails digging into his skin.

Ben relaxed his arms and leaned onto his elbows, making it possible for him to fuck her even deeper. He turned his fucking pace up another notch and started fucking the love of his life even harder.

SMACK! SMACK! SMACK! Roamed through the shack as their bodies slapped together at an even harder, faster pace. The impact of their fucking became so intense that their skin started to turn red.

Kaitlin's cunt started to grasp at her brother's cock, trying to milk it. The rough pounding caused her thick, white cream to pour out of her with an incredible rate. The sleeping bag under them was being soaked with their juices.

Ben then felt his sister's body starting to buck and shudder. He looked at her as his sweat dropped off his face. Her mouth was open and her eyes were rolled back. She let out gasps for air combined with moans.

Her body was going through a continuous orgasm as he remained pounding into her with everything he could. He could feel that he too was coming close to climaxing, all thanks to his sister's incredible tight cunt that sucked him deep inside of her.

After a few minutes more of non-stop pounding he could feel that his body was readying itself for the grand finale.

Kaitlin had regained a bit of control over herself again after being lost in her orgasmic bliss for a while. She too could feel her brother's cock throbbing wild and expanding inside of her.

"Oooh! Ben! When... When you are going to cum... Ooooh! I want... I want you to... Ughh fucck... inside! Cum inside... Mhmmm... Of meeee!" Yelled Kaitlin loud through her moans and gasps for air.

Ben looked up to her. "Ugh shit! But... Oh! But what... About..." He tried to ask her.

Kaitlin shook her head wildly before she took her brother's head into her soft hands. "I don't... Oh! I don't care... Ben! I want youuu... Insideeee!" She screamed to him with tear filled eyes full of love.

Ben gulped to himself. He remembered before going on the boat that his mother reminded his sister to not forget to take in her pills. Later on that same day they were probably kidnapped, so had she used them, or not?

His worrying thoughts soon were overshadowed by his lust and love for her, so what if she didn't take them? Here she was, begging for him to cum inside of her. And truth be told; he wanted it too. He had dreamed of starting a family with her before, and he knew that she too had dreamed about it. Without any more hesitation Ben slammed into her with every bit of remaining strength he had left, if he was going to impregnate his sister, so be it. Whatever happened, they would always love each other and stay together.

"Oooooo fuuuuuckkkkk!!!" Screamed Kaitlin at the top of her lungs as her brother smashed her into the next dimension.

Ben grinded his teeth together. Within his last few deep dicking thrusts he buried himself completely into his sister's cunt, his cockhead mashing against the door to her cum begging womb.

"I love you Kaitlin!!!" Was the last thing he screamed at her before he started shooting spurt after spurt of thick, potent, child-making seed deep into her womb. Kaitlin moaned and screamed too as her pussy was being drowned with her brother's cum.

This triggered her into orgasming again as well. Both their bodies shook and trembled, gripping onto each other like their lives depended on it. Her thick pussy cream was now mingled with the potent seed of her brother, seeping and squirting out of the gap where they were connected.

It took a while before both their bodies finally calmed down, their climaxes washing away slowly. Ben's cock remained deep inside of his sister's well fucked pussy, his seed flowing in her womb, possibly fertilizing her eggs.

He then felt his sister's soft but trembling hands cupping his face again. Slowly she pulled him towards her own. When their eyes made contact, both puffy and red from shed tears of love and pleasure, they started to laugh quietly.

Ben carefully rolled himself onto his back so his exhausted sister could rest on top of him. He gently wiped away the strands of red hair that covered her freckly face.

Kaitlin was still cupping her brother's face, caressing his blushed cheeks. "I love you Ben..." She whispered to him after a while.

Her brother smiled at her. "I love you too Kaitlin..." he responded before slowly placing his lips on those of her.

The siblings remained kissing until they fell asleep after finally making love together.

Exotic birds chirped and sang their songs as Ben opened his eyes from his deep slumber. The shack was illuminated by the bright sun which usually did so in the middle of the day. This meant that he and his sister had been sleeping for a while now.

He could smell her sisterly fragrance next to him. He carefully turned his body until they were in a spooning position. He gently caressed her silk feeling leg with his hand while planting soft kisses on the back of her neck.

"Now this is definitely a wonderful way to wake up..." Purred his sister as she suddenly woke up, followed by a cute yawn that she made.

She then stretched herself out like a big cat before turning over slightly to see her brother's face.

"Good morning..." She said with a bright smile as she looked at Ben.

"Good morning to you too, my dear sister." Responded Ben before he gave her a passionate kiss.

They cuddled a little bit longer before they decided to get up. Ben could see his sister's puffy looking pussy as she stood up, totally splattered with their combined juices.

"Oh my!" Said Kaitlin with a giggle, watching a remainder of her brother's semen dripping out of her well-fucked pussy and running along her thighs. "You really filled me up little brother!"

She then turned to Ben and held out her hand. "Care to wash me love?" She asked with a smile.

Ben let out a chuckle and accepted her request. Hand in hand they walked to the stream of water and started washing each other.

The remainder of the day they just relaxed together in each other's arms, not caring to put on any clothes. They thought that their mysterious onlooker(s) would have contacted them by now, but so far there was not a single sign from them.

"Hey Kait, I almost forgot about it, but could you show me that diary now?" Asked Ben after they had finished their dinner.

"Oh! Almost forgot about that... Wait here, I'll get it." She said as she got up and walked towards the shack.

Ben could hear her searching for a while, wondering what was taking her so long.

Kaitlin then came out of the shack, empty handed and a very confused look on her face. "It's... It's gone! I can't find it anywhere!" She said to her brother.

"You sure you looked everywhere? Maybe you placed it somewhere else." Responded Ben to her.

His sister shook her head to him. "No, that's not possible. It was in a small box with a lid, similar to the one behind the shack. There was the diary in it, pencils made out of charcoal and those two spare batteries I showed you." She explained to him.

Ben stood up and walked over to her. "Was that diary really important?" He asked.

"Well... Kinda I guess, I mean it was filled with day by day reports of one of the previous people on this island, who know what else was in there..." She said with a disappointing tone.

"That's a shame then... Well, better losing that diary than losing me, right?" Said her brother as he pulled her close to him.

Kaitlin started to blush. "Yeah... Definitely better than losing my cuddle bear." She responded to him before kissing him on his lips.

As she kissed her brother passionately she suddenly felt his hard growing cock poking and sliding against her belly. "Oooh... Would you look at that... I guess my cute cuddle bear wants to have some fun with mama bear..." She purred to him teasingly.

She wrapped one soft hand around his now erect cock and stroked it a few times. "What do you say little brother, ready to pound your big sister's pussy once more?" She purred to him again.

Ben smiled at her as he cupped her firm breasts. "How could I say no to you Sis..." He said before picking up his sister in his arms and carrying her inside of their shack.

It was going to be another long night for the siblings...

A month has now gone by without any contact from the mysterious onlooker(s). Ben and Kaitlin gave up on them after a week without receiving any sign of their presence. Still, they doubted that they weren't being watched by them, maybe this was just another part of their weird experiment.

They lived their lives day by day, never leaving each other's side. They went searching for food, discovering new parts of the jungle, simply relax together and even building additional extensions to the shack, including making new pieces of furniture.

To them it now actually felt like they were married and living together. Their dream sort of came true, only being stranded on a mysterious island was a factor that they didn't calculate in it.

Their appearance had changed over time too, both of the siblings were now heavily tanned but that was expected to happen when the two of them remained naked most of the time. Though Kaitlin did keep wearing her bikini, Ben thought she looked so goddamn sexy with tan-lines. Every time she got naked he would get hard instantly from seeing her big, milky white tits, bright pink nipples and her partially tanned pussy and ass.

Speaking of getting naked, there was also the sex, and boy did the two of them fuck. They easily fucked at least two to three times a day, sometimes slow and passionate while other times hard and nasty.

Body wise they also learned everything from each other. Kaitlin knew her brother's weak spots and so did Ben of her. They experimented a lot with different positions and different rhythms of fucking. Each time was more spectacular than the other.

They both were sure that Ben had managed to impregnate Kaitlin in the past few weeks. They had unprotected sex all the time plus Kaitlin loved it when her brother filled her up to the brim with his thick, potent seed. The thought of becoming parents was a longtime wish of both of them.

All and all they had peace with their simple and love filled lives on the island. The only thing they truly missed were their parents. They still hoped to being rescued one day and to reunite with them.

And that day might be the one today.

"Come on little brother! We need to gut those fishes right away!" Yelled Kaitlin to Ben as she hopped towards the shack, her juicy ass and breasts jiggling with every hop.

"Yeah yeah... Calm down Sis, they won't go rotting straight away you know?" Responded Ben to her.

Kaitlin kicked the door open and childishly jumped inside. "Home sweet home!" She said as she stretched out her arms. She then walked to their newly made table, planning on tidying the place up a bit. Only to be interrupted by her finding an oddly familiar piece of paper on the table.

"Holy shit! Ben! Come quickly!" She shouted towards her brother who was close to the shack now.

Ben quickly dashed to her side, scared if something was wrong. "What! Did something happen?!" He asked her slightly panicked.

"Look! Look!" Said Kaitlin as she picked up the piece of paper and showed it to him.

Ben took it from her so they could both read it.

Our dear survival siblings!

The time has come for us to congratulate both of you. You both showed us incredible results and the way you two 'found yourselves' was simply astonishing!

We thought that by this time you two would had figured out much more... Oh! And sorry for taking away the diary so sudden, we agreed that it was no more use for both of you after you two... Well, after you two completed the riddle we had given to you. By the way, the diary is in good hands, so don't worry about it!

Now, back to figuring out much more... Do you two remember the piece of paper you found in our 'supply drop'? It might be a good thing to take a look at it again, together with the satellite photo.

This should be enough to get you on the right track, so for now, adios!

Ben and Kaitlin both slowly turned to each other after reading the letter.

"Don't tell me that that stupid piece of paper has a purpose..." Said Ben to his sister.

"One way to find out..." Responded Kaitlin as she reached for their backpack.

She opened it up and placed the piece of paper with the numbers and the satellite photo next to each other on the table.

They looked over them for a while before both their jaws dropped, coming to a conclusion that they missed something very vital.

"Coordinates... Grid coordinates that we can use to figure out a location in the photograph." Spoke Ben as he face-palmed himself. "How could I be so stupid to overlook this..." He whispered.

Kaitlin was busy figuring out where the coordinates would lead them, when she found the exact spot she pointed her finger at it on the detailed satellite picture.

"It's north-east of our current position, located around the middle of the island..." She said to Ben.

A glimpse of reassurance washed over both of them, Kaitlin took her brother's hand and looked at him. Would this be their way off the island?

Chapter 6

"So, you ready to go to that location? It's still early but the sun is shining bright as always." Asked Ben to his sister as he flipped the backpack onto his back.

Kaitlin nodded to him. "One-hundred percent... I don't know why but I got the feeling that this clue will get us off the island."

Ben looked at her and smiled. "Female intuition huh? Say, how about we make a bet. If it's another piece of paper you are gonna have to give me a massage." He suggested with a smug grin.

"Well... Why not! And... What kind of massage has my cute little brother in mind?" She asked seductively, followed by a giggle.

"I doubt that I have to tell you, with how things have been going between us in the last month." He answered her before pulling her curvy body close to him. "I think my naughty older sister knows very well what kind of massage I have in mind." He whispered close to her ear before kissing her on her lips.

Kaitlin moaned as she embraced her brother's passionate kiss, kissing him back with just as much passion.

After a bit they ended the loving kiss and looked at each other. Ben then felt his sister's soft hand wrapping itself around his, making it clear that she was ready to go.

"It has become kind of a tradition, holding hands whenever we go further onto the island." He said to her as they walked outside, exiting their upgraded shack.

"It makes me feel safe, and this way I will never lose you. It's one of those silly things girls do when they are in love." Responded Kaitlin with a slight blush on her face.

Ben chuckled and tightened his grip on her hand a little. "Let's go Sis... Let's see if our mysterious coordinates from our mysterious stalker(s) have anything of value."

And so the siblings were on their way once more, traversing the island that they had become accustomed with in the past month.

The night before when they received the message had been a turning point for them, they both agreed that they have been on the island far too long now, and with a possible baby coming up they had to start taking action. Whether the information was solid or not, the mysterious onlooker(s) had never lied to them, so if this was a way to get off the island they had to grab it. They decided to get themselves some rest for the upcoming trip, a nice long sleep to keep their minds fresh so they would be ready in the morning. It was the first night that went by without passionate incestuous sex, although they did cuddle and sweet-talk each other before drifting away.

The trip itself was fairly normal for them at this point as they had to cross areas and parts of the jungle that they already had explored. A short climb here and a water stream crossing there, nothing exciting to say the least. After about fifty minutes they reached the location of the coordinates, it was a large open spot with outcrops of rocks and edges of jungle at the sides.

"Well this sure is something, what the hell are we looking for here? Don't tell me that they expect us to dig, I've left our self-made shovel at the shack!" Said Ben as he and Kaitlin scanned the area for any sort of clue.

"How about we search over there at those rocks, it looks pretty sheltered so maybe they left something for us over there?" Suggested his sister.

At the rocks they let go of their intertwined hands and decided to do the regular thing, Kaitlin searched from the left side and Ben from the right, working towards the middle.

It didn't take long before Kaitlin, again, was the first one to find something. "Ben! Over here! We got ourselves another one of those famous boxes." She yelled towards her brother.

Ben was at her side in a few seconds and looked as his sister picked up the box and placed it in front of them.

"She's all yours Sis, maybe your sweet touch does something magic to it." Said Ben with another goofy grin on his face.

"What's that supposed to mean?" Asked Kaitlin with a pouty face. She then sighed and opened up the lid of the box.

They remained silent for a while as they stared at the content of it before Ben broke the ice. "Sis... I think I have won myself a massage..." He said with a disappointing tone.

"Well... Guess that's something to look forward to then..." She said before picking up a piece of paper that was inside of the box, sounding equally disappointed as her brother.

WAIT

"Okay... Well, it's better than a bunch of numbers I guess, we can actually make out what it means..." Said Ben as he watched onto the paper over his sister's shoulders.

"Ugh... This is bullshit! So now what, they expect us to wait over here, or over at the shack, or wherever?" Shouted Kaitlin annoyed as she stood up.

Ben looked around the area again and saw a nice spot that was covered by shadow. He gently took his sister's hand, who accepted him right away. "Let's sit over there for an hour or so Kait, who knows, maybe they have placed it here so that we would wait. We can always go back if nothing happens."

Kaitlin sighed again but agreed with her brother's suggestion. "Might as well do that... I hope my gut feeling from before is right though." She responded to him before they walked to the secluded spot.

Ben sat down first and opened up his legs so Kaitlin could sit between them and cuddle up to him. When they were in position they held hands again, enjoying each other's presence and touch as they waited.

"I really hope this isn't some sort of cruel joke just to see if we are puppets enough to follow anything they provide us with." Said Ben before placing a kiss on top of his sister's head.

Kaitlin then leaned her head against his shoulder so she could look at him. "I doubt it... I mean, the clues they shared with us always had something of value... Whether it was vague or not, that's beside the point. The only thing we can do for now is to hope..."

And so they sat there, waiting for something to happen. They talked about the birds and bees, what they would do if their baby was born, what name would they come up with for the baby, if it was going to be a boy or girl. The two of them were already planning out their future, no matter what would happen to them.

Suddenly Kaitlin told her brother to be quiet after a half hour or so of waiting and talking. Ben knew that if she acted like this that her hearing had picked up something.

"Something... Ben! Something is coming towards us!" She said excited as she jumped up from their sitting position.

"What!? Really?" Asked Ben as he too jumped up and took a stand beside his sister.

"It's... It's coming from behind those rock outcrops!" She said before both their heads turned towards the outcrops. A smile on both their face appeared as they spotted a small black figure rapidly coming closer to them.

Ben took his sister's hand again and pulled her close to him. "Is that what I think it is Sis?" He asked.

Kaitlin looked up to him with a teary smile and nodded. "A helicopter! It's coming for us; I just know it! See, my 'female intuition' is always right little brother!" She responded excited.

Ben started to laugh. "Very true, but I still am getting that massage of yours!"

The siblings held each other as the helicopter came closer and closer, they then took shelter at the rocks so it could land in the middle of the open area. As the helicopter landed they could see the person that was piloting it, it looked like a tall man in his late fifty's, he had greying hair and was wearing a science-cy looking outfit.

"Stay close to me Kait." Said Ben as they waited for the rotors to stop spinning and for the man to come out. "First we got to know who this dude is..."

Instead of coming out he opened a window and talked to them. "Benjamin and Kaitlin Collins, it's good to see you two again after this long month! Please, get inside and let me take you two somewhere more appropriate!" He said.

Instead of accepting the invitation right away, both siblings remained where they were. Ben in front and his sister partly hidden behind him.

"Are you the one that directed this lab-rat show?" Asked Ben as he held Kaitlin close to him. "We want some answers first before we step into some stranger's helicopter!"

The man shook his head. "Benjamin, I know all of this is sudden and confusing to the both of you but please, you two have to trust me! And yes, I am responsible for everything that happened here. You two completed your trial so to speak. Come with me and everything will become clear, there is a much safer place not far from here to discuss everything!" He answered.

Ben grumbled to himself before looking at his sister. Kaitlin slowly nodded her head. "I don't think he is lying Ben... We should go with him and put an end to this adventure of ours, it's time for us to get out of here."

He returned his eyes onto the man and nodded to him. "Alright, we will come with you, we trust you to take us somewhere safe."

"Good! You two take a seat in the back, we will be at our destination in about seven minutes." Said the man before he started the helicopter up again.

Ben and Kaitlin slowly made their way to the helicopter and climbed in. Ben took a seat and waited for his sister to sit down. Instead of sitting down next to him she came up to him and sat on his lap, he noticed that she was shaking a bit, possibly from the sudden situation. So he wrapped his arms around her waist and held her close to him, comforting her as much as possible.

The helicopter then took off and before they knew it they were flying above the island where they were stuck on for the last month of their lives. Kaitlin turned her head and looked her brother in the eyes with a smile on her face, he smiled back at her and held her close. As the helicopter flew off they finally started to relax a bit. Maybe this time they would really be able to return to the world of the living.

Like the man said the helicopter ride took about seven minutes before they had reached their destination. It was another small island close to the one the siblings were on, up in the sky they could see that the island that they were on was surrounded by many more of these little islands.

"Okay we are here! There is a pretty strong wind blowing at the moment so hold on to yourselves as I'm going to land!" Said the man to them.

As the helicopter started to decent they could see that there was a big, futuristic looking house placed at the center of the island along with a pool, a colorful garden with a greenhouse and further down the coast a small dock with boats.

"Talk about having a dream island... Say, couldn't you have dropped us on this island when you decided to screw up our vacation and take us away from our parents?!" Said Ben jokingly.

The man started to laugh. "What would be the point of that? You two have been brought here to find your true selves, not to enjoy a luxurious vacation!" He responded.

"Enough with the cryptic messages! When are you going to explain all of this anyway?" Asked Ben again, now slightly annoyed.

"In a bit Benjamin! And speaking of your parents... Take a closer look near the landing platform!"

Upon hearing his words both Ben and Kaitlin immediately turned their heads so they could see the outside again. As they got closer to the ground they could make out three different silhouettes, two very close to each other and one behind the pair.

"Oh my god... Mom...Dad!" Whimpered Kaitlin before she started to sob, tears streaming down her cheeks as she saw her parents coming closer and closer into view.

Ben gulped and watched in silence, his heart beating faster and faster as held onto his sister. He couldn't believe what he was seeing.

As soon the helicopter came to a standstill, Kaitlin wriggled herself out of her brother's grasp, threw open the helicopter's side door, got out and ran off to her parents filled with emotions that now came all out at the same time. She flew into her mother's arms, who was now also crying, and hugged her as if she never wanted to let go anymore.

Her father joined her and her mother and held them close as the two of them sobbed and cried.

Ben just got out of the helicopter himself and stood frozen next to it in some sort of shocked state, he then felt a hand on his shoulder.

"Go on son, join your family..." Said the man, shaking him out of his silent gaze.

Slowly but surely he accelerated himself just as his sister did before him and joined the emotional family group hug, shedding tears himself.

The man slowly walked up to the other woman who was standing behind the group and took her hand.

"It always gets you every time, right darling?" He said to her as she pulled herself close to him.

She then wiped away at her teary eyes and spoke. "Always my dear... Always..."

The two of them then watched in silence as the Collins family were finally being reunited.

"Allow us to introduce ourselves properly, I'm Winston Garcey and this is my sister Marsha Garcey. We are the ones behind your 'kidnapping' and also the ones that guided and watched both of you as you opened up your true feelings to each other." Said Winston as he explained to the siblings what was going on.

The siblings stayed silent for a while before Kaitlin spoke up. "So... That means you two are... you know, like us?"

"Correct." Said Marsha, taking over from her brother. "We too are in, and have been, in an incestuous relationship for a very long time."

"Alright... But what has that to do with everything we went through?" Asked Ben.

Winston sighed. "Before we come to that, let me tell you two a little bit more about us."

Kaitlin and Ben looked at their parents, who gave them a confirming nod. They then averted their attention back to Winston and Marsha.

"We both grew up in the ninety-sixties in a very religious town, both our parents were heavy believers and almost everything outside of their playbook was a sin. Me and Marsha had very limited interaction with others and basically only had each other. We were homeschooled, only went outside to attend church, you get the idea.

Marsha had it worse as she had to stay indoors with our mother to do chores, I was a bit luckier that I had to help our father outside on our small farm field. Eventually we started to develop feelings for each other, and how can you blame us, being literally locked up for a great part of our lives in the confinement of that small town and house. Our feelings became greater and greater and soon we were trying to get time alone with each other whenever possible, during chores we would secretly kiss, at night we would both sneak out of bed to make out in the barn which eventually led us to making love. It was risky, but it was all we had, each other."

Kaitlin was strongly holding hands with her brother as they listened to their story.

"And on a fatal night our father found out about us, things went horribly wrong and we were kicked out of our house, out of our community and thrown into the unknown. I won't go into full details but the things our parents said and wished to us were ripping us apart as we were being chased out of our town. Anyway, as you can see around you, things worked out for us in the long run, we survived so to say and we never let go of each other, we always stayed together no matter what happened.

It got us thinking. Was it really that wrong for a brother and sister to love each other in this way? Why can't people just accept that humans can fall in love with someone that is close and dear to them, no matter what their backgrounds are. Are we hurting anybody with it? No. Has the world turned into a worse place because of us? No. So why can't society accept that love is simply... Love? Society nowadays brands incest as a sin, something horribly vulgar and wrong. They brainwashed the younger generation into making it look like that they committed, or are committing a crime simply because they have feelings towards someone that is very close to them. Things like these rip relationships apart, two people drift away from each other because they are afraid to express themselves, to show the other how they truly feel... Something that happened to you, Benjamin and Kaitlin."

Kaitlin and Ben looked each other in the eyes, remembering all the times they had fights and how they started to ignore each other, why their always close relationship had turned into a mess of emotions after Ben turned eighteen. Winston and Marsha were speaking the truth; they had been afraid to tell each other how they truly felt because they had been told that it was wrong.

Winston then continued. "So we decided that we wanted to help those that had troubles expressing their selves, to tell the one person they really loved how they truly felt. Our investments and work that we did gave us the opportunity to do so. We bought the land, all of these islands around this part of the sea and started our project, under the radar of course.

When two people are being separated from the outside world, away from communication and technology and only have each other to rely on they will eventually 'find themselves'. Here is no one to blame them, no one to tell them what is right and wrong, no one to tell them what they can or can't do. And that's when two people that always have been close together, can tell each other what they always wanted to tell the other person. In your cases, to show each other that you love each other, not only as brother and sister but also as a couple, a couple that is in love."

Ben and Kaitlin went silent again for a little bit as they tightly held onto each other. They then looked at their parents, who were also holding hands.

"So... How come that our parents... Know about all of this, about what you two do to help siblings like us?" Asked Kaitlin softly.

Both Winston and Marsha started to smile. "Isn't it obvious by now sweetheart?" Said Marsha with a motherly tone. "Christine and Robert also have been on the very same island you and your brother have been, twenty-two long years ago."

Both the siblings gasped out of shock and quickly averted their eyes to their parents.

Christine and Robert were looking deep into each other eyes with smiles on their faces before they turned to their children.

"We always wanted to tell you about our true relationship eventually, I guess now is the perfect time to do so." Said Robert quietly. "Ben... Kait... Your mother and I... We too are brother and sister, and we too went through a period of our lives where we had a difficult time to truly express ourselves to each other. Winston and

Christine continued speaking. "And when we saw how both of you grew up, how close you were and just how you two interacted with each other, we knew that you two were in love. But we started to deeply concern for both of you when Ben turned eighteen, you two were conflicted and each and every day you separated from each other just a tiny bit more, it was as Winston said, society made it look like a sin to both of you; brothers and sisters can't love each other, not in that way."

Robert took over from Christine as she started to cry softly. "So we contacted Winston and Marsha after all those years, knowing that they were the ones who could help, but most of all, help both of you to realize your true feelings and to express them. So truly, we are the real masterminds behind this whole happening, I hope both of you can forgive us if it did hurt you in any sort of way, but we did it because we love you and we want to see both of you happy for the rest of your lives."

Robert turned to Christine, comforting her as they expected to get scolded by their children for setting this whole thing up. Instead of that, Kaitlin and Ben got up and embraced their parents once more. Showing them that they loved them no matter what happened and no matter what their relationship was, They were glad that they looked out for them and tried to go every way possible to make them happy.

Winston and Marsha, hand in hand, watched in silence again as the Collins family had another emotional embrace.

"They look, and are so much the same... Kaitlin and Benjamin are basically younger versions of Robert and Christine." Whispered Winston to his sister.

Marsha smiled and whispered back "It's adorable, they truly love each other very much. It makes me happy to see people like this, not being suppressed by society on who they can and can't truly love. I know everything is going to be fine for the four of them... Or should we say the five of them?"

"Alright, first thing we want to do is check both of your bodies and health, it's nothing spectacular but we like to make sure that both of you are okay. Besides, Kaitlin, Marsha is also going to test if you are pregnant."

Kaitlin started to blush as Winston mentioned the possibility of her being pregnant, deep inside she knew and could already feel that she had been blessed.

"Benjamin will come with Robert and me to the terrace outside. Kaitlin you follow Marsha with your mother, okay?" Said Winston.

Both siblings nodded and went their separate ways, but not before giving each other a passionate kiss that made their parents smile with joy.

As Ben, Winston and his father walked to the terrace outside he noticed in the corner of his eyes that something was following them, he then suddenly stopped and spun around coming face to face with a little monkey.

"Oh don't mind Patty, she's our eyes and ears on the island where you two have been the last month. You might have even spotted her a couple of times. I think the first time was when the two of you entered the jungle and spotted her with some of her friends on a tree branch." Said Winston with a smile.

Ben looked back and forward between Patty and Winston, slightly surprised. "You gotta be kidding me, this little monkey was a sort of spy?" He asked.

Winston nodded. "Along other technical instruments that I planted all over the island. And don't worry, we didn't pry on you two in your most intimate moments!" He said with a grin. "Here let me show you... Patty! Come here!"

The monkey quickly ran up to Winston and jumped onto his shoulder. "See? Her collar is equipped with a high-tech audio recording device and a camera. She actually has been the one to warn us first after you got bitten by that snake."

"Okay... So how did you train her to do this, don't tell me you got some brainwashing device around this place!" Said Ben.

Winston laughed again. "Oh no, not at all! Marsha found her heavily wounded when she was exploring the island, Patty was around three weeks old at that time. She took Patty with her and tended to her wounds over here. So she grew up with us around here and ever since that day she has been like a sort of child to us, she fully trusts us and we love her."

"Uhuh... Say, about that snake bite, how did you two know what kind of snake it was, and how did you two bring me the serum?" Asked Ben curiously.

"Ah, good question! Well you see, Marsha has been a biologist ever since she finished her university. She knows everything about the flora and fauna that inhabits these islands. Ever since we came here she studied them, building a database of information around it. We have anti-venom and repellants to all kinds of bites, stings and whatever here at our house. Upon researching the audio and video footage, and the use of her database she could make out what kind of snake it was and thus preparing a serum for you.

The one who brought it to you was yours truly, by boat. Of course I had to be sneaky so I waited for a while. And no, you were not on the verge of death when I planted the case for your sister. That poison inflicted several unique ticks that made it look like you were dying!" Explained Winston.

"Geez, you really look like a mad professor or something when you talk so enthusiastically over someone who got bitten by a poisonous snake." Said Ben, a smile starting to form on his face.

Both Winston and his father started to laugh.

"You should have seen your mother, she was ready to pull the plug on this whole thing several times, and I would be lying if didn't feel the same a couple of times." Said Robert to his son.

"Ah yes, I've had some very explicit words thrown towards me from her, Christine still is a feisty one, just like she was all those years ago. Still, you have some very loving parents' lad, I hope you do appreciate the things they did for you and your sister." Added Winston.

"Don't have any doubt about that Mr. Garcey. They are the best parents in the world." Said Ben truthfully, looking at his father who smiled back at him.

"Good, good... Oh, and call me Winston for Christ's sake, don't make me feel like some old fossil, would you? Now, get out of those shorts and shoes so I can properly inspect you, I also want to take a look where you have been bitten, just to make sure it healed."

"Yes sir!" Said Ben loud as he started removing his shoes and shorts.

His father started to laugh again while Winston shook his head.

"Just lie on this bed over here Kaitlin, I'm going to use the ultrasound to see if we can find something. It's going to take a bit for me to set it up so just relax, okay?" Said Marsha as she attended to the medical machinery next to her.

Kaitlin did as she asked but looked at her with a bit of confusion. "Aren't ultrasounds effective after at least six weeks of pregnancy?" She asked.

Marsha nodded as she heard the question. "Normal ultrasounds yes, but the one me and my brother have developed can detect everything after three weeks."

"You two keep amazing me Marsha, all those years ago you two were already on top of everything, nice to see that things haven't changed a bit." Said Christine who sat beside her daughter.

Kaitlin averted her attention back to her mother and took her hand. "Mom... Can you tell me about you and Dad? How you two fell in love."

Christine started to blush which made her daughter giggle. "Well, since the cat is out of the bag I suppose I can."

"Aww, you don't have to be nervous Mom... You know I love you and I think it's pretty cute that Ben and me probably inherited the same feelings that you and Dad have for each other." Said Kaitlin proudly as she shifted herself to face her mother.

Christine smiled at her and gave her hand a squeeze before talking.

"You know that your grandfather, our father, died when we were very young. So, we grew up with only Mom looking after us, and in a sort of way your father became the man of the house. We always had been close just like you two, but for us the fire really ignited after your father dropped out of school to go work. He was determined to provide for his family, to provide for his mother and sister, we were his number one priority. Your father is the one that paid for my studies, for my clothes and everything else. I started to see him not as my brother anymore, but as my man, my husband sort of... I was falling in love with him more each and every day, and so was he with me. Only problem was that we were afraid to express ourselves to each other, almost like you and Ben did, only we didn't drive apart from each other. And so there we were, deep inside madly in love but on the outside afraid to show our true feelings... And that's when Winston and Marsha came into play.

Your father and I had booked a short vacation by cruise ship for our mother's birthday, to the same place us four were supposed to go to. And that's when our time came to 'find ourselves'. Now, I could go over all the details, but you know from your own experiences what we went through. In the end we got together, as a couple, a brother and sister deeply in love with each other."

Kaitlin was listening with her full attention when something came to her mind. "Wait... Does this mean that Grandma...? Does Grandma also know about you two?"

"Yes honey... Grandma knows, she was the one that managed to contact Winston and Marsha to set everything in motion, don't ask me how since she refuses to tell us... Mom had suspected our love for each other since we were toddlers just by observing us. She didn't care that it was considered wrong for brothers and sisters to love each other, she only wished to see us happy and if that meant us being together, then so be it. She always told us the exact same thing when she watched both of you play and do things together, and I guess she had been right once more." Explained Christine.

"Wow... So, when did we come into play? When did you two decide to have children?" Asked Kaitlin again, still curious as ever.

Christine started to blush again before speaking. "Kaitlin... You were conceived on that very island all those years ago... The love between us was so great that we acted upon it. I always wanted children, ever since I was a little girl and your father thought the same way. I guess in the end it's like mother like daughter, and like father like son for our family."

Now Kaitlin started to blush heavily, thinking about the fact that she and her brother aren't much different than their parents.

Their talk got interrupted by Marsha who was ready setting up the ultrasound machine, she shifted the monitor next to it so Kaitlin and Christine could also see it. "Are you ready Kaitlin?"

Kaitlin shifted on her back again. "More than ever Marsha, do your thing!" She said excited.

Marsha nodded and started applying gel onto her belly and smeared it around until that area was covered with it. She then placed the scanning device gently onto her and started searching for any signs of pregnancy.

Kaitlin and Christine held hands again as they waited, their eyes glued on the monitor.

After a few minutes she held the scanning device on a particular spot. Marsha turned to Kaitlin with a bright smile. "Congratulations sweetie, you are going to be a mommy!" She announced happily before she pointed at the monitor.

Tears welled up in both Kaitlin and Christina's eyes as they looked at the monitor, seeing a small but strong sign of life where Marsha was pointing at.

Kaitlin turned to her mother again. "Mom! I'm going to be a... Mom!" She said proudly as her tears streamed down her cheeks.

Christine got up and pulled her daughter into a hug. "Congratulations baby... I'm so happy for you and Ben!"

They held onto the hug for a while before Marsha mentioned that she still had to wipe Kaitlin's belly clean. Christine in her excitement had totally forgotten about the gel which resulted in a stain on her shirt. The three of them started to laugh.

Christine then left to change shirts. As Marsha was cleaning Kaitlin she got another question from her regarding the diary that she had found.

"Say Marsha, what was that diary from Joanna Sterling all about?"

Marsha smiled. "Oh that thing, well she had that small diary on her when we 'kidnapped' her and her brother. We decided to let her keep it, knowing that there was a possibility that she would write in it, and writing she did. After they got off the island we asked her if we could keep it for future 'contenders'. She wrote everything in such high detail that it was a perfect object to change siblings' minds on their feelings. If they read about the love between them without any boundaries it will act as some sort of boost to help other siblings accept the feelings easier instead of denying them. I think it also helped you a bit, didn't it?"

Kaitlin started to blush as she mentioned it. "I... I guess it did in some kind of way... What happened to them? to Joanna and Alec."

"Another happy ending, they now live on the other side of the planet, continuing their lives as a married couple. Joanna still works as a biologist, just like I did and Alec uses his handy hands as a carpenter. Together they have three children, two boys and a girl." Explained Marsha.

Kaitlin smiled at her. "I'm glad that they found their way too... Do all your uh... 'Clients' keep contact with you after their 'treatment'?"

"Those that wish to keep contact yes, some rather keep things more private and that's totally understandable with us. Though we do prefer to keep in touch with each sibling couple." Answered Marsha.

"I think me and Ben don't mind to keep contact with you two, just like our parents do. In some sort of way, you two are grandparents of our child too, at least that's how I see it." Said Kaitlin to her.

Marsha smiled again and took Kaitlin's hand. "Thanks for those kind words darling, words like those mean a lot to me and my brother.

And I like to keep contact with both of you too, you two were something else. I think I've never seen such a cute sibling couple before!"

The two woman chatted for a while longer before returning to the living room of the house. As soon Ben and Kaitlin saw each other again they ran into each other's arms, Kaitlin emotionally revealing to him that she is indeed pregnant with their child which was not really a surprise to Ben. They then both cuddled up outside together, watching over the ocean and the island they were on for a full month, the island that changed their lives forever. They looked forward to return home and to start paving the road towards their future.

The Collins family spend time with the Garcey's for the remainder of the day, they chatted, had an incredible dinner and a relaxing evening before all of them agreed to catch sleep after a day full of excitement. Kaitlin and Ben shared a room together, but tonight they were too tired to make love properly so they kept it to a minimal. Ben did make his sister cum with his fingers and so did Kaitlin to him, the rest of the night they cuddled and talked until they fell asleep.

The next morning the four of them said their goodbyes to Winston and Marsha, it was time for them to return home, time for them to spend their lives together as they wanted to. Winston took them to the airport with his helicopter, giving his final goodbyes before they boarded their plane back home.

After a two-hour flight they landed in the city close to their hometown. Finally, after a long month of nothing but sand, trees and water Ben and Kaitlin were back at their home, their cozy and warm family home. Although a chapter of their lives had ended, they would always remember what happened on that island and what it brought them in the end, it gave them the true love they sought for so long and a family of their own.

"Ooooooh myyyyy Goodddd! My lovely bed, you have no idea how much mommy has missed you!" Said Kaitlin as she let herself fall backwards onto her king-size bed.

Ben chuckled as he brought in his sister's suitcase, the one their parents had stored at the Garcey's since they didn't need them at all. "I thought that that spread sleeping bag was enough for both of us, guess we are way too spoiled over here."

"You can always sleep on the floor if you want, but your sweet sister over here has to catch up with a lot of beauty sleeps!" Responded Kaitlin as she rolled around.

"Sure Ms. Princess, but after you have taken this stuff off me, where do you want it?" Asked Ben as he waited with her suitcase.

"Over there, husbando!" She said jokingly.

"Oh, husband! I like that word coming from you 'Wifey!'" Responded Ben to her words.

He placed her suitcase where she showed him before turning around, wanting to leave his sister's room to get his own stuff. He then saw that Kaitlin closed the door and turned herself around, blocking his way with a naughty grin on her face. Slowly she walked up to him seductively before she stood in front of him, looking up to meet his eyes.

"Now if I do remember, little brother, someone had won himself a 'massage'?" She purred with a foxy tone.

"I do, you have something in mind, my dear sister?" Responded Ben just as playful.

"I do..." She said quietly before pushing her brother so that he fell onto her bed. She quickly straddled his lap and sat on top of him like a queen. She then let herself fall over, her impressive bust and already hardened nipples digging into her brother's chest. "I was thinking about a full body, fucking massage, Little brother... I want to fuck today and make you cum hard." She whispered into his ear.

Ben then threw his hands onto Kaitlin's ass and smashed his mouth against hers, unable to resist his older sister any longer. He furiously kneaded her bubble-butt as their tongues battled in their mouths, fighting over every bit of saliva to taste each other. Ben's cock got rock-hard rapidly and before he knew it, it was sawing up and down between her ass.

Kaitlin moaned loud as she felt her brother assaulting her ass, his strong hands kneading and mauling away at her soft flesh while his cock left a burning sensation as it rubbed up and down her ass. Her pussy started to moisten instantly from the intense feeling.

Suddenly the door to Kaitlin's room flew open.

"Honey! Do you know where your brot'-" Said Christine before she stopped herself.

The siblings stopped what they were doing and slowly turned their heads towards the door at the same time, red from embarrassment.

"Oh you two!" Said Christine with a smile before she started to giggle. "Don't let me stop you two from making some good old fashioned love! Maybe I need to find out where that father of yours is myself too!" She said excited before stepping out of the room and slowly closing the door. "Have fun, but clean up the mess you make!"

The door then closed again. The siblings turned their heads and busted out laughing as soon their eyes connected.

"This sure is something else!" Said Ben to his sister.

"It sure is, but this isn't little brother!" Responded Kaitlin before mashing their lips together again once more.

They started making out just as furiously before they were interrupted. Kaitlin was now grinding her wetted pussy against her brother's nether region which made his cock bounce back and forth because of her ass that pressed against it. Ben at the same time pushed his hips up and down slightly so he was dry-fucking her as their lips and tongue's kept on assaulting each other.

After a few minutes he pushed himself and his sister off the bed and separated the kiss. They both breathed heavily and kept their gazes locked onto each other. As if their minds were linked psychically they started to undress like they never did before, almost ripping off their clothes from their bodies without ever losing their sight off each other.

As soon they were naked Kaitlin jumped back onto her brother which made them fall back onto the bed again.

They started to make out instantly, feeling each other's sweaty, naked bodies grinding together. Kaitlin's large breasts and hard nipples jiggled and pushed against her brother's chest while her now soaked pussy clasped its lips around his cockhead.

Ben had fallen in such a way that his cock was perfectly lined up with his sister's cunt. His cock prodded against her moist, tight opening a couple of times before the tip slid inside. Kaitlin let out a yell as she felt her brother entering her aroused pussy that was on fire, slowly but surely he slid further and further into her well lubricated hole.

"Oh fuuuuckkk Ben!" She screamed as he filled her up. Ben too moaned loud as he felt his sister's cunt grasping his cock inside of her. She was hungry for him, waiting to be ravished by the man she loved.

Just to tease her he fucked up into her a couple of times before pulling himself out.

"Nooooo! Bennnn! Stop teasing me like this!" Moaned his sister in annoyance.

He ignored his sister's pleas, took a strong hold of her waist and lifted her up so he could turn her around one-hundred-eighty degrees. "We can't start fucking properly without some proper foreplay Sis!" He said as he placed themselves in a sixty-nine position.

Kaitlin rather hoped that he kept on fucking her, but as soon as she saw his man-meat standing full mast in front of her face she quickly came back from that conclusion.

She licked her lips hungrily before plunging her mouth down onto her brother's erect cock, taking him in half way right away.

Immediately she used her tongue to attack his sensitive tip, tasting his tasty precum and her own juices as it lubricated the inside of her greedy mouth. She moaned hard, sending thrills of excitement through her brother's cock that stimulated him even further.

At the same time Ben was being treated to his sister's nectar dripping pussy. He wasted no time looking at her tasty cunt and pulled her down onto his mouth, his tongue ravishing up and down through her slick labia and against her erect clit.

Her juices splattered all around his face as she was leaking like a waterfall. His tongue slipped in every direction, plunging deep into her pussy before slipping out and slithering over her glistening cunt lips and her stinging clit. His hands moved back onto her ass and started kneading the juicy flesh once more. But this time he wanted to tease her even further, He traced his thumb onto his sister's cute puckering asshole, prodded against it a couple of times before pushing it in.

Kaitlin eyes shot open as she felt her brother not only devouring her pussy but now also entering her ass with his thumb.

Not to be outdone by her brother she took his balls in her hand and started kneading them fierce but gently. She also pulled the brakes off her blowjob and started to deep throat him with everything she could. Her head bobbed up and down, taking in her brother's cock to the max. She left a trail of drool mixed with precum every time she finishes a bob. The sudden deep throat brought her a reaction from her brother right away as she felt his moans vibrating through her cunt.

The siblings were now pleasuring each other without limits. A brother feasting onto his sister's pussy while the sister devoured her brother's fuck-stick. The room smelled of sex and the sounds of slobbering, squishy pussy eating and deep throating roamed through it. This truly was incestuous sex at its purest form, and the fucking hadn't even started yet.

For couple of minutes they gave each other everything they could, licking, sucking, kissing and pleasuring each other like they never did before. They were on fire and after two days of not making love they were in heat, in need to feel each other in every way possible.

Suddenly Kaitlin yanked herself free from their sixty-nine position and quickly spun herself around. Her eyes made contact with her brother who was wondering why she stopped. "Ben... I need to get fucked now, I can't take it anymore... I want you to fuck your big sister and make her cum!" She said to him before impaling herself onto her brother's cock with once vicious slam.

"Oh shit!" Moaned Ben as he watched his horny sister bouncing up and down on his rock-hard cock. He watched as her tasty tits bounced up and down, how her face showed absolute pleasure, how her screams of pleasure ringed through his ears. He couldn't get enough of her, she was his woman and he would love her for the rest of his life.

He started to thrust up into her just as she slammed down on him, his cock knocking against the door of her womb every time he fully entered her. Kaitlin threw her head back and screamed, not caring if her parents or the neighbors heard her. Their combined juices splattered all over them when their bodies slapped together.

Ben could feel his hunger for his sister growing and growing, she wanted him to fuck her this time, to pound her naughty pussy into the next dimension with everything he could. Fueled by his lust he suddenly pushed himself off the bed, shoved his arms under his sister's legs so he could hold her up and walked to the door with her still impaled on his fuck-stick.

Kaitlin let out an animalistic scream of pleasure as her brother lifted her up, dicking her deep and slamming her back against the door. She looked him in the eyes and could see the fire in them, love making was out the door for tonight, this time it was hard and nasty fucking. She threw her arms around his neck and leaned back against the door, her legs wrapped around his waist and her pussy fully stuffed with brother cock.

"Fuck me little brother! Fuck your dirty, naughty, incestuous sex starving older sister hard. Slam my pussy with everything you got!" She encouraged him loud.

Ben grunted and started to slam into his sister's pussy so hard that their skin rippled and started to turn red. Every thrust created a loud bang from the poor door that got caught up in their incestuous fuck act.

Kaitlin kept screaming non-stop as her brother demolished the insides of her cunt. Every thrust he gave her shook through her body, every slam against her cervix caused her to dig her nails into his skin, every pound made her thick cunt cream splattered out of her pussy, onto his body and the floor below them with great quantities.

Sweat poured from them, Kaitlin's big tits bouncing up and down, left and right from the tremendous force she was assaulted with. This was the first time she was fucked while standing and she immediately loved it as her brother's perfect cock managed to reach her deepest depth each and every time it rocketed inside of her.

Ben too could feel her pussy sucking vacuum around his pistoning penis, her walls literally crushed his cock, giving him a stimulation that he had never experienced before with her. This was how pussy pounding was meant to be, non-stop screams of pleasure and a constant barrage of fuck stimulation running through both their bodies.

He then tightened his grip on his sister again and walked over to her dresser in the corner of the room, he carefully dropped her ass onto it, it was the perfect height, and he started to slam into her. He wanted to tease even her further so he let go of her legs and grabbed her massive tits in an instant, kneading the sensitive flesh and her diamond-hard nipples at the same time.

Kaitlin was now a mess. She gasped for air through her moans, her mouth hung open and drool ran out of it, her eyes rolled back into her skull. Ben could feel her body shudder and shake, making it clear to him that she was having orgasm after orgasm.

Their lower bodies were a mess too, completely splattered with both of their juices, Kaitlin's thick white womanly cream seeped and squirted out of the tight gap where they were connected onto the dresser, onto the floor and onto both of them. Her room would be needing a proper cleaning after they were finished.

Ben could feel his own climax getting closer and closer too, what was not a surprise after fucking his sister with this kind of strength and speed over fifteen minutes now.

He picked her up one last time and took her back to her bed. He gently laid her on her back and started fucking her again in the same position when he impregnated her on the island. Old school missionary style so they could look each other in the eyes as they came.

Kaitlin reached up with her trembling hands and cupped her brother's face, pulling him closer to her so they could kiss. She loved cumming this way as it was so intimate, being close to your lover, looking him in the eyes and kissing him while waiting for that explosion.

The bed creaked heavily as Ben slammed up and down into his sister's still tight cunt. As soon his cockhead reached her lips he plunged back into her with full force like a pile driver, knocking against the door of her already impregnated womb.

"Cuuuummmm innnn meeeee! Drown my pussy baby brother!" Moaned Kaitlin through her kisses and licks. She grabbed even tighter onto him as she felt his cock starting to expand and throb, he was getting really close so to tease him even further she clamped her pussy muscles with everything she could.

"Ooooh! Oh... Fuck! Kait!" Moaned Ben loud as he felt his sister squeezing him, wanting him to shoot his load deep inside of her. He then let out a deep growl, his balls started to hurt and then he exploded, unable to prevent himself from releasing any longer.

He jammed his cock deep into her hotbox and shot rope after rope of his highly potent seed. His whole body shuddered and bucked as he unloaded his pent up sperm from his cum reservoir deep inside of his beloved sister, drowning her pussy and womb once more to its capacity.

Kaitlin too experienced another shattering orgasm. As soon as her brother's child birthing seed splashed through her womb once more she exploded. Her body bucked up against his as her pussy grasped, squeezed and sucked the cum out of her brother's cock. She was being filled so much that it started to leak out of her where she and Ben were still connected, a huge stream of thick, white cream seeped out of her cunt, dribbling down along her puckered asshole and onto the sheets of her bed.

After a minute or so of them both breathing heavily and coming down from their orgasms they separated from each other. With a loud, nasty, squishy plop Ben's cock released itself from his sister's well-fucked cunt. Her pussy contracted, more thick, fresh cum from her brother streaming out of it.

Kaitlin let out a soft giggle before slowly reaching her hand up to her pussy, smearing some of her brother's cum onto her fingers and bringing them back to her mouth. She moaned as she sucked and licked the creamy substance from her fingers, tasting her brother's delicious seed, it swirling through her mouth.

Ben had fallen backwards off the bed, looking up at the ceiling, still breathing heavily as he laid on the carpet floor of his sister's room. He smiled to himself, thinking about what their parents would have heard, there was no way that they did not hear their son and daughter fuck. Maybe the two of them even inspired them to do the same thing.

After another minute or so he slowly climbed up again, steadying himself as he still felt a bit dizzy from his climax. He then heard Kaitlin calling out to him.

"One more time... Pleasssseeeee baby brother... Fuck my pussy one more time... You only came once... I know you can cum again... Pleasssseeeee..." She begged him.

Ben looked up and could see his sister sitting in doggy style position, her legs spread and her gaping pussy held open by her fingers, his fresh, unloaded cum still dripping out of it. She seductively wiggled her ass back and forth, wanting him to fuck her again.

It didn't take long for him to recover after seeing such an erotic sight before him. Once his cock was fully hard again he climbed back onto the bed, positioned himself behind his sister, lined up his cock with her begging pussy and slowly entered her again until he reached her cervix once more.

Kaitlin yelped and bit her lip as she felt her brother's stick staff invading her pussy for the second time. "Fuck meeee Ben... Just fuck me before I can't handle it anymore!" She begged him.

And so he started moving again, thrusting in and out of his sister's already well-fucked pussy. He could feel the seed he shot into her before in very corner of her cunt, it produced a nasty squishy sound every time he thrust back into her. It was dirty and he loved it, it encouraged him to start pounding her harder again.

He loved to see her juicy ass ripple every time his body crashed against hers, her back was glistening from the fuck-sweat they produced and her fierce red hair was a mess. The cute moans she made, made him thrust harder into her, wanting to hear them become louder.

It didn't take long for the siblings to be back in the same rhythm they were before. A brother slamming his cock hard into his sister from behind, and a sister grasping onto the sheets of her bed, moaning in pleasure as she's being fucked by her brother.

Mid-fuck Ben leaned forward and reached out to his sister's tits that were swinging like pendulums, he loved grasping them as he fucked her and he knew that they were extra sensitive. He upped his fucking a pace as his hands mauled away at her sweaty tit flesh.

Kaitlin screamed out of pleasure again as she felt her brother's strong hands grabbing onto her tits, his body bending over hers, fucking her from behind and his heavy breath coming down her neck. Just hearing him moan and groan drove her insane with lust.

"Fuck! Oh shit, Kait!" Moaned Ben as he felt his sister pushing back against him as he fucked into her. Their bodies slapping together became even louder.

They both knew that they wouldn't last very long for a second time, so they did everything with their remaining strength to make each other cum.

Their passionate and nasty doggy style fucking continued for another long minute before Kaitlin felt her brother's cock expanding and throbbing again. "Just let it go little brother... Shoot all that remaining cum of yours deep inside of me again... pleasssee!" She begged him.

Ben smiled and thrust into her a couple of times more before the inevitable happened again. Again he shot ropes of cum deep inside of his sister. Moaning hard and bucking with every shot that blasted out of him.

Kaitlin started to mumbled undecipherable words as she too climaxed again, it all became too much for her and her body. She slipped away and dropped onto her stomach onto the bed, her brother fell with her on top of her, his cock remaining wedged into her tight cunt as he shot his remaining loads of sperm inside of his sister.

Tears streamed down Kaitlin's cheeks as she regained her breath. She had never felt this good before. Her body was still shaking and trembling from their intense fucking session.

After a while she felt her brother shifting off her and falling next to her on his back, he then gently took ahold of her and rolled her over to his side. Their bodies were cuddled up next to each other and as soon their eyes met they started to laugh quietly.

Kaitlin pushed her exhausted body against his, her leg over his leg, her arm and hand on his chest and her head on his shoulder.

Ben held her close and as soon they were relaxed they started to kiss passionately, showing each other their affection and love. Things had finally calmed down and it was now the perfect time for a lovey-dovey moment.

After the long lasting kiss ended they looked at each other again.

"I love you Ben..." Whispered Kaitlin.

Ben snuggled up to her and wrapped his arms around her. "And I love you Kaitlin... Forever..."

Eight months later.

"That's it Ms. Collins! Slow and steady breathing now... Good... Good... Wait for my signal. Start to push when I tell you to."

"You can do it Kait! I'm here with you, if you need to vent your pain then squeeze my hand all you want, I can handle it!"

...

"Yes... Now push! Yes, keep on pushing... easy... easy... Keep at this pace, slow and gentle."

...

"Just a little bit more Kait! You are almost done!"

...

"Keep going Ms. Collins! Yes... Yes... I can see it now; I can see the head! Just a bit further now, keep pushing with the same pace, control your breaths."

...

"That's it Kait! I'm so proud of you, just a bit more and we will finally become parents!".

Chapter 7

Christine and Robert were waiting for a while now in the hospital hall, outside of the room where their daughter had given birth to her and her brother's twins. They held hands and hoped that there were no complications with the newborn children, and their own daughter for that matter.

Their heads immediately turned to the door of the room when they heard it open. A nurse came out with a bright smile on her face and signaled to them. This was the moment they had been waiting for, they would finally meet their twin grandchildren for the first time.

With a pep in their step they accelerated toward the room and entered it with their hearts almost beating out of their chests.

The first thing they saw were the two little bundles of joy, one in the arms of their son Benjamin who sat next to his sister and the other lying in the arms of their happy but tired daughter Kaitlin on the hospital bed.

Christine started to tear up from the sight and Robert let out a huge sigh of relief, a sigh that alerted their children of their presence.

Benjamin looked up and smiled at his parents before speaking. "Mom... Dad... Shelly and Rob made it into this world perfectly fine.

Kaitlin has been a trooper and didn't give up or complain in the slightest, I'm so proud of her!"

Kaitlin let out a tiresome giggle and looked at her brother lovingly. "Don't single yourself out Ben... Your love and being here with me gave me strength too... Same goes for you too, Mom and Dad." She spoke softly.

Christine and Robert quickly gathered around the bed and joined their children. Kaitlin carefully gave Shelly to her mother before she slumped back into the hospital bed, tired from the long lasting childbirths.

Robert ran a hand through his daughter's hair. "You can take it easy now Kait, get some rest and don't worry about the babies, they will be perfectly fine in our and Benjamin's care here.

Kaitlin gave her parents and her brother a confirming nod before drifting off. Benjamin took her hand in his and held her tight, he could feel her gripping onto him with her last remaining strength before she fell asleep just like their son was in Benjamin's other arm and their daughter in their mother's arms.

Shelly was named after Benjamin and Kaitlin's grandmother while their son, Rob, was named after their Grandfather and father. They did not expect to become parents to twins but they couldn't be any happier. Both their dreams finally came true, they had their own family now and a bright future was coming their way. And who knows, maybe their own newborn children already had a path laid out for them, similar to those of their parents.

Four years later.

"Hey you little rascal! Don't teach your sister to use the table as a drawing-board!" Said Benjamin with a grin on his face as he watched Rob coloring his drawing with extreme motions. Rob looked up to his father and giggled before returning to his drawing.

On the opposite side sat Shelly on her grandmother's lap, drawing very precise and quietly. She giggled when her brother got scolded and looked up at her father with a blush on her small, freckled face before returning to her own drawing.

"You know sweetie, they look so much like you two, but their personalities are the complete opposite to yours and Kaitlin's! Shelly is more like you and Rob is more like your sister." Said Christine as she watched Shelly's drawing.

The description of her grandchildren couldn't be any more precise. Although they were twins they did not look alike at all, same went for their personalities.

Shelly was a natural redhead just like her mother. She had the same face, green eyes and even the freckles. Only her personality was that of her father's, she was shy, quiet and rather stayed in the background.

Rob on the other hand was loud and active, just like his mother was and still is, but much lesser than before, to this day. His looks resembled that of his father and grandfather, messy dark hair and light blue eyes.

Although they were so different, they always were together. Rob always stood up for his twin sister and Shelly always backed up her twin brother. They were like yin and yang, two pieces of a puzzle that fitted perfectly together. In that aspect they resembled their parents in each and every way when they were younger themselves.

"Do you know when Kaitlin is coming home sweetie? She mentioned to me that there was a small chance for me to see her before I take these two cuties with me to Grandpa." Asked Christine.

Ben shook his head. "No idea Mom, but I doubt it's going to be late, you know she adores this day and always looks forward to spend some time together, just the two of us." Answered Ben.

"Oh... I bet you two loooove some time together." Said Christine with a foxy tone before giggling.

Ben's head turned red. "You just love to tease us, don't you Mom? Anyway, I'm glad that Dad and I managed to pull that job off yesterday, otherwise Dad wouldn't be spending time with his grandchildren, and I with my lovely sister."

Christine nodded to her son. "So far it's a perfect day, I'm glad that we can have the kids over and that you two have some time alone. It's important to be together, just the two of you once in a while."

Both Benjamin and Kaitlin had looked forward to this day, which in truth they needed once in a while. Just being able to be together without worrying about anything else for a little bit. And they both knew that today was going to be a special one.

Kaitlin had gotten her nursing degree a few years ago and was now working at a big hospital in the city close to their town. Although she had an agreement with her bosses so she could spend more time with her children, some days were just flat-out busy and could even continue deep into the night.

Benjamin worked close with his father Robert who designed gardens for a living, he handled most of the practical aspects nowadays so his father could take it more easy and focus on the designing part only.

They had bought a house that was close to their parents' home, it was nothing too spectacular but it provided their family with everything they needed. It was the perfect place for them to start their and their children's lives together.

Their parents were a huge help and gladly took care of their grandchildren if the situation seemed to become hectic. Shelly and Rob had no problems with that, they loved their grandparents and shared a close bond with them.

Christine and Benjamin chatted for a while longer as the children focused on their drawings. Suddenly the lock of the door could be heard turning, indicating that Kaitlin had indeed made it home earlier.

Both Shelly and Rob jumped out of their seats and made a beeline to the front door. "Mommy!" They shouted in union when Kaitlin entered.

She immediately sunk to her knees and pulled both her children into a lovely hug. "How are my sweet little devils doing?!" She said with a chirpy tone before kissing both their cheeks.

The hug continued for a few seconds, giggles included, before her children separated from her and made their way back to their drawings. Rob sat down next to his father again and Shelly regained the position on her grandmother's lap.

"Hi there sweetheart!" Said Christine as she watched her daughter walking towards her.

"Hi Mom! Thank you so much for doing this today!" She said excited before planting a long kiss on her mother's cheek. She then made her way to her brother.

Benjamin let out a wolf whistle as he ogled his sister's sexy outfit. She had a board-meeting today so she was dressed rather professionally.

Her fierce red hair was in a long ponytail, her bright green eyes covered by designer glasses that gave her a very sexy nerdy look. As a top she had a white blouse that showed her ample cleavage just enough, her bottoms were covered by a nice knee-length, dark tight skirt that clasped around her curves just like her top did. His keen eye also spotted that she was wearing her black garter belt, accompanied by sexy dark stockings. To complete the set, she had four-inch-high heels on her cute little feet.

"Welcome home, my goddess." Said Ben with a smug grin on his face, but meaning every word of it.

Kaitlin rolled her eyes, but the blush on her face revealed that she was fond of his compliment. She walked up to him, took his face in her tender hands and gave him a long, passionate kiss. Both kids giggled again as they watched their mother kiss their father.

"So you managed to get home early after all, you must be thankful for a short day of work darling." Said Christine to her daughter.

Kaitlin turned to her mother and nodded. "Well, it was also thanks to Judith and Cynthia, my bosses. They said they would finish up the things after the meeting, both told me having some 'alone' time with your lover can make quite the difference."

"Wise ladies." Responded Christine, followed by another giggle.

The three of them chatted for a little while longer before Christine got up and ready to take her grandchildren to see their Grandpa. "So, who wants to go to Grandpa?" She asked excited.

Both Shelly and Rob jumped up in joy. "Meeee!" They shouted in union again.

"Alright, you both convinced Grandma to take you two with me, but what do we do before we go?" She asked again.

Shelly and Rob quickly made their way to their parents for a hug and a kiss, something they always did before going to their grandparents.

"You behave yourself little monkey! Feed your brother a banana if he gets too witty again Shelly." Said Benjamin to his children, both of them giggling once more.

Kaitlin kissed and hugged her mother again. "Thank you Mom, I really owe you one." She said.

The siblings said their goodbyes and escorted the twins to their mother's car. After seeing them off they returned inside. Ben walked back to the chair he sat in earlier and took a seat, his sister followed him close, but instead of taking a seat in another chair she pulled herself up and sat down in front of him on the table.

"Soooo, ready to have fun... Little brother?" Purred Kaitlin as she spread her legs open a little wider.

Ben smiled at her as he closely watched her every move. "Someone is excited, but then again, so am I. We have been looking forward to this day for a long time, didn't we Sis?"

Kaitlin bit her lip and nodded. "Today I'm ovulating again... Do you really think we should go through with this?" She responded softly, a bit nervous.

Ben stood up and gave his sister a passionate, love filled kiss. "We discussed it so many times Kait... We both are ready for it and we both want it, besides, I think Shelly and Rob would love another little brother or sister."

Kaitlin kissed her brother back. "Then let's make love little brother... Today we have the whole day for ourselves, let's enjoy it to the fullest..."

Ben had pulled his sister closer to him before they started kissing each other intensely. Ben's hands ran over his sister's curvy body while Kaitlin did the same to her brother's strong and fit body. They moaned loud and dirty into each other's mouths as they swapped saliva, having a free day to do whatever they want was a true blessing.

After a while they separated their intense kiss. "Looks like someone has been waiting for our alone time together." Whispered Ben as he noticed his sister's erect nipples poking against the fabric of her tight blouse.

Kaitlin only moaned and focused her love filled eyes onto her brother.

"I think my big Sis has been a very naughty girl today, let's see if I'm correct, shall we?" Whispered Ben again, kissing the side of his sister's neck tenderly while his hands moved up to the front of her blouse.

Kaitlin let out a shriek of pleasure as he ripped her blouse open, buttons that kept it together shooting in every direction. Two glorious mounds of sexiness bounced and jiggled right in front of Ben's hungry eyes, nipples diamond-hard and pointing straight at him.

"I knew it... No bra at all... Did you try to seduce one of your female colleagues Sis?" Asked Ben teasingly.

"N-no! I... I knew that today was going to be our day... So... So I wanted to feel sexy and do this for you..." Whispered Kaitlin to him with an apologetic tone, her face blushing red.

"Kait... You are sexy no matter what you wear or how you look... But I do appreciate it... You don't mind me taking a taste, do you?" Responded Ben.

Kaitlin moaned and shook her head, knowing what her brother was going to do. She felt her already wet pussy tingle with excitement, her brother was going to 'milk' her again.

Ben gently pushed her big tits together and leaned forward, his mouth seeking out the hard, pink erect nubs. He clasped his mouth around one of her nipples and a generous amount of tit-flesh before starting to suck away, switched between them every few seconds.

Kaitlin let out another shriek of pleasure as she felt her brother sucking and nibbling her sensitive nipples. "Ooooh... Ben, it's coming!" She moaned just before her breasts started to lactate. She wrapped her hands around her brother's head and pushed him onto her pillowy fun bags even tighter.

Ever since the birth of her children Kaitlin's breasts never really stopped lactating, especially during sex when she was aroused and horny they would start to leak. Ben loved to suck her tits while she lactated, it aroused him greatly and so did it for his sister. During the last few years her brother made her cum several times by just sucking her breasts.

Ben slurped and sucked on her nipples, the delicious milk of his sister swirling through his mouth. His cock was now throbbing and rock-hard, tenting the fabric of his sweatpants.

Kaitlin noticed this and took actions through the constant bombardment of tit-sucking pleasure and loud moans. She took one of her hands off her brother's head and guided it downwards to his tenting sweatpants. With one quick motion she pulled it down and freed her brother's fuck-stick from its entrapment. Her soft hand wrapped around the girth of his shaft and started to stroke it gently, precum was already forming at the tip.

Ben moaned too when he felt his sister's soft hand wrapping around his hard cock, as a reaction he slowly thrust his hips back and forward, fucking his sister's hand. He then released his right hand from his sister's tits and trialed it down too, towards the side of her tight skirt. He had seen her wear it many times and knew that he only had to undo some buttons on the side to get it off her.

While he fiddled with the buttons his hungry mouth remained clamped around his sister's tits, now sucking harder and sometimes biting the erect nubs that produced her delicious liquid. The taste of it and the smell of her aroused sex stimulated him even further, making his cock throb with anticipation.

Kaitlin tightened her grip onto her brother's cock, stroking it backward when her brother thrust toward her. She moaned loud, her sensitive tits were being smothered by her brother expertly, it wouldn't take long for her to cum like this.

The tabletop was already being coated by her nectar, it dripped out of her aroused pussy and along her thighs, soaking the skirt too. Her brother would get another surprise if he succeeded to remove her skirt.

After a long minute of milky tit-sucking and cock-stroking Ben finally managed to undo all the buttons of his sister's skirt. He let go of her tits with a last hard suck and a loud plop before pulling the skirt off her completely.

He looked down and was greeted with his sister's tight, juicy looking cunt. Her little tuft of red pubic hair was soaked too and the table underneath it had received the same watery treatment. She had been going commando the whole day, no bra and no panties either.

"Geez Sis, you really are being a naughty mommy today, aren't you?" He said with a grin as he looked up to his sister.

"Noooo, don't say it like that... Meanie..." Moaned Kaitlin as she started to blush even more. Her pussy contracted from her brother's words and a fresh squirt of milk dribbled down her tits.

Ben gently took his sister's waist and pulled her even closer, the head of his cock now poking and sliding on top of her pussy mound leaving small trails of precum across it. "Why not? You have been a mommy for a while now, and besides, daddy likes it when mommy is naughty!" Teased Ben even further.

Kaitlin then suddenly threw her arms around her brother's neck and mashed her lips against his. The siblings engaged in another passionate kissing battle as their neither region's wriggled together. Completely oblivious to the outside world they dry-fucked and kissed each other intensely, even after these four years their love had not changed a bit.

After a while Kaitlin yanked herself free from their kiss and looked her brother deep in the eyes. A string of saliva hung between their gasping mouths as their gazes of lust and love told each other everything.

"Fuck mommy... Daddy... fuck my tight, juicy little cunt and shoot all of that thick child-birthing semen of yours deep into my hungry ovulating womb..." Purred Kaitlin to her brother. She then laid back onto the table and spread her legs even wider, revealing her glistening cunt in all its glory to her brother.

Ben gulped as his sister displayed herself in a pure goddess like state, she was his woman now, the love of his life and the mother of his children. This incredibly sexy, intelligent and beautiful woman wanted him to breed her once more.

He wrapped his arms around his sister's stocking clad legs and pulled her even closer. She was now on the edge of the table and ready for entry at a perfect height. His rock-hard cock was aimed straight at her nectar dripping pussy, ready to invade her tightness once more.

Kaitlin bit her lip as she felt her brother's cockhead sliding up and down her soaked labia, the tip of it coming into contact with her clitoris every time her brother ran it upward. She then let out another moan when he started to prod it against her entrance, their juices mixing together and coating each other's sexes.

"Fuck me baby brother, fuck your woman now baby!" Purred Kaitlin loud, not wanting to wait any longer.

Ben couldn't resist any longer and pushed himself forward slowly, sinking deeper and deeper into the tightness of his sister's juicy cunt until he reached her baby chamber, as always his cockhead was nestled against her cervix which seemed to try to suck him in even further.

Both brother and sister let out an animalistic groan of pleasure once they were fully connected again. Their glistening eyes met and they smiled romantically at each other. Then their lust and love took over, starting their horizontal dance.

Ben started to saw himself slowly in and out of his sister's greedily sucking vagina. Her walls clamped around his cock like a vice, she was already ready to milk the seed from him.

"Ooooh fuck Ben... This feels so fucking good!" Moaned Kaitlin in delight as she felt her brother's cock invading her tight cunt, hitting all her sensitive spots with every thrust. Her large breasts bounced and jiggled hypnotically every time her brother slapped back against her body, her milk dripped out of her stinging nipples again.

"I swear Sis, each and every time with you is better than the one before, you are incredible." Moaned Ben back at her as he ploughed her gently, his eyes switching between her sexy blushed face, her bouncy lactating tits and her juicy cunt.

The table slowly creaked and moved with every thrust into his sister. Their combined juices splattered and dribbled out of the tight gap where they were connected, not only covering their lower bodies but also the table and the floor under them.

Both Kaitlin and Ben moaned with pleasure, their incestuous lovemaking was top notch as it always was. A brother and sister so deeply in love giving each other what they longed for, to be together and love each other no matter what society thinks about a forbidden relationship like this.

Kaitlin brought her hands to her tits and started to play with her flesh and nipples, literally milking herself out of pleasure. She moaned and shook her head sideways as she was being loved from what felt like every direction.

Ben growled and tightened his grip onto his sister's stocking clad legs and started to pound harder into her, their bodies now slapping together at a steady pace.

He leaned a bit forward and placed his own hands on top of those of his sister. now both she and him were kneading her massive breasts, pleasuring her soft flesh and her hard sensitive nipples. Kaitlin let out a long, deep moan as she felt two pair of hands caressing her. Her milk ran freely and so did the juices that splattered out of her fully filled pussy.

"I loveeeee you Bennnnn!" She said through her moans with tear filled eyes.

"I love you too Kaitlin! I love you so much!" Responded Ben with equal emotions.

He then slammed his cock deep into his sister and held it there. Both he and his sister released their hands from her tits so they could cuddle and kiss for a bit. Kaitlin wrapped her arms around her brother's neck and started to gyrate her hips gently, feeling his cock throbbing inside of her tight hotbox.

Ben let out a shuddering moan before lowering himself further onto her. Her tits mashed against his chest, hard nipples pressing into him and soiling his shirt with milk. Their lips came together once more for a love filled, gentle make-out session. This time there was no hurry, as their bodies gyrated into each other their kiss went on and on. Their tongues dueled softly as their moans vibrated the inside of their mouths.

After what seemed to be a century they released their love fueled kiss and looked at each other.

"We really are naughty parents, aren't we little brother?" Asked Kaitlin quietly, a new blush appearing on her freckled face.

"Maybe so Kait, but I love every second of it. No matter how naughty it gets... Doing this with you is just so magical for me, and for you too..." Responded Ben as he brushed a hand calmly through his sister's fierce red hair.

Kaitlin giggled and placed a gentle kiss on her brother's lips. "Do you... Do you think we can ever get married?" She asked again, blushing even harder. "I know we already have rings together, but imagine us at an altar... Our babies with us... Our parents and maybe even Winston and Marsha... Me in a beautiful wedding dress and you in a suit looking all handsome..."

Ben smiled at her and returned a soft kiss. "Who knows Kait... Maybe someday... But for now, for now I'm one-hundred percent happy with you, our kids and everything else... Though, you would look so goddamn sexy in a wedding dress, I doubt I could keep my hands off you!"

Kaitlin giggled again and smiled back at her brother. "I hope we can one day yes... But hey, I can always get myself a wedding dress so we recreate that fantasy of yours... And mine!"

She then suddenly shifted herself, she moved her long, stocking clad legs in an acrobatic way and placed them on her brother's shoulders. Her hands cupped her brother's face and brought him close to hers.

Ben could feel her tight pussy grabbing his cock like a vice. She started to moan and breath heavy, her green eyes sparkling behind her sexy glasses.

"But for now... for now I want you to pound me little brother... To slam that big fucking cock of yours deep into my incestuous pussy and coat my womb and walls with that delicious seed of yours... To fertilize my ovulating eggs once more, to make our family complete. So fuck me little brother, fuck me and love me!" She purred to him.

Unable to resist his cute, sexy sister any longer Benjamin brought his hips back until only his cockhead was being gripped by his sister's contracting pussy lips. He smiled at her, seeing her biting her lip again and waiting for him to battering-ram her cunt.

Letting go of his breaks he plunged back into her, burying himself deep in the depths of her hotbox. Both he and Kaitlin let out an ear-shattering growl of pure lust as they started to fuck like animals.

Ben rammed in and out of his sister. Their sweaty, glistening bodies slapping together brutally, turning red from the hard impacts they made. Skin rippled, Kaitlin's meaty breasts and juicy ass bounced and jiggled. The table creaked and moved with every slam into her. Their fuck juices splattered and scattered everywhere, coating themselves and their surroundings. Both their clothes were a mess, all soaked from sweat and fuck liquids. This truly was hard, uncensored, intense incestuous fucking.

"Fuck meeee! Fuck meeeee! Fuck meeeeeeee!" Screamed Kaitlin at the top of her lungs as she was being penetrated with unrelenting force.

Ben growled and moaned hard, his sweat dripping from his forehead as he felt his sister's body becoming one with his. His cock filled up his sister's cunt in every corner, knocking against the door to her baby room, their juices mingling together only to be squirted out of the tight gap where they were connected.

Squishy, squirty slosh sounds were heard every time he pulled back, almost releasing himself before slamming deep into his sister again. Their moans, growls and gasps for air roamed through the living room of their house accompanied by their slapping bodies and the creaking, moving furniture.

They had said it so many times before, but this had to be their most intense fuck to date. It was filled with lust, love and affection. Two siblings, hearts beating at an equal rate, bodies and souls meant to be together. It was an act of pure love, wrong or not, fuck the rest of the world.

"Ooooh Gooooood! Kaitlin!" Shouted Ben as he plunged in and out of his sister's vacuum sucking cunt.

"Ben! Ben!! Ben!!" Shouted Kaitlin in return, receiving the fuck of her life.

They both could feel the end coming near. Ben's assaulting cock started to throb and expand, Kaitlin's body started to convulse and buck.

Kaitlin then threw her arms around her brother's neck again, pulled him down and mashed her lips against his. She felt his cock plunging into her one last time, burying itself to the brim in her unprotected pussy and then blasting off.

Rope after rope of thick, potent seed coated the insides of her grasping cunt. It filled up her womb completely before it started to overflow. A thick, white creamy substance started to leak from the tight gap and trickled down along her ass and onto the table and the floor.

Her own body flipped into overdrive and shuddered and shook intensely, bucking up against her brother. Her breasts squirted milk, her nails digging into the skin of her brother. She was having a hell of an orgasm that exploded throughout her whole body.

As both their bodies went through an unbelievable climax they refused to separate their passionate kiss. The orgasmic moans vibrated through their mouths, giving that extra bit of stimulation to top it off.

They kept lying on the table for a good few minutes, riding out their orgasms and their orgasmic bliss. Their kiss had ended now and the only thing that was heard were their gasps for air, their heavy breathing and their hearts beating.

Ben then carefully pushed himself up a bit, released his sister's legs, which automatically wrapped around his waist gently, and then took ahold of his sister's body.

He picked her up and held her close as he sat down onto the chair behind them. Kaitlin let out a yelp as she was now straddling him, his cock still buried deep in her cunt.

He wiped away the loose strands of red hair that covered his sister's face before placing his forehead against hers. Both their eyes slowly opened and as soon they made contact they started to laugh.

"So, we still got the rest of day to fill up Sis. Still want to go to that fancy restaurant?" Asked Ben with a grin after they finished laughing.

Kaitlin shook her head and held onto her brother even tighter. "No... I think I want my husband to take me upstairs to our bedroom so we can cuddle in our comfy bed, and, I don't want my hubby to separate himself from me." She answered with a seductive grin of her own.

"Wow... My wife is a demanding one, isn't she? But I'm a good husband, and I want to make your every wish come true!" Responded Ben before pushing himself up with his still returning strength.

Kaitlin let out a cute coo as she was being impaled further on her brother's still hard cock. She then looked him in the eyes once more and kissed him again. "I love you Ben..." She whispered to him after their kiss ended.

Ben slowly started to move towards the stairs so they could go up to their bedroom. "And I love you Kaitlin, forever and ever..."

Satisfied by his answer Kaitlin nuzzled her face against her brother's shoulder and closed her eyes. Their lives couldn't be any more perfect at this moment. A brother and sister bound together by their love for each other, forever and ever.

Eighteen years later.

"Rob, Shelly, Lily! Come over here, your father has the keycards to your rooms!" Shouted Kaitlin towards her children who were admiring the immersive and impressive looking main deck of the cruise ship.

Rob made his way to his parents first, seeing his father finishing his talk with someone of the ship's crew.

"Finally, I was starting to grow roots." He said as he snatched the keycard from his mother's hand.

Kaitlin gave him a stern look but with a sneaky grin on her face. She knew her son inside out, his snarky persona making him who he was. Rob had grown into a straight replica of Benjamin, handsome and tall, only his personality was even more fierce than before.

Behind Rob came his twin sister Shelly and their younger sister Lily. Shelly gently took the two remaining cards from her mother.

"Thank you Mom." She said polite and smiled at her. Shelly had grown into a beautiful young woman and at this age she perfectly resembled her mother and grandmother in each and every way. She had the same hair, the same face and the same curves at all the right places. She was an intelligent, sweet knockout beauty that raised attention everywhere she went.

The same could be said for the youngest of the bunch. Lily had just reached the age of eighteen and was just as much of a beauty like her older sister.

She had elements from both of her parents. Her long, dark raven hair was inherited from her father, her pretty face and fit body came straight from her mother's genetics. She was not as well-developed as Shelly, making her a bit more petite, but she too could easily make heads turn towards her.

She also had both personalities from her parents. She was a bit tomboyish at times but could instantly turn towards her sweeter girly side. She always looked up towards her older twin siblings and followed them everywhere they went, from a young until now. The three of them had an incredibly close relationship and were almost inseparable.

Lily took her own keycard from her sister's hand and smiled at her. "Thanks big Sis!" She said happily before turning to her parents. She leaped forward and gave both Benjamin and Kaitlin a big kiss on their cheeks. "I'm so excited! This is the first time I ever went on one of these cruises. I can now understand why Grandpa and Grandma were so fond of them!"

"Then go and explore sweetheart, we have a long way till our destination so go and do whatever you want here." Said Benjamin as he pulled Kaitlin close to him.

"Rob, go with your sisters and have a good time, okay?" Said Kaitlin to her son, receiving a sigh from him in return.

"I think they are old enough to do what they want Mom." Said Rob slightly irritated. It reminded Kaitlin of how she acted when she and her brother were on the same cruise all those years ago.

"But... How can I say no to my sweet sisters, somebody has to knock the guys away from them, right?" Responded Rob with a goofy grin. "Shell, Lil, come my dear sisters, let's get something to drink before we go on our little adventure!"

Both Shelly and Lily giggled before following their brother who, as always, took the lead. Both Benjamin and Kaitlin noticed that their daughters were holding hands as they walked off.

"The three of them sure remind me of a certain someone." Said Benjamin before kissing his sister on the top of her head.

"Oh my, what a coincidence! I was just thinking the same thing!" Responded Kaitlin jokingly. "How about we get ourselves some sun, my handsome husband?"

They both laughed and intertwined their hands before making their way to the sunny outside deck of the ship. Outside they stood near the edge of the boat, overlooking the crystal blue sea and the exotic islands in the distance.

"You think they are up for it?" Asked Ben after a while, holding Kaitlin close to him.

"More than ever... You know how Rob looks at his sisters and how he acts around them, how he thinks that we don't know what's going on... The boy is in love. And the same thing can be applied to his sisters, they think we never picked up on the conversations those two have with each other, how they think of their brother and each other. Also the way those three act around each other... Even Mom and Dad mentioned it to us. There is no denying it, those three have more feelings for each other than just a normal sibling relationship. They just need that extra little... Push... In the right direction, just like we needed it all those years ago." Answered Kaitlin a bit emotionally.

Ben nodded. "You described it perfectly Sis... I mean, the fact that Lily told us that she was bisexual all those years ago pretty much gave it away already. I just hope she's going to be okay... That all of them will be okay."

Kaitlin's heart fluttered with love when she heard her brother being so protective of his children. She pushed herself up and gave Benjamin a long, love filled kiss on his lips.

"They have a bond just as strong as ours, maybe even stronger. I know for sure that they will push through it and eventually... Find themselves..." Said Kaitlin after breaking their kiss.

Ben smiled and nodded at her again. "Let us enjoy this sun a little bit longer Kait..." Was all he said before he pulled her close again.

Embraced in a loving hug the two siblings watched over the vast ocean quietly, knowing that everything was going to be alright in the end.

In the corner of the main deck sat an elderly couple, their eyes glued upon the three siblings that were hanging around the bar, chatting, giggling and smiling with each other.

"Oh dear... They look so alike, seeing them in person blows every photograph of them out of the water."

"I agree sweetheart, and just look how they interact with each other, there is no doubt about it..."

The couple then turned heads and looked at each other.

"One last time?" Asked the elderly male.

The elderly woman smiled back at him and nodded. "One last time..."
