

ASCENSION:

BULLIES

PART SEVEN

"Oh God! They're even bigger!" Sergeant McKinney exclaimed as they finally located the girls sitting at the building at the end of the street. Obviously aware of them, the two oversized college students were standing up, dwarfing their surroundings and making their colossal sizes even more evident.

The squad cars came to an abrupt stop when it became evident that the giantesses were not going to wait for them. Instead, they were moving in their direction even faster than they were driving, despite the fact that they seemed to be walking at a comfortable pace. Their feet dug the asphalt with ease as each and every step produced rhythmic shakes that resembled an earthquake.

Captain Barnes stood out of his car and craned his neck to look up at the approaching behemoths, wondering if the whole concept of negotiating was such a good idea after all when the brunette pointed at him and said:

"What do you think they want?"

"I don't know. Should we ask before we step on them?" Kate replied in a mocking tone.

Captain Barnes could not believe that he was in this situation, but there was no option now but to move forward, so gathering as much air as he could, he yelled at the two giants:

"We are here to negotiate. The city would like to know if there is anything we can do to in exchange for you young ladies staying idle for a while."

"Mmmm..." Kate said as she observed the diminutive cops from her vantage point of view. Needless to say, she was not concerned at all about the threat they represented. They had already dealt with cops before, and they had done some growing since then. "What do you think Hannah? Is there anything we need from them? Or should we just crush them and get going?"

Barnes had to calm his officers down, the girl's attitude having them on the brink of a nervous breakdown.

Hannah responded by stepping over the group of cars and boxing the cops between four humongous but beautiful feet. Her move, completely unexpected, only managed to raise the overall nervousness. Her voice boomed from above as she said:

"Why don't we have them find Miranda for us?"

"That's an amazing idea!" Kate said, crouching to take a closer look at the cops, now with renewed interest.

Captain Barnes, wondered, yet another time, why the hell the department had decided to engage in a negotiation with the two brats. He knew they needed some more time, but was this the most effective way of getting it? And... what were the sounds he was hearing coming from her...

Barnes could not prevent feeling overwhelmed when he felt the entire attention of the blonde girl set on him, her looming figure practically blocking the Sun.

"So, you are the boss, right?"

He nodded.

"Cool," the giant said, her girlish voice sounding thundering nonetheless. "There's this girl we need to find. She's an old friend, we need to catch up. Her name is Miranda Adams. You'll find her for us."

The girl's words dropped like a bomb. They were demanding that they would deliver someone to them!

"Er... Miss... I'm not sure I'm authorized to negotiate the delivery of someone against her own will..."

The girl's laughter stopped him in his tracks.

"Negotiation? Who said this was a negotiation? You will do as I'm telling you!"

"And we'll keep some of your friends here with us to entertain us while you are looking for Miranda!" Kate then added as she reached out for Officer Garcia.

Barnes saw Garcia about to break and tried to prevent it with a desperate "Stop!", but there was nothing he could do. The officer, fearing for his life, shot four times at the girl's approaching hand.

"Ouch!" Kate complained as she looked at her palm with a mix of surprise, anger and disgust, relaxing when she saw that there was no visible damage beyond the initial stings.

Garcia, realizing about the danger he was in, dashed into his car, obviously trying to flee.

He did not get too far, since Kate only had to reach out again and pick the police cruiser as if it were a toy. Standing up with the car comfortably held, she looked at Hannah and complained:

"Fucking idiot!"

"Not growing with bullets shots anymore."
Hannah remarked. "So, what are you going to do?"

"This!" Kate replied as she tossed the car into a high-rise a couple of blocks behind.

Down in the street, the rest of cops were quickly descending into chaos. Officer Larkin also jumped into his car, trying to get away, despite Barnes best efforts to bring the situation back into control.

Hannah easily stopped him by placing her foot in his path, lifting the car and pushing it back in place.

“Where do you think you’re going?” Hannah said, lowering the car back down.

She raised her foot and swiftly brought it down upon the cruiser, crushing the vehicle under her sole and rendering it inoperable.

Noticing that the cabin had not completely caved in, Hannah just rolled her foot forward, finishing the man to his colleague's despair.

"I don't think we gave anyone permission to leave!" she boomed.

The remaining officers reacted in rage, aiming their guns and pulling the trigger over and over again. All the reaction they managed to get from the giant was laughter, as Hannah felt the bullets bounce harmlessly off her thighs and stomach, barely feeling them as mildly annoying taps. She had had some hopes that the attack might trigger another growth spurt, but it was obvious that she was already too big for bullets to cause the type of serious harm that would make her bigger.

"Seriously? Thought you would hurt me? With a gun?" She mocked from above.

"Well, think twice!" Hannah's words thundered as she moved her foot way faster than something that big had the right to move, catching the two cops and pushing them a few feet to their side.

The brunette giant raised her foot for the kill, but held it in place when the Captain raised his hands and yelled a begging "Stop!"

"Why?" she asked.

"Please, they are good officers! I can help you with what you asked me."

"Mmm... let me think!" Hannah said.

And then, she just stomped hard on the men, flattening them inside her footprint like so many people before.

"Yeah, I don't think so," Hannah then mocked, her voice easily overshadowing the captain's anguished howl.

She even lifted her foot so that he would see the flattened remainders of his men as she addressed him from above:

"Look, Cap, I don't think you understand how this works. We're fucking giant, so we tell you what we want you to do and you do it. If you don't, we crush you."

“Now,” Kate moved her foot, tipping the captain on his back pushing him down, pinning him against the hard asphalt with her big toe.

"Now, have you finally understood your place in the food chain?" the blonde titan asked as he kept him pinned.

She ignored the man's weak acknowledgement and went on:

"I'll give you a test. You know, Hannah and I are a bit offended at having been shot and everything. So, I think it would only be fair if you apologized somehow. How about a kissing my toe for starters?"

Barnes was trying to make his mind up, but a slightly larger pressure from the girl's toe finally convinced him to do as he was commanded, getting the girl's laughter in response.

"That was very good, tiny!" Kate mocked. "Now, let's move to something a bit more serious. Miranda Adams. Nineteen. We're in college together. We want her. Don't make us wait!"

Kate lifted her toe from the man, letting him back to his feet. She had thoroughly enjoyed bullying the police captain, her new size letting her bring her passion to a new level.

"And just to make sure that you don't waste your time... my friend Hannah and I will be roaming around the city in the meantime, and let me tell you... we're in a playful mood! Every second you don't bring Miranda to us is a second when someone may end up squishing under our feet!"

Kate laughed as the man rushed away from her, even if she wondered if the hurry was out of fear or out of a sense of duty.

"So, what's your plan?" Hannah asked.

"I don't know... just make some random people miserable, I guess!"

Those doing their shopping in Milton's Mall were still unaware of the threat that loomed over the city in the form of two young women whose size was only matched by their cruelty. This was going to change soon.

Screams erupted in every corner of the mall when the upper bodies of the two behemoths appeared, having been heralded by the rhythmical shakes of their walking.

"This looks interesting enough!" Kate said.

The blonde giantess led the way, easily stepping on the side structure of the mall, promptly followed by her brunette friend.

"Mmmm... plenty of people!"
Kate said, sounding delighted.

"Breaking in?" Kate asked as Hannah moved her foot to the glass dome.

"Maybe you could find us some replacement toys!" Kate suggested. "I don't know about yours, but mine is certainly worn out!"

Kate let the very dead corpse of the man she had been carrying in her cunt drop in the dome, kind of announcing to the screaming crowd inside what was going to happen. Hannah smiled and reached for her own womanhood, freeing the space there too.

Now with a new purpose, Hanna's foot promptly broke through the glass.

And then set on the ground, making the entire structure shake and making the chaos increase a couple of notches.

"So, do you see any interesting candidates?" Kate asked as Hannah observed the situation from her new position.

"Let's do something!" Hannah said. "Let me get as many out as possible, and then we choose. They're too small to judge from above. And somehow, I don't think it will be an issue if we have a few spare toys."

Hannah started setting tinies by Kate's knees, her handfuls grabbing two and three little people at a time.

Some tried to hide. Others tried to flee. None could escape Hannah's reach or oversight.

Now happy with her catch, Hannah proceeded to get out of the mall and join Kate.

"This one looks cute!" Kate said cheerfully, pinching a man at random from the group.

"I think we have a few ones!" Hannah agreed.

"Hey, what are you doing?"
Hannah then reacted in surprise as Kate pushed her on her back and straddled her.

"Don't worry, hottie!" Kate said as she crouched and grabbed the rest of tinies and dropped them on Hannah's vast anatomy. "I will end up agreeing with the tinies... you may be the second hottest woman in the world now, so what do you say about having sex with the first?"

"Doesn't sound half too bad!" Hannah smiled.

"Yeah, look how excited they are too!" Kate replied, pushing one of the tinies into Hannah's nipple.

Kate pushed forward and trapped one of the women under her lower lips as the rest of people in Hannah's stomach yelled in panic.

Kate not only did not ignore the chaos, but reveled on it. Grabbing some tinies at random, she proceeded to insert one in Hannah as she kept rubbing her pussy into the woman she had trapped, getting increasingly moist.

The two giants were now lost to the sex, too excited to stop.

Kate led the way, ripping the clothes from two of their captives as she placed the rest on Hannah's abundant breasts.

"What do you have in mind?" Hannah asked.

"Remember back when you caught up in height with me, a while ago?"

Kate placed a naked tiny in Hannah's mouth and promptly placed the second in hers, and then swiftly moved for the kiss.

The girls kissed as Kate made sure that her pussy rider was properly inserted.

And then... a yell interrupted them. Kate was noticeably pissed off as she sat and looked in the direction the noise had come from. It was a cop! She was half tempted to just walk towards him and stomp him for having killed the magic of the moment. She managed to calm down enough to only ask:

"What the fuck do you want?"

"We... we have Miranda Adams in our possession. We are ready to deliver her to you. We are waiting for you at the caprica park."

"Mmmm..." Kate replied, realizing that this was a good enough reason to interrupt them. After all, they had asked them to search for Miranda. "Ok, just give us a minute and we'll come. We have to finish off, even if we're in a rush."

And then, she just brought her fingers to her womanhood, accelerating the arousal while she prepared to swallow the man in her mouth.

Kate was almost done, but saw that Hannah was still working on herself.

"We'll catch up later," the blonde giantess said.

Not many of the girl's playthings had survived their brief but intense sex. The ones that had had now rolled from the brunette titan into the street below as the giantesses stood up. Noticing that they still had their attention, one of the women pleaded.

"Please, you're done with us. Let us go!"

“Sorry, but nah...” Hannah stepped down on the man in their middle, crushing him instantly flat. “We’re not in the habit of throwing mercy around.”

Hannah’s words excited Kate even more as she played her toy in her pussy faster.

The tiny woman, losing hope with Hannah, turned her attention to Kate, begging her to spare her life.

"Keep begging." Kate said. "I love it when you beg like that!"

"Mmm..." Hannah said, her mouth still full with a captive. Then, her blood-stained foot raised and gave the little woman the answer she had been fearing.

Hannah crushed the woman beneath her foot as mercilessly as she did the first one. She enjoyed how their bodies burst beneath her sole.

"You can have the last one." She said.

"How generous of you!" Kate said, giggling.

"I'm dying to get my hands on Miranda!" Hannah said as she stood up and walked off, still sucking at her toy in her mouth.

"Yeah, just thinking on everything we can do to her now!" Kate replied as she followed, her first step aimed squarely at the last begging man at her feet.

Kate crushed the remaining man as easily as Hannah did the previous two. "Don't think I'll tire of stepping on them." She laughed.

Hannah sucked in her toy for the last time, enjoying her screams and struggles briefly inside her mouth before swallowing her alive.

"Let's go!" She said. "Miranda's waiting for us!"

"I can't do this!" Miranda shouted. "They'll kill me if they catch me! Why are you making me do this?"

"You have to trust us!" Captain Barnes said. "Okay? We have a plan. You're just bait, and we are going to take care of--"

"Oh my god!" Miranda screamed as the giantesses booming steps announced their arrival. "Why are they so big? They weren't as big before! Oh god!"

"They are really here." Hannah said.

"Yeah, and they are keeping their end of the bargain, it seems." Kate smiled as she eyed Miranda in their midst.

"I can't believe it was so easy." Hannah said.
"We should've thought of this earlier."

"Yeah..." Kate said, crouching down.

"Hi, Miranda!" Kate laughed. "Happy to see us again?"

Miranda was on the verge of panic, and Kate addressing her sent her over the edge as she promptly turned around and fled screaming.

"Aww, where are you going now? Don't think you can outrun us anymore, bitch."

Captain Barnes paid Miranda no mind anymore, he had the giantesses where he wanted them. "Now now now!"

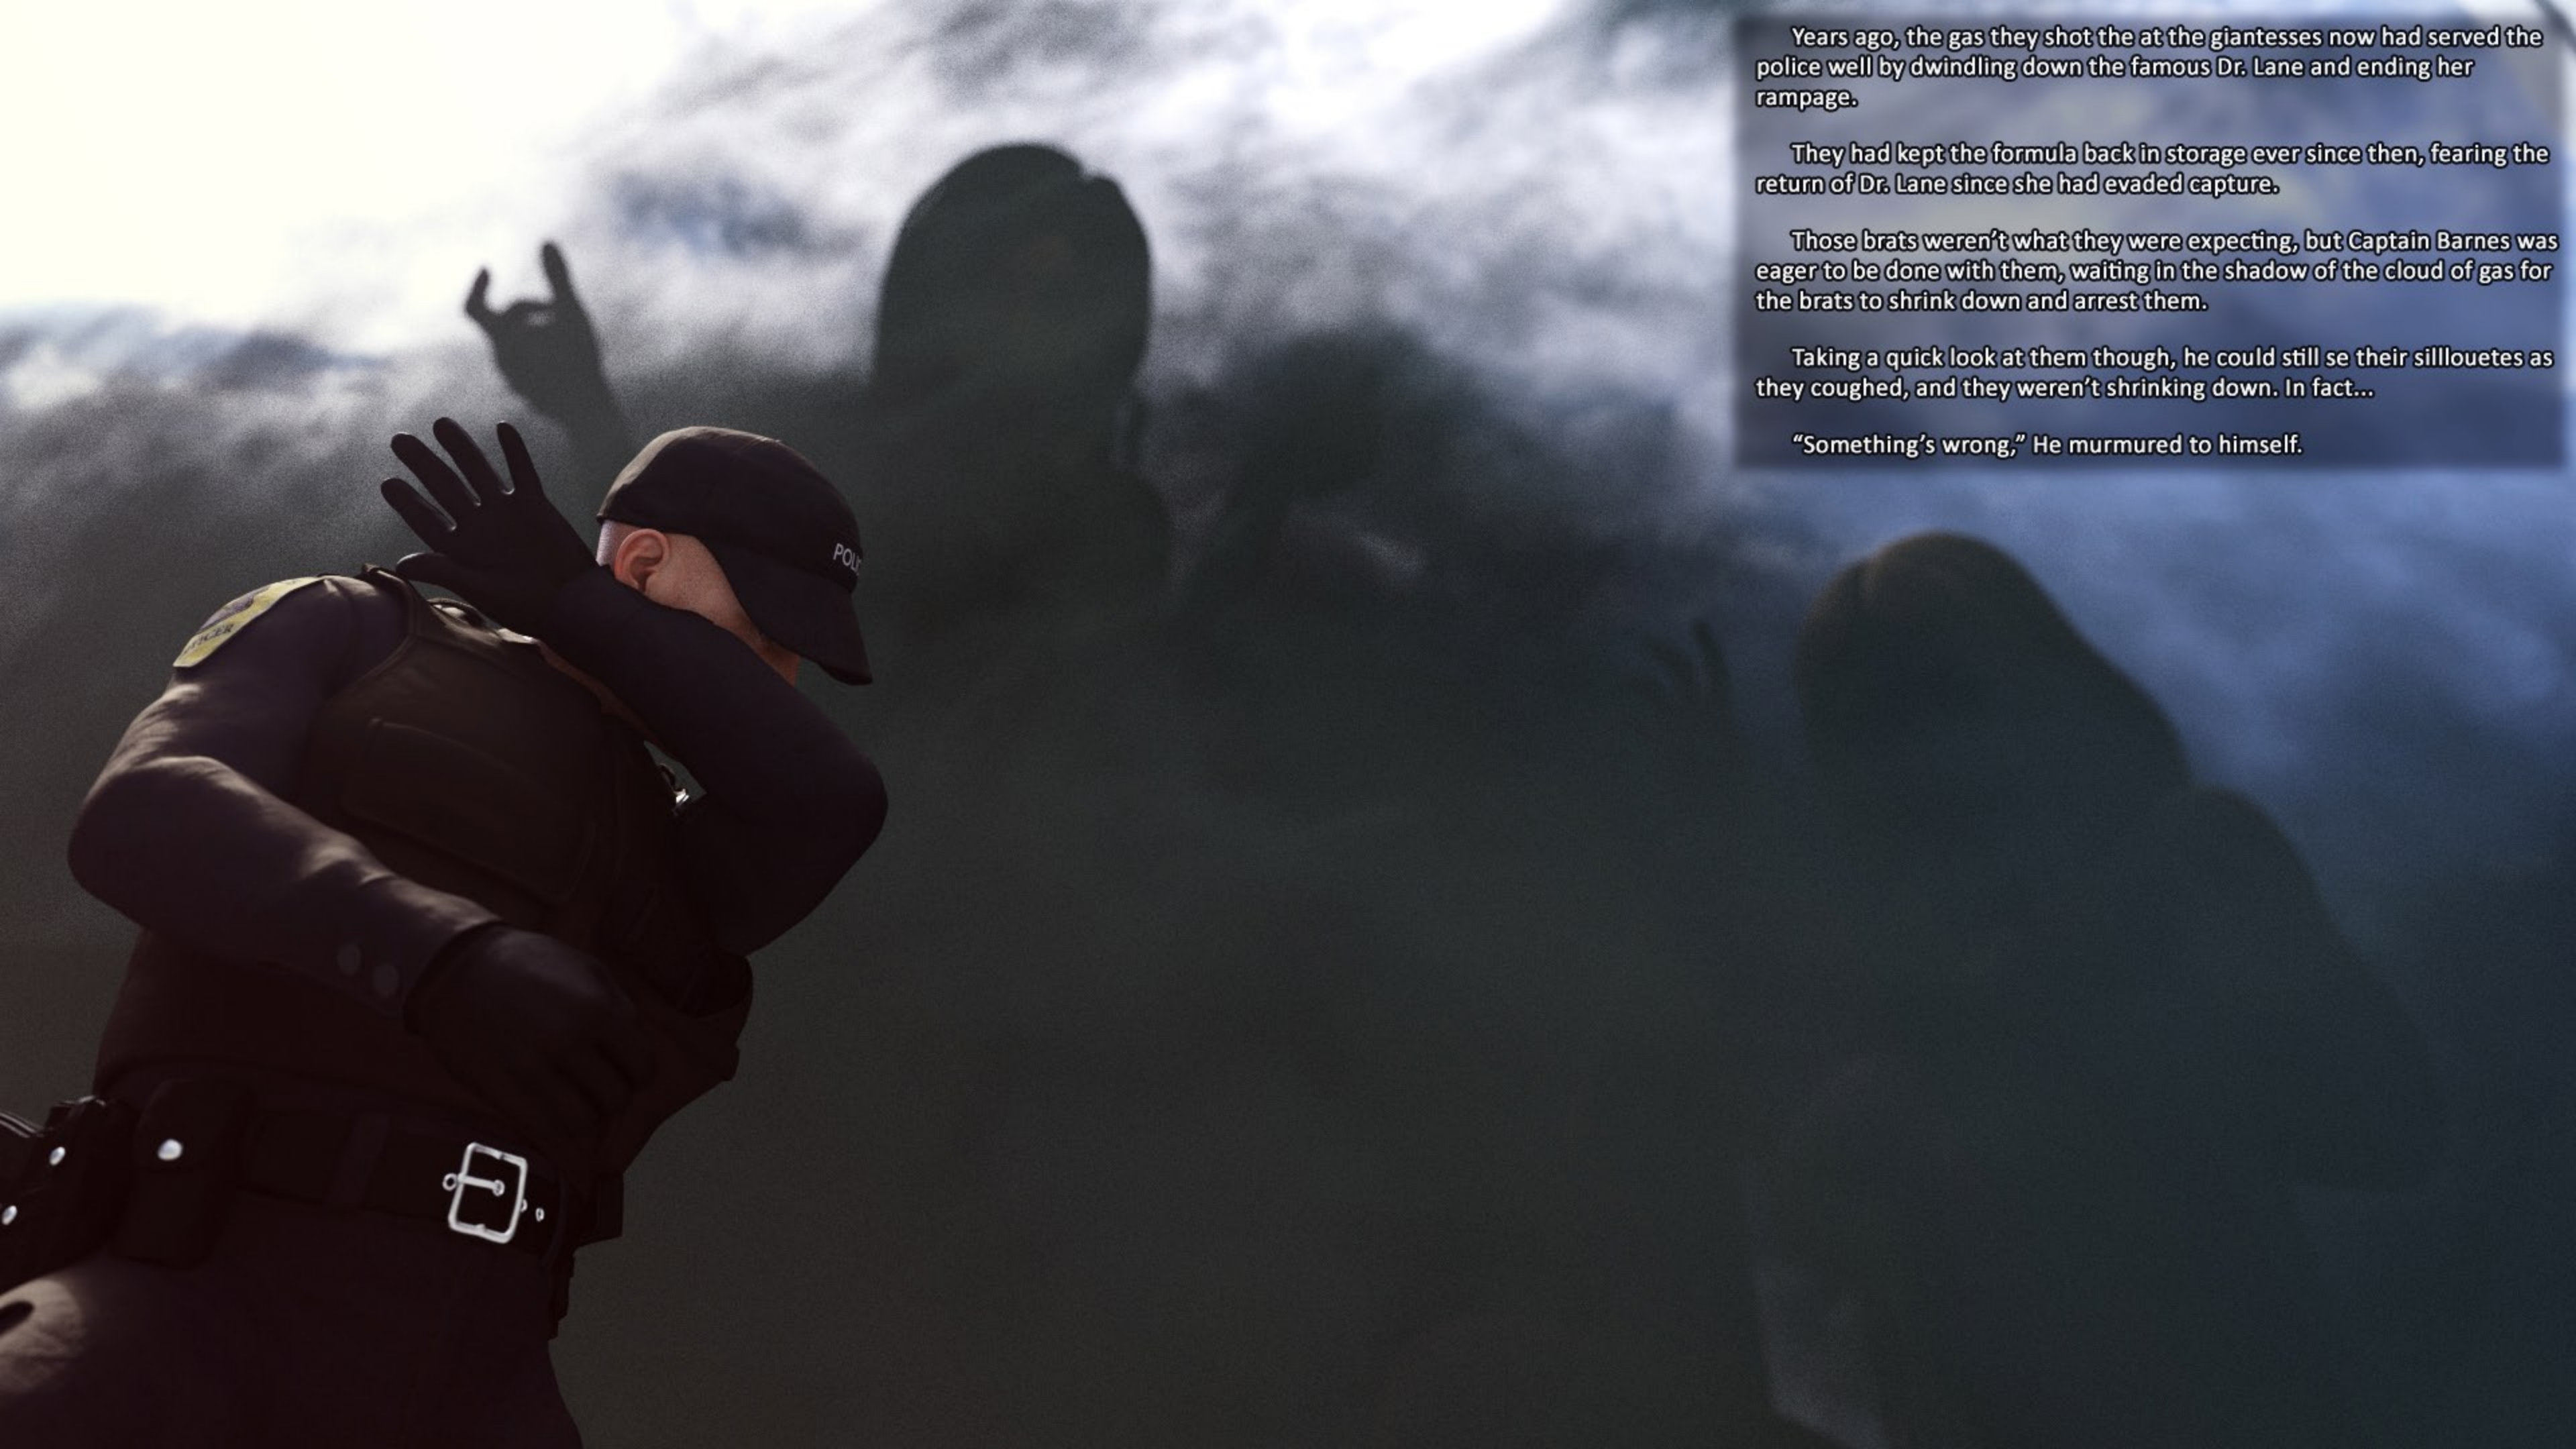

"Now?" Kate frowned at the captain. "Now what?"

A sudden burst beneath Kate's feet answered her question as she reeled back, startled.

"What the fuck?" She shouted.

"What the hell is this?" Hannah said, a cloud of green smoke forming at their feet after a couple more bursts. "What the fuck do you think you guys are doing?"

Years ago, the gas they shot the at the giantesses now had served the police well by dwindling down the famous Dr. Lane and ending her rampage.

They had kept the formula back in storage ever since then, fearing the return of Dr. Lane since she had evaded capture.

Those brats weren't what they were expecting, but Captain Barnes was eager to be done with them, waiting in the shadow of the cloud of gas for the brats to shrink down and arrest them.

Taking a quick look at them though, he could still see their silhouettes as they coughed, and they weren't shrinking down. In fact...

"Something's wrong," He murmured to himself.

"I feel strange!" Kate said, coughing once again.
"What's going on?"

"I think..." Hannah said, her frame rising from the green cloud as it dissipated beneath them. "I think we're growing again Kate."

Kate looked around. "Oh fuck yes, we are!"

"Is that... them?" Kate looked down, astonished.
"They're so small!"

"Wow." Hannah, said, "I think we've doubled in size again."

Captain Barnes looked up in disbelief. They had made a mistake. A grave, and terrible mistake. And they were about to pay for it severely.
