

ASCENSION:

BULLETS

PART NINE

“Oh god!” Kate shouted. Hannah kept working between her thighs, licking her, pleasuring her. She should feel ashamed, should push Hannah away. She never liked girls, not like this. But damn it felt so good. It felt so... right!

Hannah adjusted her position for a moment, and Kate looked down. "Don't stop!"

She put a hand on Hannah's head and pulled her in again, "Don't you fucking stop!"

Hannah laughed, her mouth busy both with 'Tiny Hannah' and Kate's pussy. She had thought about this moment for quite a while now, had dreamt about it. But she'd known Kate was never gonna go for it.

But circumstances have changed. They were a lot more than just best friends and cheerleaders now. She placed both hands on Kate's hips and pulled her closer.

Tiny Hannah struggled with all the strength she had left in her system. It only served to heighten Kate's pleasure though as her body was played around by Hannah's tongue, rolled and smothered around against Kate's sex.

Kate was lost in bliss as Hannah worked between her thighs. The city had quietened around them, anybody with a shred of common sense had already fled the area. The wails of panic and sirens had retreated distantly.

But the giantesses didn't notice either way. They were too busy in their lewd display.

Hannah pulled back, dragging her tiny counterpart with her, washing her in her mouth.

“Why are you stopping?” Kate said. “Don’t stop! Not now!”

Hannah used her mini version to kiss her way up Kate’s beautiful body, planting her lips along with Tiny Hannah’s weakening body against Kate’s skin. She used Tiny Hanna’s body on each of Kate’s nipples, engorging them even further as Kate moaned.

Then Hannah stood fully up, rolling Tiny Hannah in her mouth. “You really thought this thing could do a better job than me?”

“It’s not fair!” Kate protested. “I didn’t know... I didn’t think this was... that you’d ever do it. It’s one thing to play around with them, but I didn’t think we’d ever go this far.”

“Oh I’ve wanted to this for a long long time now.” Hannah said. “Before we even became giant.”

Kate looked at Tiny Hannah, the way she struggled and screamed. Helplessly begging as she hung on Hannah's lips. She reached forward, planting a kiss on Hannah's lips and sucking in their toy between them.

They sloshed and rolled her around as they kissed, moaning in pleasure while Tiny Hannah struggled between their soft, luscious lips, bathed in their saliva. This was different from the previous kisses. It was more playful then, but this felt like something more.

Hannah broke off the kiss abruptly.
"What are you doing?" Kate said.
"She's mine." Hannah said, "Mine alone."

"But I found her!" Kate said, still hot from the high Hannah had propelled her to. "You don't get to keep her."

"Oh, I'm gonna keep her alright." Hannah said with a mouthful as she sucked on her tiny counterpart, keeping her pinned between her lips. "I'm gonna make her part of me, in fact."

Tiny Hannah had listened to the exchange the entire time she had struggled against the giant pair. Her day had started so brightly, so full of hope. But now it had turned into a nightmare. He beat against her captor's lips, struggled to free herself. But where was she gonna go but fall to her death?

And now the giantess was saying she was going to make her part of her? "Please let me go!"

Instead she was sucked inside the giantess' mouth. She screamed even more, her voice resonating in the dark, moist cavern of the giantess' mouth. She crawled against the giant tongue, dragging herself between the sharp teeth, only to find herself sucked in again.

"There's only one me, Kate." Hannah said. "There isn't gonna be another Hannah but me. I'm not going to tolerate that."

“Please!” Tiny Hannah begged, “I don’t wanna die! Not like this! Please!”

But her screams of mercy went unheard as the giantess played around some more. She dragged her in, pushing her against the top of her mouth with her tongue to beat any resistance out of her before Hannah tipped her head up and let her tiny doppelganger slide towards her throat.

Kate watched the entire exchange as Hannah made a point of slowly exhausting her tiny victim beyond any strength she had left. The she let gravity do the work. Kate watched her tiny eyes, full of fear, as she slowly slid further into darkness.

Then, after one last scream, Hannah's gag reflex kicked in and her doppelganger disappeared down her throat instantly.

“And down she goes.” Hannah said, tracing a finger along the path Tiny Hannah made as she traveled to her stomach.

“That was so brutal, Hannah.” Kate said. “But now we have no toys to play with.”

"There's an entire city to play with, Kate." Hannah said. "If you want more, I'm happy to oblige. But I'm not gonna let anyone else have fun with you without my permission."
"Alright, but you owe me now."
"So you want more, huh?"
"Of course I do!"
"Then let's find more," Hannah said, grabbing Kate's hand, "They couldn't have gotten too far."

“Cover and stay out of sight now.” Colonel Sanders said.
“We’ve quietly evacuated this district as much as we could.
Soon, there will be hell to pay for these two bitches.”

“You can’t do that, sir!” Officer Talley said.

“The fuck are you talking about, officer?”

They ducked and remained quiet as the giantesses passed close, shaking the entire area.

“Damn, I need to wipe this dried blood off my tits.” One of the giantesses said as they passed by.

"They're not like the last giantess, sir." Officer Talley whispered. "There's something different about them."

Colonel Sanders raised his radio, "Units ready?"

"Ready for go, sir!" A voice in the radio replied.

"Good." Colonel Sanders said, "Wait for my signal. Sanders over."

"Sir please!" Officer Talley grabbed Sander's shoulder, and Sanders immediately responded by pushing back against the wall.

"Don't presume to touch me again, officer!" He said. "Now the cavalry's here. And we're not going to play around like we did the last time."

"Sir, please, listen to me!" Officer Talley said. "They seem to grow by taking damage! We can't be certain about the details, there's a lot on our side dead already, and the reports aren't the most reliable. But one thing we're sure of, they've always grown when we showed aggression!"

“What are you saying, officer?” Sanders said, “That if we blast them with all the firepower we have, they’ll grow bigger?”

“Exactly!” Talley said. “You must call any attack off so we can try and find a better plan. They already are Diana’s original height! Imagine two of them even bigger!”

Sanders was skeptical, but the idea of them even bigger than they already are scared even him. “Are you sure?”

Talley nodded. “Absolutely, sir. That’s why I rushed over here as fast as I could. We must find their weakness. Not even the gas from last time worked.”

“Shit.” Colonel Sanders raised his radio, “All units, stand down. Remain prepared, but for now we’re going to wait.”

Then he looked at officer Talley. “So what are we supposed to do instead?”

Dereck ran as fast as he could. It looked like the apocalypse had just passed on the town, and he was the only survivor.

“I hope you hear this,” He shouted at his phone, “Honey, I have no idea what’s going on! Everybody’s just disappeared! I’m gonna get my car and come over as soon as I can!”

He had been quietly filing stuff on the basement of his office building most of the morning, listening to music on his noise-cancelling headphones. And when he got out, the city had turned into a ghost town. Nothing was working, no phone signal, no TV. Nothing.

As he ran towards his car, a loud booming noise accompanied with shaking was getting closer, though he had a hard time telling where from. He still ran towards his car when suddenly a gigantic foot appeared in the sky and slammed in front of him, sending gusts of wind, dust and debris around.

“What the hell?” It was a giantess, another one, like from years before. Or maybe it was her? He didn’t know, couldn’t tell from her back. Fuck, she’s sexy, he thought, as he stepped on the street and watched her make her way between the buildings. She had just narrowly missed him, and he was probably safe now.

"So that's why everyone's gone." He said out loud.

Then he noticed it. The shaking. There was more than just one pair, he realized. It was too late before he realized that unlike the last time, there was another giantess, and he had just walked into her path, thinking that he would be safe behind the other.

Kate's foot slammed on him with the force of a hundred trucks, killing Dereck instantly and breaking the asphalt beneath as the pair made their way between the buildings, trying to find more people.

"Ewww," Kate said, looking back. "I stepped on one. Looks like he was alone though."

"What are you grossing out about anyway." Hannah said, "It's not like you haven't stepped on them before."

"But it's so weird when you don't expect it though." Kate said, "Like stepping on a snail after it rains. They're so squishy."

"Yeah, I guess." Hannah said. "Where is everybody anyway. It's like all of them jumped out of their cars and left."
"Maybe they figured out all these cars cause too many jams."
"Pfff, as if they're that smart- oh wait, will you look at that!"
"What is it?"
"Breadcrumbs."

"Hello hello hello!" Hannah said, heading straight for few people she had just spotted.

They seemed to have been waiting for something, then panicked as soon as they saw Hannah and bolted, their sudden movements catching Hannah's eye.

"See?" Hannah said. "Not so smart when you're scared shitless."

"Oh, I shouldn't have said that!" Hannah laughed. "I'm sorry guys. Why are you running? I just wanna play."

Hannah took her time as she strolled towards them, watching them try to outpace her with amusement. She loved being a giantess.

They showed no signs of stopping though, so Hannah had to make a point. Her next step reached further and she slammed her foot down on the asphalt with force, sending them reeling backwards and cowering in fear.

"You guys seriously think you can run away?" She looked down at them. "I'm like what, forty times bigger? You should listen when a giantess tells you to stop, you know? Doesn't take much for me to grind you into goo otherwise."
"Now, all I want from you is to-

Suddenly Hannah heard a noise behind her, she turned around to see a bus driving straight at her. She was confused at first at the attempt before she realized the bus was making it for the gap between her legs, with no signs to stop. Even her little breadcrumbs spotted the bus too late as they dived out of the way, though the bus hit one of them in the end.

“Seriously?” Hannah said as the bus shoved its way down the street, pushing cars out of the way. “First you damage one of my toys, and now you’re trying to run away? That’s a big no no.

Will you do the honors, Kate?”

As the bus tried to get away, a sudden giant foot burst out a building down the street, sending a shower of debris and smoke into the street, forcing the bus to break forcefully on its wheels.

Kate's foot slammed into the asphalt in front of the bus, and soon after the whole building through which she had rammed her leg collapsed, leaving a pile of smoke, dust and debris in its wake.

"Well, that was easy." Kate said. "I might have overdone it."

Kate took a glance at the bus. "Well, talk about finding toys. I would count this as an express delivery."

"They really thought driving through my legs would get them away?" Hannah said.

"Don't think you gave them much of a choice," Kate said, "I mean, we have a birds eye view, but they don't see much on the streets. Maybe they just accidentally stumbled upon you."

"Fair point." Hanna said, crouching down, "But anyway, let's see what we've got here."

She grabbed the bus as it spun its wheels again, trying one last, desperate attempt to escape. She lifted it, its metal frame groaning from the sudden force applied on it, and left its wheels spinning uselessly.

Hannah leaned back up as she lifted the bus in the air. She took a moment to reflect on the fact that she was holding a real bus on her hand.

“Damn, I can’t believe we’re so huge that a bus feels like a toy instead.” She said.

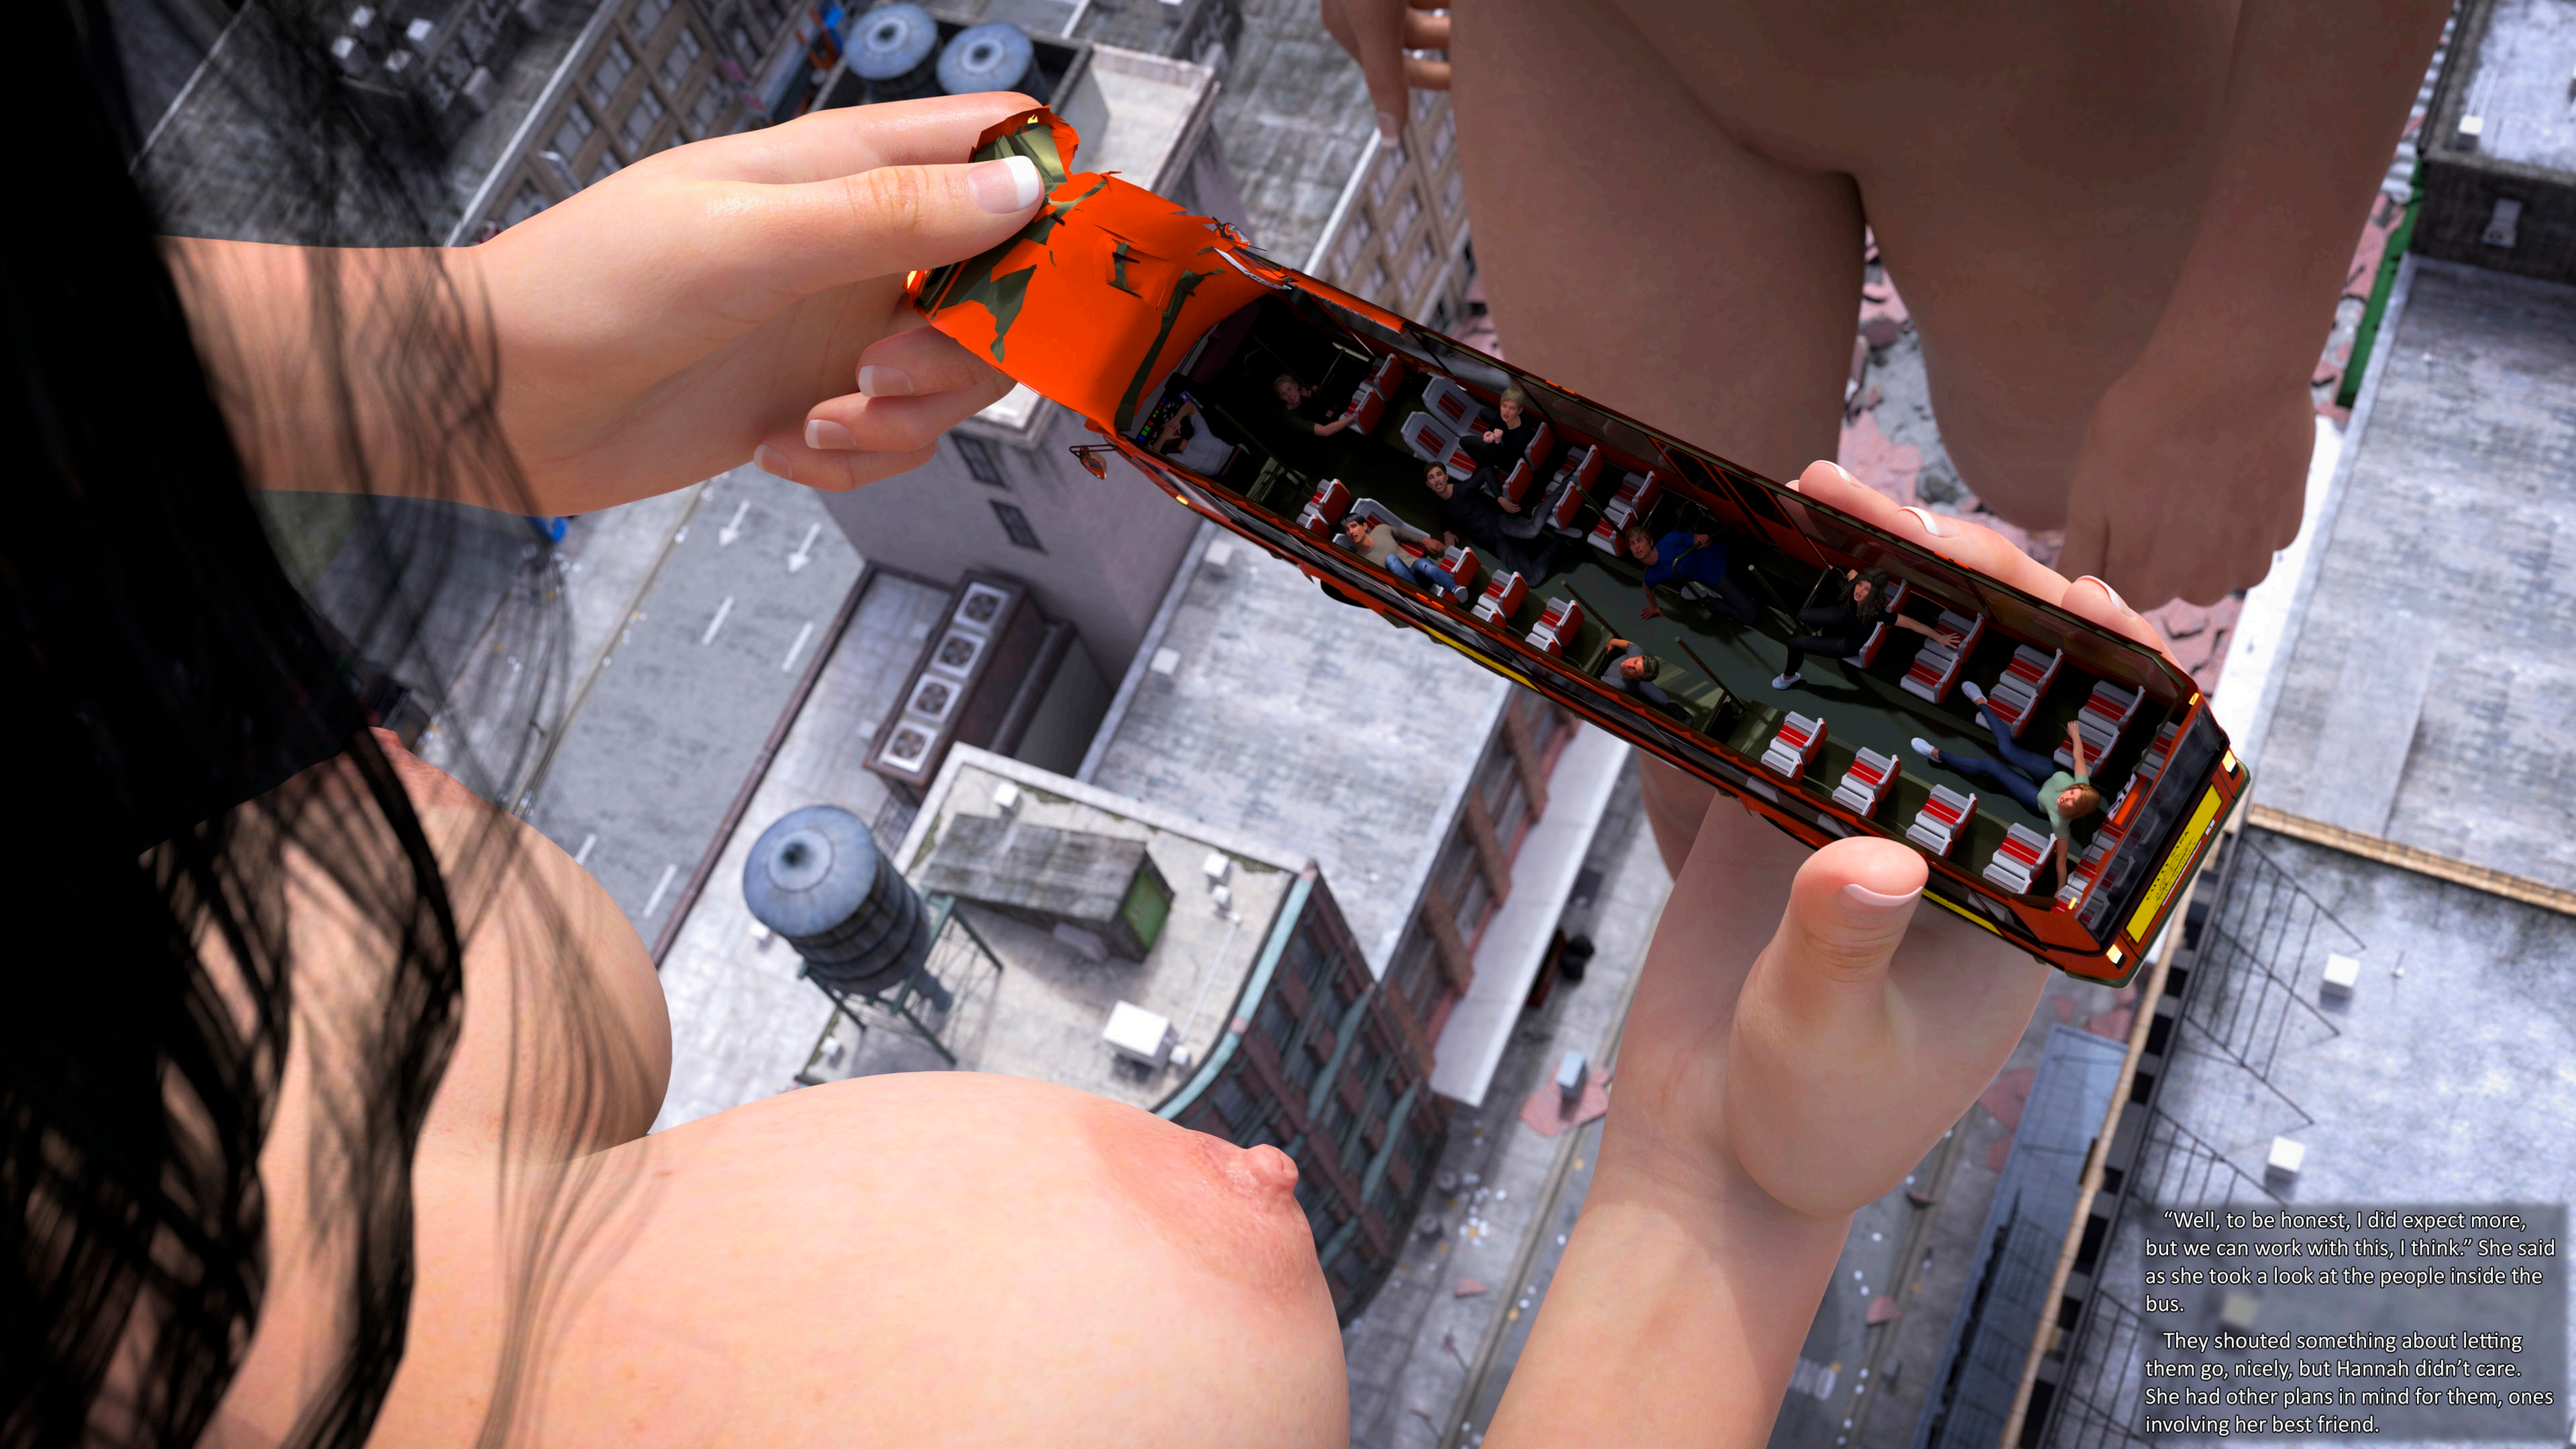

“The whole city is our playground, babe. We can do whatever we want.”

“Uuu, naughty already, huh?”

“Your fault!” Kate said, blushing slightly.

"Well, let's see what we got here." Hannah said and pinched one end of the rooftop. The aluminum frame of the bus yielded easily at the force applied on it and Hannah tore the top of the bus like a can, revealing its contents.
"Bingo!" She said.

“Well, to be honest, I did expect more, but we can work with this, I think.” She said as she took a look at the people inside the bus.

They shouted something about letting them go, nicely, but Hannah didn’t care. She had other plans in mind for them, ones involving her best friend.

"Now listen here, you little shits," She said, in a true bullying fashion, "I expect everyone to be stark naked in less then a minute. If you aren't, I'm going to squash this bus into a ball of metal with all of you still inside, and I'm going to throw you like a baseball for miles. You understand?"

Everyone inside nodded vigorously. "Now, get naked!"

“Naked, huh?” Kate said.

“I rather liked how Tiny Hannah felt without clothes, don’t you agree?” Hannah said.

Kate bit her lip, “Yeah, they’re definitely nicer naked.”

Hannah put a hand around Kate and gestured for her to sit down. She took the bus full of now naked passengers and slowly tipped it over. “Lie down.”

They tried to hold onto various parts inside the bus, but Hannah took her time, playing around, shaking the bus a little bit and drawing them out. One after the other they started sliding out, and she felt like she was preparing a five-star meal. Then, with one violent shake she forced them all tumbling out in one big group.

Hannah then threw the bus away like a toy.

They sprawled on Kate's chest, bouncing on her humongous tits before settling down. Kate moaned slightly as she watched them. "Damn, they're so much smaller than last time we did this."

"Last time you were on top," Hannah said, "But this time I'm driving."

"Are you saying I don't know what I'm doing?"
Kate raised an eyebrow.

Hannah giggled, "All I'm saying is that I know what I would want myself."

"And what's that?" Kate said.

"I'll show you." Hannah said, then grabbed one of the guys, "But first, a little bit of an appetizer for myself."

She moved her hand between her thighs and rubbed the little man along her moistening lips. "Mmmm, he feels nice."

"If you're trying to make me jealous, it ain't working." Kate said.

Hannah smiled, "I guess I'm going to have to find my own little mini Kate then."

"Hah, good luck with that, babe." Kate said teasingly, "There ain't no other woman like me."

"Please," Hannah rolled her eyes, then deposited the little man half way up her cunt. "But then again, one at your size? Maybe. You're the only person in the world right now who I can't literally fuck."

"You would love that, wouldn't you?" Kate smirked.

"I definitely would." Hannah smirked back, "Guess I'm gonna have to settle for the 2nd best thing in the world now though."

"And what's that?"

Hannah smiled as she leaned down and used her mouth to scoop up a few of the former passengers of the bus.

With her mouth full, she crawled backwards. She teased Kate by kissing her body on the way down while people struggled inside her mouth. Then she crawled all the way off Kate and positioned her face level with Kate's pussy. She smiled. "Thecond betht thing."

Hannah dove forward, using her tongue to push the struggling group of people right against Kate's clit. Predictable, Kate moaned and twitched, especially with the struggles of the people enhancing her experience.

Hannah wondered how it felt, actually, as she worked on Kate's pussy. She wanted desperately wanted to herself, but first she understood she would have to convert her best friend. She thought she was doing a mighty damn fine job at it.

"Oh god!" Kate moaned, slamming a hand into a nearby building. The remaining people rolled around on her chest from the sudden movement as Kate arched her back. "Oh fuck yeah."

Kate squirmed like a snake as Hannah slowly slid in one after another inside her pussy, tensing her muscles with each lick and kiss Hannah performed. "You really know how to do this, fuck!"

As Hannah did her best to pleasure her best friend as well as she could, she noticed something in the corner of her eye. A car was trying to get away from them, the noise of its engine drowned from Kate's moans.

"Oh, I forgot about you guys." She remembered her breadcrumbs.

"Why are you stopping!" Kate protested again.

Hannah grabbed the car and lifted it up. "Found thomething!"
"It's a fucking car!" Kate said. "There's plenty of them around!"
"Yeah," Hannah said, "But not with people inthide."
"And?"
Hannah smiled. "Ever wanted to fuck a car?"

“What?” Kate was confused, she suddenly realized what Hannah was insinuating. “No no no!”

It was too late though as Hannah rammed the front of the car in Kate’s already occupied pussy. “Aaaaaah!” Kate moaned the loudest she had moaned since becoming a giantess.

“Hannah please!” Kate begged, “It’s too big!”

“Nuh uh.” Hannah said and pushed in more, drawing out incredible screams from the tortured tinies inside Kate’s cunt.

“Hannah please!” Kate begged, but she made no move to stop Hannah. “It’s too much!”

But Hannah kept pushing. Then, as the initial resistance subsided, she rammed the car all the way in, and Kate exploded. Her hand slammed into the nearby building and collapsed it as her body convulsed. She screamed as she felt the tinies outside the car break from too much pressure.

In the midst of her high, as Hannah started pumping the car in and out of her pussy, she noticed something.

Two dots in the sky, rapidly approaching them.
"Uh, Hannah?"
"Come on, you're enjoying this a lot, aren't you?"
"Hannah for real!" Kate said, "There's something coming at us from the sky!"
"Huh?"

Somewhere else in the city, Miranda kept running. She ran her lungs out, avoiding the main streets. The last time she had escaped, she had gone to the police, and they had betrayed her by using her as bait for the two cunts that were now wrecking the city.

She would do her best to avoid both them and the police now, trying to get as much distance from herself and the booming and shaking growing fainter in the distance.

As she tried to cross the street though, she was almost run over by a car. She yelled in surprise, then terrified she wanted to flee for a moment, fearing the police had caught her again. But then she noticed it wasn't a police car.

The door opened.

A woman stepped out.

“Oh thank god!” Miranda said. “Please, lady, can you help me? We need to get away from here! There’s two giantesses terrorizing the city again and-

“I know.” The woman said.

“You know?” Miranda said, confused. “What are you doing here then?”

The woman took off her glasses. "I was looking for someone."

"Looking for who?" Miranda said. There was something familiar about this woman's face, but she couldn't quite put it.

"Miranda, isn't it?" The woman said.

Miranda stepped back. "H- how do you know me?"

Diana smiled. "I've been watching."
