
Why should I be the one making food?

Are you serious? You’re the only one in this house who knows how to cook.

why are you acting so weird since I came here?

N-No, it’s nothing! I was just thinking...
How about we... um, order food online? Wouldn’t that be nice?

Sigh... Are you okay? You're the last person I'd expect to suggest takeout
What happened to all those lectures about always eating homemade food, English Ma'am?

Ugh... what's his problem? I offer fast food and he still acts like some disciplined honor student...
Well... I guess he is the son of a teacher. Though... I'm pretty hungry too.

You know what, kid? Fine! I'll cook. I'm starving too anyway!

I really hope I don’t regret this later...

Hehe I never cooked so this will be quite interesting

Let’s see... what should I cook?
Maybe some nikujaga... or oyakodon for dinner?

Ohh! Got it! Oyakodon that’s simple and filling! Alright, Mommy instincts— guide me!

Uhh... where's the knife again? I know she always kept it somewhere here
Ah-ha! Got it! Let's start!

Now let’s see... how do moms cook again? Oh yeah... I Remember How we cook!

Ugh—cut, damn it!
Why do I feel like I've said this line more than a million times in my life

Later
Alright, kid.
Food's ready.
Hope you like it

Thanks, Mom.
I really missed your cooking while I was away.

Oh yeah? Does it... taste the same as before? Like when you used to eat my food?
Please let it taste similar...

Yes, Mom! It’s exactly the same! I missed your food so much. I love you, Mom.

You should totally quit teaching and Just become a full-time housewife who cooks for me and Dad. Haha!

What the hell... this kid's way too sentimental. So damn emotional about his mom.

Mm...Thank you, son. guess I raised you right.
But I guess there's nothing bad about that.
