

Today, the main character of the story will be you.

That's right, you!

This story brings up an extremely embarrassing situation.

Are you ready?

The name of this story is: Boss, Jenny and Club

Imagine it's your birthday, and you're still at the office, when everyone has left. You are alone

But something happens.

You see a beautiful woman with a perfect body, wearing a tight red silk dress with red lipstick and beautiful long hair.

She goes to your table and introduces herself.

Her name is Jenny Carver.

Without wasting any time, she says that she has a surprise for you, and that a limo is already waiting outside, and that this night will be unforgettable.

You don't think twice, and go with her.

He turns off the computers, turns off the light and leaves with her.

Arriving outside, the two of you get into the limo, and you see that the driver is also a beautiful woman in a sexy uniform.

The only thing you think is: "Today is my lucky day!" It will be?

The limousine starts moving. She whispering in your ear: "Let's take these clothes off of you."

You nod your head positively. Then she starts to undress you.

She takes your tie, undoes a few buttons on your shirt, moans: "Wow!"

Then she takes your coat off and opens all the buttons on your shirt, taking it away from you.

Then she puts her finger in your mouth, and goes down to your belt.

She slowly unbuttons your belt and takes it off.

Then she takes off your shoes and socks.

And finally, she unbuttons the button on your pants, and takes them off very slowly.

And then, without delay, with one pull, she takes off your underwear.

You try to cover your genitals, but she says: "Don't be embarrassed. You're in great shape. Now get your hands out of there."

You obey and remove your hands from in front of your genitals and say: "Now it's your turn to take off your clothes."

She whispers in your ear: "Not yet. Everything in due time."

Then she takes your tie and blindfolds you.

You ask what she's blindfolding you for, and she replies that it's so she doesn't ruin the surprise.

Right after she blindfolds you, the limousine stops, and she makes you promise not to peek because the surprise will be big!

You completely taken by lust and excitement, agree!

he opens the door, and the two of you get out of the limo.

She guides you by the hand because you are blindfolded and cannot see anything.

Then you hear the limousine drive away.

You are terrified, because you are naked, and you don't know where you are. Then you say: "Where is the limousine going? And my clothes, cell phone and wallet? They were left inside!"

Jenny whispers in her ear: "Don't worry. Where we're going, you won't need clothes. In fact, you look better naked than dressed, you know?" She continues: "Not long now, just take a look, ok? We can't ruin your surprise."

You nod your head positively, and then Jenny takes your hand and starts to guide you.

After walking a little, you start to hear loud music, people talking, and uncontrollable laughter.

You can't contain your curiosity and take off the blindfold.

To your surprise, you are in line at a strip club, full of clothed women.

You are paralyzed with embarrassment, while the women laugh and take photos of you.

You run and hide behind a lamppost and shout to Jenny, "What is this? Because you brought me here. You tricked me."

Jenny comes up to him and calmly says, "I told you it would be a big surprise. Now you have two options. One is to leave completely naked, because her clothes are in the limo, and I don't know where she is now, and I don't know where she is. I'm going to call the driver to come back here. But if you leave just like that, completely naked, you could be arrested for indecent exposure. The second option is for you to go inside the club with me, and at the end of the night I'll give you your clothes back, and this will be the wildest birthday you've had."

You accept the second option. Enter the club with her.

Completely naked, trying to hide your genitals with your master, you two pass through the entire line of women.

Jenny meets the security guard at the door, and he sarcastically says: "Stripers should only take off their clothes in here, and not come in naked!"

Jenny replies that you are a friend and that they are going to the VIP room to enjoy the night.

The security guard lets you in, and the two of you go through the entire club to get to the stairs that lead to the VIP room.

As you walk, women point, take photos, laugh, and to make matters worse, all the women in the office where you work are there.

And one of them, who in times past, had been humiliated by him says: "And now boss, it seems that without your clothes you're not so confident and proud, right?"

You go up to the VIP room and there you see the Limousine driver, so you say to her: "Where are my clothes?"

The driver responds: "I passed by a donation box, and since you left all your clothes in my car, I thought you wouldn't want them anymore, so I decided to donate them."

You angrily say: "And my wallet, my cell phone, what did you do with them?"

The driver took her cell phone and wallet from her pants pocket handed them to him and said: "Here is your wallet, and your cell phone. The wallet is empty because I also donated the money, and I took the battery out of your cell phone.", so as not to ruin your night!" She said sarcastically.

So, you sit in the chair wondering how you're going to get out of this, and then Jenny asks you, "Do you want to leave now?" You respond positively, so she continues saying: "Let's go then. Leave through this door that leads to the back doors. You won't have to go through the crowd anymore."

So, without thinking twice, she opens the door and enters. It's very dark, and you can't see anything when suddenly you hear the sound of an iron door closing.

You didn't know, but Jenny was a close friend of the owner of this nightclub, and she set everything up.

She set a trap for you, putting you inside a striper cage.

That cage you were in was lowered by a rope to the middle of the room, and it stayed there until the end of the night.

While you tried to hide your genitals, your co-workers took photos, filmed, and had fun seeing that bad boss naked and vulnerable.

What you don't know is that one of the girls in the office is Jenny's friend.

And that they, the co-workers played this prank on you.

Shortly after the party ended, the security guard opened the cage where the boss was and threw him into the street.

What would you do without clothes, completely naked, on the other side of town?
