At about 2 am Sara walks home after the bondage show with Conny. The income from the show wasn't really inspiring. She walked along her usual path.

While crossing the run-down alley, Sara looks to the right and discovers something new at the end of the alley. This arouses Sara's curiosity and she turns right.

Sara moves closer and heads to a kind of container with a big sign above, where was written: "EASY MONEY, $500 FOR YOU". Sara crosses this alley every day and she never noticed this container.

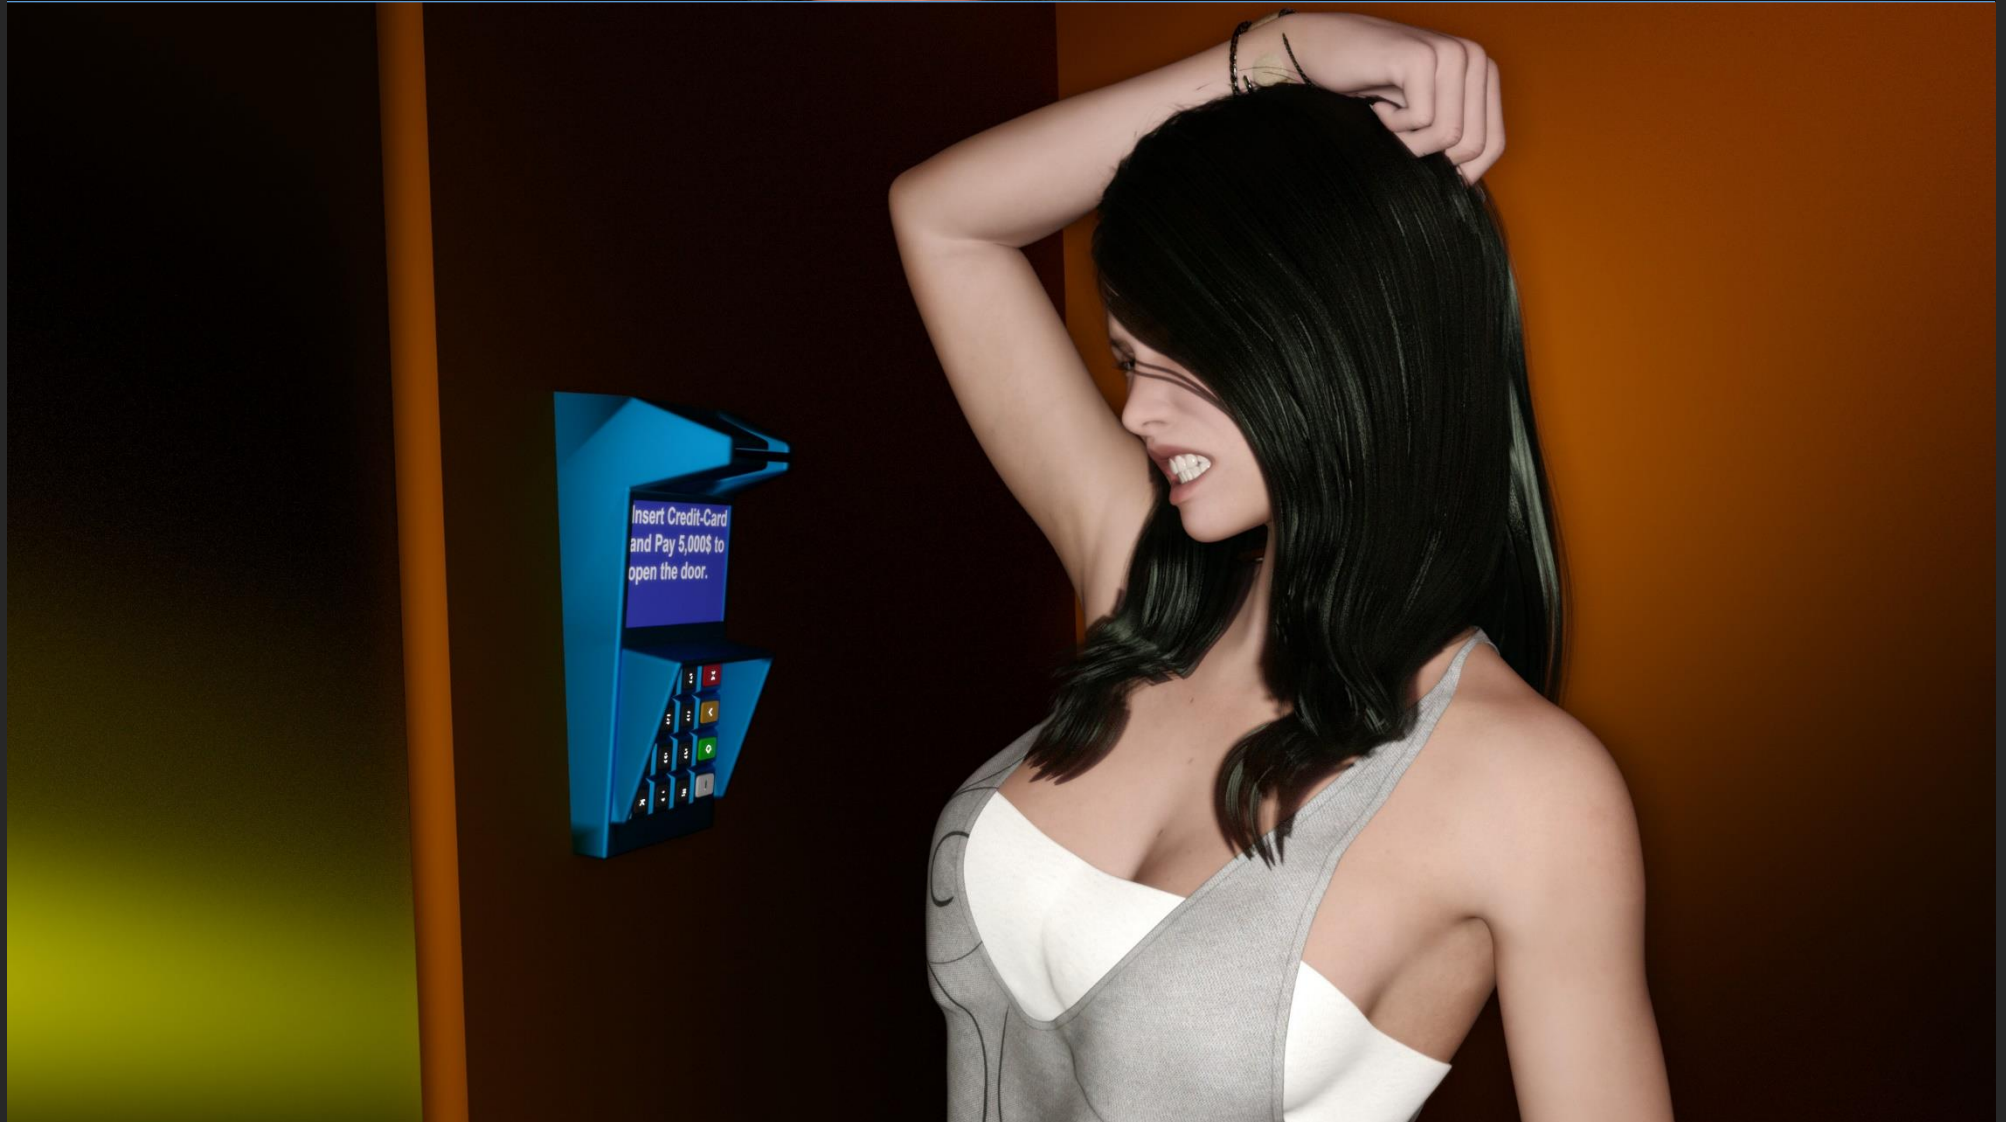

“Oh shit, so many things to read and I forgot my glasses. But nothing ventured, nothing gained”

Sara opens the door and the first thing she discovers is the $500-Note. “Ah, there are the 500 Dollars. I may grab them and leave this strange box.”

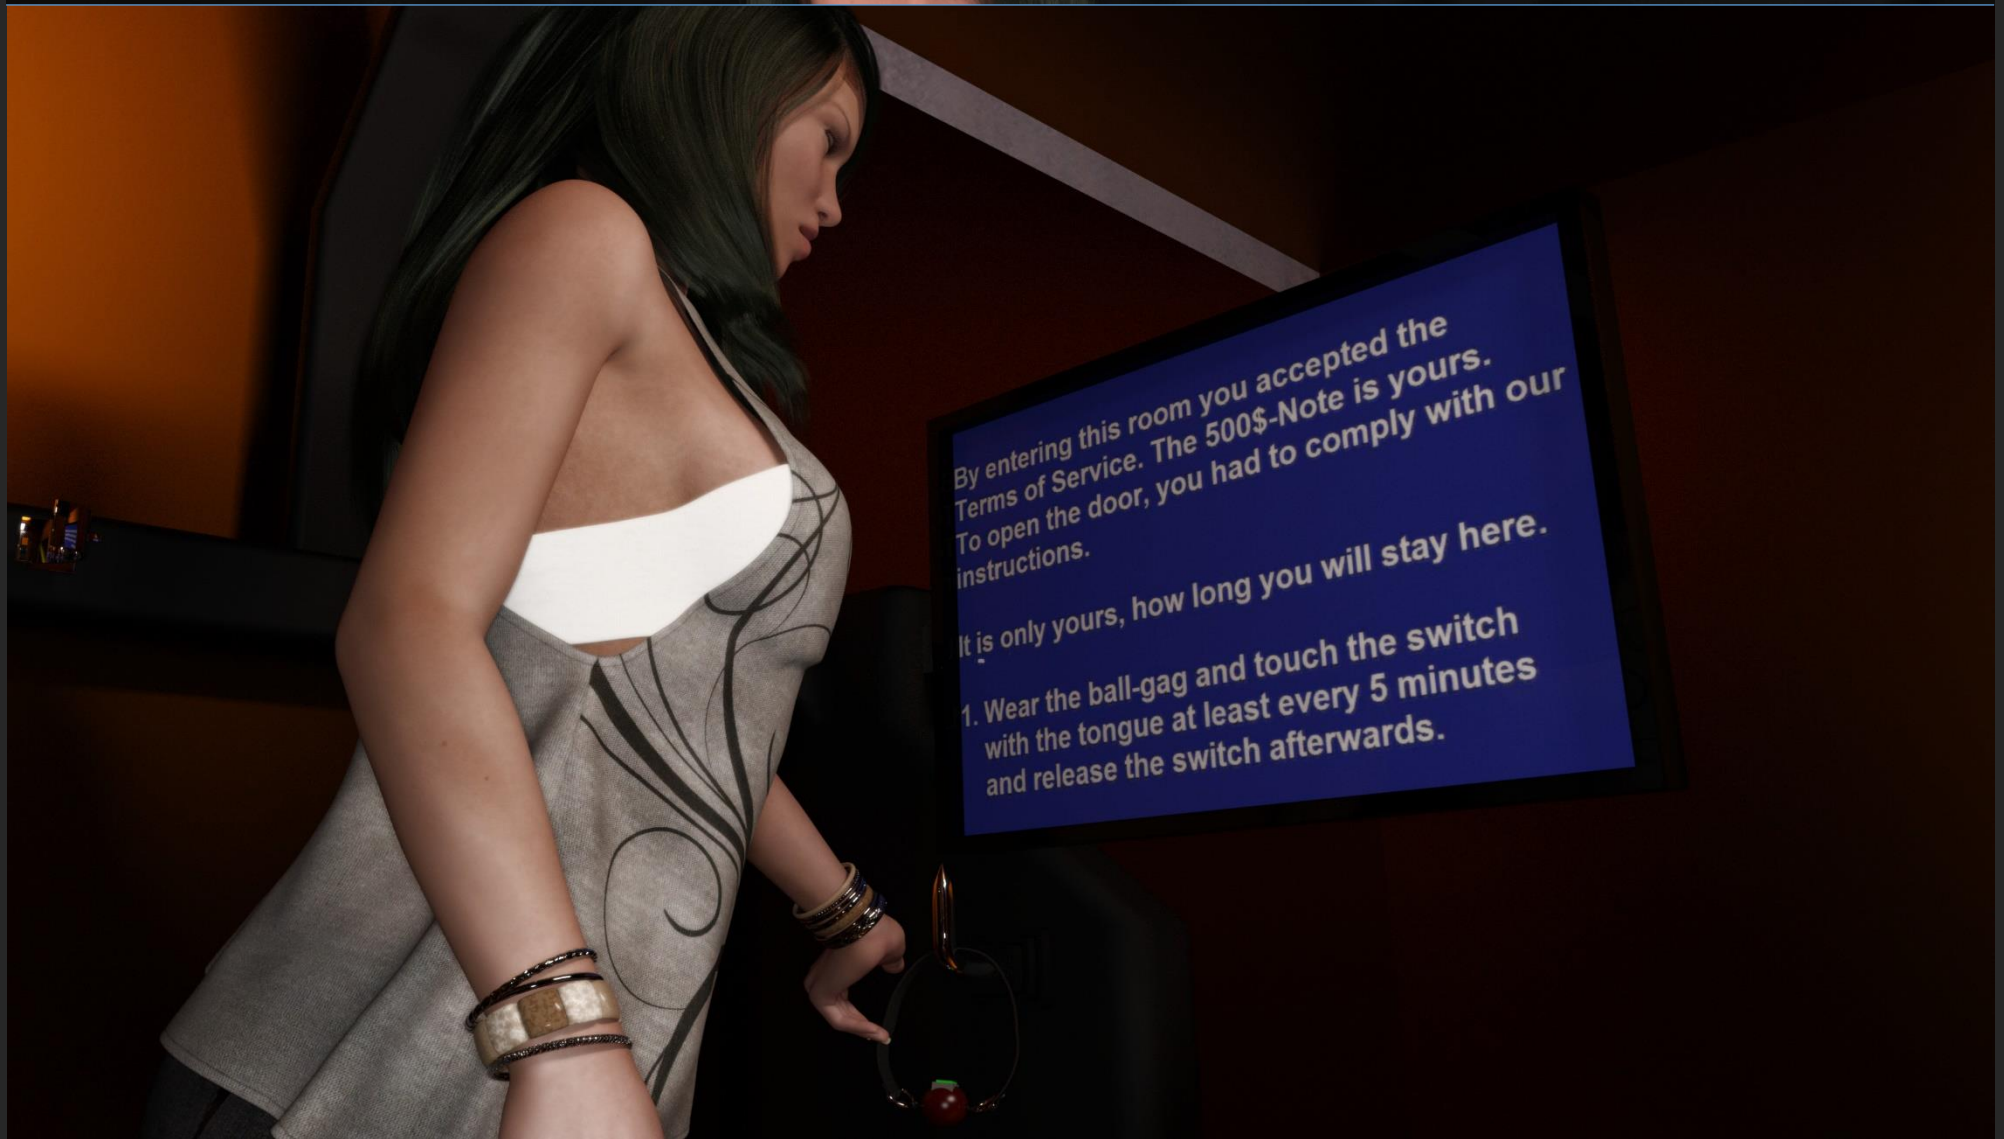

Sara grabs the money and didn't notice that the door closes immediately.

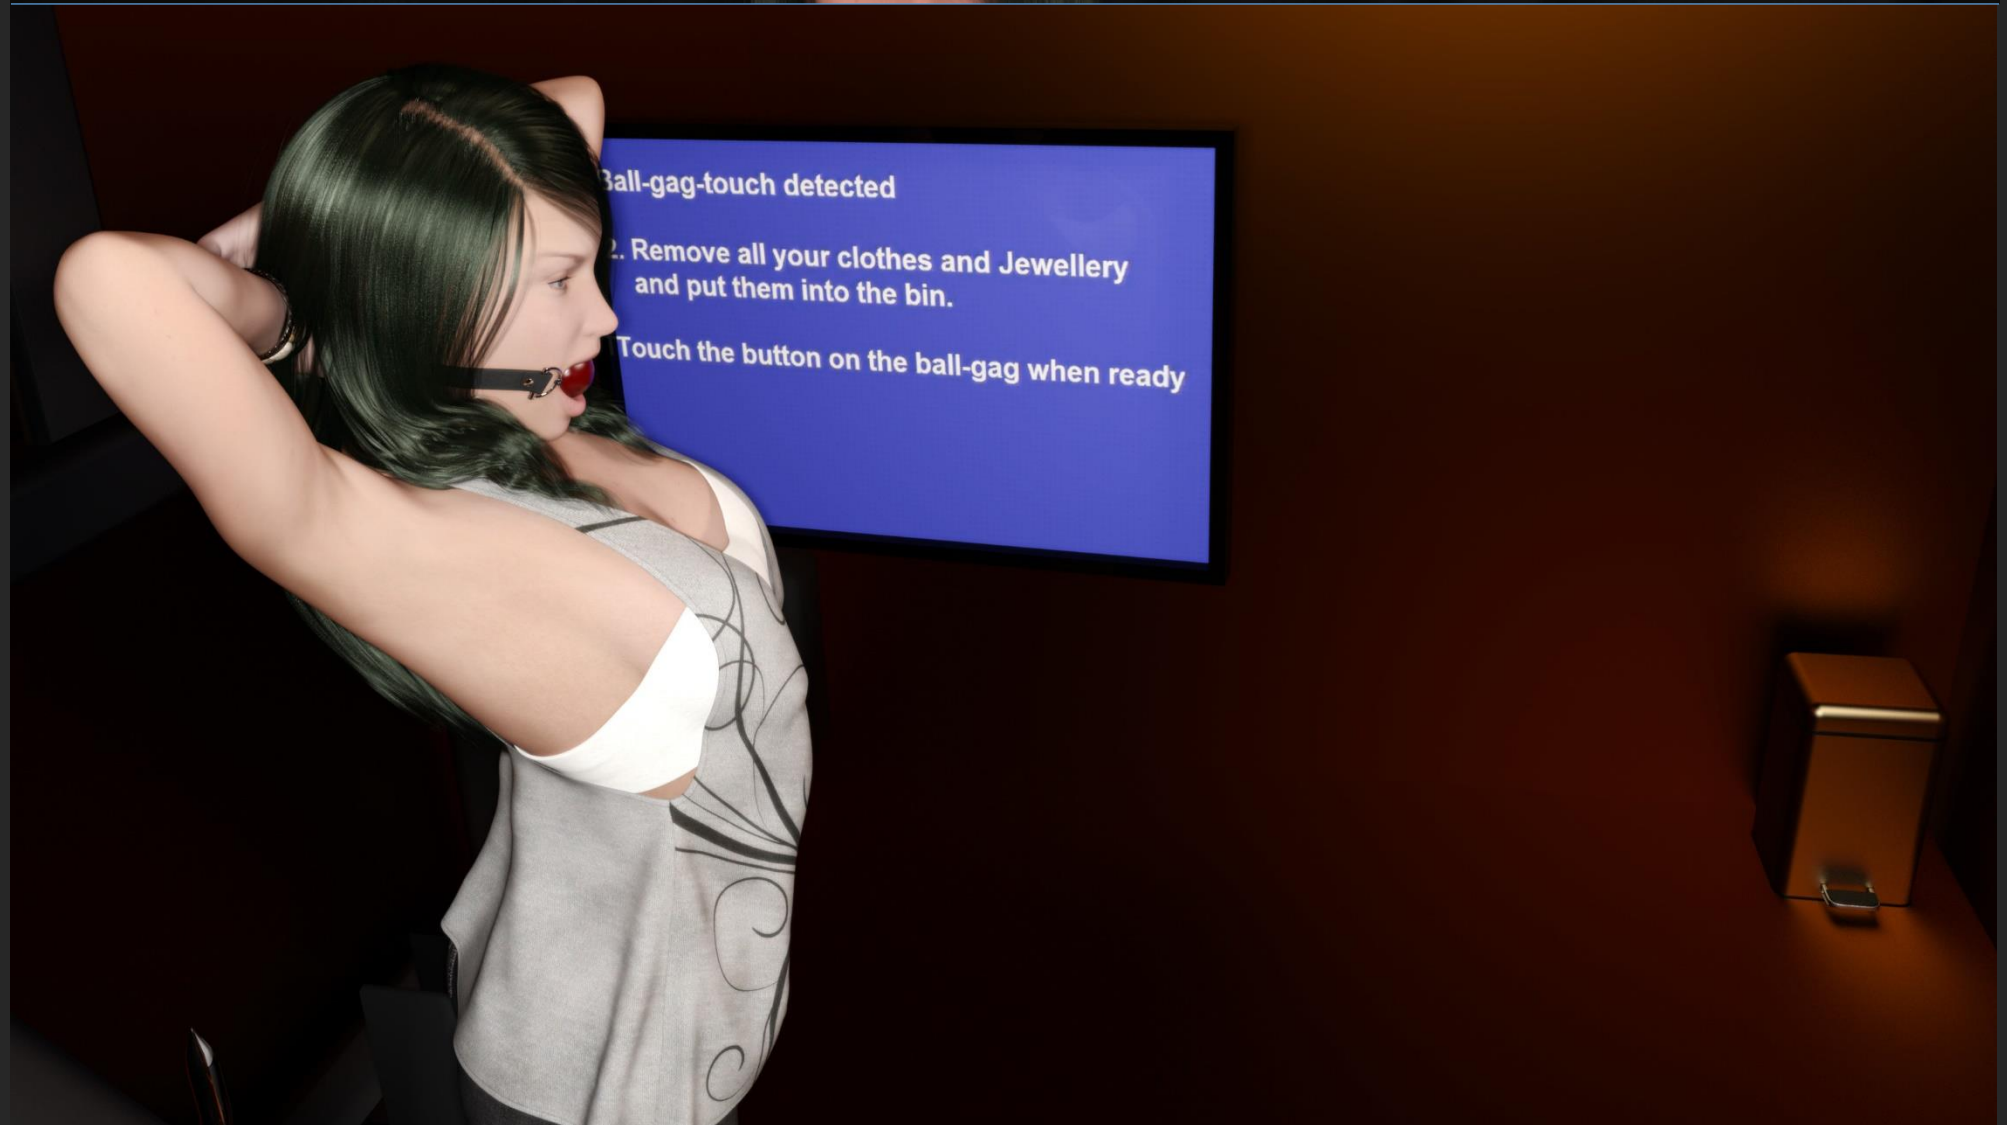

Sara opens her eyes widely when she determines the terminal. “Oh my god, this is a trap. How and why should I pay $5,000 for opening the door once again? And I do not have any Credit-Card.”

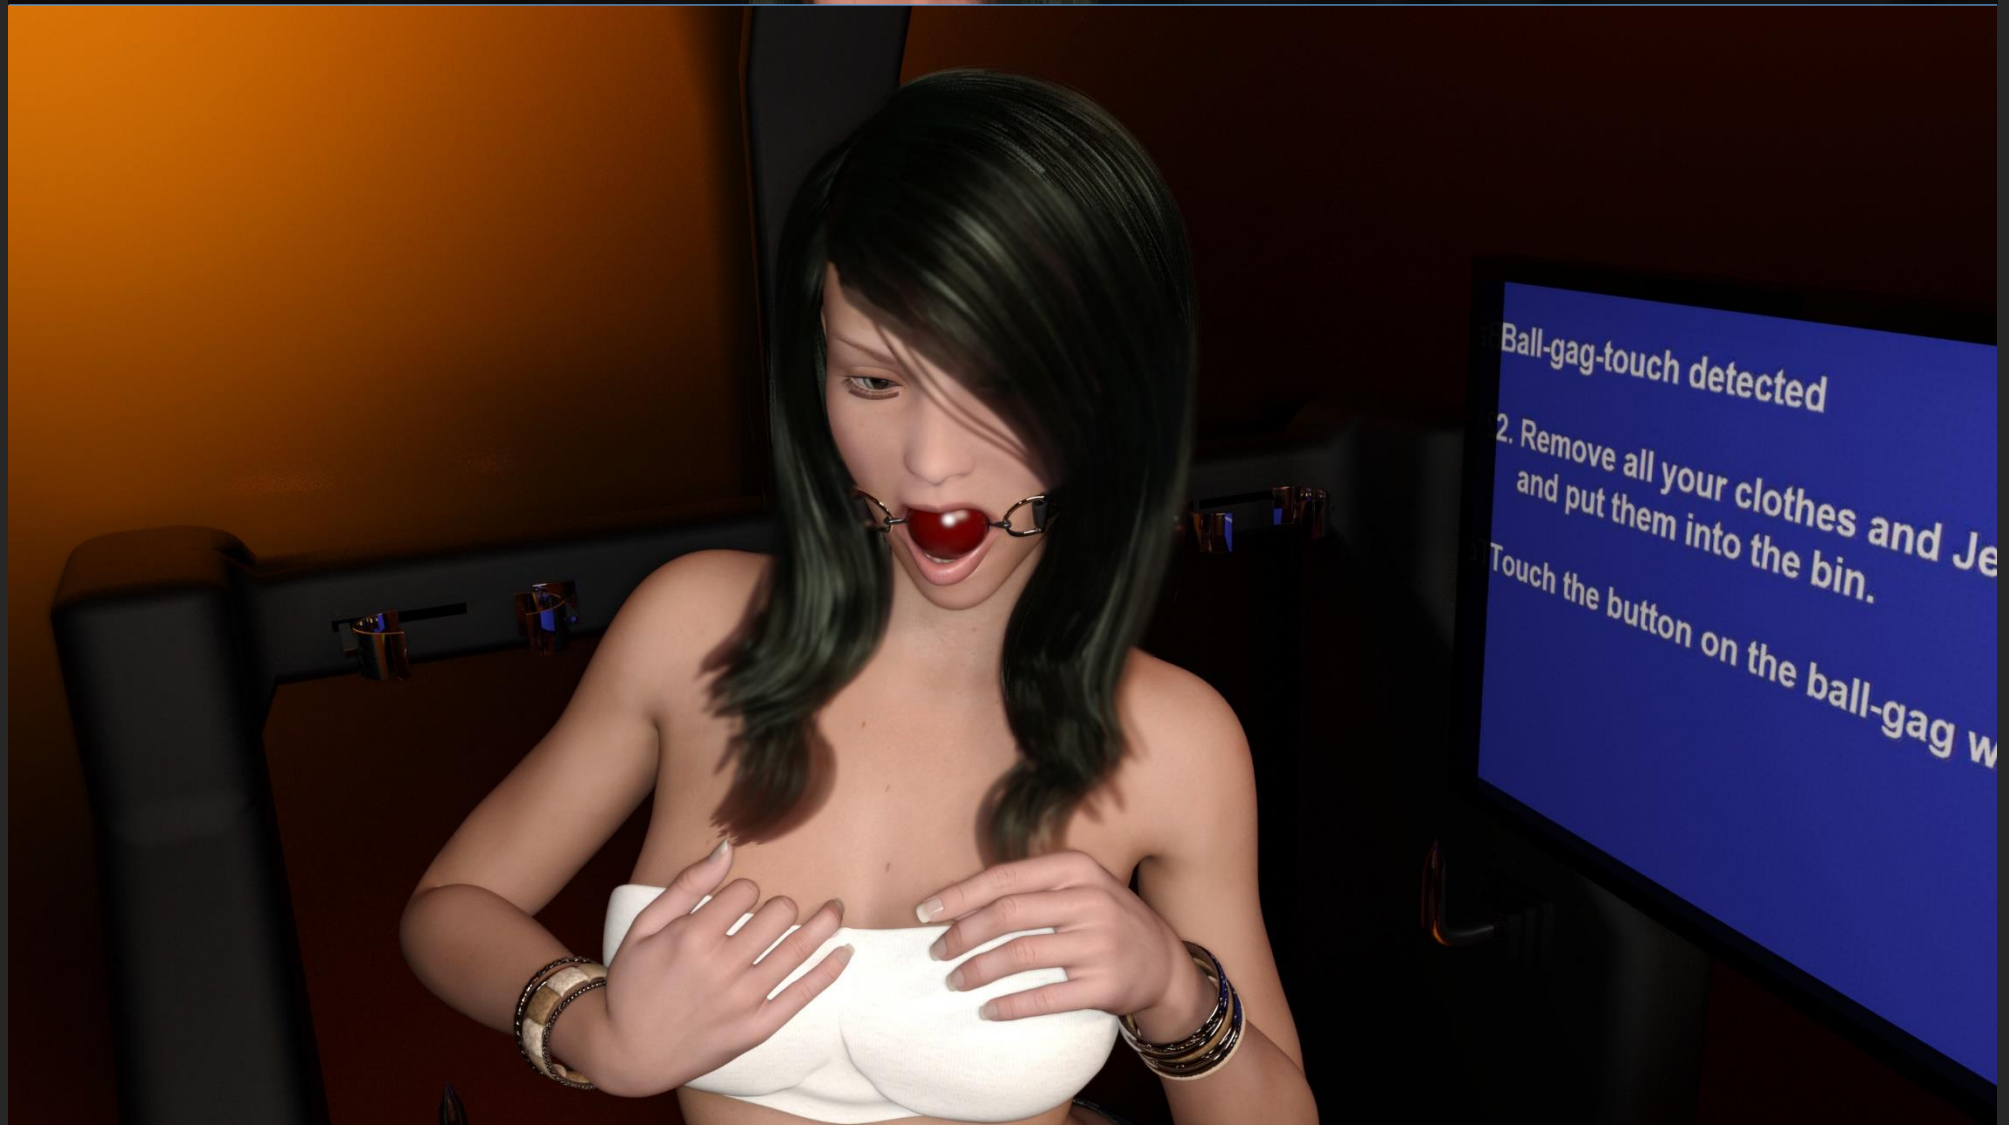

Sara cries for help, hits against the door for several hours, but it seems, nobody is close enough or is able to help. She tries to open the door with violence, but no chance ...

Sara turns and start to read the instruction on the screen. "Are they crazy? They cannot do this with me. Who they are? But I fear, I have to obey". Sara sighs and takes the ball-gag.

Sara wears the ball-gag and then she pushes the knob at the ball-gag with her tongue. New instructions appear on the screen. Sara's eyes open widely. She cannot believe what she is reading.

She sighs once again into her gag, takes her shirt off and continues with the top removing it slowly with a strange feeling in her stomach.

Sara removed her pants with anger. “Whoever planned this they will regret! But now I had to follow the instructions to get free”. Sara sighed deeply.

New instructions appearing on the screen. Sara had to put her ankles and wrists into the opened cuffs. Inside the cuffs are little buttons which should be pressed.

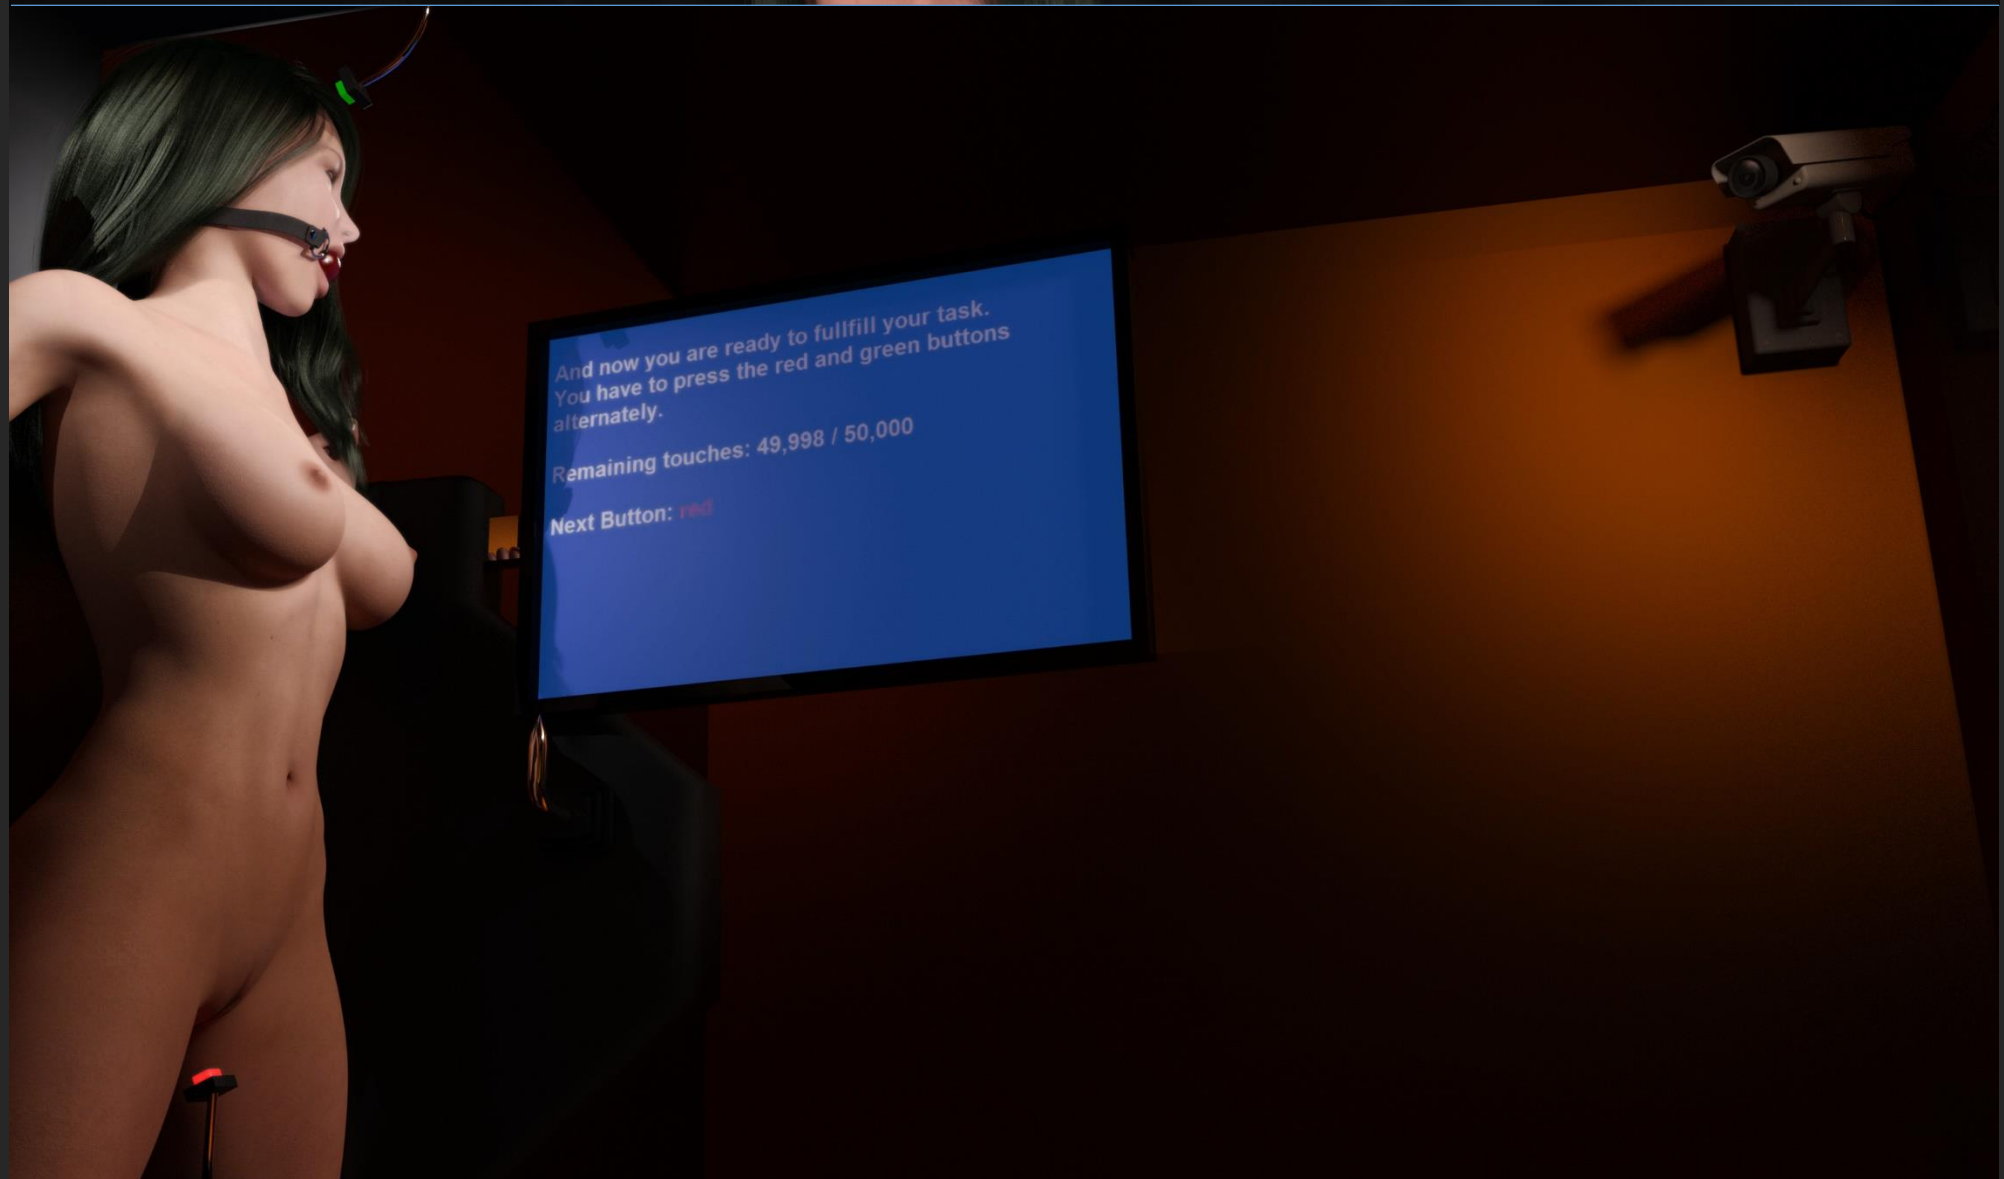

After all buttons were pressed, they closed automatically. Sara was totally helpless and she was unable to do anything except moaning and move her stomach a bit.

Sara looks at the instructions, notices the green button in front of the fore-head and touches the button.

Sara feels so vulnerable and exposed. She gives up to understand the situation. It does not make any sense.

“Are they crazy? 50,000 pushes? What do they have in mind. This will take several hours”

Sara pushed the buttons with big effort to get free as soon as possible but after 5000 pushes and about 1.5 hours later ...

A huge Dildo raises from the bar. Sara was so frightened that she pushed her pelvis back. “Oh my god, I couldn’t reach the red button anymore”

Sara tries to pull her body upwards and insert this dildo between her legs. Finally she made it and was able to push the button once again. She starts riding on the dildo to reach the green and the red button as ordered.

But it seems, this was not enough punishment. As soon as she touched the red button, the front window opens.

After the window is open Sara is exposed to the public. She is really desperate and encouraged to finish this nightmare as soon as possible. So she takes all her strength and pumps as fast as possible.

Sara knows, that this district has no helping people. Everyone who lives here tries to get his own advantage. She begins to tremble as the first curious passer-by comes closer and stops for a short time her efforts.

Sara didn't know, that the sign above the box changed. She didn't notice the danger she is in. Sara tries to ignore everything from outside. Just finish the task and get free, is everything in her mind.

Many touches, many hours and many orgasms later, Sara falls into profound unconsciousness.

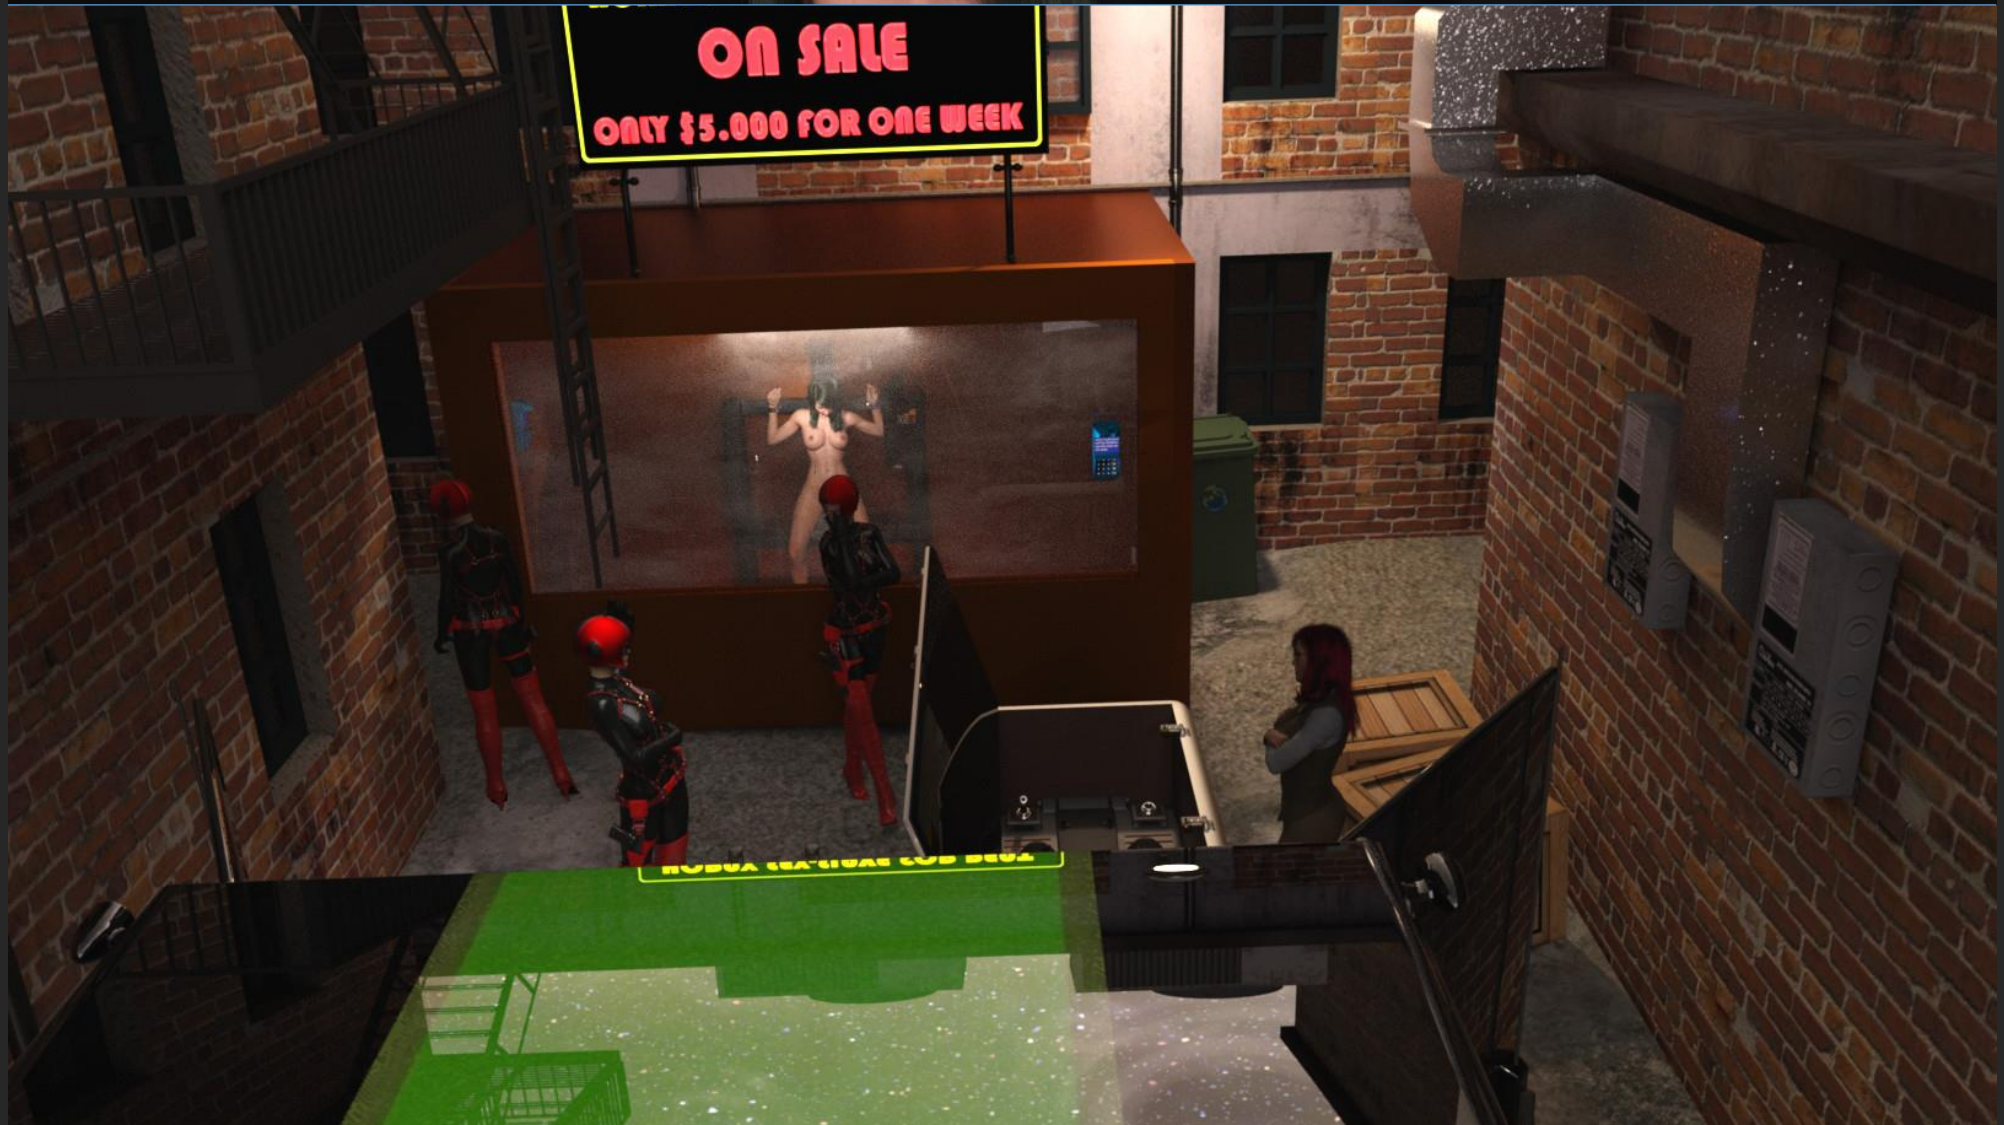

When Sara woke up again, she worked diligently and got a lot of orgasms. After hours of hard work, only 5,000 pushes are left, but ...

She tried to prevent touching the spikes with her breasts, but the luck was not always on her side.

There are only a few hundred pushes left but strange looking people are outside of the box. One of them starts to enter something into the terminal outside the box. Something like gas is flooding the box.

The gas starts to work and Sara falls asleep. She didn't notice anymore that a truck comes into the alley and that some additional strange looking people unloads some weird devices.

Two of these strange people releases Sara and carry her to the provided device, which looks like a transport box.

The head of this undertaking looks satisfied to Sara and says: "Some training and She will be a great slave".

Sara wakes up. She noticed that she is completely immobile and several attachments have been mounted on her body. Panic is written in her beautiful face. She wants to scream, but no sound come over her lips.

Last but not least, a helmet with embedded monitors inside is lowered over her head.

Sealed from the environment, the lid is then closed and locked by one of the uniformed persons.

The closed box is then shipped into the truck, where several of these boxes are already contained.

Finally, the torture box will be loaded into the truck and nothing reminds any more about Sara's predicament.

The truck with Sara and some other victims left the scene.

The destination is not known and the future is uncertain.

Will we ever hear anything about Sara?

So stay tuned on this channel
