Suspect in Custody suspected to be ringleader of trafficking gang 'The Syndicate' Police to make further arrests. President to announce new measures in bid to control crypto trading. Landowners to face tax increases

LIVE UPDATES

In a dramatic pre-dawn raid, authorities stormed a heavily fortified compound on Isla Sombra, a remote tropical island. The raid resulted in the arrest of 14 individuals believed to be key members of an international syndicate. 16 young women were rescued, several million dollars in assorted currencies, weapons and encrypted communications equipment were also seized. "The surprise raid was met with precision and minimal resistance. This is a significant victory," said POLICE spokesperson Jeanine Rousseau during a press conference. "The group was responsible for trafficking across five continents, using advanced technology to evade capture. That ends today." Among those detained, alleged ringleader Dominic Morales, a fugitive on MetroPol's Red Notice list for over seven years. Authorities say more arrests are expected in the coming days as the syndicate's global network unravels...
