
Growth Diary

Dear height diary,
My name is Rebecca, I'm 18 years old and I live in New Jersey. I decided to keep this diary to track my growth. Yes, several doctors confirmed that I suffer of some kind of giantism: long story short, I will grow for the rest of my life. I've heard this may change the way I behave. I'm still short for now, not even 5 feet, and I was even shorter before. Being a small girl meant that I didn't take up too much space, but I didn't get much attention, either. I was really flat back then too, really different from the huge stack I have now... When I bought a B-cup bra, I was so happy, because for the first time in my life, I felt like a woman. I could see the guys starting to stare at my cleavage, especially when I bent over...

I'm a senior at St Patrick High school. Some of my class mates asked me out, but I wasn't attracted to any of them, so I turned them down. Still, I like the fact that they're starting to notice me. I'm even a couple of inches taller than I was just a month ago. I don't want to think how life will be when I will become so huge that I won't even fit through a door: I'll just savor every moment until then.

My hobbies are: playing Tennis, collecting coasters and of course shopping. I'm learning how to play a guitar and I'm taking a self-defense training course.

This is my room in a little cottage where I live with my family. My mom and dad are very kind to me, while my brother (who's older than me) is kind of a jerk sometimes. I'm very short (for now) compared to them: mom and dad are about the same height at 5'10" (mom might be an inch shorter, I'm not sure), and my brother is around six feet tall.
That's all for now, until the next month!!

Dear Diary,
I'm so happy today! At school a friend of mine said that she doesn't know why but I look more attractive. I giggled because I still keep it hidden as much as I can to the others.

As you can see by the pictures I'm attaching I grew a whopping 3 inches in just one month and since all my pants are so short now I bet 2 of them are just legs. I'm 5'1'' tall! What do you think? I'd love if you could answer me.

And here I show you another part of me that has grown. Not much but I'm sure that my now lose C cup bra will be fine in a week or two top. Oh... and my nipples are bigger now: I always have to take care because they poke through everything.

AUGUST

Oh the summer! Now I can't really hide my blossoming curves. I can't wear anything that I was wearing the last summer, nothing fits me anymore. My breasts grew to a full C cup and every time I run they bounce like hell. This unique sensation is driving me crazy.

I also had to buy new swimsuits and I had to admit when my friends asked me if I was growing that I had maybe a late spurt. They noticed I eat a lot so did my mom who now says I eat as my dad an brother together. The funny thing is I don't put an ounce of fat... except... well you know where dear diary.

I also had a big growth spurt and I reached 5'4" . It's like being on heels except the fact I'm not wearing any... and if I stand on my tip toes I feel dizzy! Next month I will try to wear my last year swimsuit, that is going to be fun!

So here I am as promised. This is my old swimsuit as you can see. My breasts are way bigger than they used to be and this is the best I could do to make it fit.

This is what happens when you wear a bikini top that could stuff barely a B cup over a D cup breast. Not very comfy but I'm proud of my development in the chest area. I laugh at the jokes that some guys now do when they notice how much my tits have grown.

Phew! Finally I can breath properly without that unfitting bra. Oh right I almost forgot to tell that I grew another inch so now I am 5'5'' an overall of 6 inches in four months, not bad!

How much did I grow? I grew another inch and a half, and most of it was in my legs area... and it makes me sad because I can't wear a pair of jeans I was in love with.

I almost forgot to say: I have a boyfriend! He is cute and very sweet. He doesn't know my secret yet, nobody knows except my family. I met him a month or so ago he noticed I was growing but he didn't seem to mind. Well maybe I'll show him to you another time... if we keep dating of course!

DECEMBER

Dear Diary, things are getting serious here. Not only my breasts and legs are growing but I noticed my glutes getting rounder and rounder every week.

The changes are noticed by everyone I know during the last two months. Comments come in several forms like: 'you look different', 'you're growing like weed', 'I wish my boobs were growing like yours' and so on. Will they ever stop? For sure my body won't.

Look how tall I've become! I'm 5'7'' It's a huge difference from before. I can reach things on shelves easily now, no more stools... Well except for top shelves but these bitches won't be a problem for me soon, very soon!

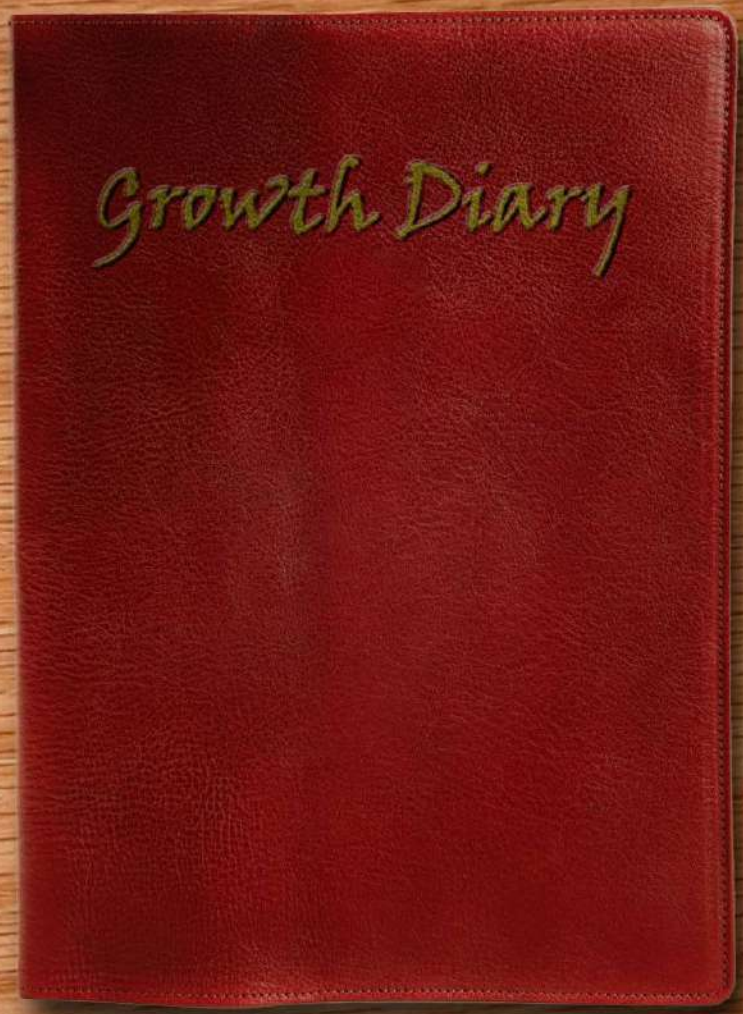

JULY
Growth Diary
2013

Dear Diary,
here we are again. And again my body is different, bigger, more feminine. Every morning I wake up and I know I'm not like yesterday, I know my changes are visible and when I look at myself in the mirror after I shower I swear I can spot them every time.

My boyfriend is really in love with me, I also have to admit that we make love more often now, I don't know if it's my increased desire or him but our love sessions are getting better and better. He is crazy for my... boobs... Yes I can call them like that now; they are a full double D or a E cup and honestly they are getting really heavy to carry around. Not even a year ago my tits even if growing were still small.

But the most important thing is that I'm taller again! I'm now one of the tall girls in my group, not the tallest yet but, you know, I'm working on it. I'm 5'8 and a quarter and if I wear heels I'm pretty noticeable by guys... and girls. My mother starts to get worried about me or is she envious of my new changes? He! He! See you next month!

AUGUST

Dear Diary,
this month went slowly. Not much change: my breasts are still an E cup even if I'm reaching the limit of it.

My boyfriend went on vacation with his friend, I'm a bit worried. Will he be loyal to me? We talk on the phone each day, he will be back in a week. Can't wait for it, really. I miss being alone with him and he says he misses me too.

Do you see where the light reaches my shoulder? That's how tall I was before starting having these huge growth spurts. Ok, I'm on tip toe right now but that's a huge difference, isn't it?

OCTOBER

Dear Diary,
I took some pictures while I was dancing. I reached 5'9 and I'm quite proud of it. Dresses and pants fits me nicely. Instead a lot of nice bras don't reach my cup size that now is a F, that's a bum!
I also modified the lyric of a famous song do you want to listen me singing it while I keep dancing?

I got the eye of the tiger, a fighter, dancing through the sizes
Cause I'll be a giantess and you're gonna watch me GROW

Taller, taller than a lion
Cause I'll be a giantess and you're gonna watch me GROW
Oh oh oh oh oh oh
You're gonna watch me grow

PS: I just watched a documentary where it says a lion can be up to 6 feet tall!

NOVEMBER

Dear Diary,
These babies have gotten so heavy I can train my biceps just by raising them. Luckily I didn't grow much and they can still be contained in a F cup bra.

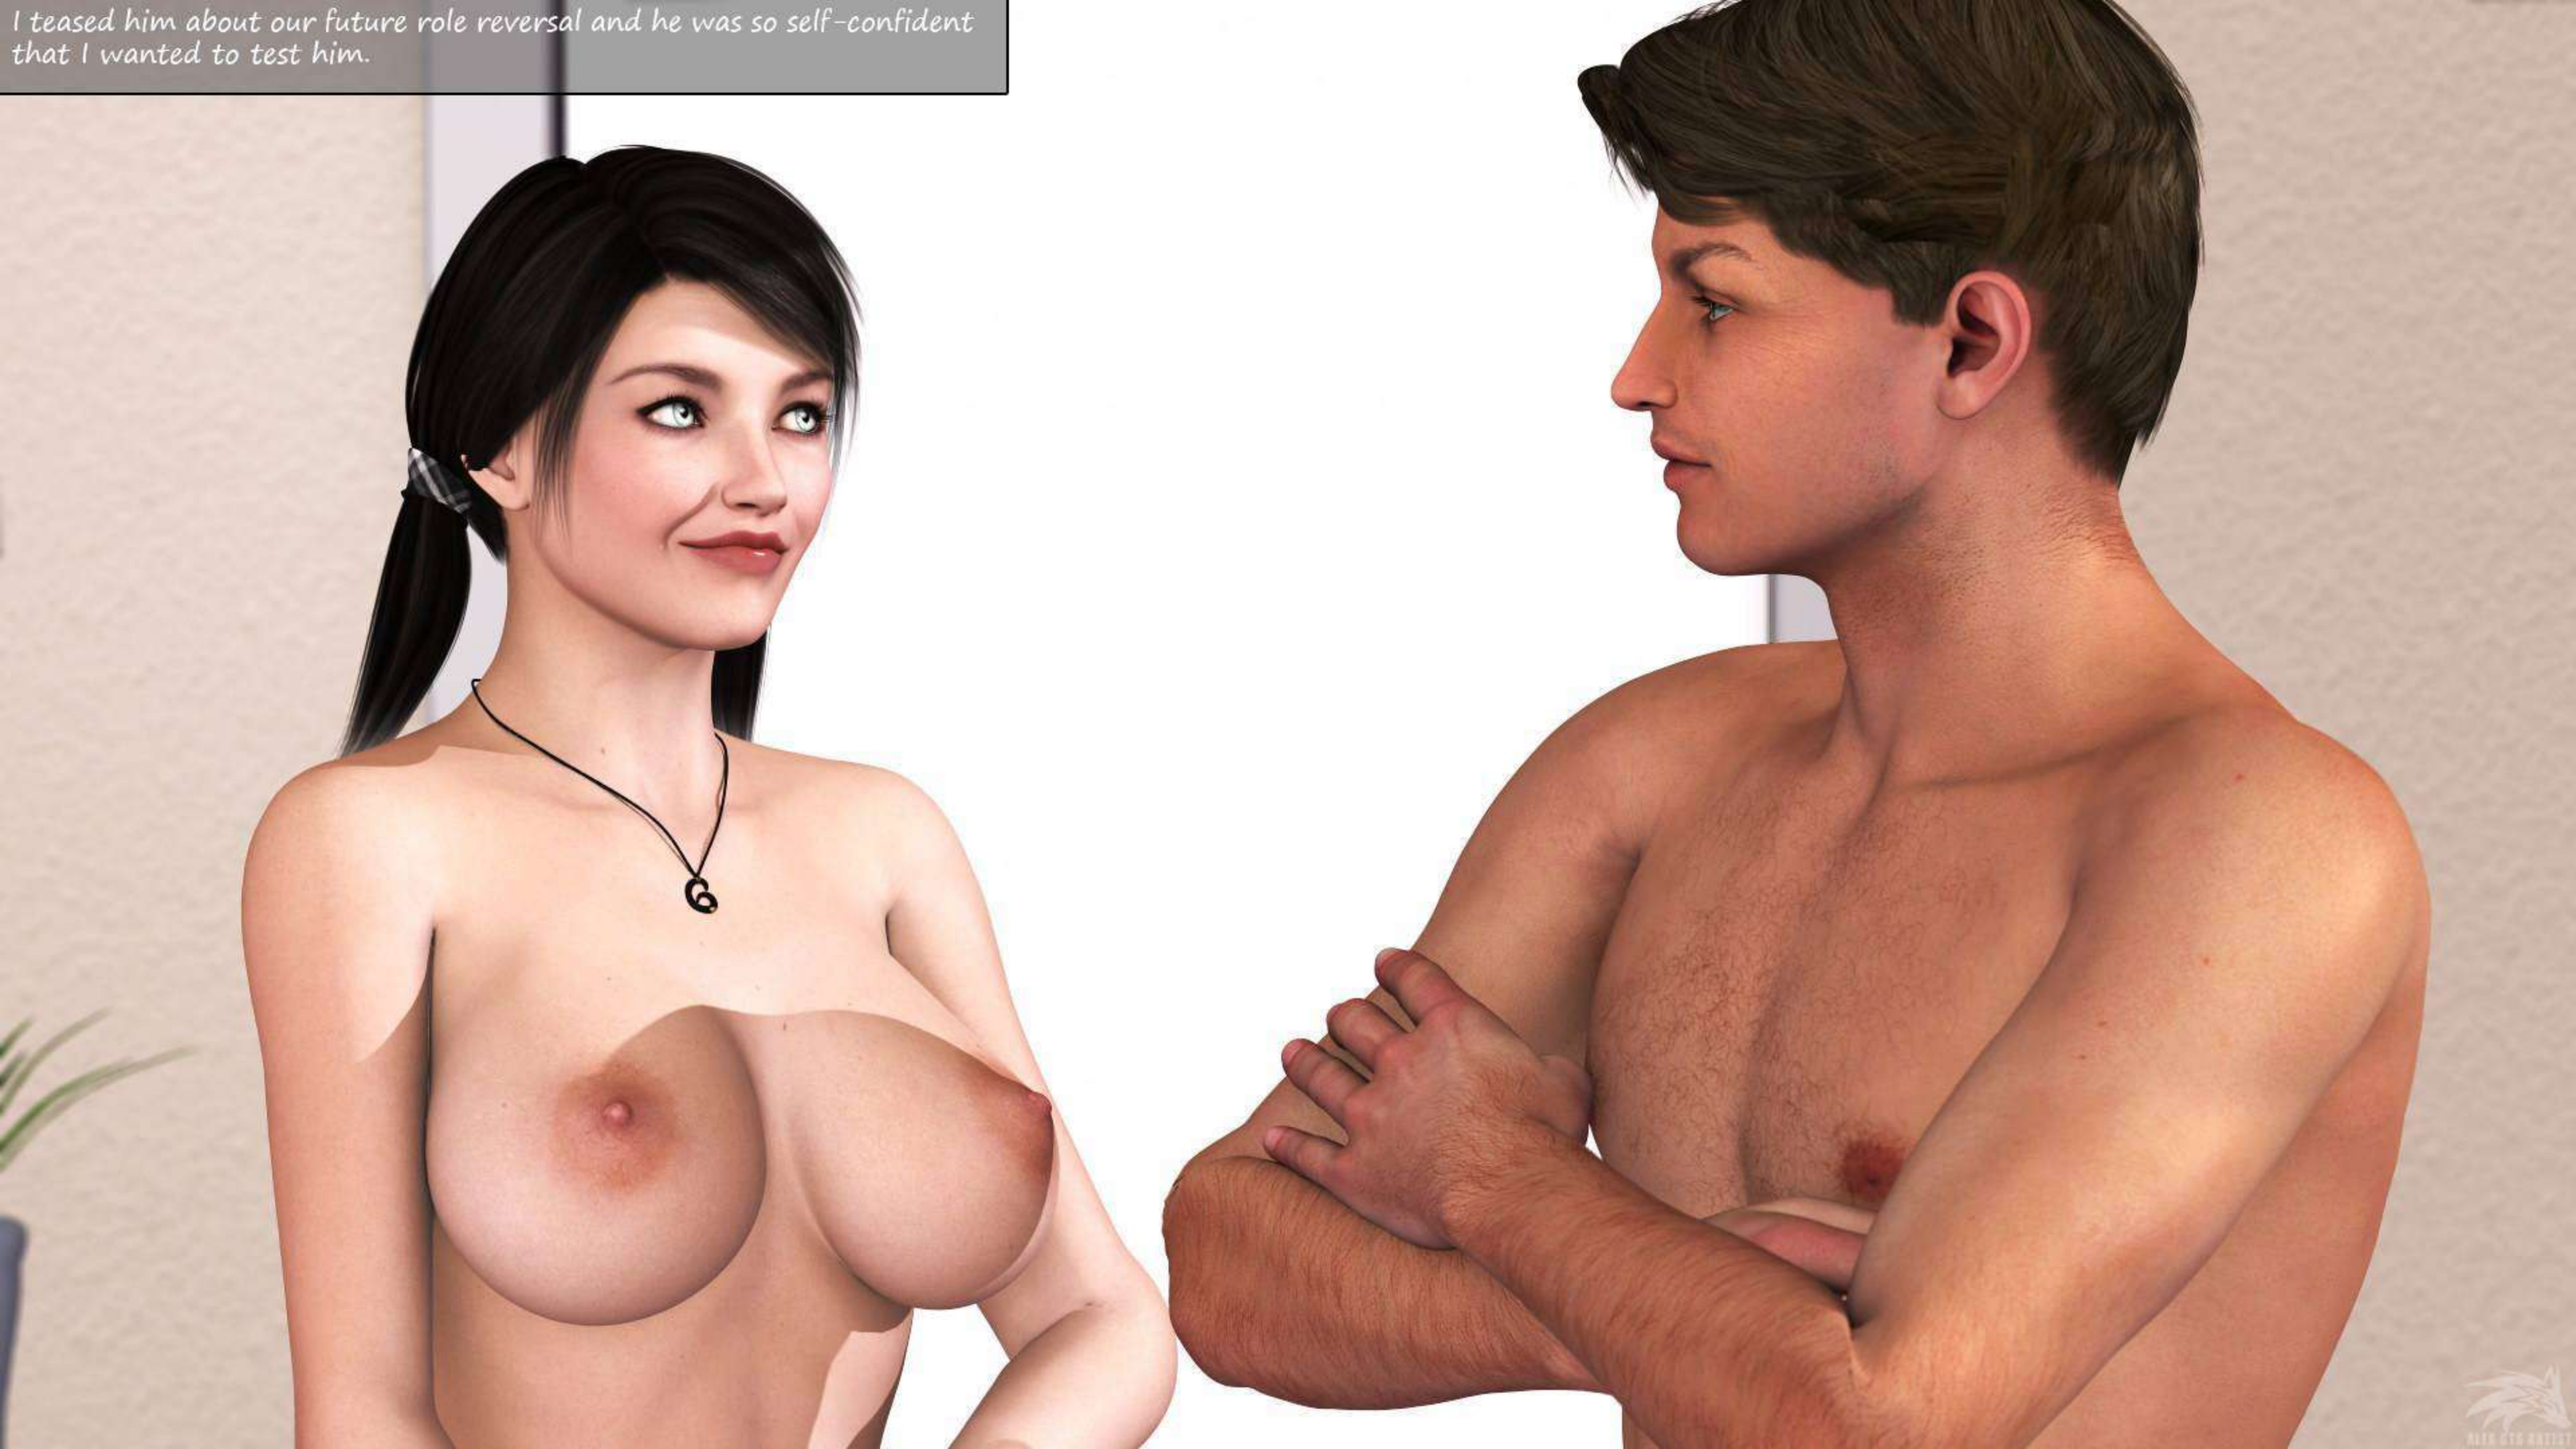

As I was saying my latest spurts weren't big. Am I slowing down? Will I stop growing? Is that possible given my condition?
People are starting to ask a lot of questions and most of the time I lie: I don't want them to think I'm some kind of freak. This slower growth at least is helping me hiding it.

I'm taller, half inch taller than the last month. If they ask if I grew again I just answer it's just the shoes I'm wearing or I smile and tell them that maybe they've shrunk, but as you can see I wear no shoes now and I definitely can't hide to be a tall girl, can I?

JANUARY
2014

Dear Height Diary,
This month I want to show you someone, but before that I want to let you know I had a big spurt compared to the last few months and I reached a height of 5'11! I didn't grow much elsewhere and I don't see any evident changes other than my height, but oh well I can't complain!

Here I am with my boyfriend: he is a nice and sweet person. He is 6'3 so that makes me 4 inches shorter and I wonder how long I will still feel small compared to him. Things are going to change.

I teased him about our future role reversal and he was so self-confident that I wanted to test him.

I had a little surprise for him, something I bought and didn't show him yet.

While reaching to grab my surprise he got a little 'distracted'.
Yeah I love to tease him, I'm a little devil he he!

My latest purchase: platform shoes with 6'' heels.
Beautiful, aren't they?

He gently offered to help me wear them and I really enjoyed this moment. The sweet prince already at my feet, am I going to be his princess or his queen? Maybe both, who knows!

Once I was wearing them I felt my knees rising high. Such a difference, this was going to be fun. I couldn't help myself: I was smirking and watching him straight in the eyes, I was going to challenge his masculinity in a few moments. Let's see who's going to feel short now!

I needed some room and I was going to take it without asking. 'Make room for your queen!' that's what I wanted to tell him. The pressure of the heel on his abdomen did hurt a bit. No pain no gain, right? Even better if he takes the pain and I take the gain.

Ready? Steady? Go!

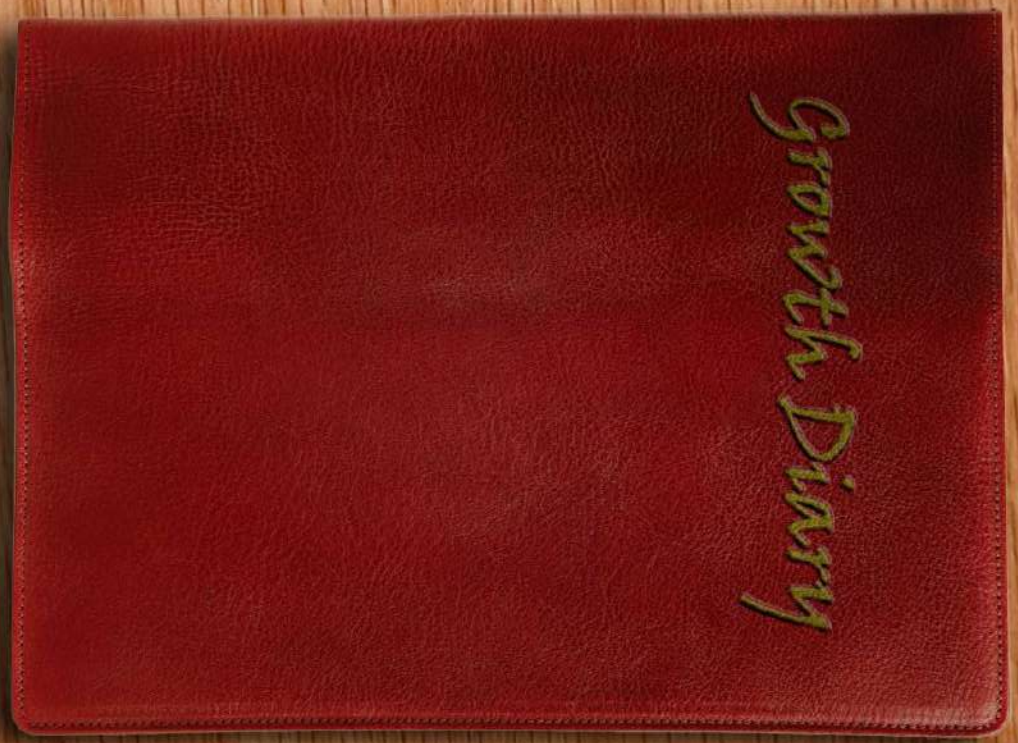

So I rose...

Higher...and higher

Taller than ever: the moment of the truth was about to come!

Oh my...! What a sweet sensation I felt! My legs looked like long sensual pillars that brought my hips well above his navel. My nipples were above his, even with a chest as big as mine. He had to crane his neck a bit to watch me directly in the eyes, while I could easily watch above his head. Soon I won't need these heels and soon I will be the one to make the other feel small. Dear diary, my fun is growing along with my height: I can't wait to measure myself next month!

FEBRUARY

Dear height diary,
I didn't grow much this month, just a quarter of an inch.
Maybe it compensate the fact I grew so much the last month.
The top of the door is quite distant from my head yet but I will reach it for sure.

What do you think? Are my legs long? I think they are quite long and I'm very proud of them.

I've to watch ahead for major changes. For now I just can note a minor breast augmentation and a slightly thinner waist while my hips are a bit rounder.

MARCH

Dear Diary,
Another month has passed and I went through another growth spurt. This time I feel it's accelerating again because I'm always starved. But no matter how much I eat, my waist is getting thinner than ever.
ALEX GTS ARTIST

When I asked my boyfriend to spot my changes the first thing he noticed were my boobs. A few years ago calling them boobs would make me giggle, but now that I wear an F cup bra it sounds so right.
ALEX GTS ARTIST

Then he wanted to check my ass "his way": He was about to say it feels bigger but he stuttered just after the B correcting himself: "rounder" he said. What a good boy!

He deserved a kiss and just then he noticed I was almost 2 inches shorter than him. Only 2 inches. I need to watch the sky tonight and wish upon a star, or I could grow right here right now.

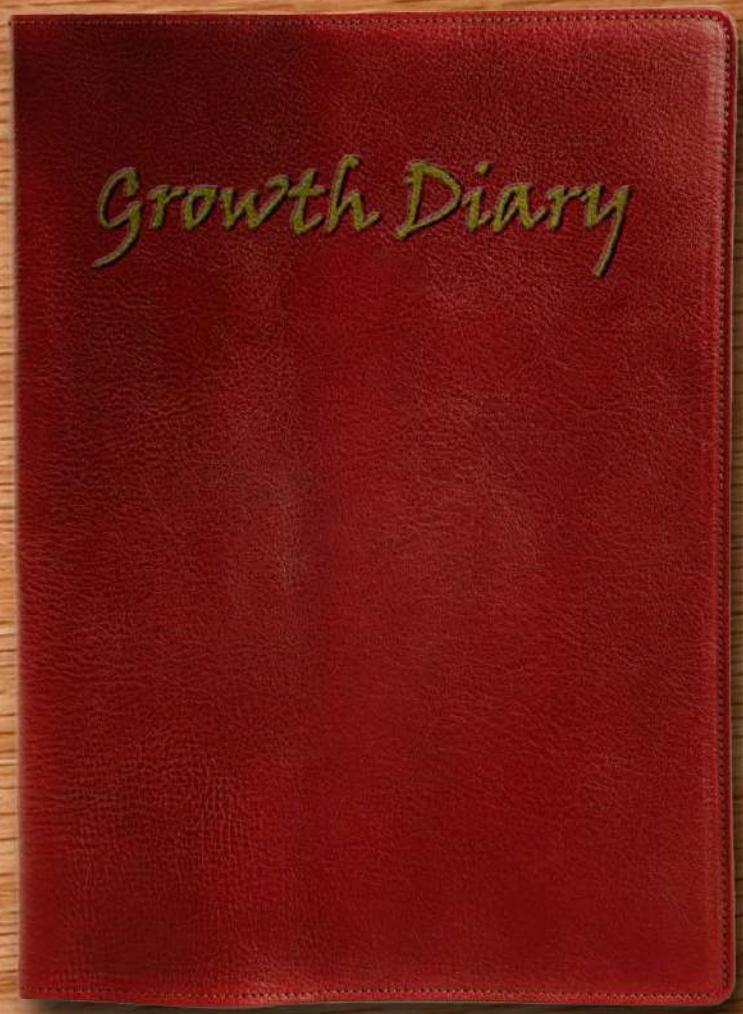

While we were kissing my soft breast brushed against his chest. I think he cough enjoyed it.

He was so upset! He really believed I could grow a few inches just before his own eyes. This is not an Hollywood B-movie so he has to wait at least until next month!
Quotes of "Wish Upon a Star" and "Cheap Tricks" were intend
ALEX GTS ARTIST

You should see his face when just after we kissed I said: "Oh dear! I think I just had a growth spurt while we were kissing, I'm taller than you now!" He was petrified!

Ok! That was just a cheap trick he found out after looking at my feet: I was on my tiptoes. Soon I won't need to do this, but maybe he will!

APRIL

Dear Height Diary,
Today I was reading an online growth comic. Do you see her? This girl grows more than 5 feet in 2 hours, I wish I could grow that much that fast!
VERON

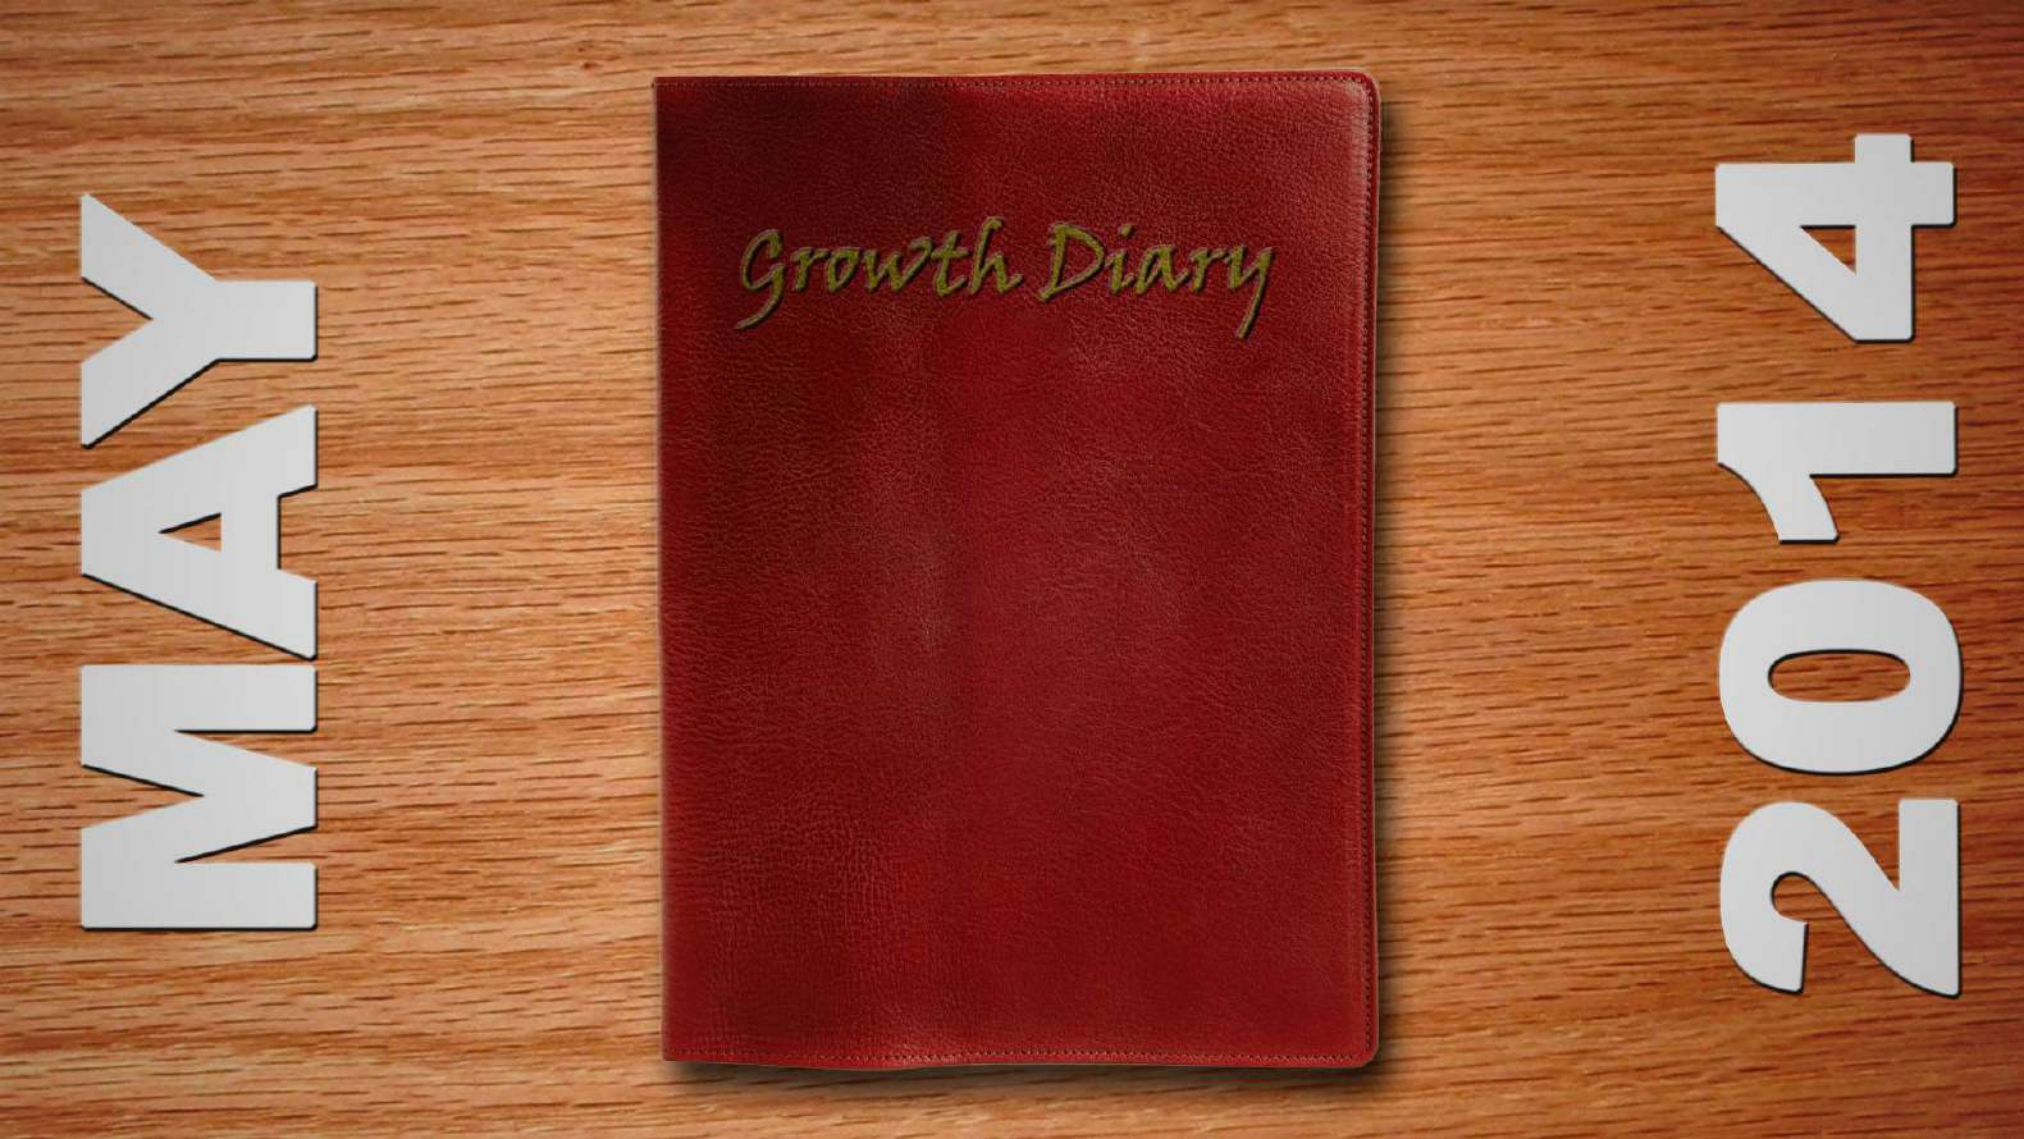

I wonder what my boyfriend would think about this comic, I will suggest him to read. Later I will give him a call.
ALEX GTS ARTIST

Back to me, I'm bound to reality and my growth didn't continue as fast as I thought. I just gained 1 more inch and I'm now 6'2. One inch away from him, damn! I wanted to be as tall as him now!

At least I'm pleased about my legs being so long, most of my height belongs to them.

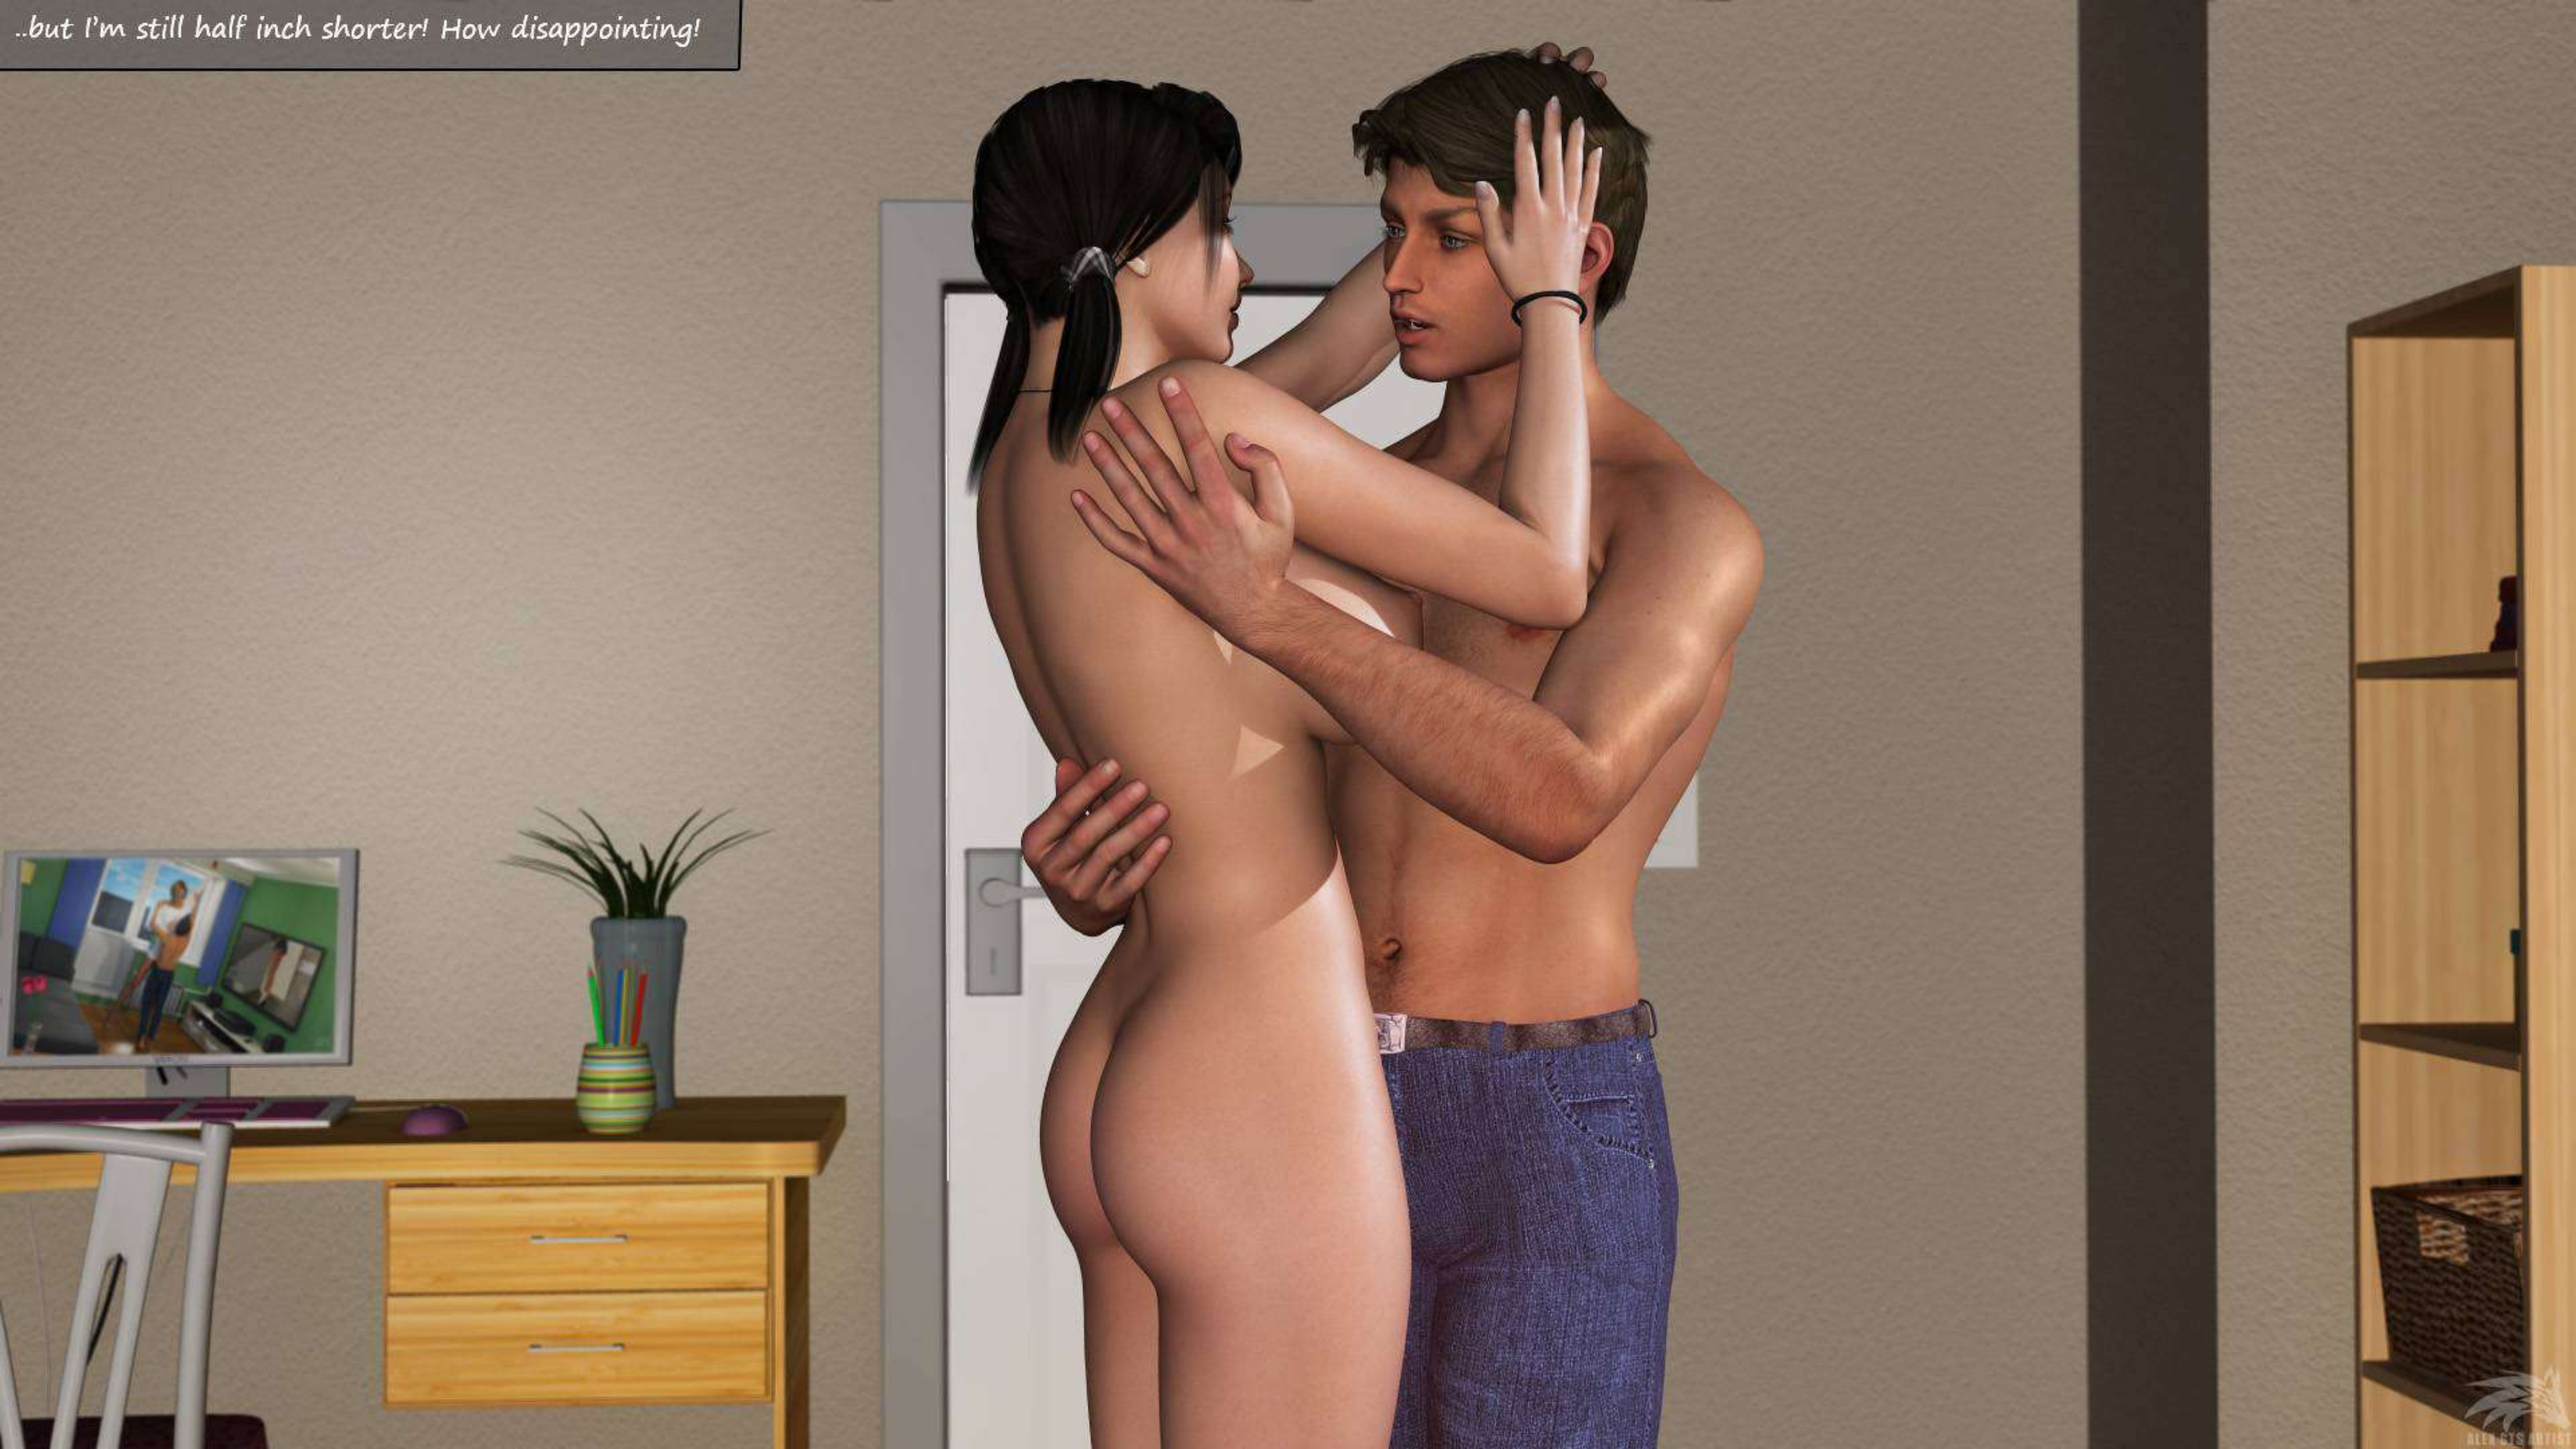

I didn't notice any other body change to be honest but I don't mind, by now I've more than I ever wanted.

That's all for now... well, I'm letting my hair grow longer but this is old news, I just didn't write here before I think.

MAY

Dear Diary,
I feel great now that I'm tall even if I start to have some problems.
For example I can't lie down properly on my bed, it's too short!

I had a small growth spurt and I want to compare with my boyfriend. My hips are taller than his...

..but I'm still half inch shorter! How disappointing!

Watching me straight in the eyes was for him a real turn on...

I guess this is the last month, I won't be shorter than him anymore for sure. I'm going to enjoy my next month for sure!

JULY
2014

Dear Diary,
it's been 2 months and quite a lot of changes have happened as you can see in these pictures. My breasts make my F cup bras really tight.
ALEX GTS ARTIST

My pants say my legs have gotten longer and watching myself at the mirror I could also notice that my butt has become rounder: not wider (this has happened in the past) just rounder.
ALEX GTS ARTIST

The biggest surprise of all is that my body stands taller than the one of my boyfriend. He was away during these months due to work and when he came back and I hugged him I felt his nipples under mine, I knew that what I was waiting for has happened. So I took a pair of comparison shots with him to immortalize the moment.

At 6'3 it's so hard if not very rare to see a girl taller than you especially when she is barefoot and she isn't wearing some high heels shoes. He thought he was a big boy, now with me he should think again. Will my shorter cute boyfriend be able to handle me? I'm at least 6'4 now and only the goddess of growth knows how tall I will be one year from now.

AUGUST 2014

Dear Diary,
today I was collecting old clothes for charity but before to give them away I wanted to try them one more time, the result was quite fun!
ALEX GTS ARTIST

This is one of the shoes i was wearing when I started recording my height: as you can see my foot is so big now that only four of my toes can fit inside!
ALEX GTS ARTIST

When I was feet tall I was wearing these jeans, now they can't go past half my thighs because they are too tight!
ALEX GTS ARTIST

This is the only skirt that could go past my hips thanks to its side opening, luckily my waist is really narrow and I could zip it up!

This tank top reached my navel back then, but now due to my new height of 6'4" and a quarter and my exaggerated G cup breasts it can't even cover my chest! It's stretched so much that it's almost transparent and it's better if I remove it fast before my tits tear it off.

SEPTEMBER

Dear Diary,
this month has going smoothly and even if the growth has slowing down I've reached the amazing height of 6'4 and a half!

Even if it's 'just' an inch and a half he looks already short to me, pretty weird when I think I had to get on my tip toes to kiss him. It is time for him to train on his toe muscles but for now this wonderful kiss on the base of my neck will do!

Speaking of standing on tip toes, this is what happens if I do it, and he seems to like it a lot! We were quite busy after, see you next month!

OCTOBER

Dear Diary,
I enrolled as a cheerleader a couple months ago and I wanted to show my boyfriend how this suit has slowly shrunk on me: I still fit in it but it doesn't cover much!

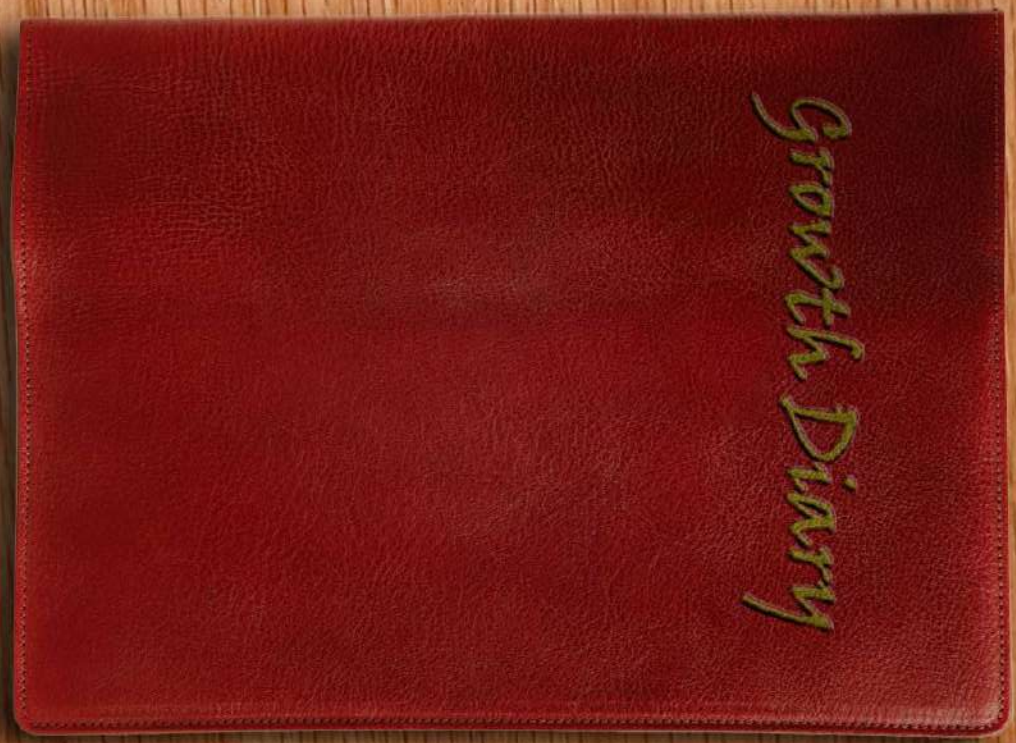

First of all a cool height comparison: barefoot I'm 6'5 now but with these heels I'm about 6'11. My perspective of the world changes inch by inch: what seems big for a person 5 feet tall will look small to somebody 1 foot and a half (we can round up, right?!) taller. Advice to all the tall people out there: in a plane always get the corridor side seat, you can slip your legs out from time to time and give them some rest!

Let's show him who's the cheerleader queen! He seemed to like me taking control of this situation and I enjoyed myself by doing it. Height and leadership are somewhat bound by nature.

Life is a matter of perspective, everybody has his own and even if it's from down to top this perspective has its own advantages, don't you agree?
SHMU
Cheerleading

And this is where I started showing him some 'dance' moves. My little one really enjoyed the show in every way possible (wink!). See you next month!

NOVEMBER

Dear Diary,
My growth is still going slow: in a month I gained just half an inch which isn't nothing by any means, but it's not as fast as it used to be.

So I'm 6'5 and a half with no other apparent change. I grew more than a foot and a half after my 18th birthday, that's an amazing accomplishment anyway!

So what do you think of these nice pantyhose? Are they stretched enough?

Oops! I ripped them! I guess I have to buy a new pair! See you next month!

Dear Diary,
Good news! I've grown 1 full inch in the last month! I'm now 6'6 and a half! I'd say it's time for a little comparison with my cute shorter boyfriend!

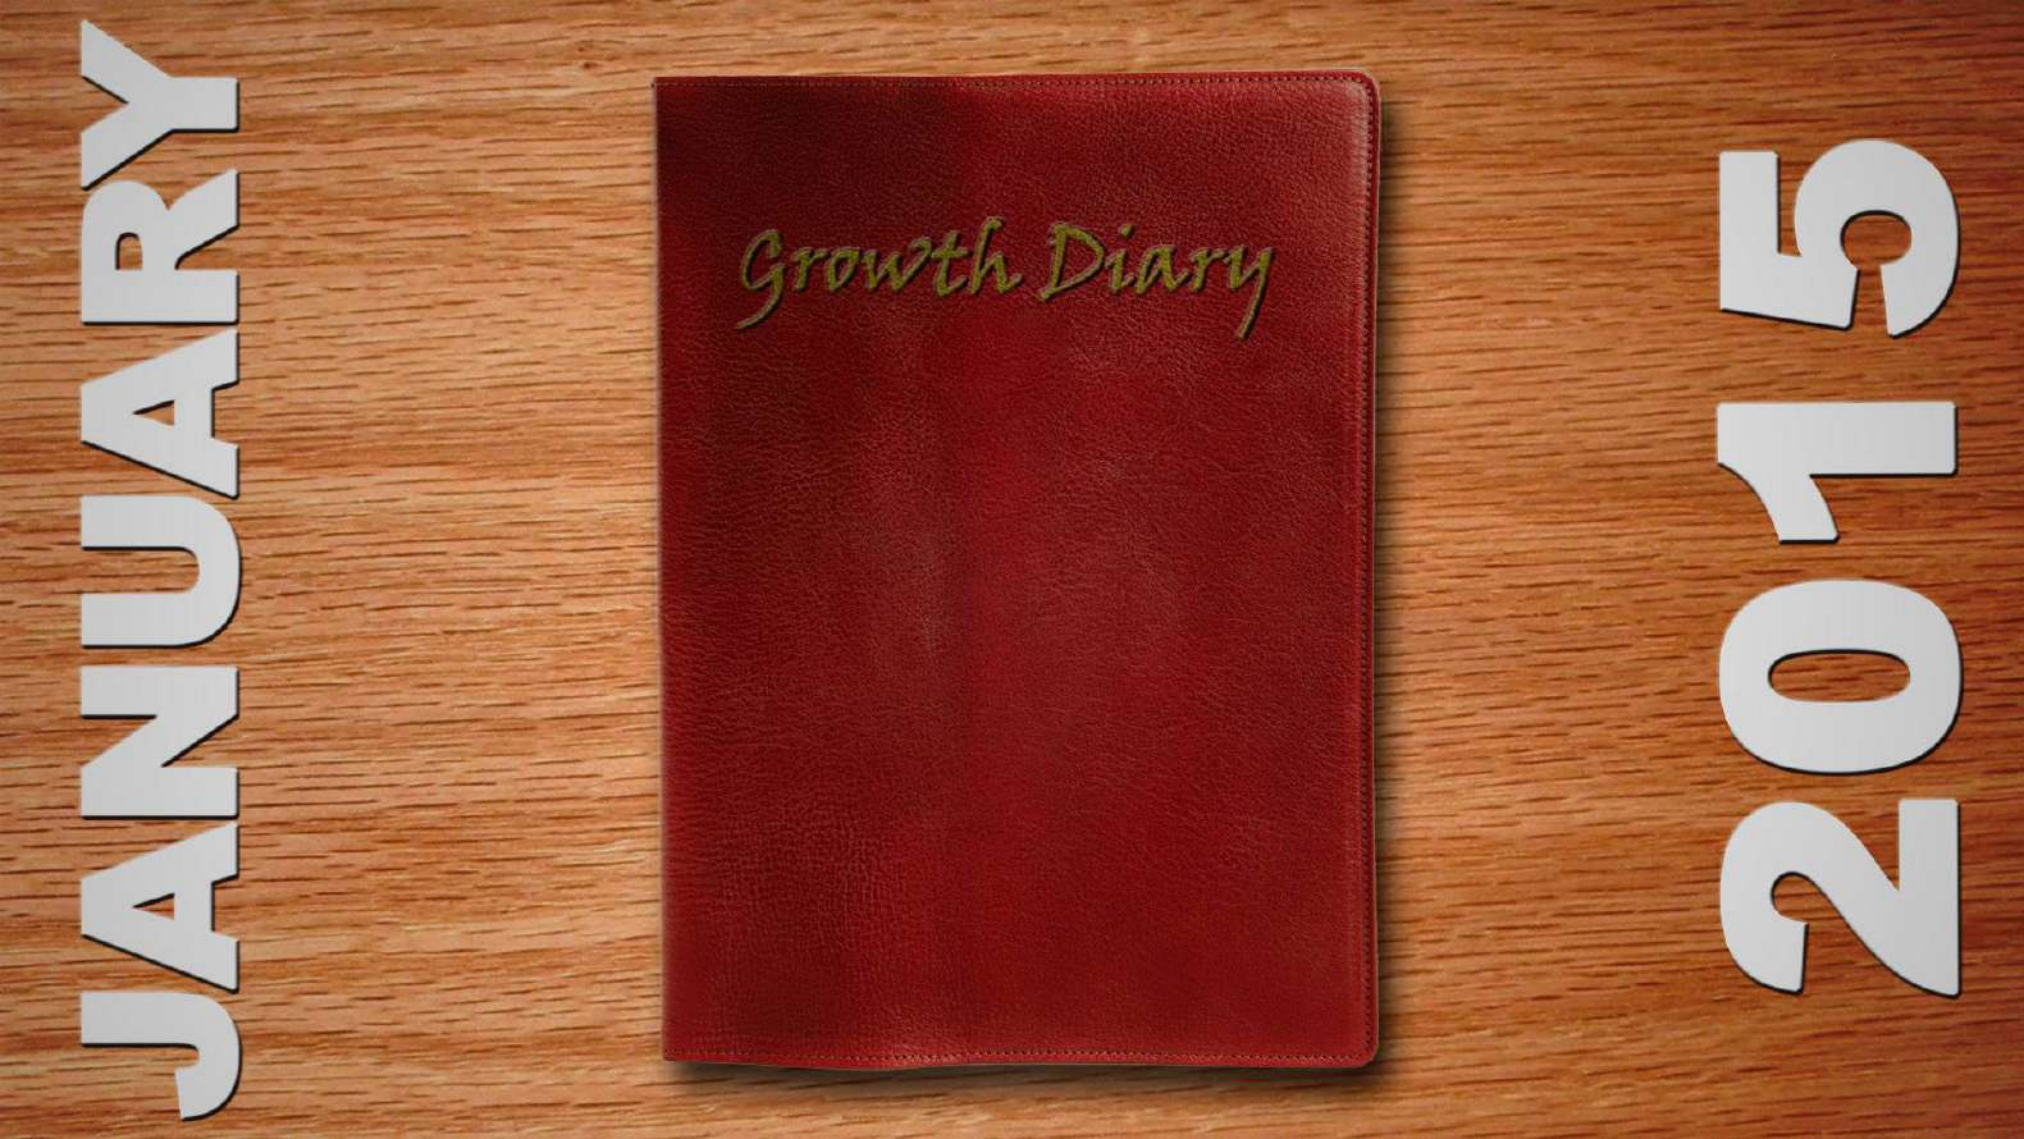

Will he expect me to be that tall? I will enjoy teasing him. I wonder if he is looking forward to watching me stand up straight and tower above him.

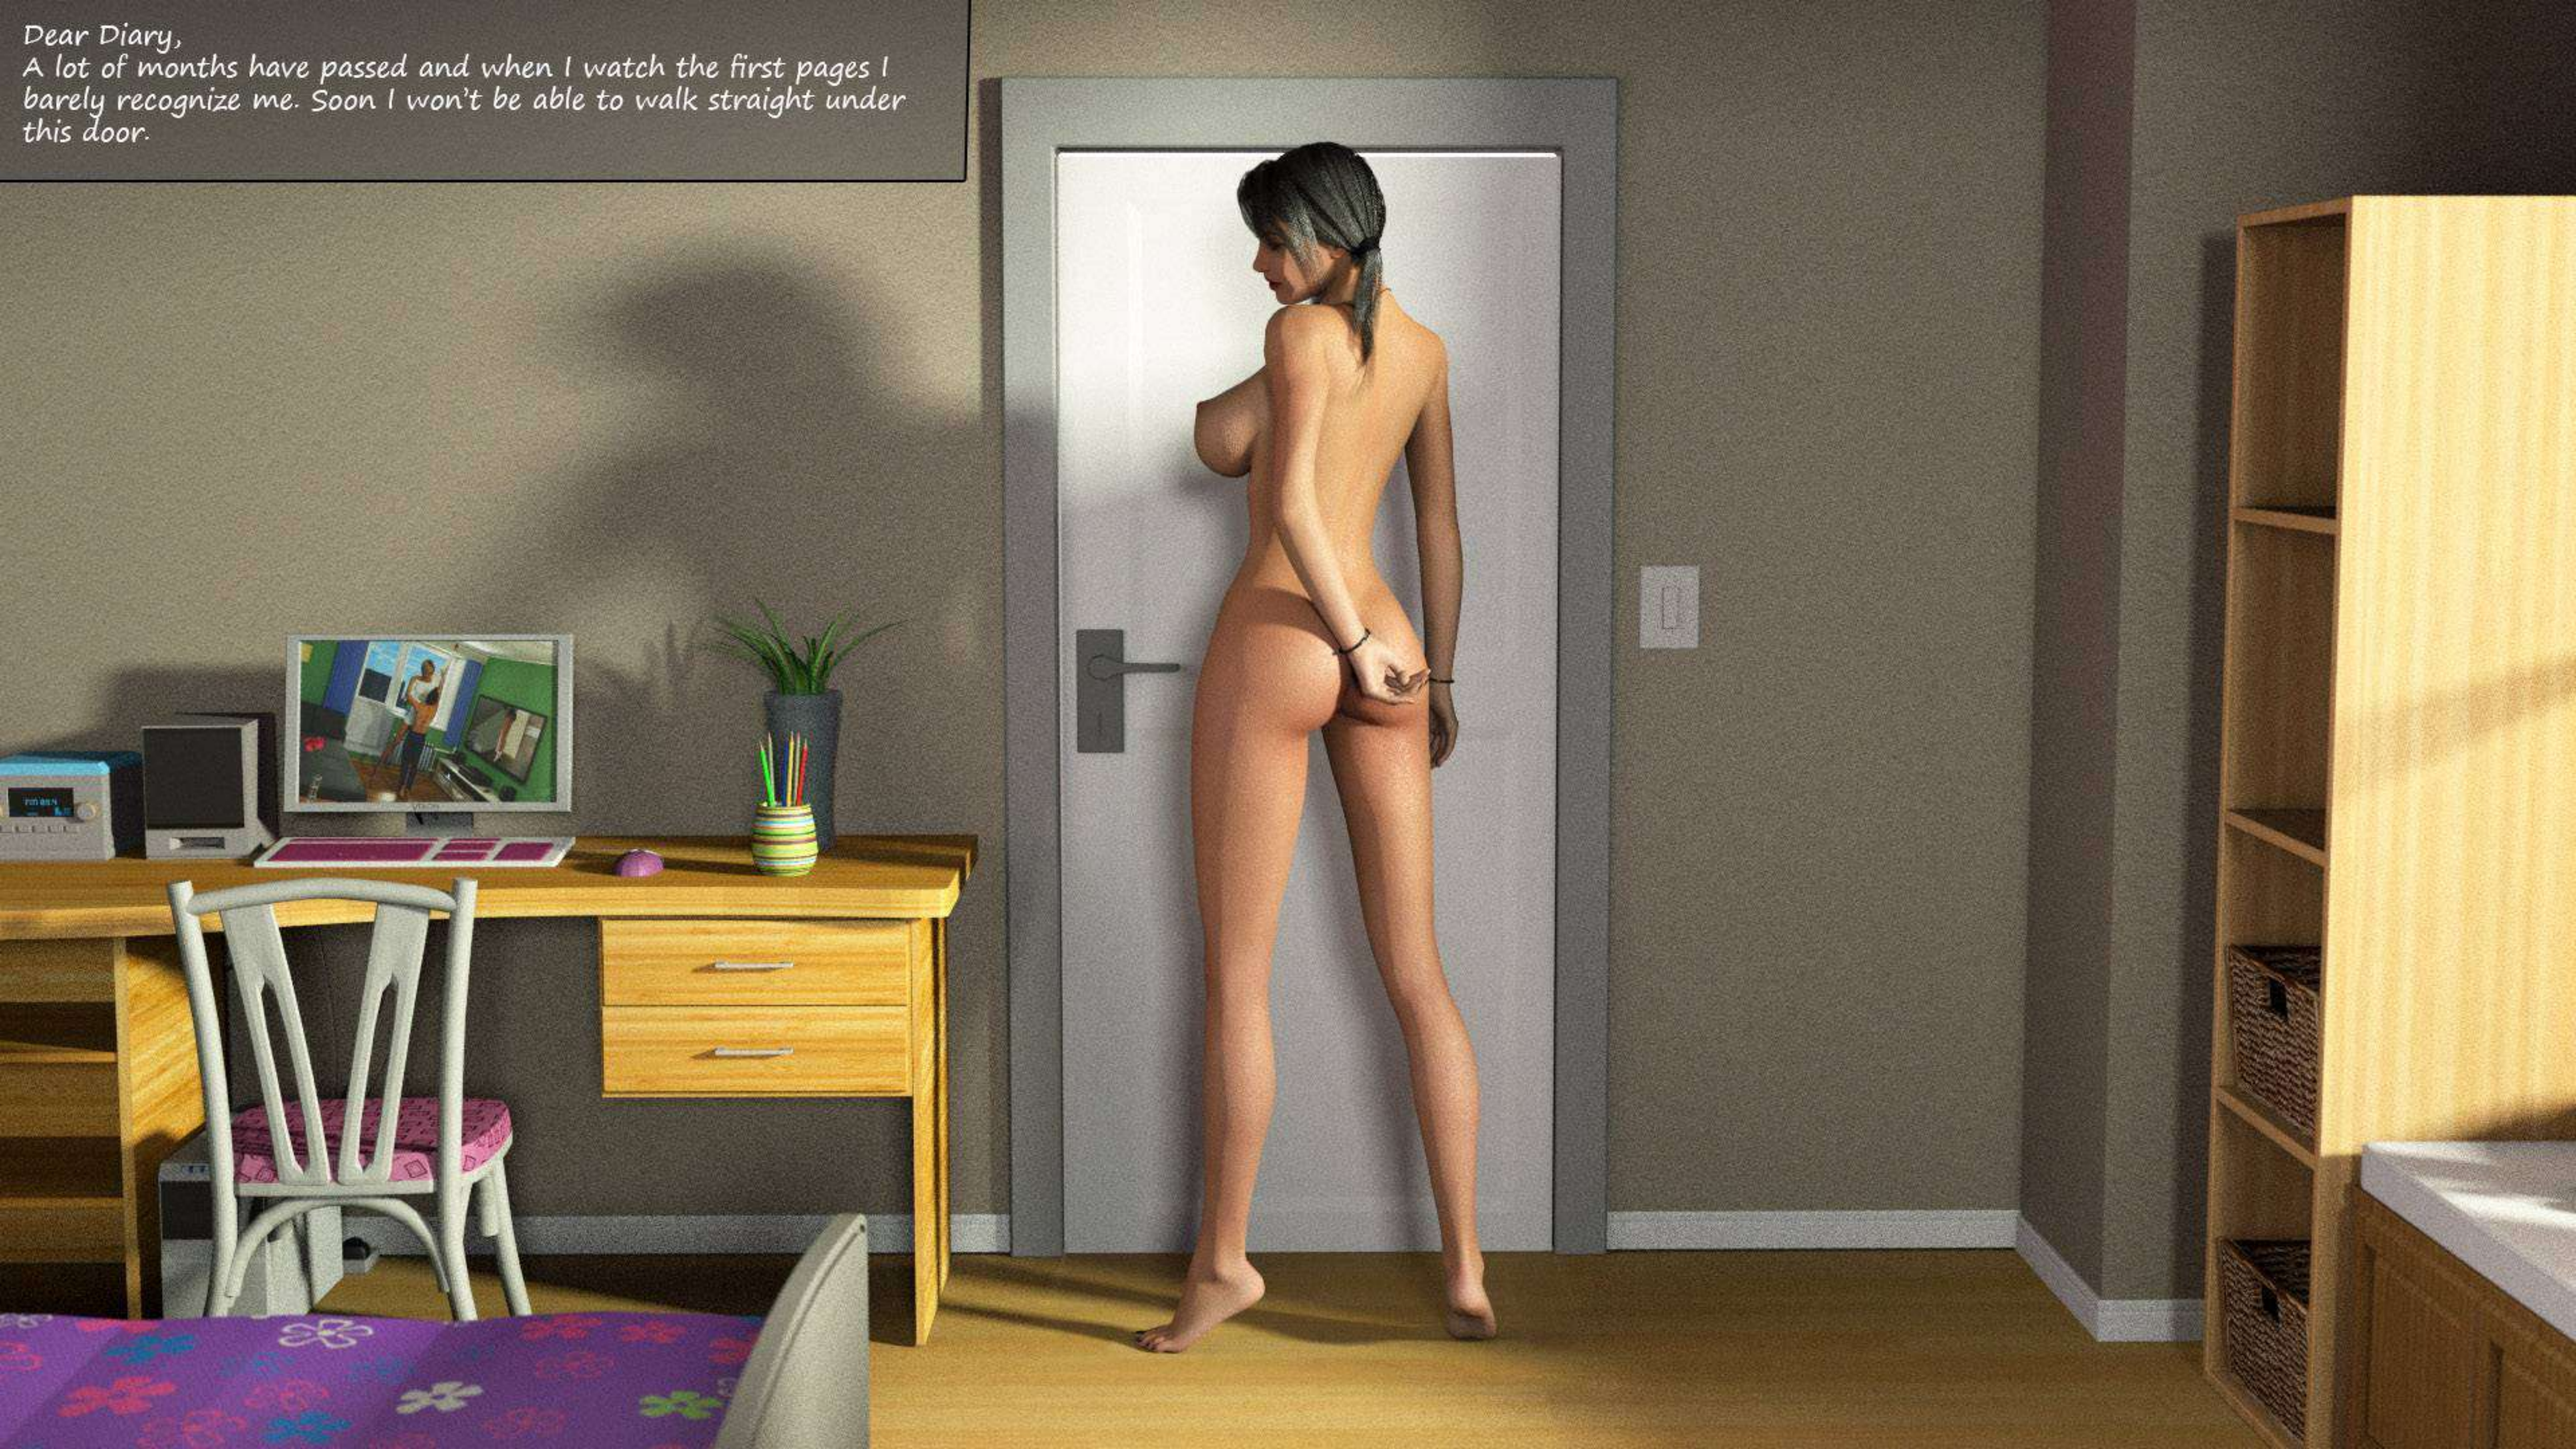

We've done something similar in the past but now I don't have any heels. My legs are as long as pillars compared to his.

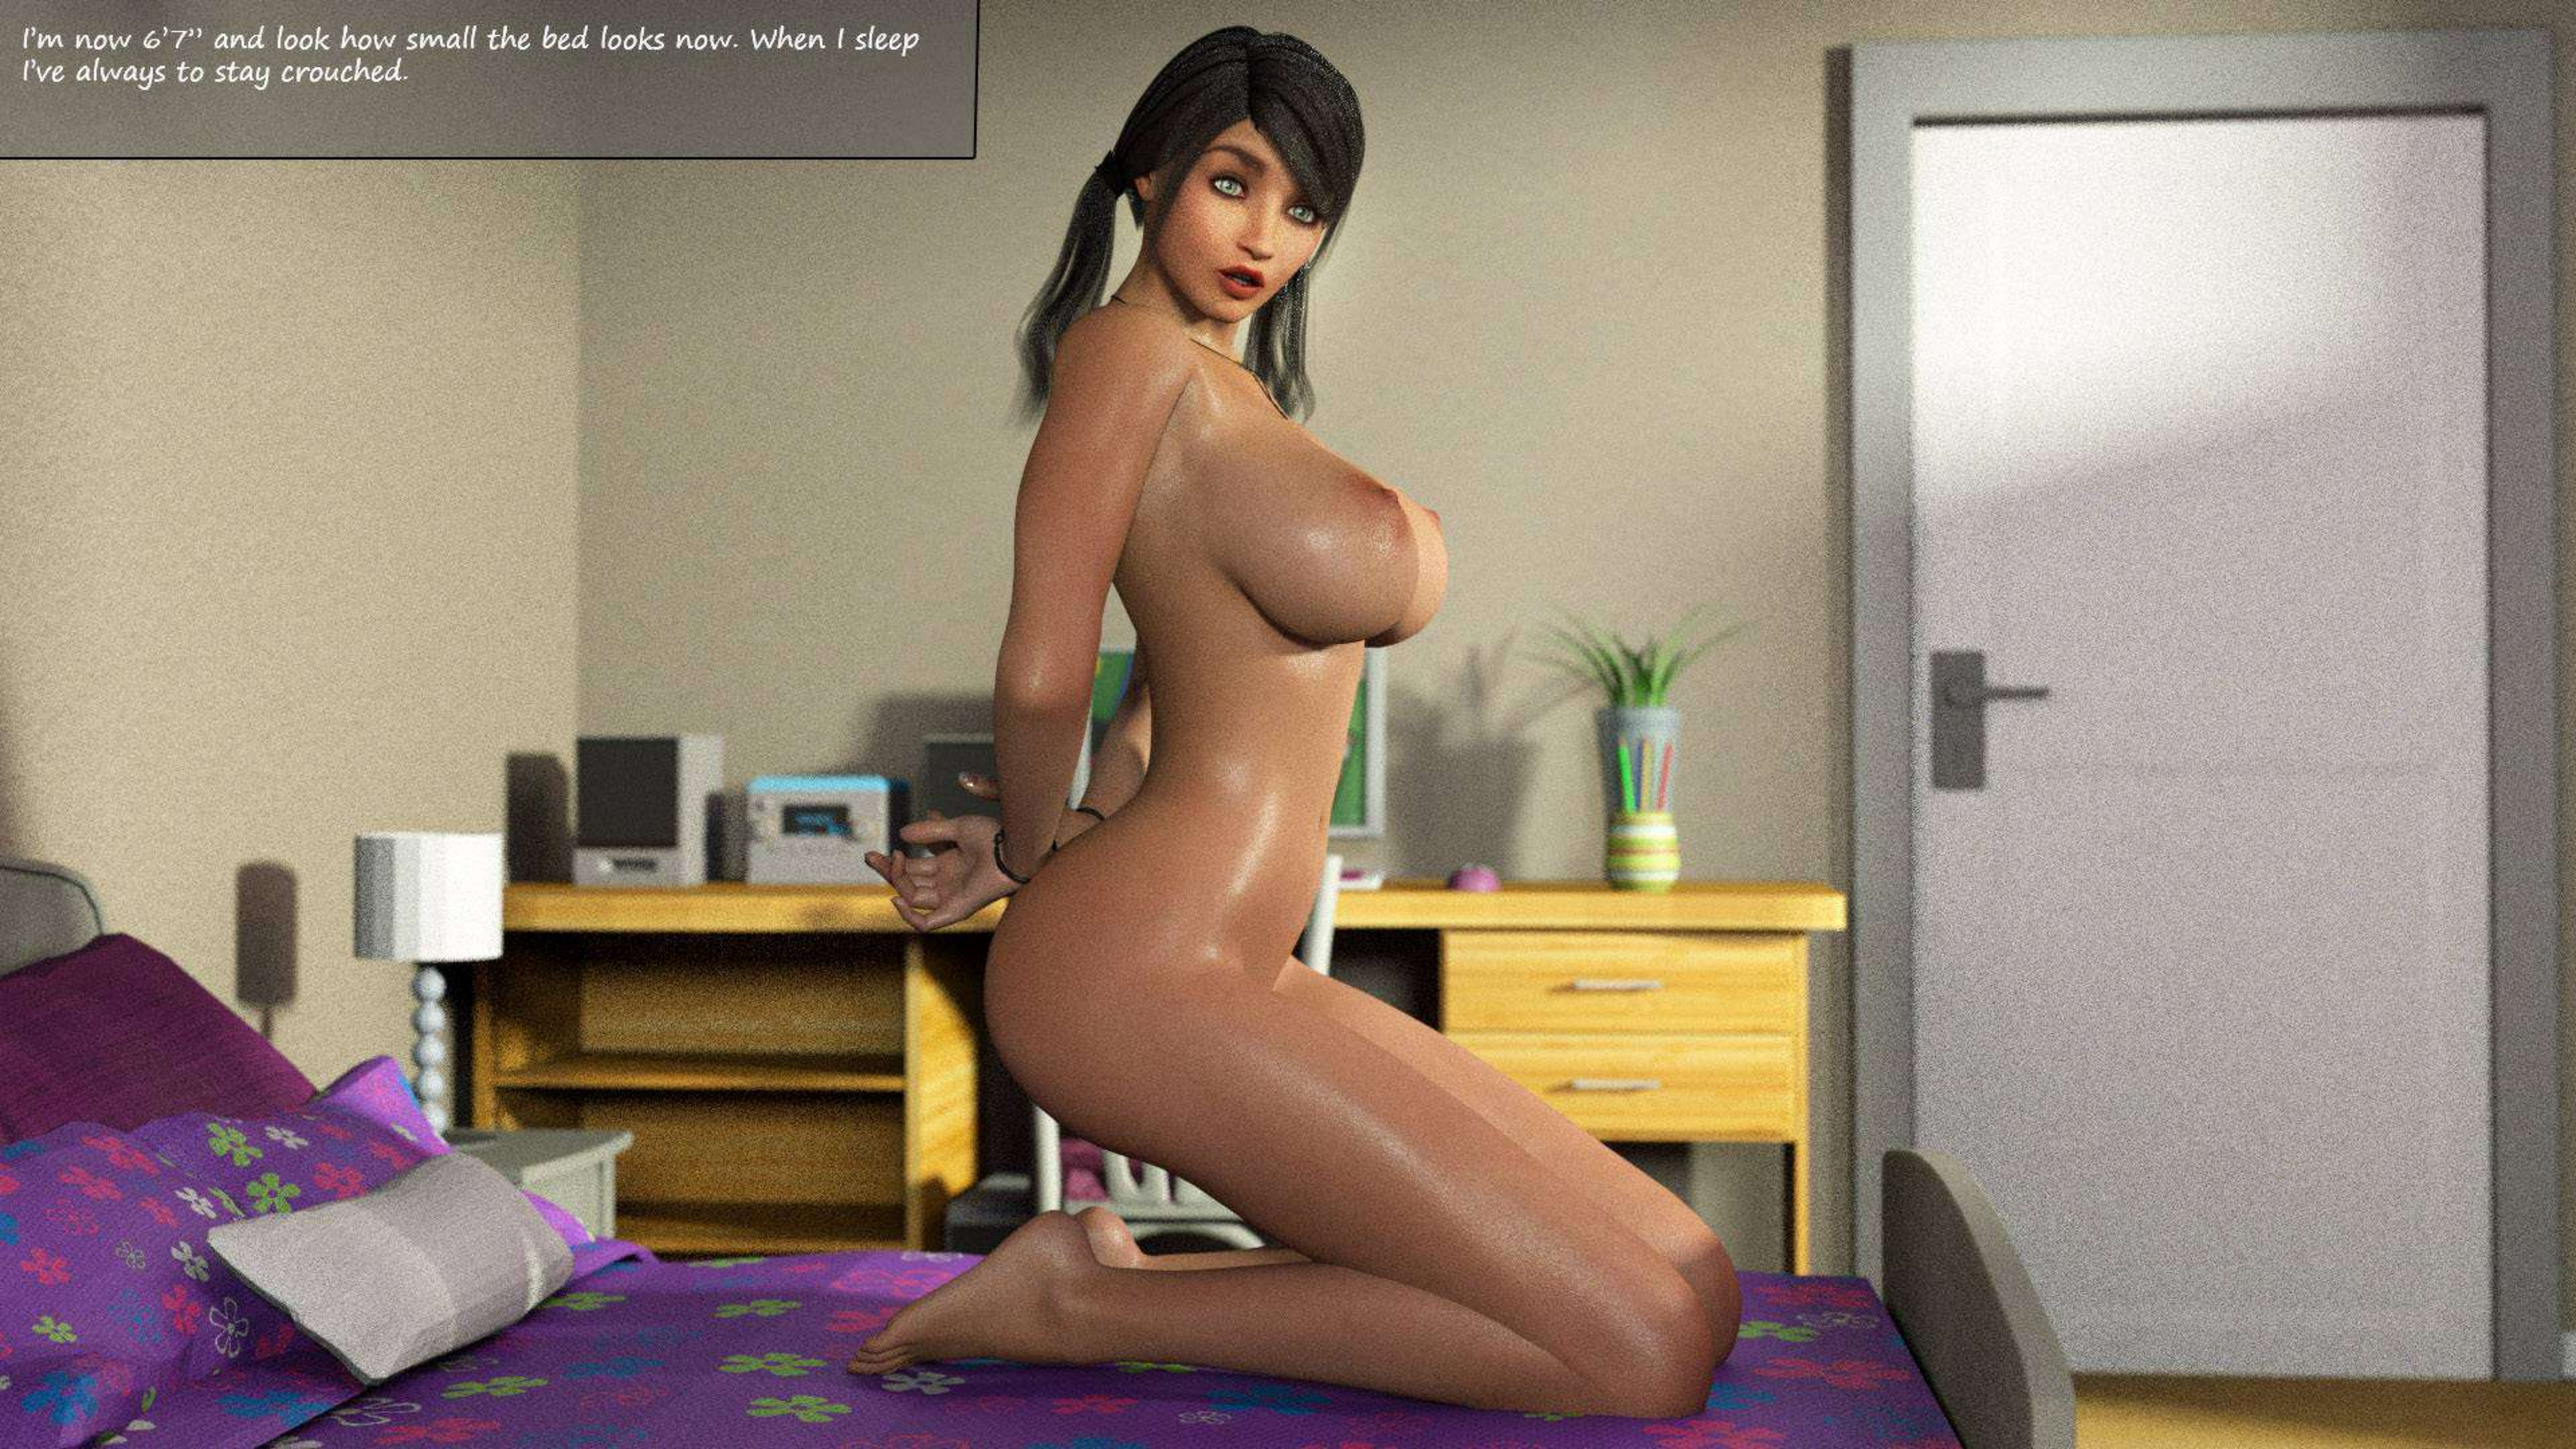

It's almost the moment of truth, we're the same height right now but I'm still not standing straight. Will he be ready?

Maybe I wasn't ready, damn he really looks short to me now. No heels and I have to tilt my head down to look at him straight in his eyes.

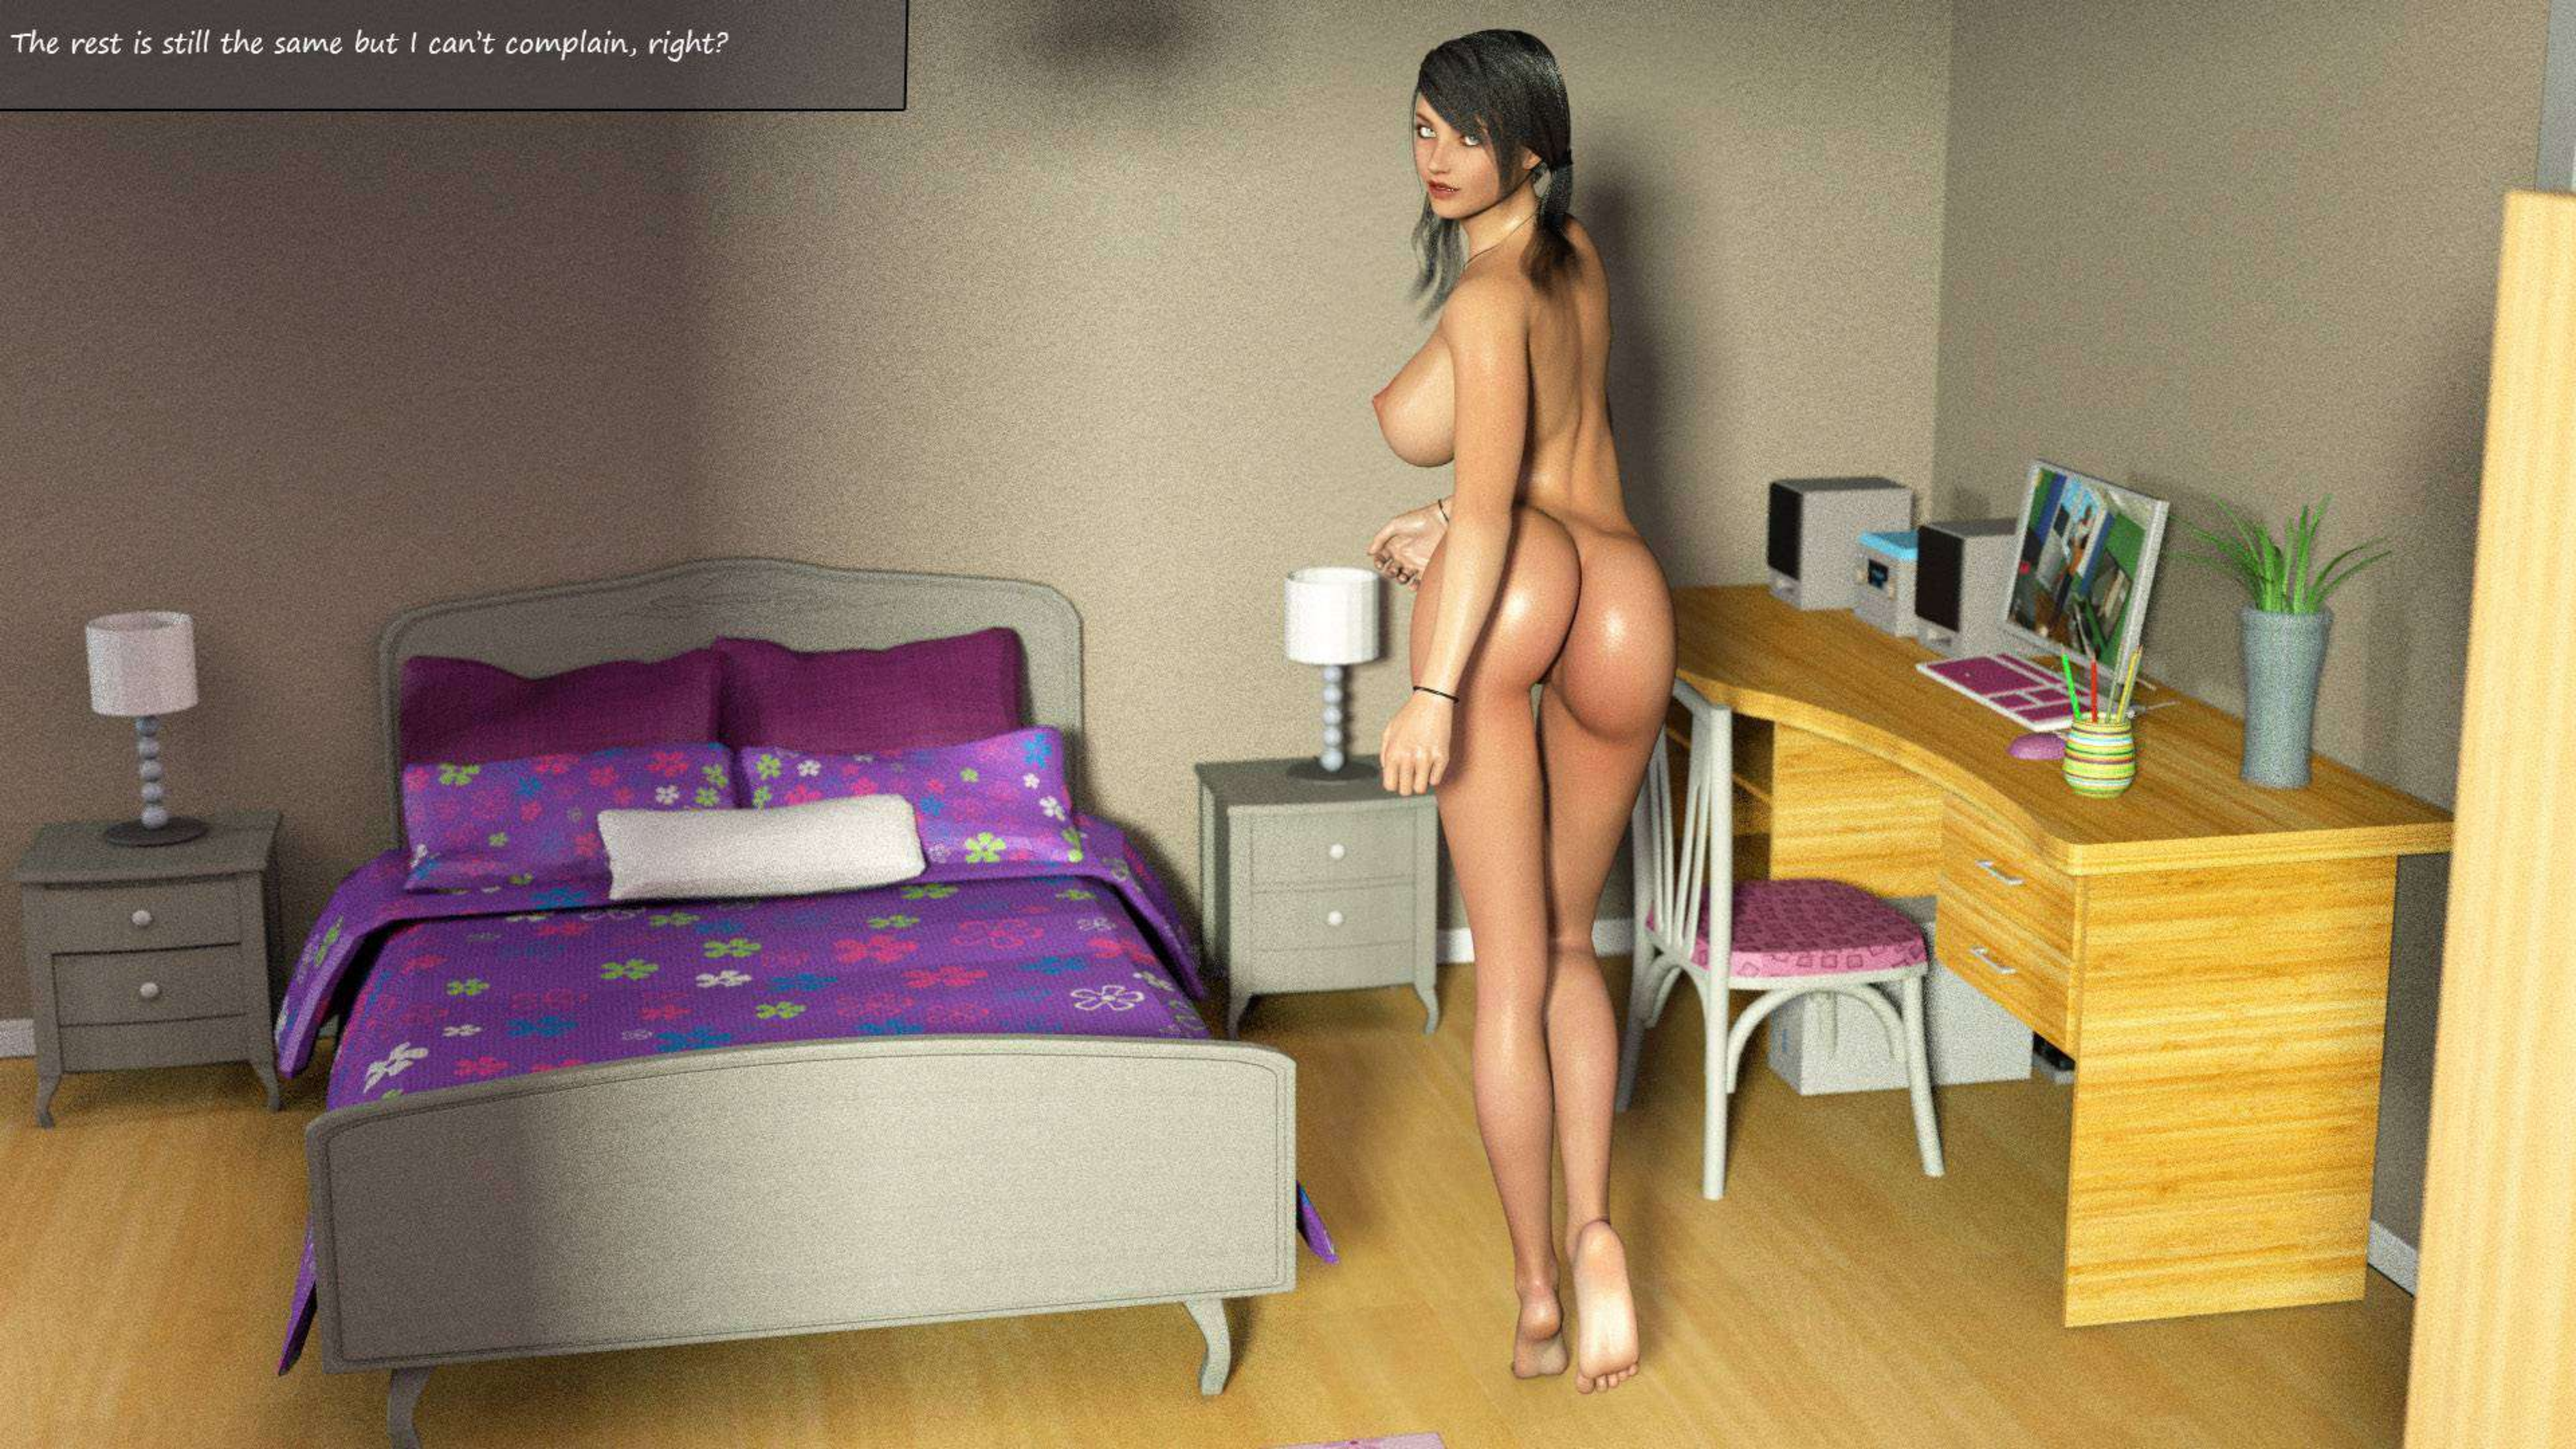

Isn't he the cutest little thing?
See you next month!

Dear Diary,
A lot of months have passed and when I watch the first pages I barely recognize me. Soon I won't be able to walk straight under this door.

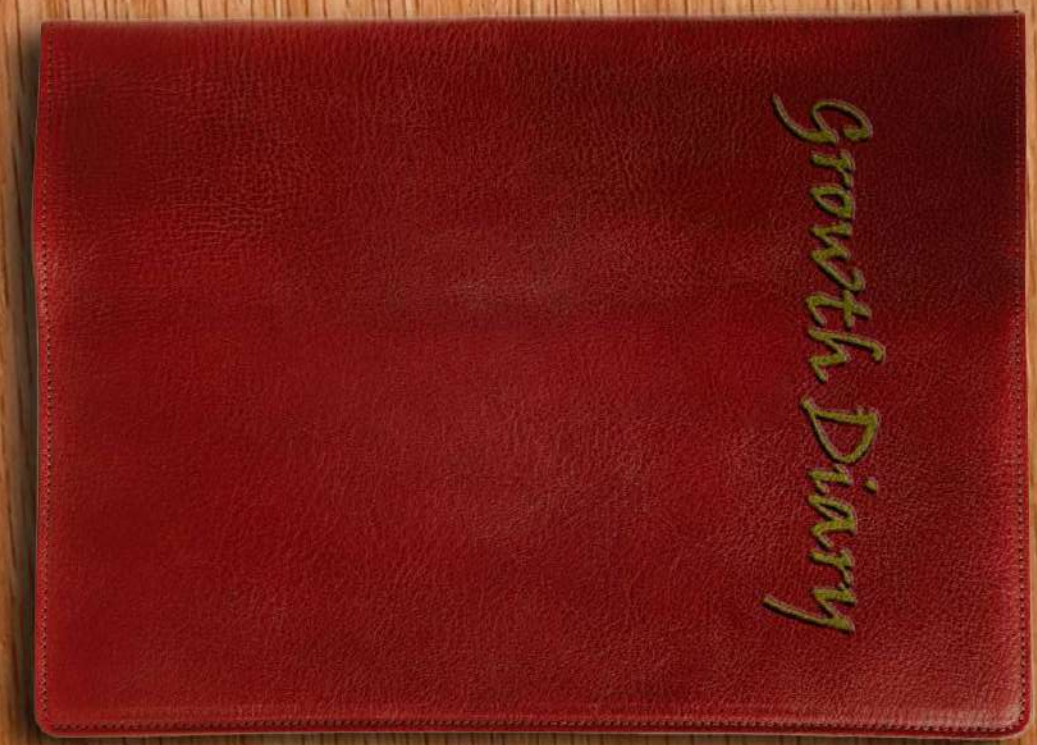

I'm now 6'7'' and look how small the bed looks now. When I sleep I've always to stay crouched.

My breasts little by little are growing too as you can see... I'm happy of them, they are really beautiful.

The rest is still the same but I can't complain, right?

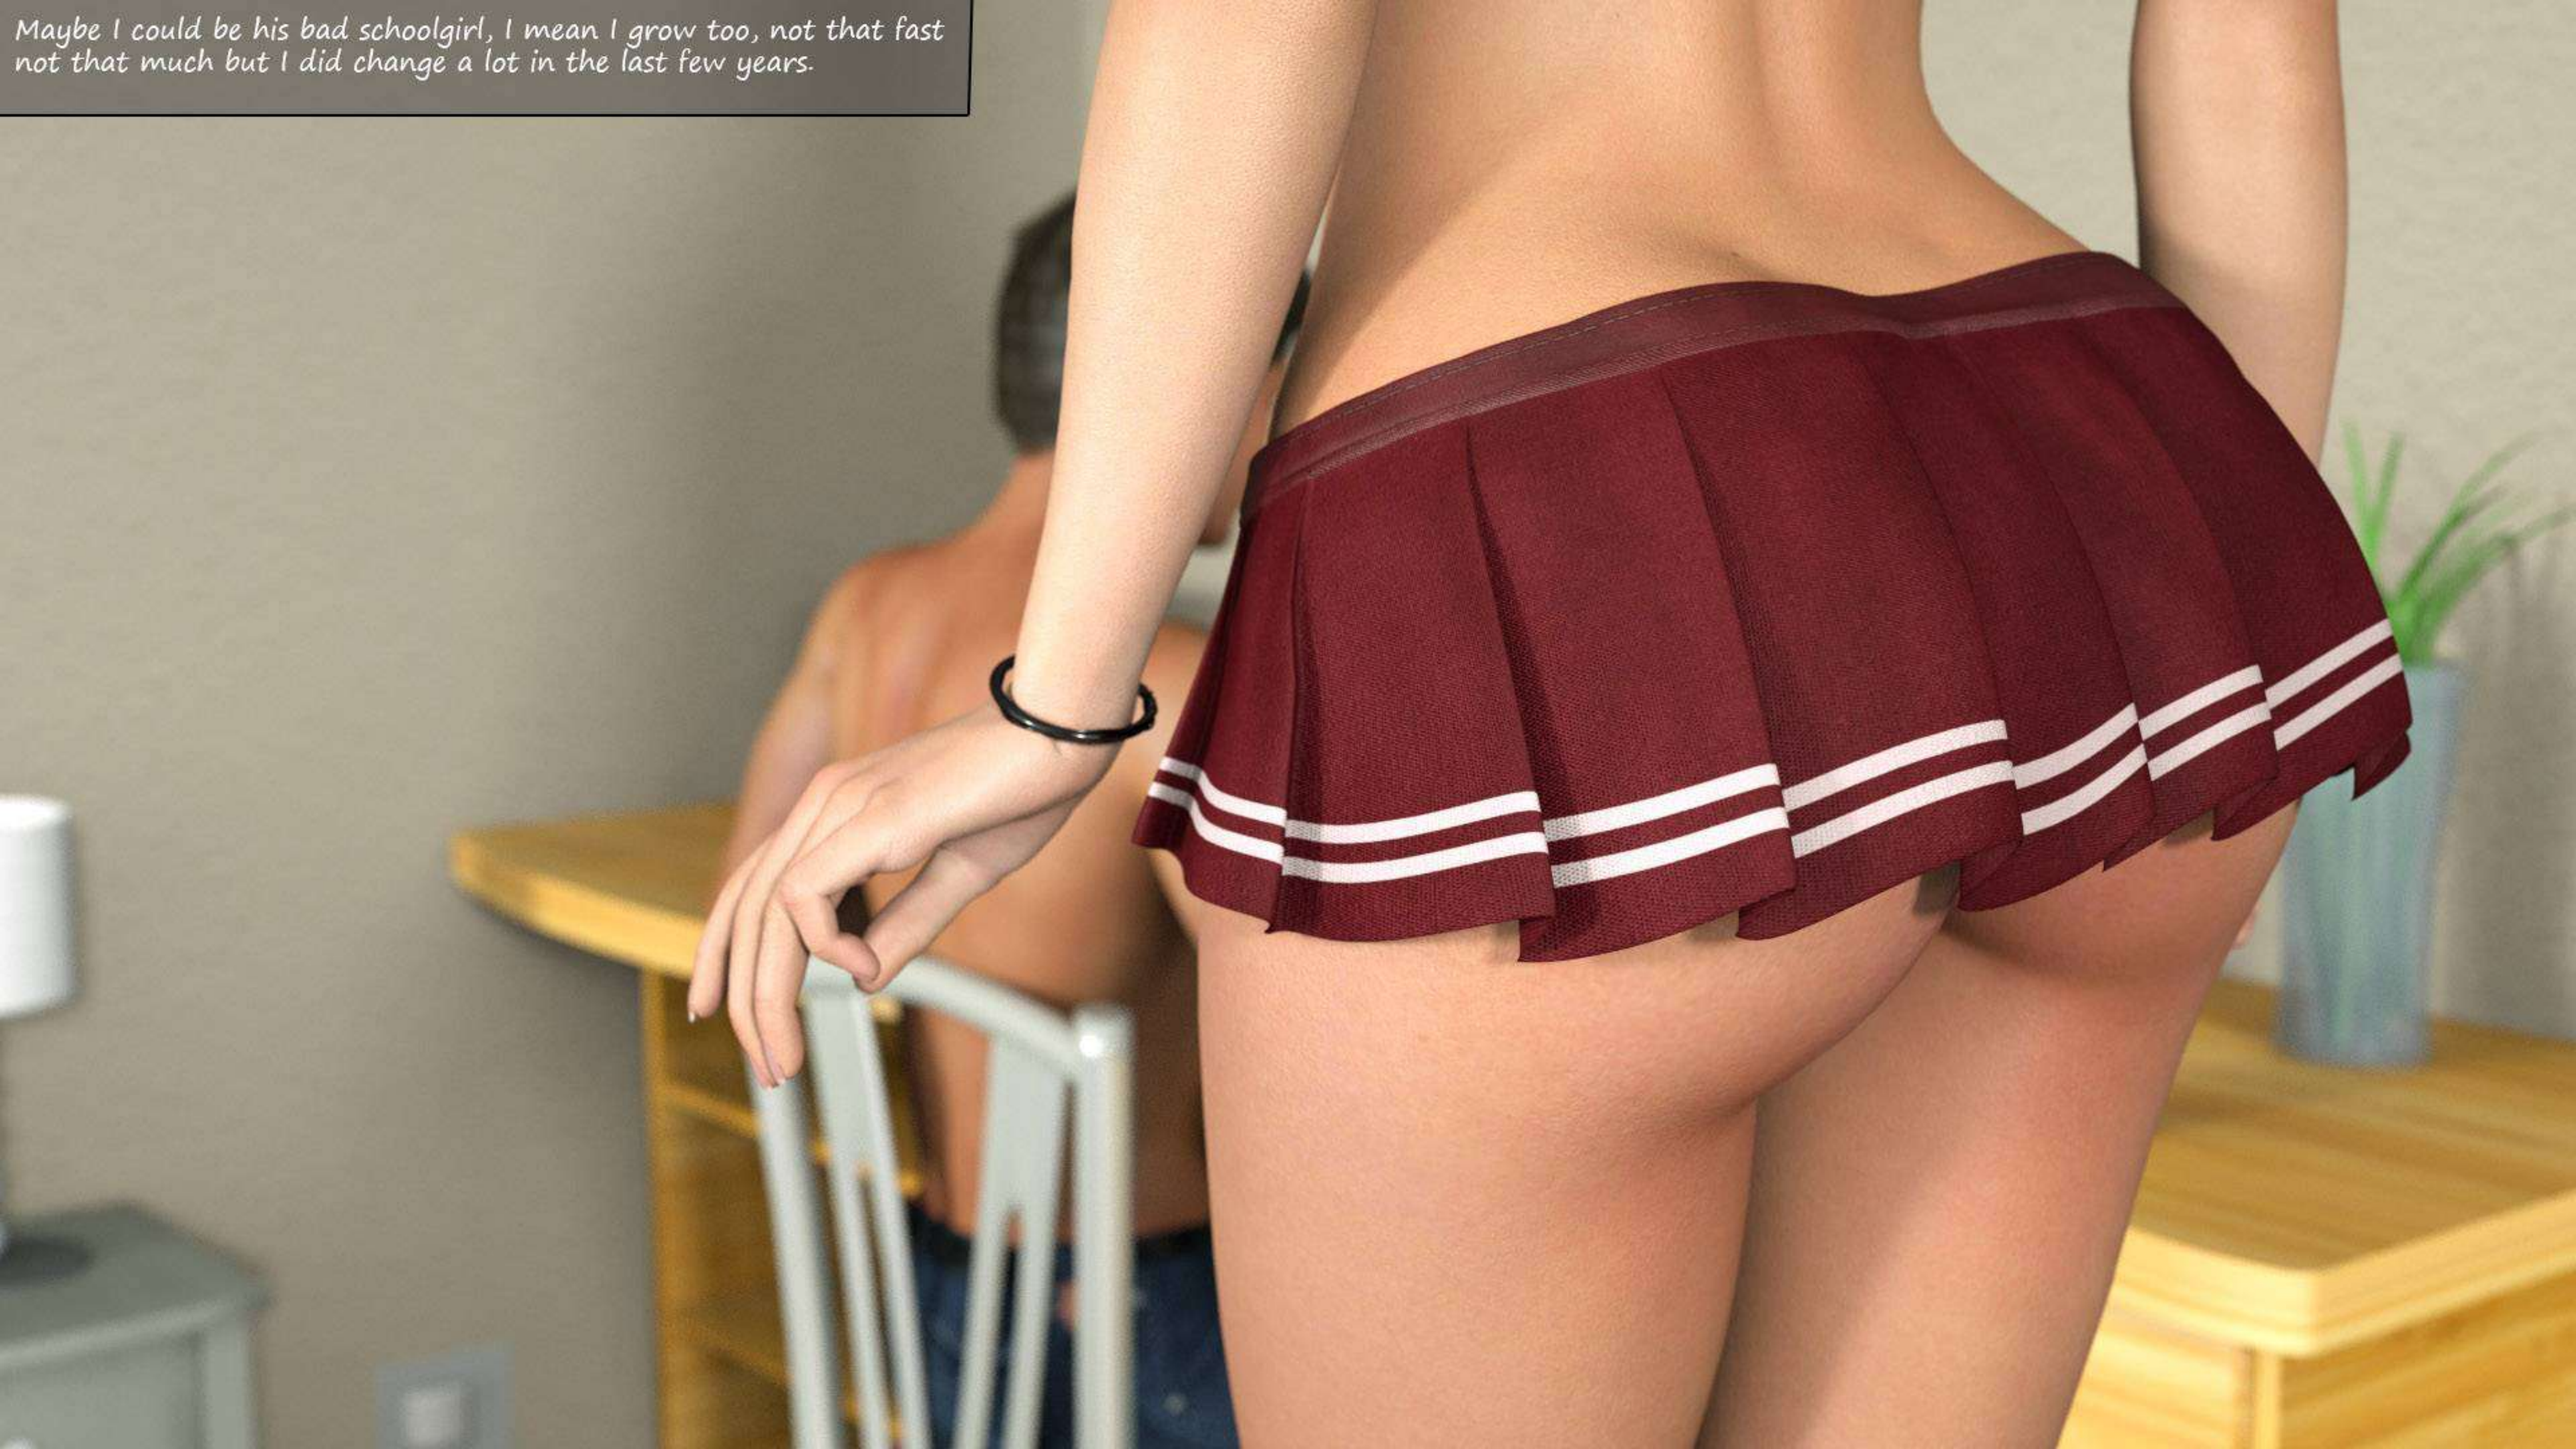

Here this thought struck me: "Wait, what would happen if also my ass won't stop growing? Would I become a fat ass girl?!?"

Dear Diary,
my boyfriend is crazy with this "B.A.D. Schoogirls" story.
I didn't know what to do, until now...
B.A.D.
School Girls

Maybe I could be his bad schoolgirl, I mean I grow too, not that fast not that much but I did change a lot in the last few years.

He was quite pleased to see me dressed like this. I must admit that skirt and tie looked good on me.

I asked him to stand up to see if I had grown.

He was quite suprised to see me this tall, I had to admit I had one ace in my sleeve.

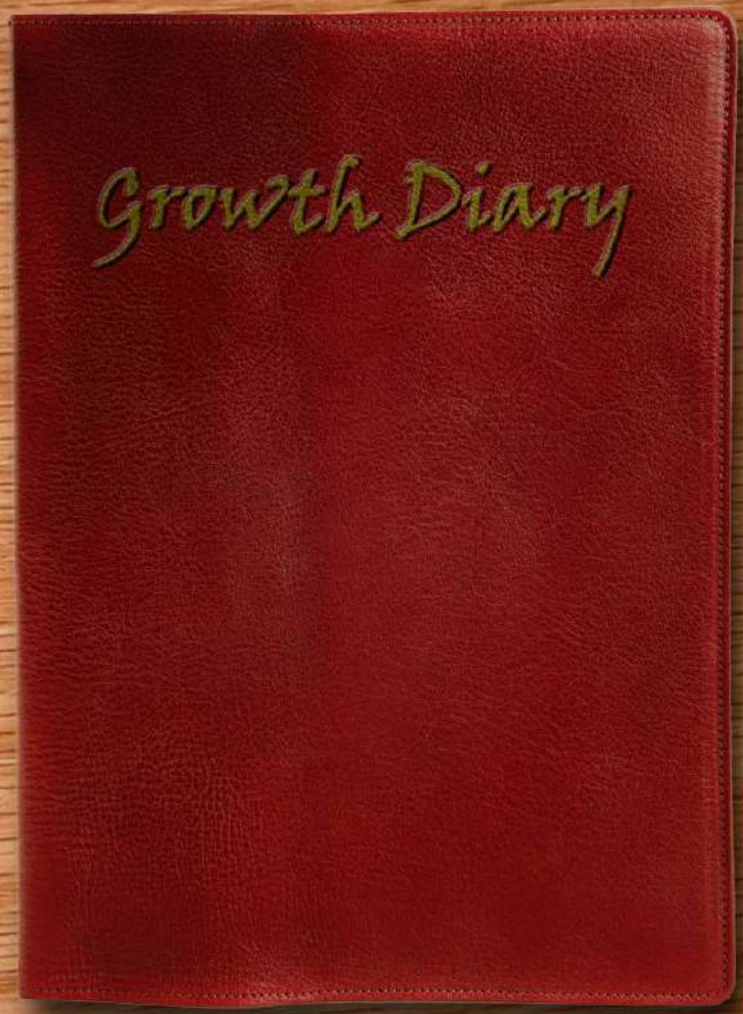

Or to be more precise: I had heels under my feet!

Without heels I'm almost 6'8, I could reach it if I stretch enough!
Anyway when I wear heels he sure becomes my little one!

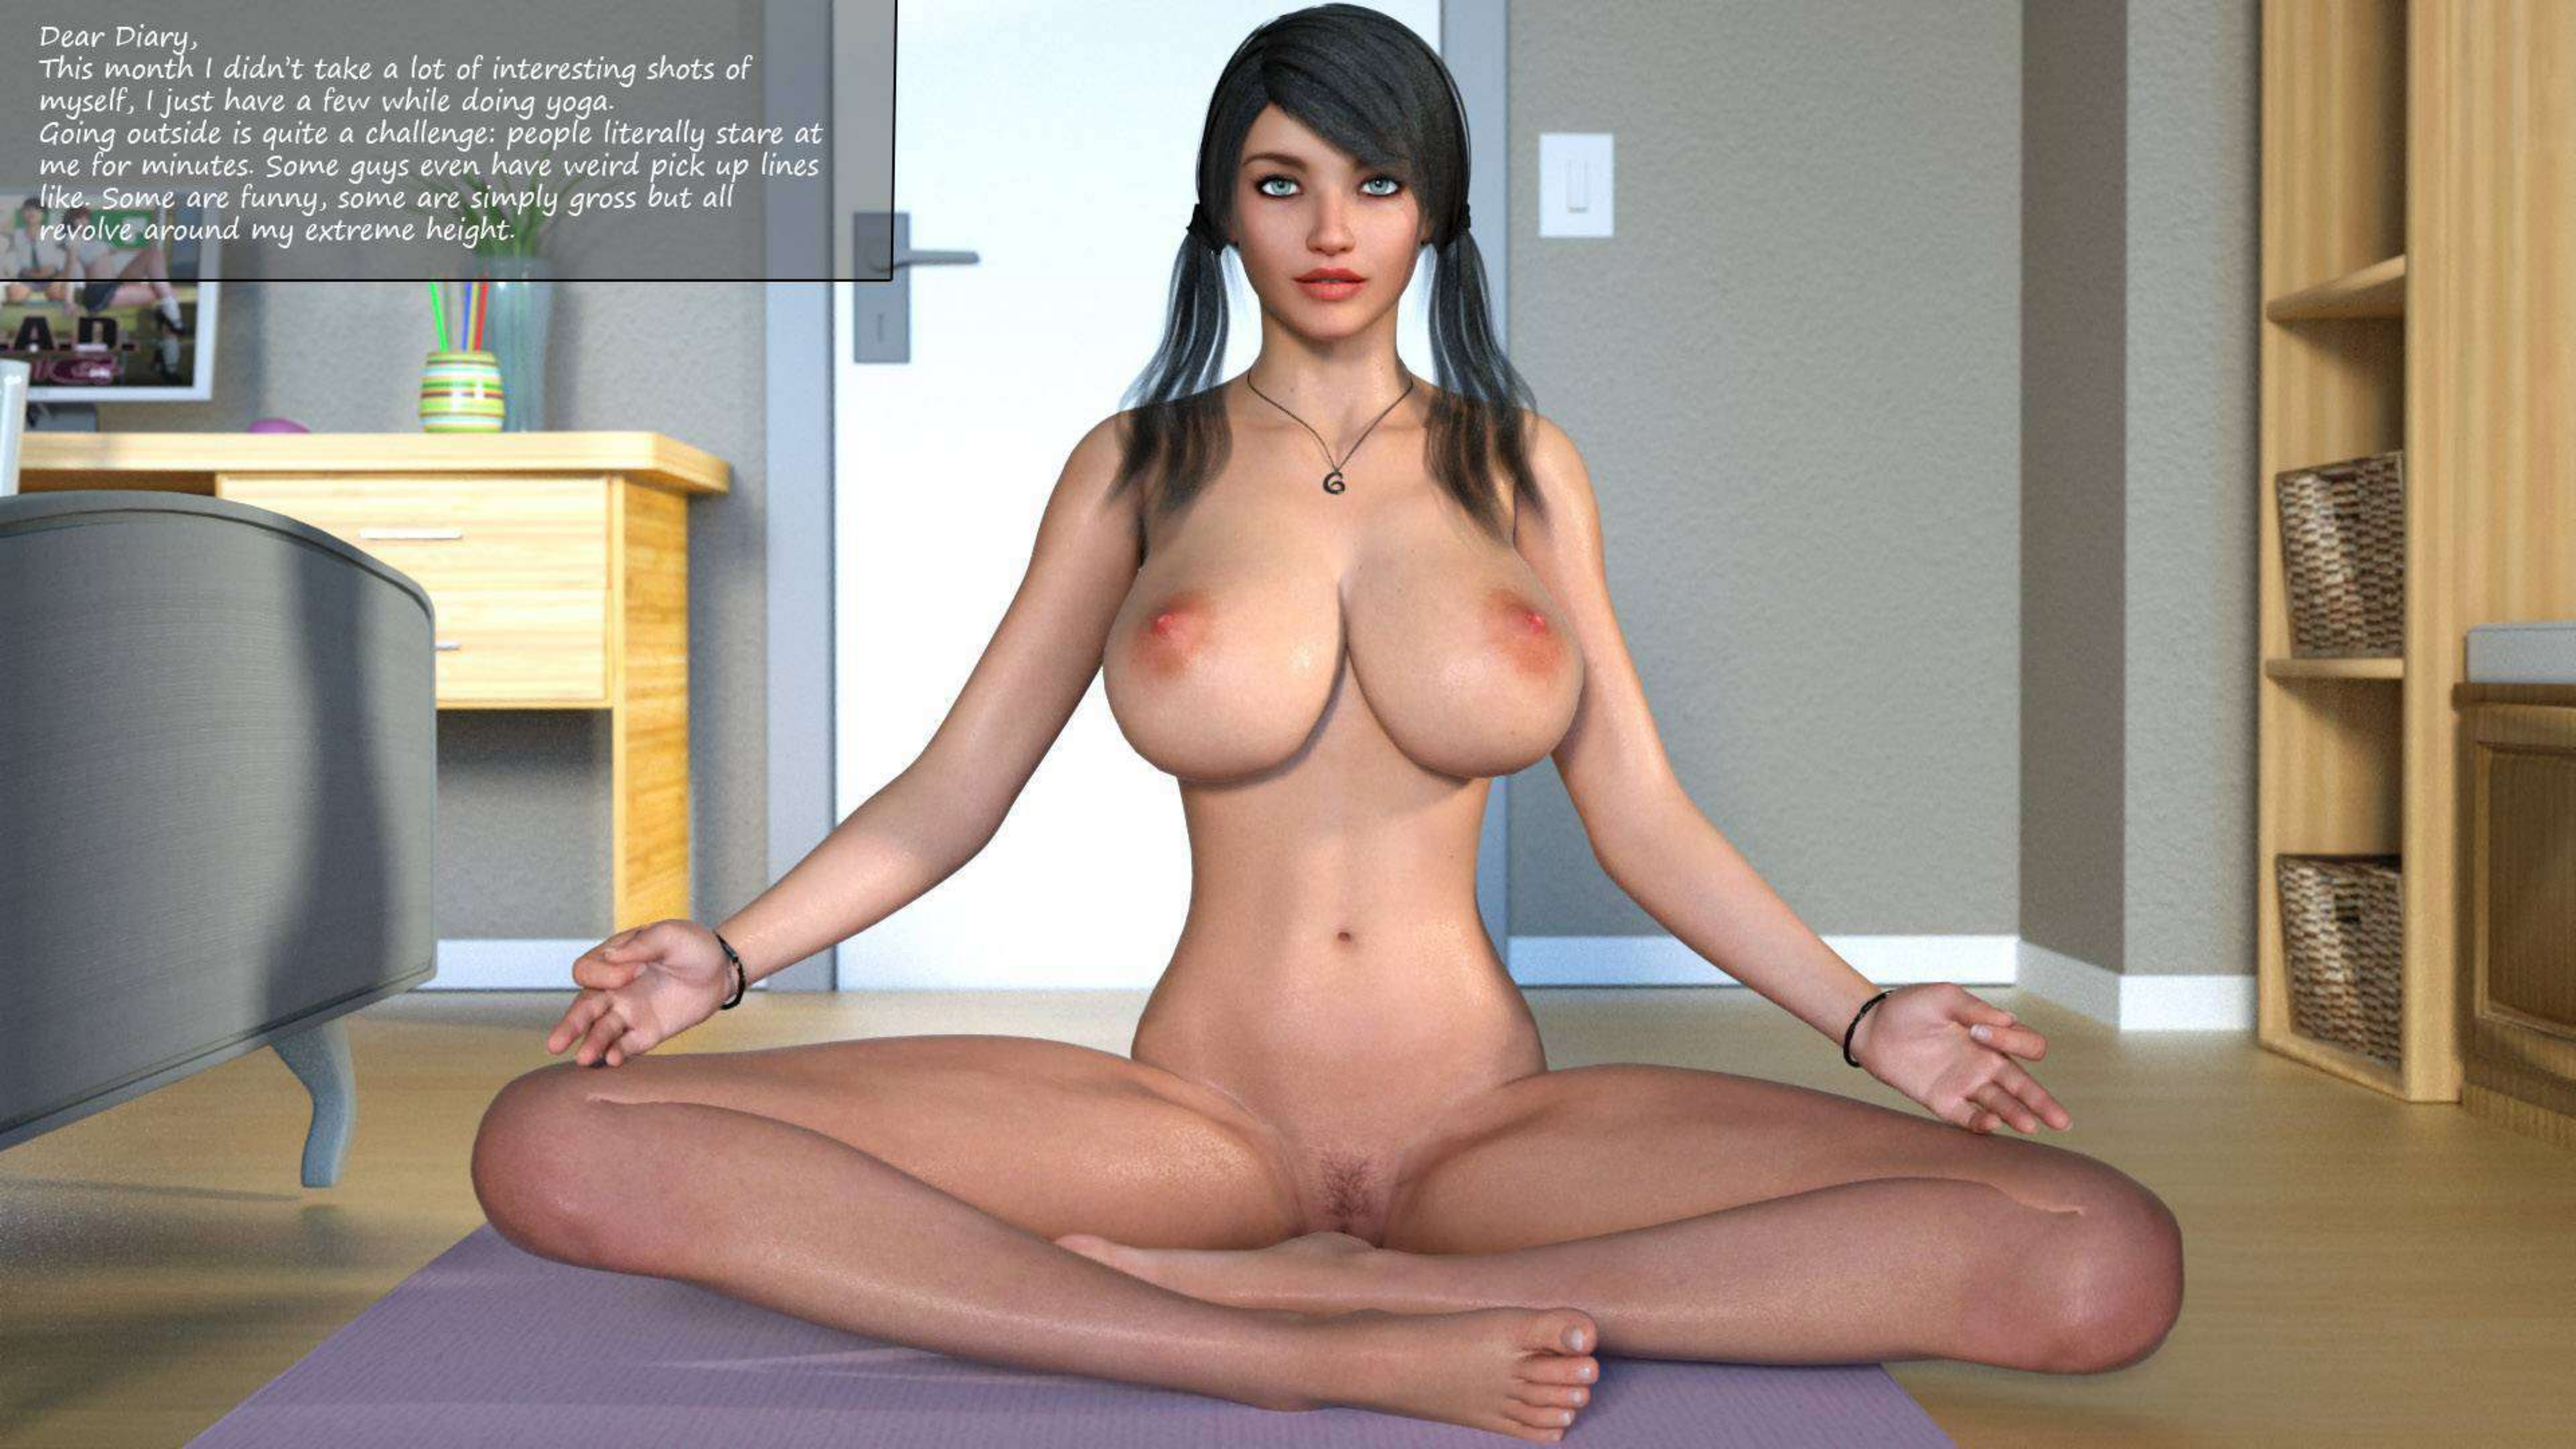

He enjoyed my initiative quite a lot.
Being a schoolgirl isn't that bad!

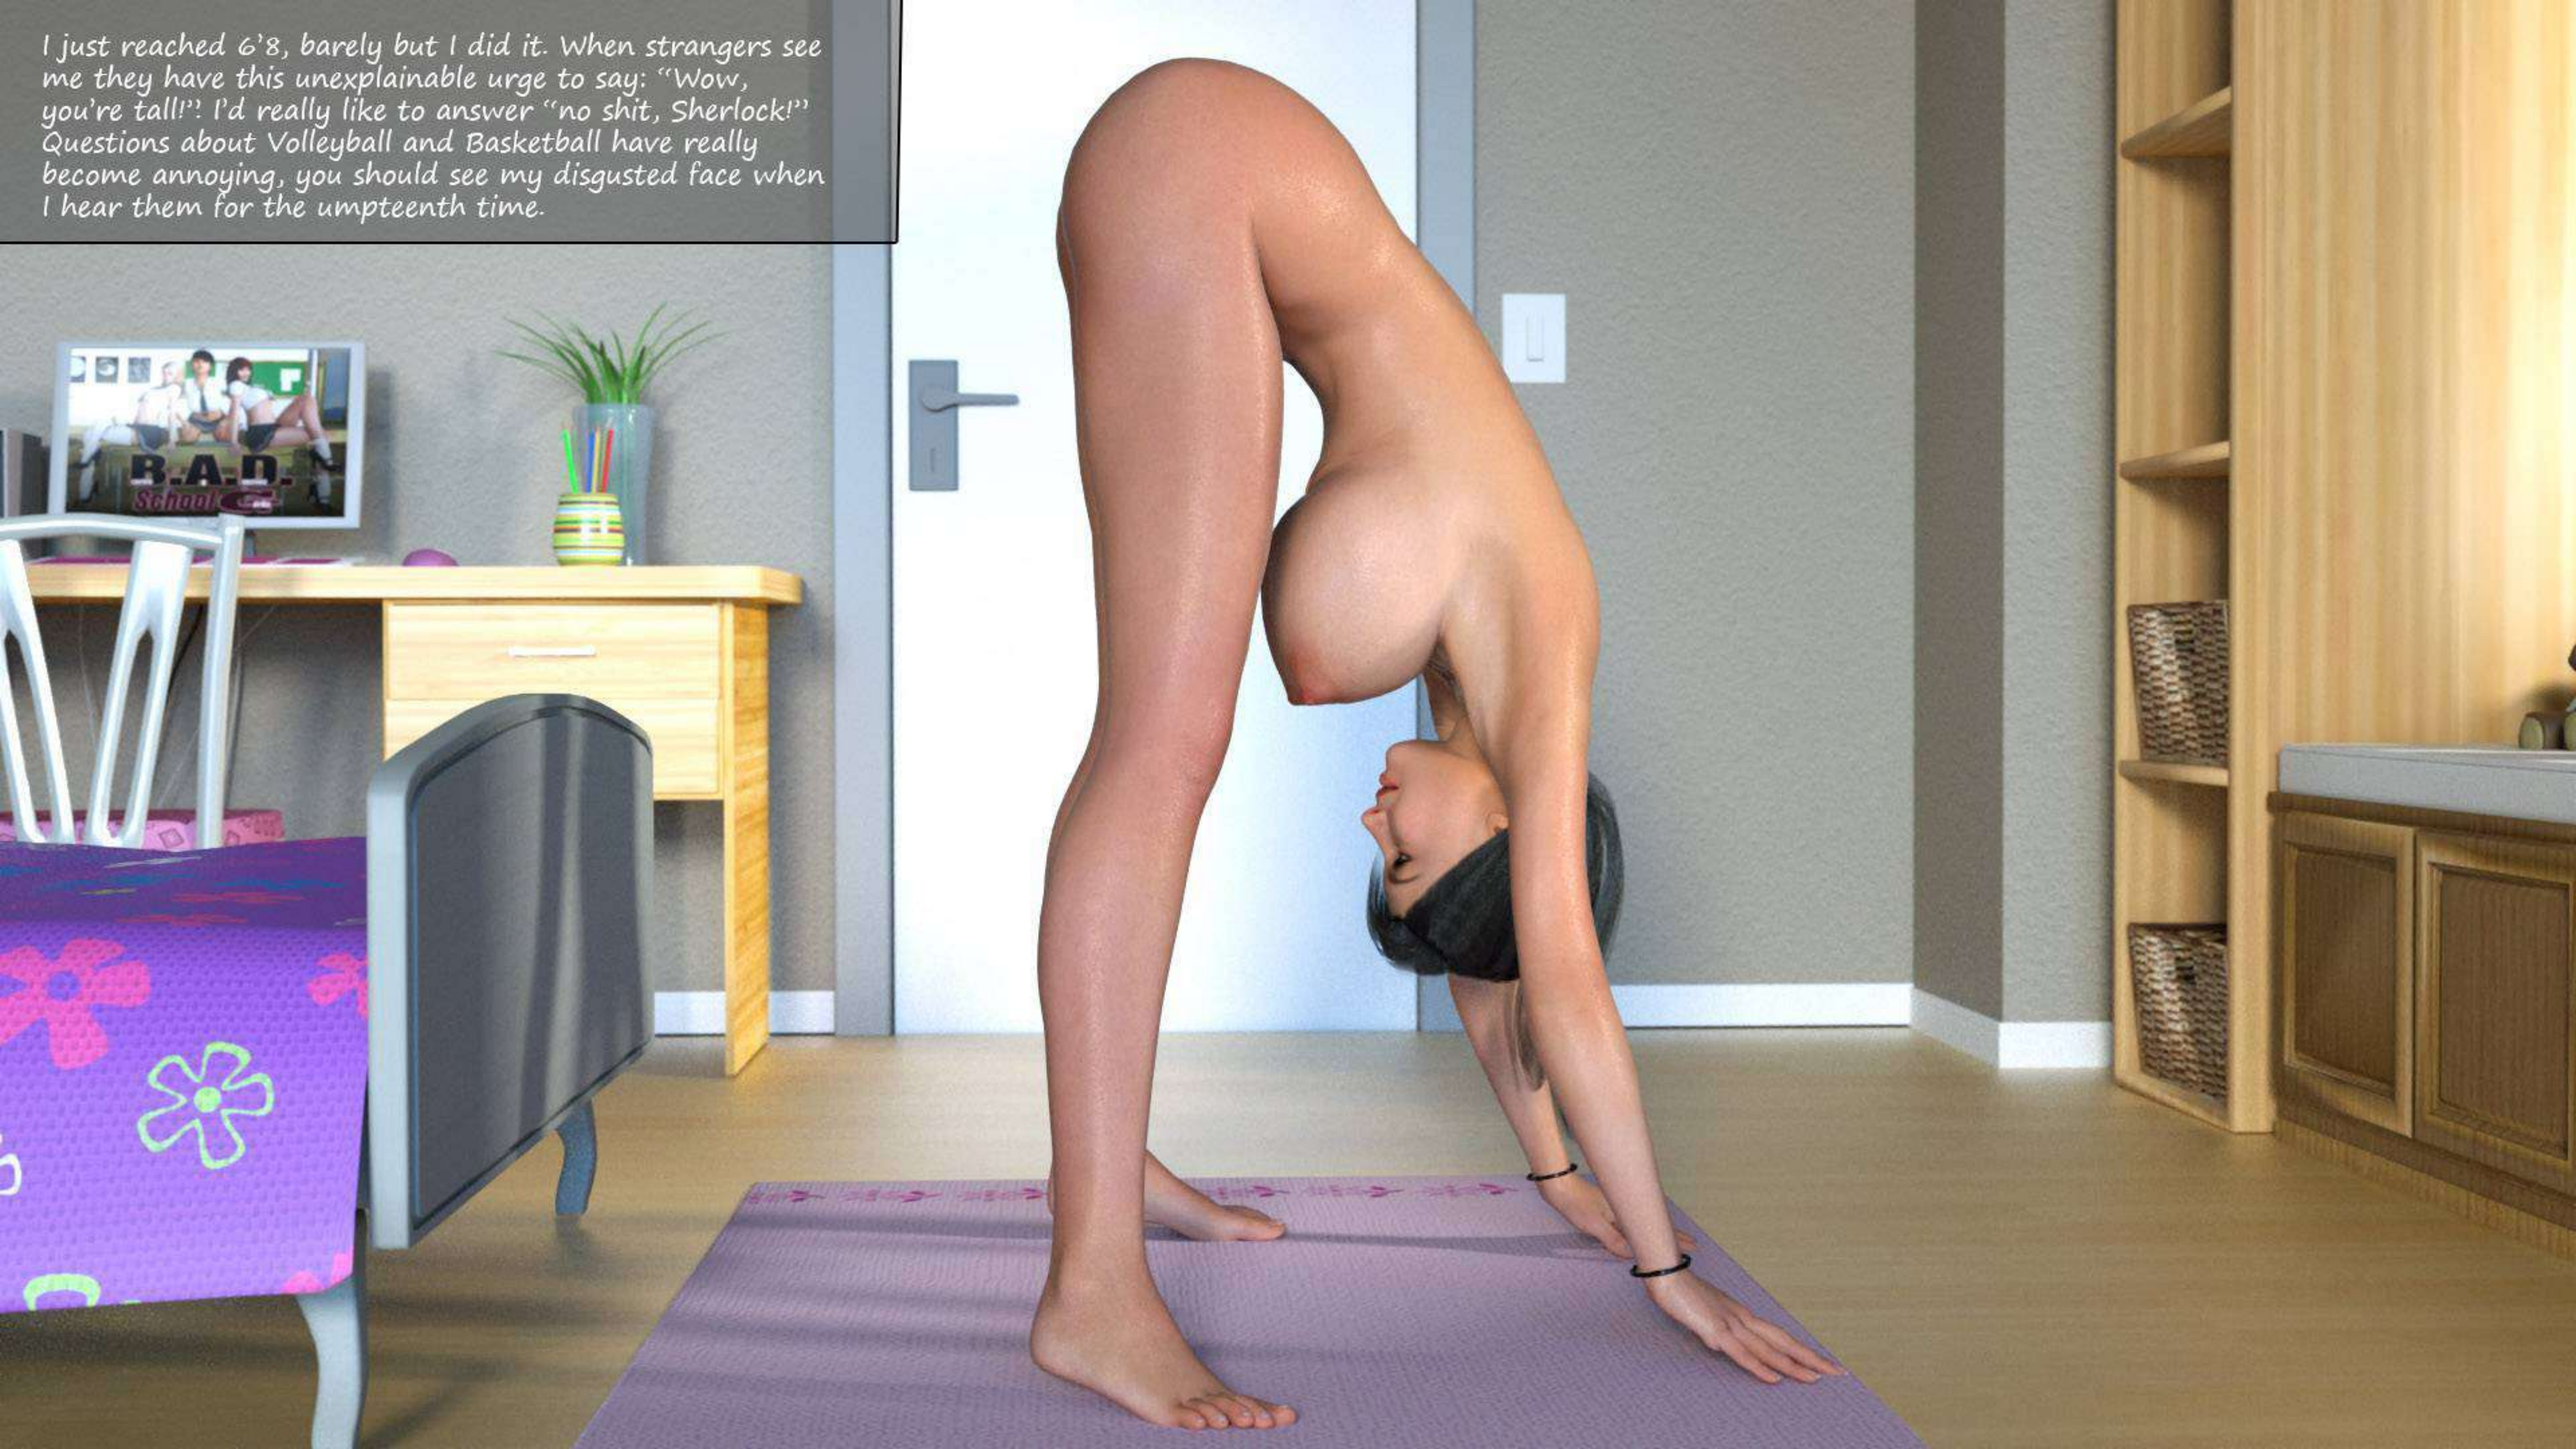

This is just a bonus shot!
See you next month!

2015

Dear Diary,
This month I didn't take a lot of interesting shots of myself, I just have a few while doing yoga.
Going outside is quite a challenge: people literally stare at me for minutes. Some guys even have weird pick up lines like. Some are funny, some are simply gross but all revolve around my extreme height.

I just reached 6'8, barely but I did it. When strangers see me they have this unexplainable urge to say: "Wow, you're tall!": I'd really like to answer "no shit, Sherlock!" Questions about Volleyball and Basketball have really become annoying, you should see my disgusted face when I hear them for the umpteenth time.
B.A.D.

I like to think that whatever the future holds for me is going to be interesting. Despite the comments and everything I'm going to be one of if not the tallest woman on earth. I'm going to be a Guinness World Record: Rebecca Safferstone, world's tallest woman. It sounds so good!

Dear Diary,
This is me hugging my boyfriend, who's five inches shorter! It's unusual having a boyfriend shorter than you, and even more unusual when stands six feet and three inches tall! I'm now somewhere above 6'8" so if we want to be picky we're a bit more than five inches apart!

This is our actual difference but...

What if I grow more and more

and more

That's more like it,
I like this difference much more!

But you know me dear diary, this isn't real (for now!).

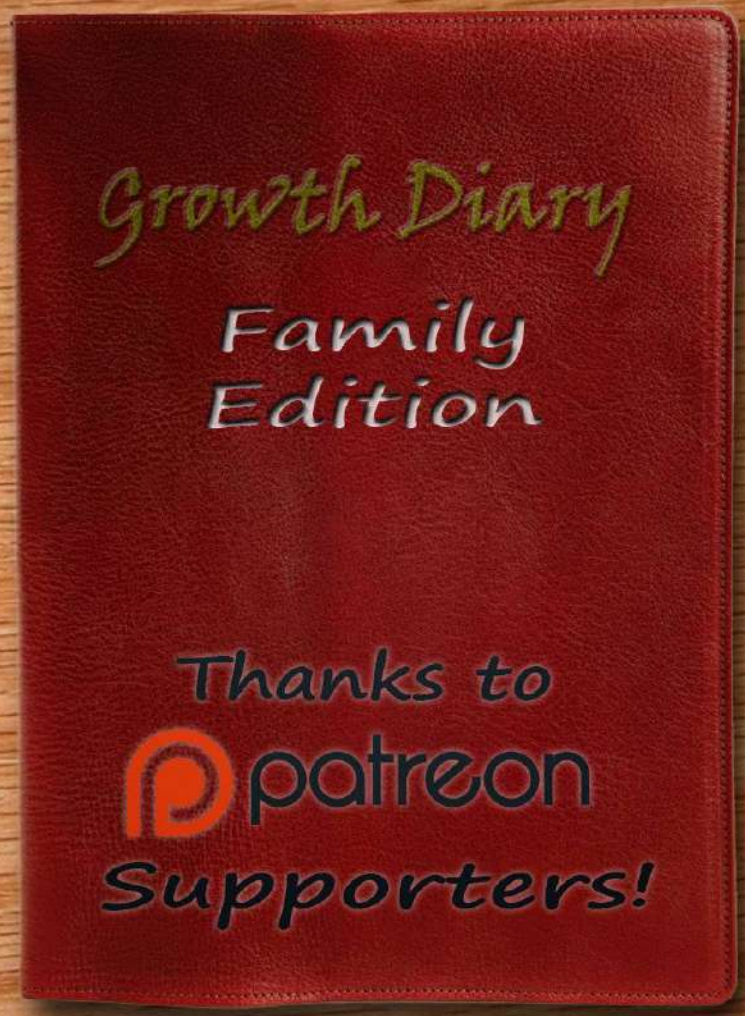

MAY

Dear Diary,
This is my puzzled expression when I wondered why I didn't grow at all this month. Not a single change in my body, nothing at all! Why? I was so happy to grow, now this might be the end.

Sure I'm happy about my body now: I stand above almost everybody, but wasn't I supposed to grow forever? This is the first time I didn't grow at all, not even in my chest or anywhere else! I measured them all!

Do you think I still have hope to grow?
Or will this be my last entry?

JUNE

2015

Dear Diary,

this month I want to show you something different, For this reason we've to go back in time, in 2012

If you noticed most of the times in June I never wrote an entry. That's because June is the month where I get pictures with my family. We like to keep track of the time that changes us and maybe having something hanging on the walls of our living room. I'm not going to show you the most serious ones, just the one I can tell you a story about. We place a camera always in the same place and we make it automatically shoots a few pictures.

As you can see this is my family, in order we have my dad, my mom and my brother Steve.

The first thing you might notice is how small I was in 2012, I was exactly 4 feet and 11 inches tall and I've recently notice changes on my body like my breasts going from flat to B cup and my height having gained 1 inch in a matter of weeks. It was a bit odd and fast at the age of eighteen so I booked an appointment with the doctor. I still didn't know I was going to be an ever growing girl, hence that disappointed expression on my face.

My brother instead was really confident: he was playing football and going to gym almost every day and at the age of nineteen he had a really nice body and a pretty good height for a guy being six foot tall. He had a girlfriend that is one year older than him, I actually didn't like her. He enjoyed making fun of my height but never being cruel. Yes sometime he was a moron but as I say with my girlfriends what brother isn't?

Danielle, my mom instead was really reserved and unhappy about her body. She wasn't in a good period and had lost her job so she stayed at home and had eaten more than she needed with the consequences of becoming fat. She was 39 years old and she didn't see her future bright, I was going to cheer her up eventually.

Patrick my dad is a good man, he loves my mom no matter what and he is also a very good father to me. He is a chef in a restaurant. The restaurant isn't a classy one but it works serving a lot of meals to the office employees around there. He works a lot for now being our only family income. He was 43 years old.

One year later in 2013 with me being nineteen years old and about 9 inches taller things were getting even. I didn't feel different this time, I earned more confidence and I enjoyed my body even more. I felt good wearing heels even if I was already 5'8. I was happy to have big boobs, well not as big as now but they were already above average.

I noticed something odd about my brother's posture: he was trying to stand as straight as possible to show as much height as possible in the picture. That was odd: I realized he was feeling uncomfortable having me in heels next to him. I was 5'11 with them so he wanted to make sure to look taller than me. He also found his now ex-girlfriend cheating with his football friend so he is not going training from a while. He is staying home most of the time and this is having consequences.

My mother is starting to gain confidence again and she has a new job: she is an employee in a sale department office. I talked a lot with her and she recently started a healthy diet. She has lost some weight already but there is a lot more to go.

My father on the contrary is having some "collateral", as he likes to call it, job problem: he is getting fat. It doesn't matter much, he is happy with it.

I love this 2014 picture, I was waiting to savor this moment from a long time, even before I knew I had my "growth problem". In just 2 years I went from being thirteen inches shorter to being 3 inches taller than my big brother. No matter how tall I am I also enjoy wearing high heels, they are so feminine despite how tall is a girl!

Look at my brother, so pissed because his little 6'3 tall sister is resting her hand on his head. He is going to enjoy his own puns now that I can easily be seven inches taller than him with these heels! He better get use to it, it's been already some months I'm taller than him even without heels.

Mom has continued her healthy diet and now she looks awesome! She gets a lot of attention for being 41 years old, she also looks younger thanks to her new haircut! I think she was somewhat envious of my height and she started to wear high heels too bringing her at 6'1-6'2 slightly taller than my brother (when he wears shoes). When we go to weddings and parties they say that our family is the only one where the girls are taller than the guys. Me and mom enjoy it, my father usually laughs at this because he is proud of us but Steve complains pointing at our tall heels.

Dad is ok with me being taller than him. He said in confidence to me that he has always liked tall girls and that was also a key factor in finding my mom attractive and marry her. I understand that he is very proud of us and he really doesn't mind if I grow taller than life! Now that I think of it he never said no when I asked him money to buy new high heels shoes!

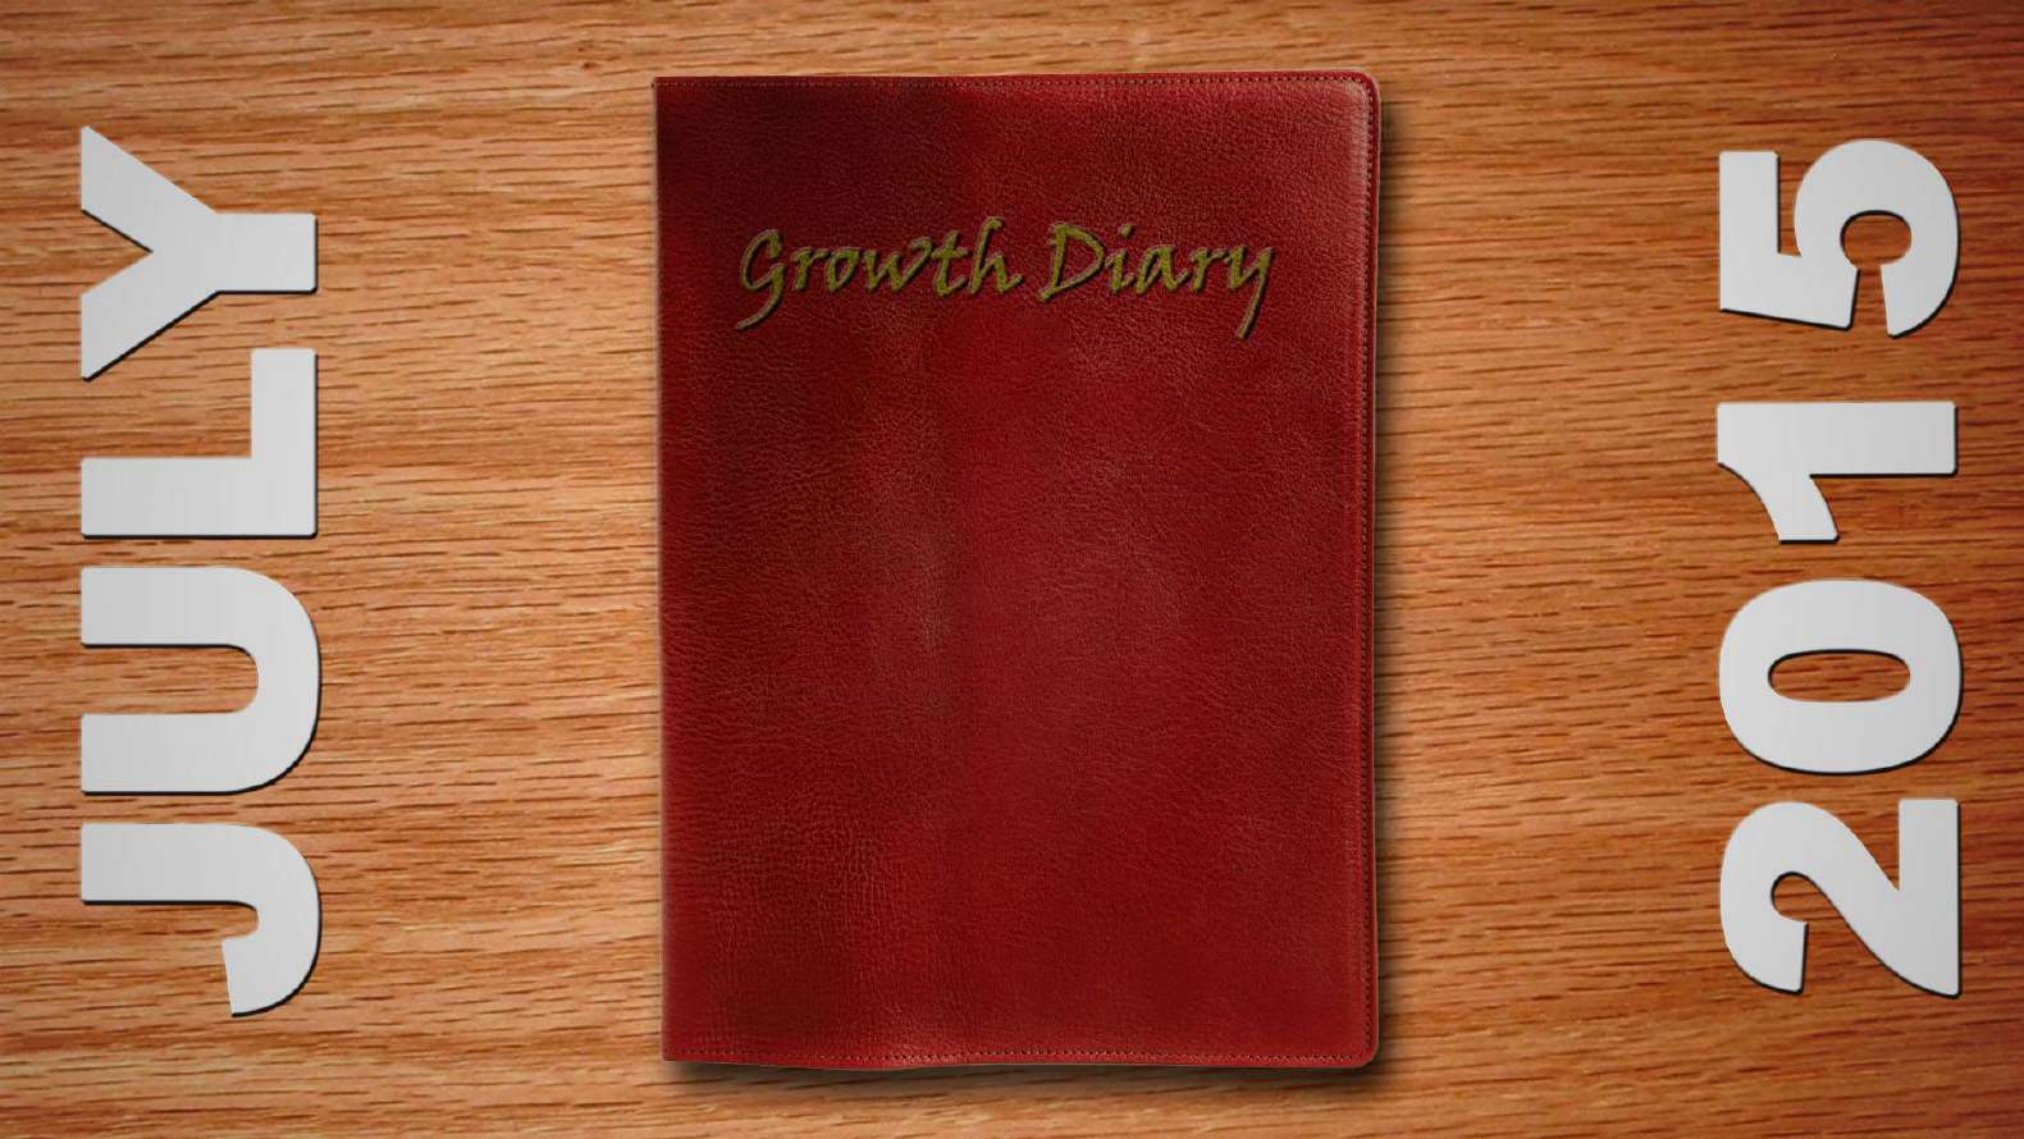

June 2015: I'm getting out of the frame! Haha! I kept this for me till now but my growth didn't stop as I fear! I'm growing again! I'm now 6'9! That's great news, isn't it!? Not much other changes but I don't really mind! Maybe my boobs are a little bigger and more squishy as you can see, hehe!

Look at the intimidated face on my little big brother standing next to his big little sister! That's role reversal for sure! With these heels I'm exactly 15 inches taller than him, it's almost the same difference we had back in 2012! Yes, they make me 7'3, I broke the seven feet barrier, didn't I? My brother has kept being at home, skipping most physical activities and now he is really skinny compared to his younger self. That also might explain why a little push from me to have him closer ended up with his face almost buried into my right boob! He is so light weighted now! It's so nice to have my "little" brother next to me, I should do this more often!

Mom has got a job promotion and now she is the chief of her department! Congratulations to her! That's what women of my family do: they rock! She is keeping her healthy diet and she has lost a little more weight keeping her in a perfect shape! She is also wearing higher heels even more often, she always have the on, also at home she wear sandals that make her taller than my brother. The fun part is that she calls Steve "my little one", he gets pissed while mom and I enjoy this little teasing.

Dad is really fat now, he should consider reducing the "collateral"! Beside that whenever he is home he feels like a lucky man, and of course he is! I don't remember mom being this hot, their relationship has improved and I see they get more intimate and passionate than ever.

Dear Diary this month something unusual happened, my brother insisted that he was almost as tall my boyfriend.

They measured back to back and they started discussing about their difference being significant or not.

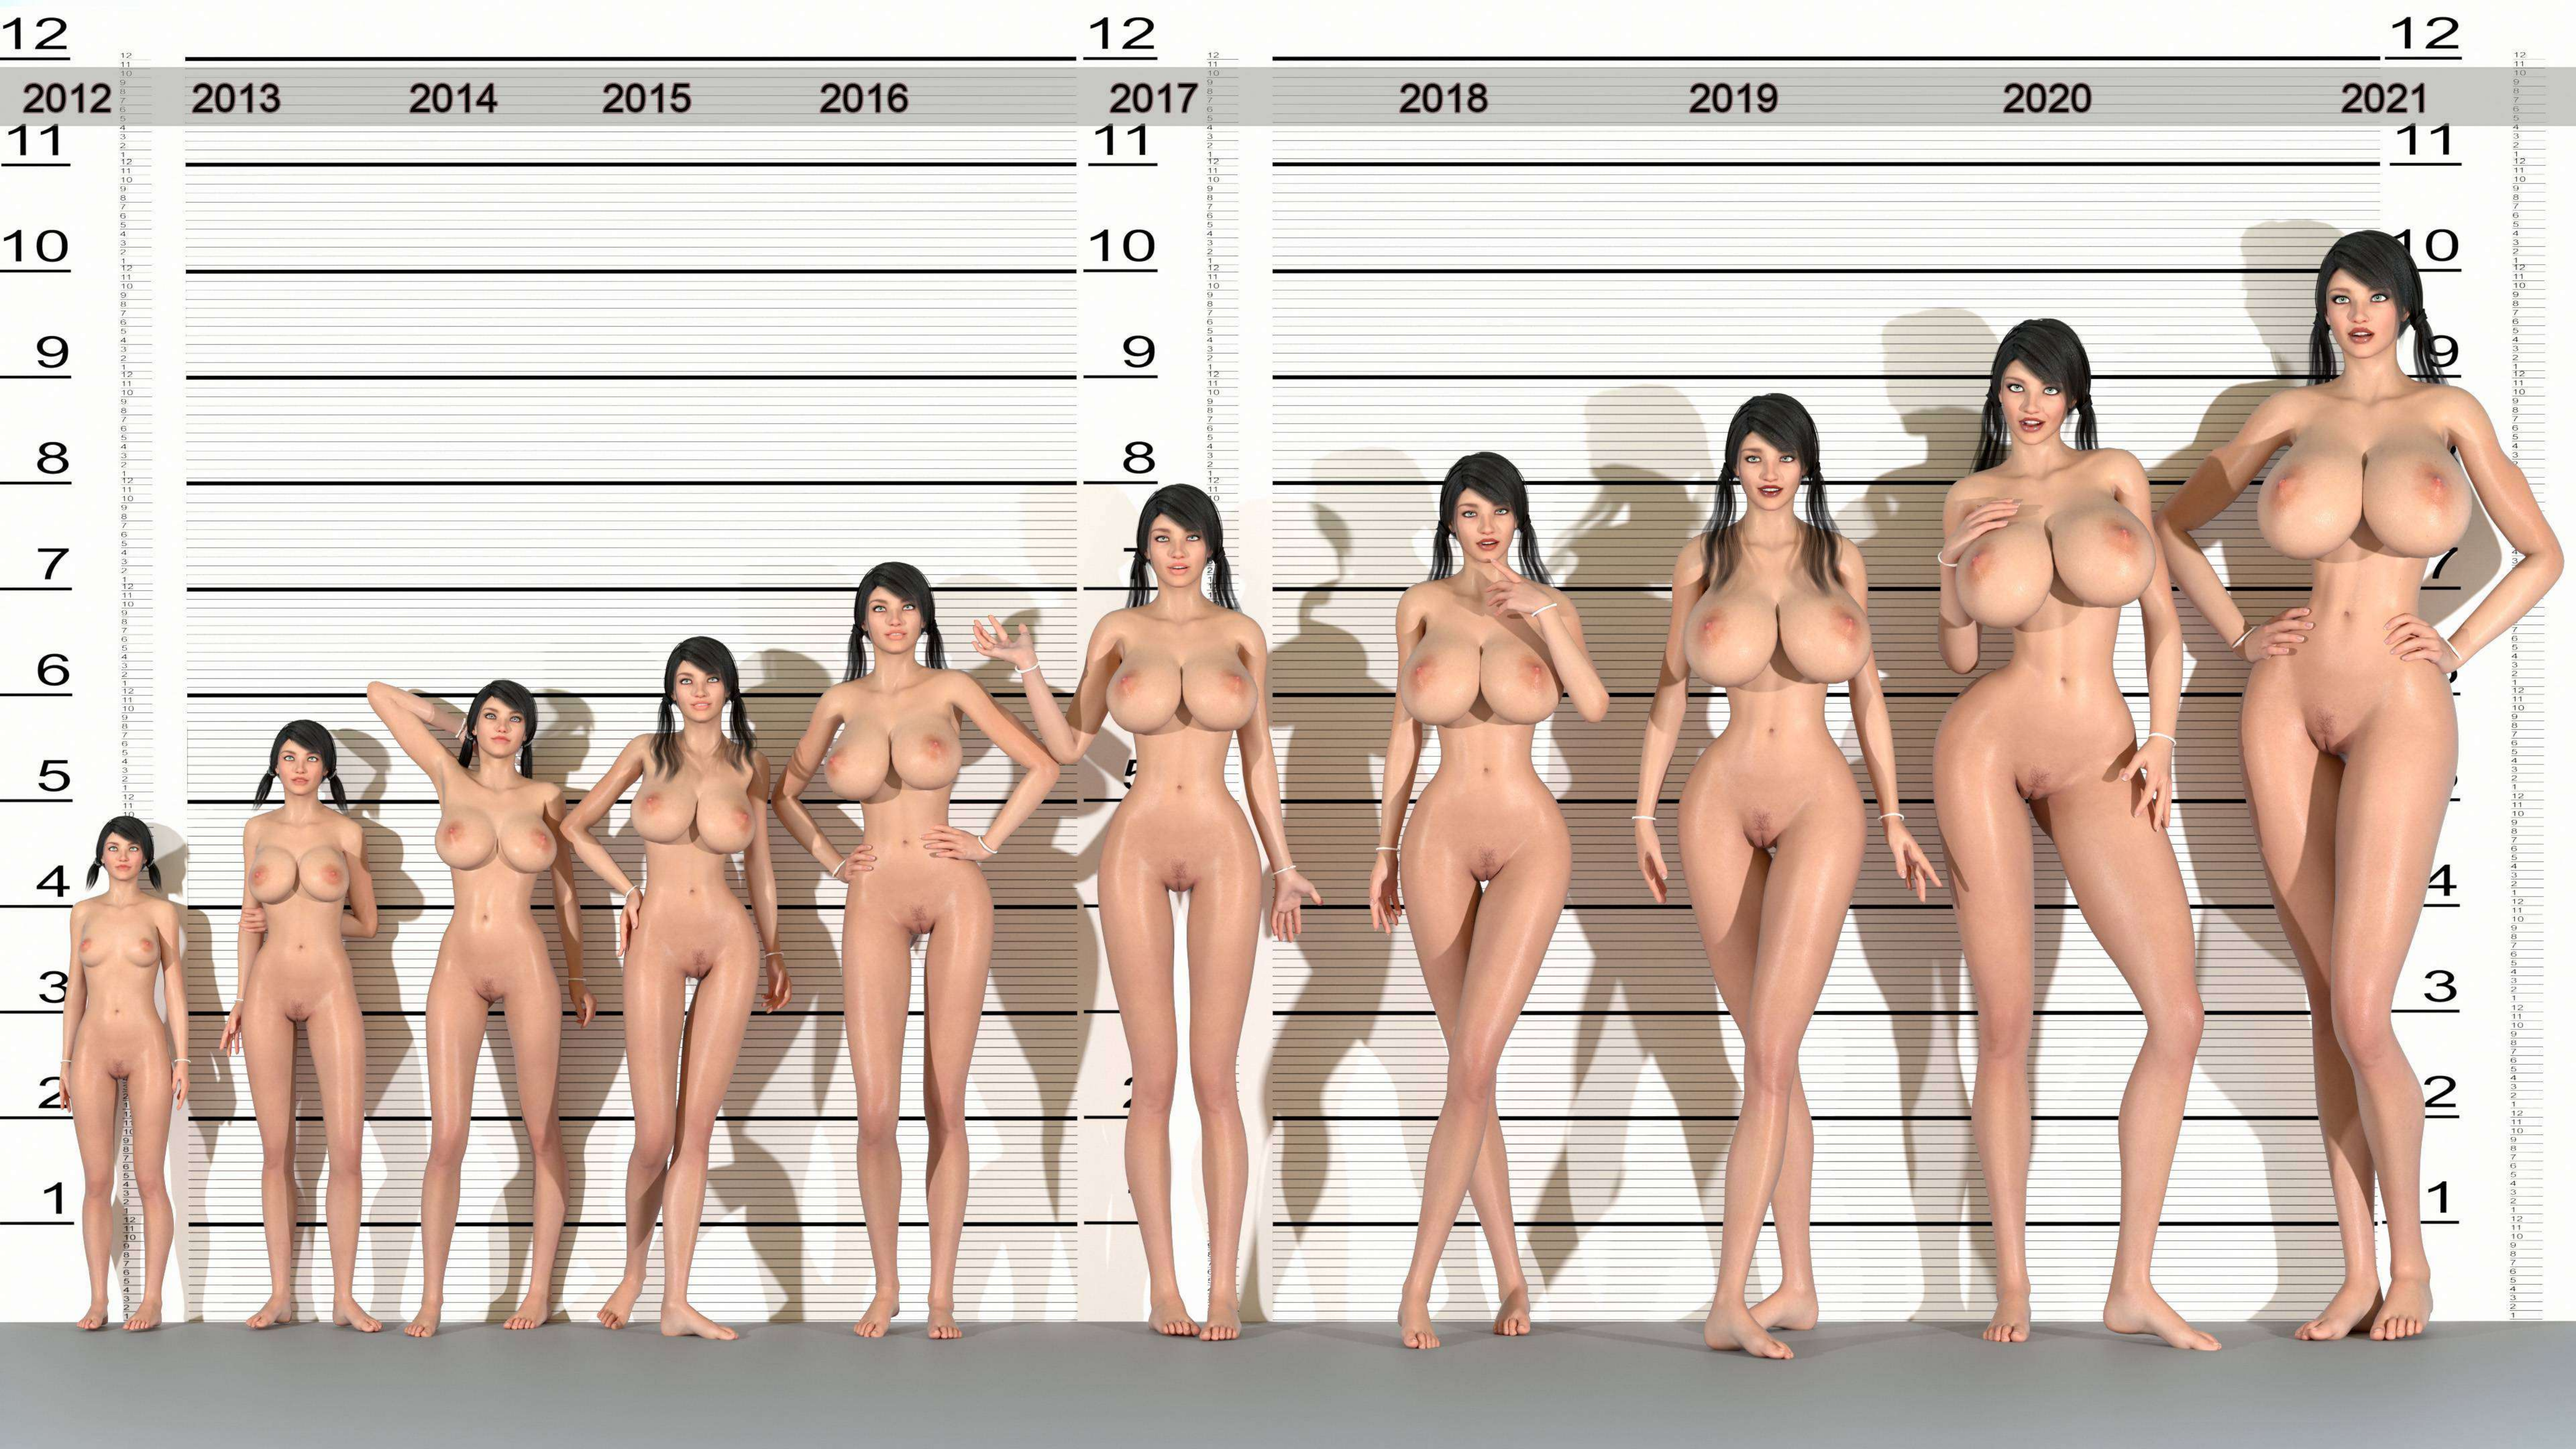

his is so funny to me.
I can easily show them what height difference means.

So le'ts the real tall people come into play!

As you can see my boyfriend is at the same height as my mouth, cute I can now easily give him a goodnight forehead kiss before he leaves.

I was suprised to see my brother that couldn't even rich my chin height anymore! He was a bit pissed also because I wasn't wearing any heels so he didn't have anything to blame!

Oh I also reached the height of 6'10" and as you can see I'm now taller than the doorframe! First time I discovered it I assure you it was really painful! Now I have to duck every time I get in and out of a room!

Good Morning Dear Diary!
When I wake up I know that every time I'm a little bit taller, that I have grown something more.
I usually can't wait to stand up and compare to things especially because this bed is now way too small for my size!

Sometime however I'm so tired that getting up is really difficult. If it was for me I'd sleep 10 or more hours! Is it because of my continuous growth?

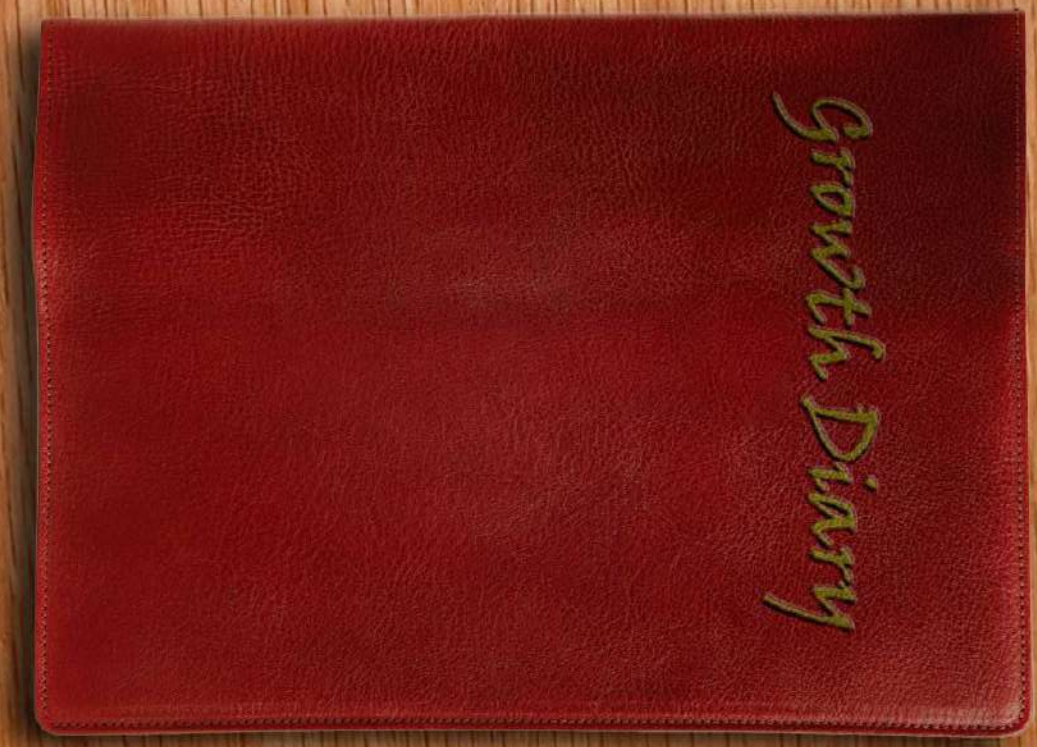

I wonder if I sleep more hours will I grow faster? Maybe I should try experimenting! Of course without exaggerating, I could end up being too tall too fast! I already don't have time to get accustomed to my new height every time!

I'm now 6'11 and on my tiptoe I'm at same height as the chandelier!

If I compare with my boyfriend I can see that my hips are just under his pecs, but there is something more funny for me!

I can bury his head between my tits!

2015

Dear Diary,
finally I reached the 7 foot mark. I'm quite happy, it makes me feel special and unique.
Sure the perspective from here is much different from before and also everybody turn his head when I walk out in the streets.
ALEX GTS ARTIST

I've to take care, I already brushed my head many times against this chandelier, it never happened before. Also guess who's the person responsible to change a light bulb now in this house?
ALEX GTS ARTIST

On my tip toes I can reach the ceiling pretty easily. I guess that painting the ceiling will be also another one of my tasks in this family
ALEX GTS ARTIST

And of course removing the dusts above the shelves and furnitures it's already my job! By the way, this one is still pretty clean!

November 2015
Dear Diary,
this month I want to tell you about how I convinced my brother to check my height. It wasn't easy but it was very funny!

I called him but he didn't want to get inside my room if I was naked or in underwear. What a shy little brother!
I had to wear something else. I was going to surprise him, I was going to wear some clothes but not as he expected.

I changed my clothes and I was waiting for him. Here I want to show you where I've permanently installed this wallpaper with feet and inches to measure me. It will be the most useful thing ever!

As expected he started to complain that my dress was way too revealing and that I Was without a bra. He never told me that I couldn't remove my bra, he just told me to wear some clothes and I did. He better be more precise next time!
All this complaining for a slightly visible innocent nipples was excessive. I started argumenting that the next time I'll see him wearing something that outline his crotch I would ask him to change too, not that there is much to see anyway.
ALEX GTS ARTIST

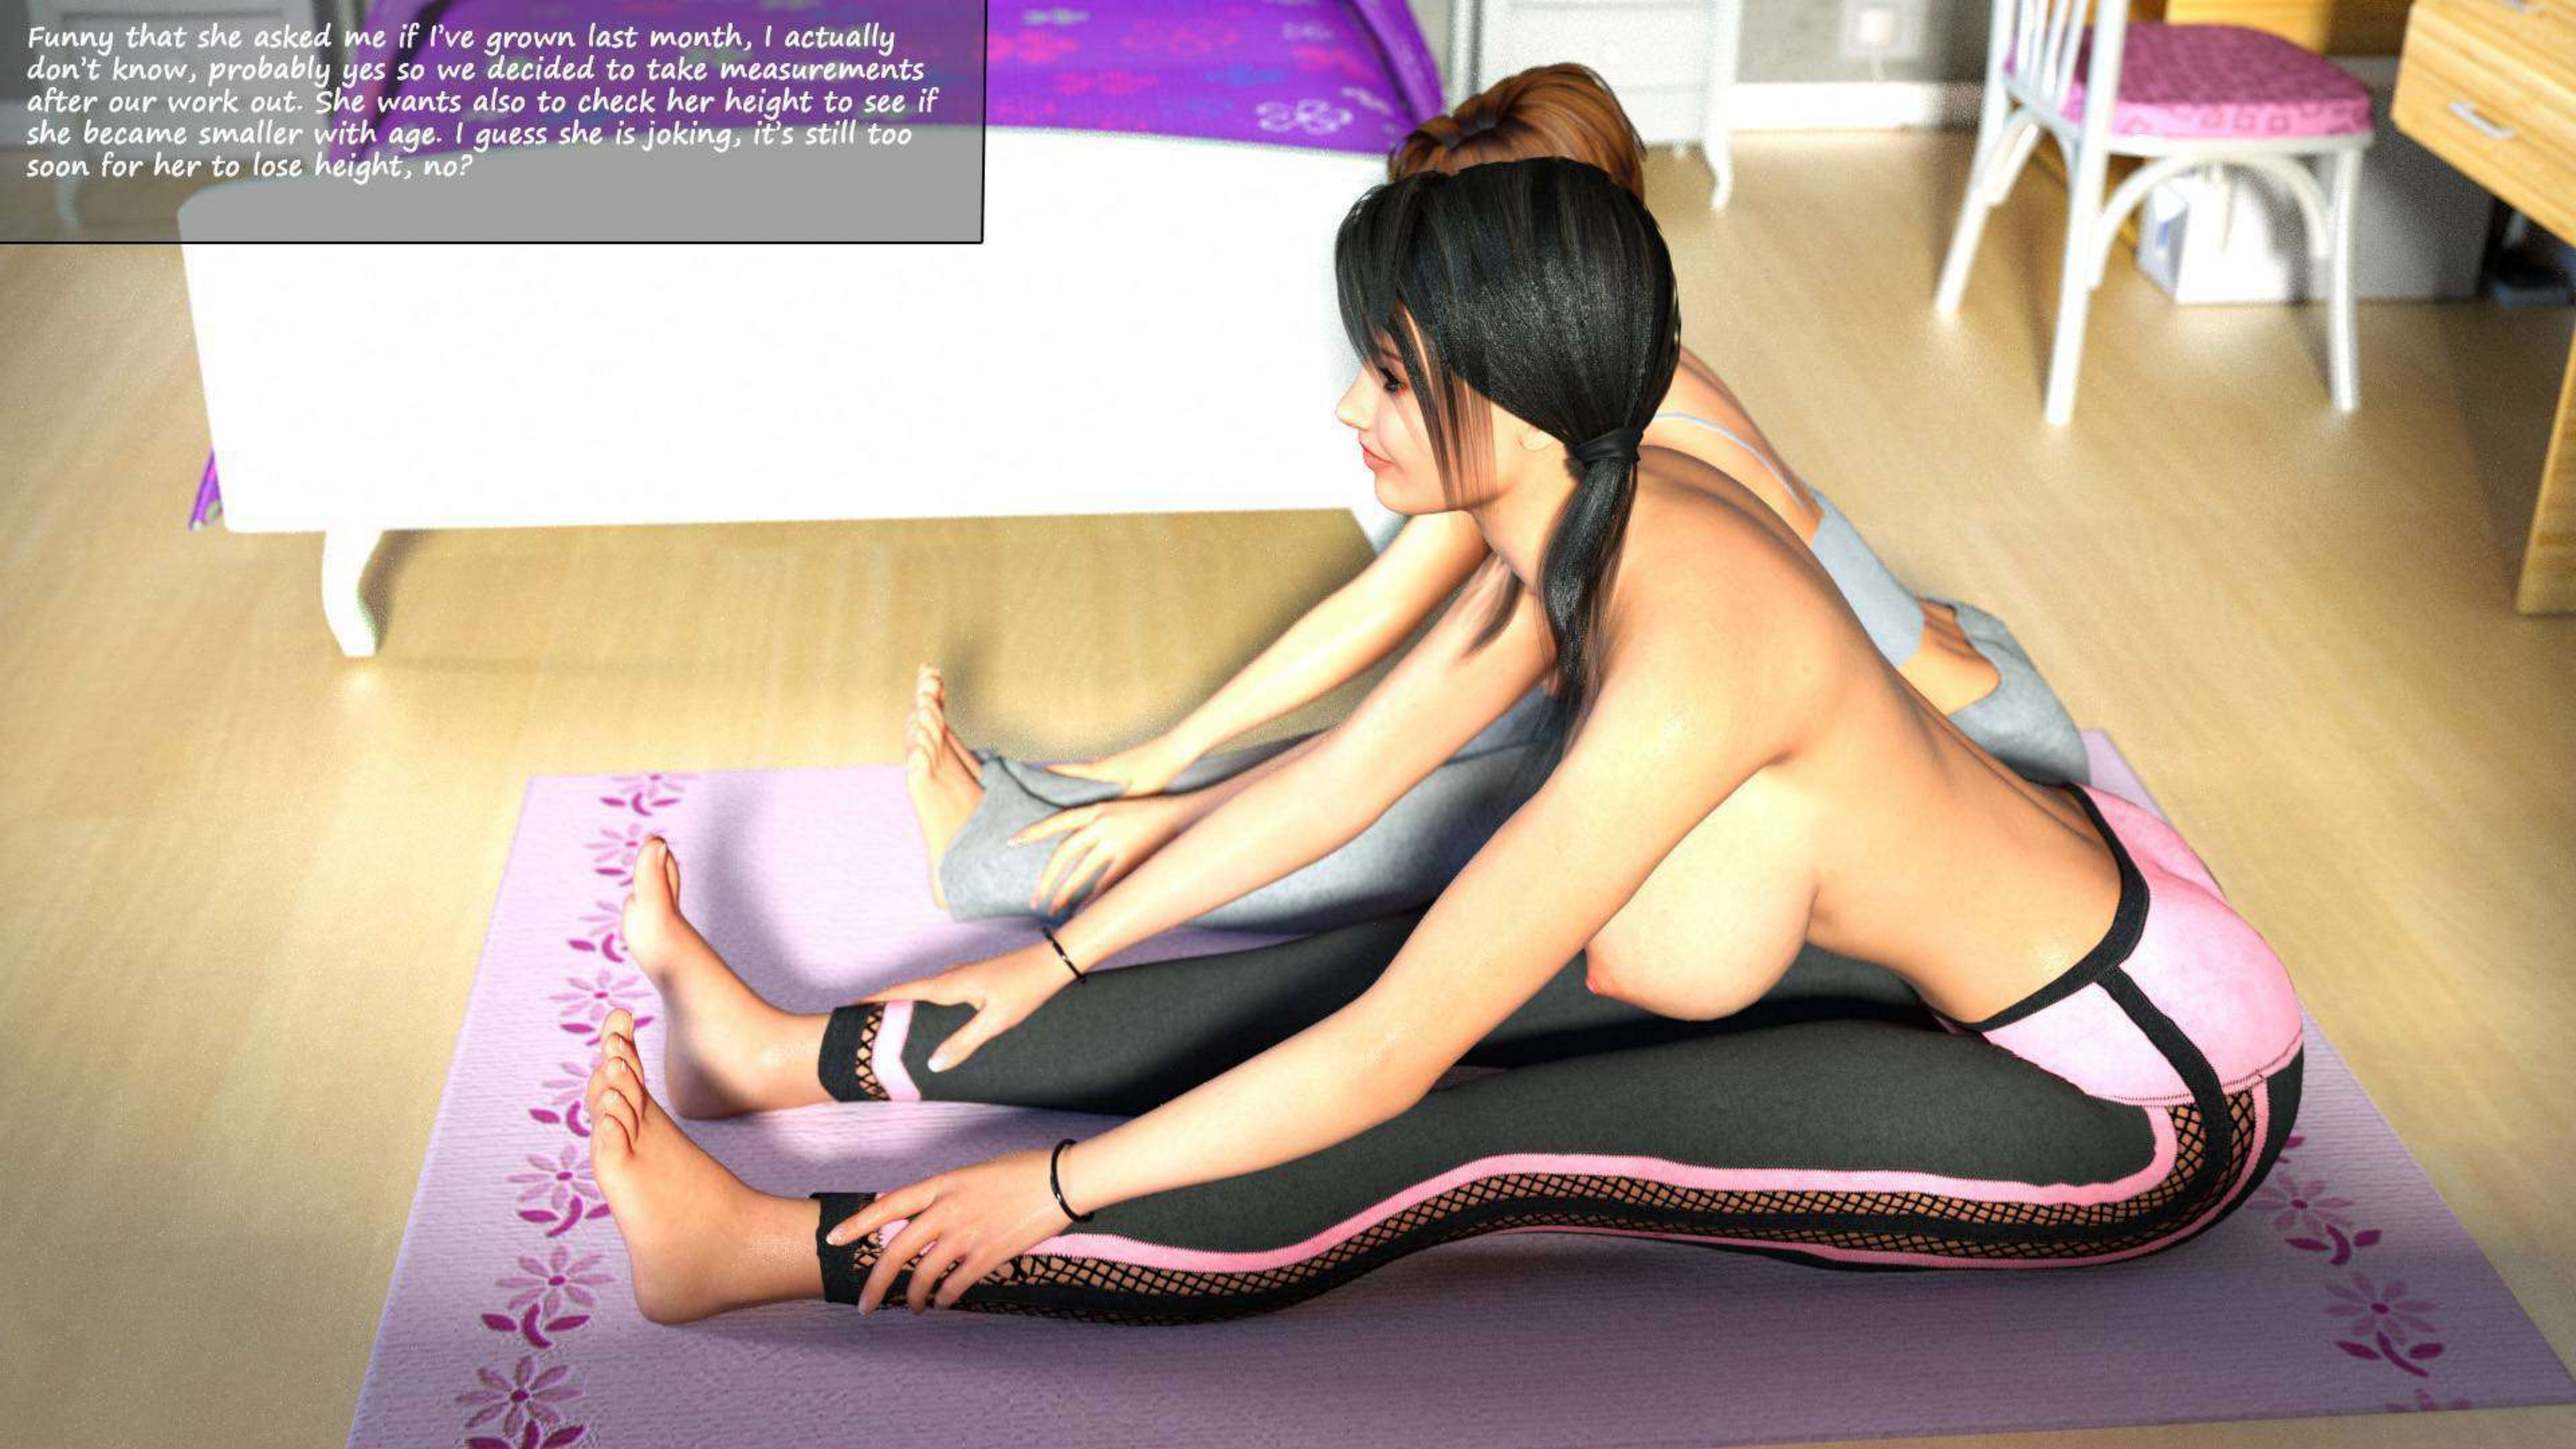

After all his rant he deserved the dessert: dear brother my bra wasn't the only thing missing. I raised myself on my tiptoes and spun around. The light skirt was lifted up and my bare butt cheeks were visible. Sorry but I was also without panties. This drove him crazy, he said I shouldn't do such things, He wanted to run away but I held the door closed. He tried to open it but it didn't budge. He couldn't win against my weight and my strenght combined. It took him a while to calm down and become reasonable again.

I stood against the wall with flat feet, he grabbed this book and watched my face much higher than his. He swallowed dry and stood on his tip toes, it was hard for him to place this book over my head so I helped him with one hand. He had a poor balance but I admit he did his best to keep this book parallel and straight over my head.

The little scoundrel claimed I was 7'1 exactly. I watched him in the eyes without saying a word. He started to sweat, he knew I knew he was lying. In fact I got a glimpse of where the book was. It was slightly above 7'1. Maybe a forth or a third of an inch more but this crafty little devil wanted to hide it from me. Sorry bro, I grew more than an inch in one month. He admitted it at the end, so I showed him a bit of our future together raising on my tip toes. Yes, my breast will be the first thing he will see about me.
ALEX GTS ARTIST

December 2015
Dear Diary,
this month I started to do some stretching and Yoga with mom. She is doing great and thanks to some cosmetic therapy her skin is getting younger everyday. She is also attending gym 3 times a week so her body is much more toned and her breasts look fuller.

Girls in our family have long legs but mine are much longer than mom now. She's wearing my old gym suit, I can't wear it anymore, it won't fit me. I bought these but I don't have any tank top that would fit me because of my ample chest so I'm doing these exercises topless and as an act of kindness I warned my brother.

Funny that she asked me if I've grown last month, I actually don't know, probably yes so we decided to take measurements after our work out. She wants also to check her height to see if she became smaller with age. I guess she is joking, it's still too soon for her to lose height, no?

Mom and I are doing the last exercise. She's talking about her job, how she made her department grow 80% more only in the last quarter of the year. She's going to get a huge bonus and I asked for a car. She answered that she will think about it if my grades will keep being so high. Perhaps I'm going to get my own car, it would be awesome!
WILD WEEKEND
ALEX GTS ARTIST

And here we are at our usual monthly measurement time. Mom couldn't check my height standing on tip toe so she needed to get on the chair. We found out I'm taller, almost 7'2" it wasn't a big growth spurt like last month but I'm definitely taller, now it's her turn!

Mom always told me to be 5'9 and something but now something wasn't right because she was taller. We were both surprised, how can you gain about one inch at her age? She thought maybe she was wrong in the past or it's because going so often to gym she gained it by fixing posture. It must be something like this, there is no other logical explanation.

Finally the new year has come, I've so many project for this year. After a long time I met my boyfriend again. In this picture it seems like I'm wearing heels but I'm not. Barefoot I'm much taller than him now. He doesn't look to mind it much and it makes me happy because I really love him.

When I stood up it was amazing! I never thought my 6'3" boyfriend could look so small to me. He wasn't even as tall as my armpits! He was astonished and I wasn't sure he was so comfortable if I wear heels now. However I hope he'll get used because no matter how tall I become I'll be always a girl and I'll never stop wearning such sexy accessories.

February 2016
Dear Diary, today my brother, facing the hard truth I was stll growing, was shocked. He was thinking that I would end my growth around 7 feet but he was the first one to see I passed the 7 feet 2 inches mark. Having my "big" brother no taller than my shoulder level is funny after all!
ALEX GTS ARTIST

When we switched places, I was expecting to see the top of his head reach six feet, however, he was way below it. I was surprised, but that little scoundrel seemed to have already known this. He lied, and added inches to his real height barely above 5'10". Come to think of it, he is only a tiny bit taller than mom now!

Wow!
He was really upset! He didn't even want to face me. I tried to comfort him and reassure him that all will be ok, I'll be a good sister and he'll always be my big brother... even if, for the first time, I felt that he was so little next to me.

He was sad, almost sobbing. Something was wrong with him, I didn't know that he was really proud of his height. I must have seriously destroyed his ego. I kept saying sorry to him, that everything would be alright. He kept being silent and sobbing until...
ALEX GTS ARTIST

Then he turned, hugged me and buried his face between my breasts. He wanted to tell me something but he was shy. After a few minutes he started to talk. He said that he doesn't want to be my big brother but he wants to be my little brother because I'm so tall and cool. All his friends can't stop talking about me and he said they're right because I'm his beautiful little big sister. Honestly I didn't expect that but it made my day!
ALEX GTS ARTIST

He said that sitting on my legs was one of the most awesome experience for him. This is because before I was much shorter than him and now I'm much taller. For him it seems almost unbelievable but it's real: I'm a growing girl. He is really happy now, he must like a lot to be my little big brother!
WILD WEEKEND

He became a little sweet kid, saying a lot of nice things to me. All of a sudden this little awkward kid kissed me on the side of my lips! We then watched each other in the eyes, he said sorry and we started to laugh a lot. All in all having my big ahem little brother losing his grudge it was a very good thing!
ALEX GTS ARTIST

March 2016
Dear Diary, have you ever wondered how does it feel to have a girlfriend one foot taller than you? You should ask my boyfriend! Today we measured and I've reached the stunning height of 7'3! This made him so horny that we ended up making love all day.
ALEX GTS ARTIST

He sat behind me on my bed, he wanted to kiss me on my lips but they were too tall so he started to kiss my shoulders.
It was really sweet of him. This role reversal started to be very interesting...
WILD WEEKEND

When it was him to be a foot taller I enjoyed jumping on him and kissing him. Now if I do the same thing is more like ducking and trusting him to bear my weight.
ALEX GTS ARTIST

I suggested him to do be the one to jump and he did! I felt his body so tiny as he jumped on me and he was surprisingly light weighted for me to hold. We kissed for several minutes while I was joking about how short he is now compared to me!

Have you ever wondered how it looks like to have a foot taller girlfriend next to you? That's it. If you were a person you would get to my shoulders like he does. Your cheeks would be between my boobs and your eyes, if you really tried to watch upward, could just get a glimpse of my chin.
ALEX GTS ARTIST

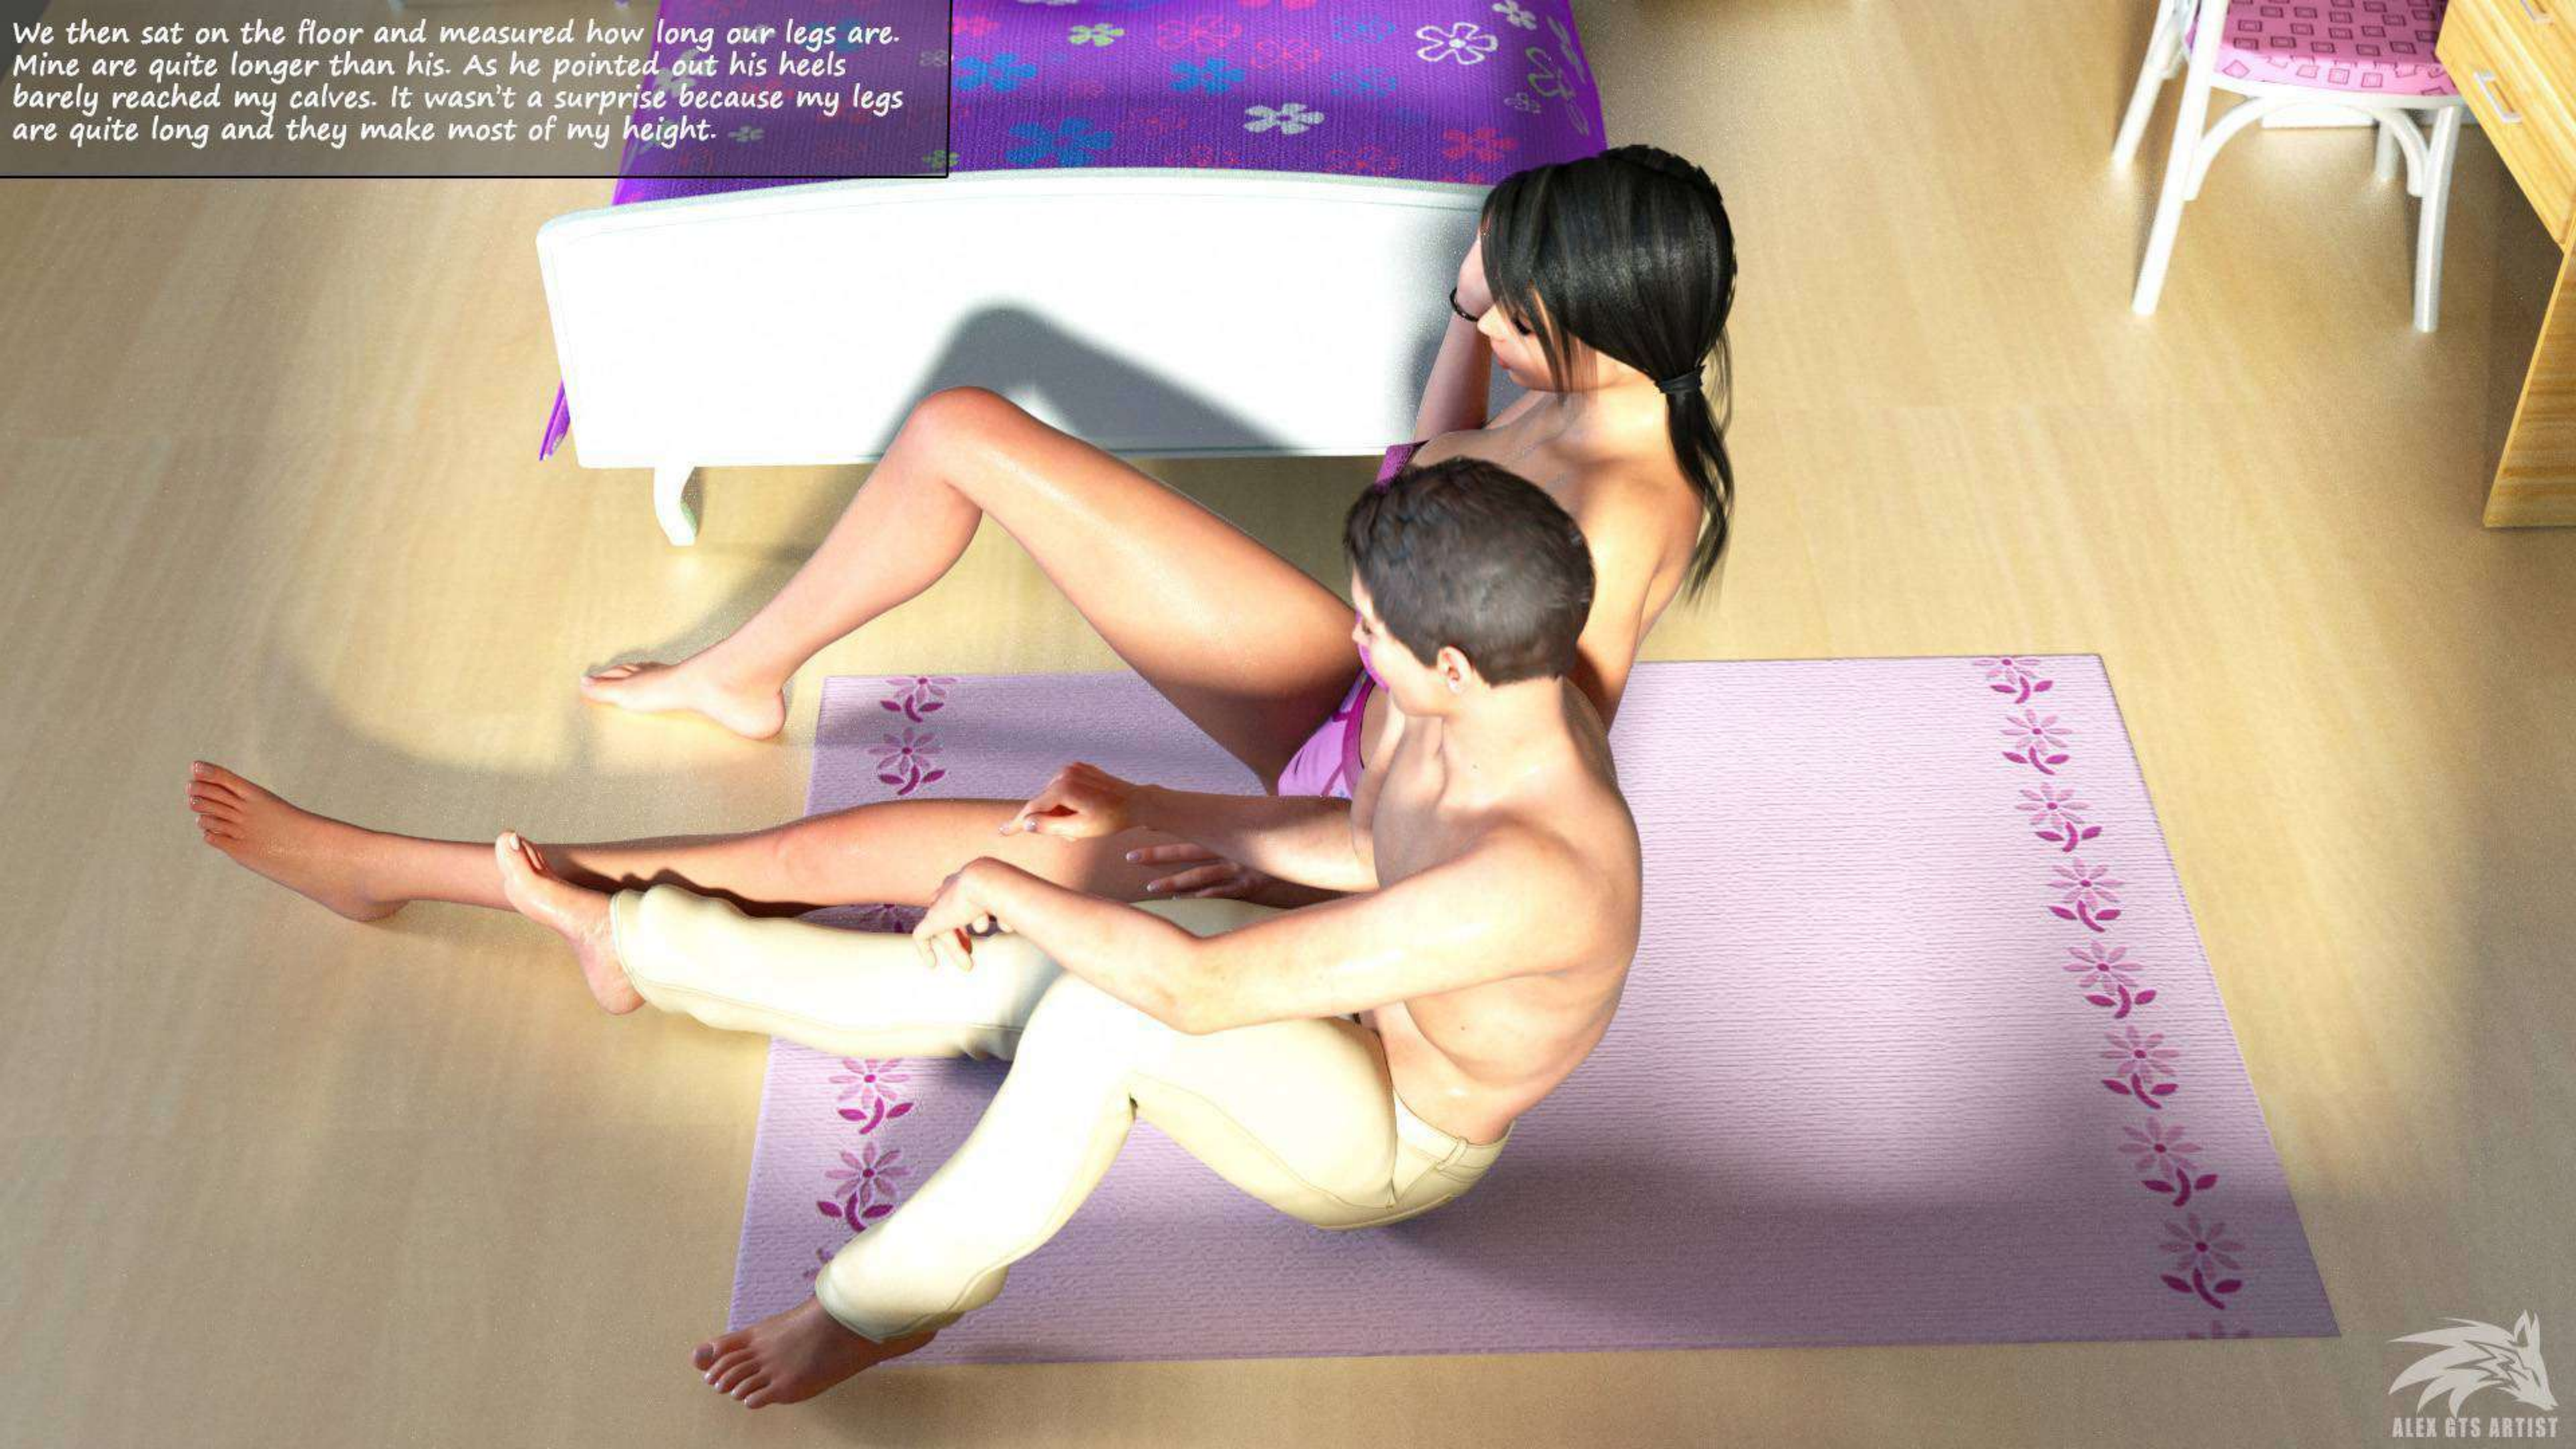

if I stand on my knees then I'm the one to be as tall as the partner's shoulders. It's fun but I'm sure my shins are one foot or more themselves!
Anyway it was time to give this big guy a big gratification!

He began to tell me about his friends and how they can't stop talking about me. They never expected such a little girl like me to grow so much especially 4 years after her eighteenth birthday. I explained to him that I also didn't expect this and that I'm happy with my growth, despite all the discomfort that being so tall can cause.
WILD WEEKEND

We then sat on the floor and measured how long our legs are. Mine are quite longer than his. As he pointed out his heels barely reached my calves. It wasn't a surprise because my legs are quite long and they make most of my height.
ALEX GTS ARTIST

Sadly my feet grew too and now his are much smaller than mine! Why am I sad about having big feet? Because I can't buy a lot of beautiful shoes especially the one with high heels because often shops don't have my size
ALEX GTS ARTIST

In the end we compared our hands too. As it was expected also my hands are much bigger than the ones of my little big brother.
ALEX GTS ARTIST

May 2016
Dear Diary,
Today I went through my measurement routine as usual. I'm now 7 feet 4 inches tall. Such height starts to be scary, my brother calls me his amazon little sister. Instead many people call me "giraffe" and it's annoying for me. Do I have a long neck? Of course no! On the other hand I really appreciated the comment of an old man while I was standing in shorts: "those legs look like pillars" he exclaimed and then continued " I could rest on them when I'm tired!" This little grampa made my day.

It's been a while since I don't compare with the door although now it's better to say compare with the door frame. Yes, because now I'm not just taller than the door but also taller than the door frame as you can see.

I'll keep it for a little while more or as long as I'm not going to break the footboard with a kick or a growth spurt during the night. Of course I'm joking about the growth spurt, it would be fun though!

I tried to wear one of the jeans I was dressing when I was eighteen years old. My shins are as long as my entire legs were long four years ago. I managed to fit with both legs inside of them but I couldn't move and I could trip and fall. Accidentally with a side step they ripped apart. Sorry but Ihad to throw them out in the trash can.

Mom and I were discussing about my growth and how difficult it is to find clothes that could fit me. So she started to tell me that recently also her breast has increased one cup. I noticed the difference and I also noticed her muscles are growing too because she goes to gym almost every day.

My big little brother enterd my room while I was talking with mom. Apparently something doesn't work and he can't fix it alone. He wanted my help because it's heavy and he can't do alone. From when my brother became such a wussy?

While mom was scolding him, telling him to be ashamed to ask his little sister such heavy task, that he should be able to do such things and that he should go back to gym, I noticed something. After all mom and bro don't have a big height difference.

Dear diary,
for the first time I noticed that mom and my brother are about the same height. I was astonished, I always thought my brother was taller. However the fact didn't surprise neither of them which means that implicitly they already knew.
ALEX GTS ARTIST

Sometime me and my brother wrestle together for fun. Here we wanted to show mom what we found out I'm able to do.

Mom was really surprised by my strenght. My brother could stop saying "look, mom!". It was really impressive for myself too when I found out, I also couldn't believe I'm so strong. Mom is getting stronger in gym but she can't par mine even because I'm much taller.

August 2016
Dear Diary,
My brother finally managed to find a bigger bra. It was a similar model to what I had before. It's a perfect fit for now, I hope it will last for a couple of months at least. Also, as you can see in the picture, I'm now 7 feet and 5 inches. As my brother noticed, not even a 6 foot tall guy would be taller than my armpits these days.

My little big brother looks really short to me now, I have an idea, something very interesting, it will be a lot of fun!
ALEX GTS ARTIST

I decided to wear my crazy tall heels shoes. It was a really intersting difference. Can you believe it? His crotch was as tall as my knees! They were on the same level! I was mocking him: if he didn't behave god with me, I could easily hit with my knee his nuts. He said he can feel the pain already.

Dear Diary,
I'm slowly but steadily growing. In my university I'm the tallest one. There is no girl or guy even close to my height. There is just one tall thin guy who is about seven foot tall but even him looks short when stands next to my 7 foot 5 and a half. I've read that the tallest woman who ever lived was 8 foot tall and the tallest man was 8'11. I've a lot of inches to go but will I be the tallest human being ever?
ALEX GTS ARTIST

I might not be the tallest girl to live yet but I surely was quite tall when I stood near my dear ones. In this case even when I was sitting near my love. The desk became a practical seat for me to be at the same height of my boyfriend while my legs stretched out around him.

Then I decided to stand on my tip toes and he was shocked. With this cheap little trick I was again taller than him. He could try to stand on whatever he wants but sooner or later I'll become always taller than him.
ALEX GTS ARTIST

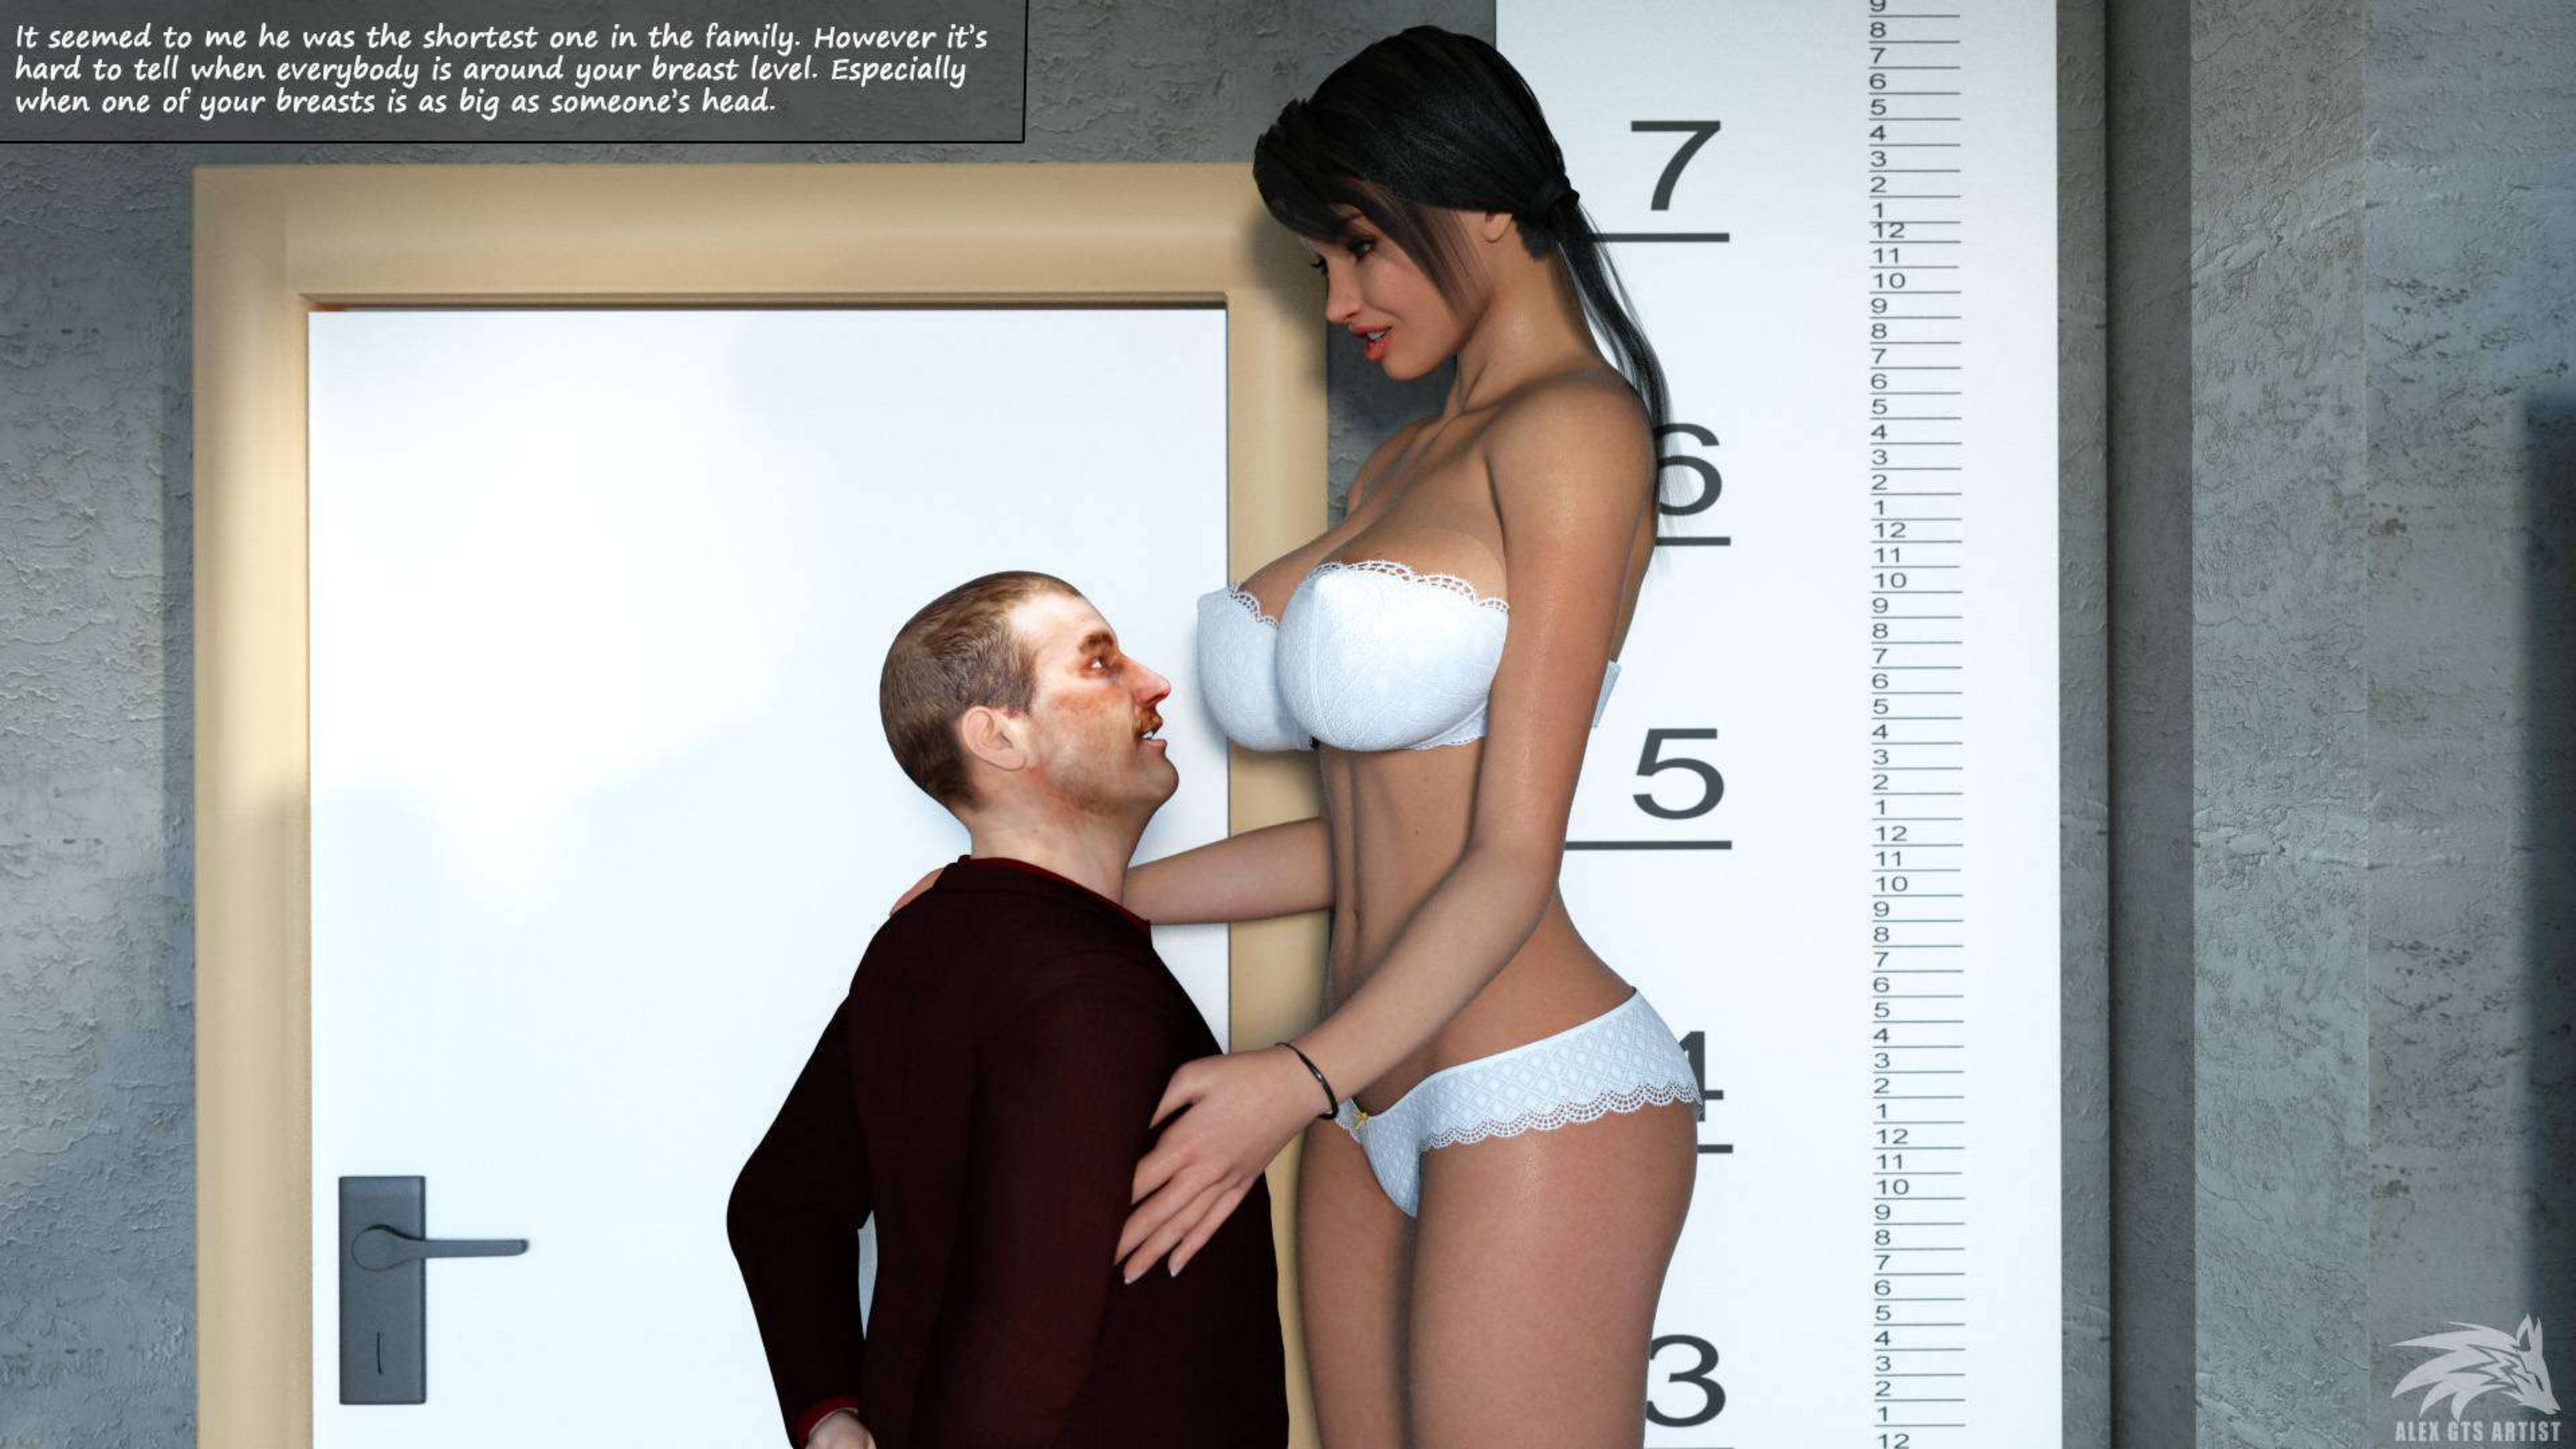

When we compared back to back I was impressed again how little my boyfriend was compared to me. I turned my head and asked him "where are you?!" Because I saw nobody behind me until I lowered my gaze: he was barely taller than my armpits.

October 2016
Dear Diary, this month I've reached a new milestone in my growth: seven feet and six inches. I could be a little taller than that already.

ALEX GTS ARTIST

Dad was away for a long time because of work. He was working as chef on a cruise boat and he couldn't be home for more than a year. Imagine his surprise the first moment he saw me again. I was 6'10 when he left home. He said he thought I was wearing heels and almost had an heart attack when he saw I was barefoot!
ALEX GTS ARTIST

It seemed to me he was the shortest one in the family. However it's hard to tell when everybody is around your breast level. Especially when one of your breasts is as big as someone's head.

I then had to bend to hug my long missing short daddy. It was a warmful, sweet hug. Then, jockingly, he said that next year with me growing and him shrinking because of aging, I'd need to stand on my knees to hug him again!
ALEX GTS ARTIST

My legs alone are almost as tall as his whole body! He said that maybe soon he could simply walk between my legs. It's possible, but only if he stops getting so fat! I know that what he cooks is good, I eat a lot of it myself but I am a growing girl and whatever I eat it's transformed in height. Fat perhaps goes directly into my boobs, who knows!

Compared to the past my breasts are bouncing a lot more and they are really heavy to carry around. When dancing it's like having a weight on your chest and I need to anticipate its movements or it can make me lose balance quite easily.

I've danced for at least two hours and I was still jumping around. I had to be very careful though: if I jump too high I can hit the cealing or destroy the chandelier.

December 2016,
Dear diary my mom was upset for some reason, I didnd't understand why. I tried to ask her what's wrong and all I could get was some mumbling.

Then I talked with dad. Apparently he doesn't like to stand next to my mom and he always finds an excuse and goes away. It took me a while to convince him to talk with mom about this but in the end I won and he accepted.

Finally I was able to make them talk. Dad opened himself up: he noticed mom was taller than him and he didn't want her to think her husband is shorter. So every time he was without shoes he tried to avoid any confrontation with her.

Dad was worried that with age he became shorter. Mom decided to measure him and yes, she saw he was shorter, but just by one inch. He was now 5'9", the shortest one in our family. Then mom confessed him that she found out to be 5'10 and not 5'9 like she thought, maybe it was a mistake she did in past measurements.

Mom reassured him: for her it wasn't a problem to be taller than him. She loved him and she will always love him no matter what.

Dear Diary,
My big little brother said that this tshirt makes my breasts look even bigger. I couldn't find the problem with that. He was so distracted by my chest that he didn't notice I'm taller: I'm 7'8 right now!
ALEX GTS ARTIST

He wanted a ride on my shoulders to feel the way I feel but soon he realized there wasn't much room between my head and the roof. He couldn't stand straight with his back or he would touch the ceiling. Dear brother, if I'll grow one more foot or so I'll have the same problem as you have now and I won't be on a piggyback ride!

Once I finished disciplining him, I set him down on the floor and told him to stand straight and still. I had something planned for my little big bro. February 2017
Dear Diary,
this month I was sick, I had high fever for many weeks. I was laying all the time in bed without being able to move. Mark kept an eye on me all these days.
I don't know if I'm able to write more for this month, I feel really bad.
ALEX GTS ARTIST

During the last week of the month I was feeling a little better. I was finally able to sit without having any dizziness or vomit. My boyfriend was really happy I was feeling better.
ALEX GTS ARTIST

I tried to stood up but I was really weak. I had a lot of pain and I lost balance and fell. Luckily my boyfriend was in front of me and I could hold on him. He encourage me to raise slowly and told me that everything was going to be ok.
ALEX GTS ARTIST

While my body was starting to recover some energy and I was straightening my legs, something was starting to look odd to me. It was like a feeling I didn't have in a long time.

I was finally able to stand up. Something was different indeed. I didn't remember he was so short compared to me. It seems that he didn't remember I was so tall compared to him too. He scratched the back of his head trying to remember how tall I was the last time he saw me standing. Evidently I wans't any close to what my former height was.

I was towering over him by several inches, I think I could be almost two feet taller than him, I'm not sure. He was petrified by my height, I must have grown a few inches in less than a month. What could cause it? Was it the reason I had the fever or was the fever that helped me grow faster?
ALEX GTS ARTIST

After all, this wasn't the time to worry about my height. Even if I'm some inches taller, I don't want to check my height right now. I want to spend quality time with my boyfriend who looked over me all these weeks. I really wanted to hold him between my arms and say thank you a thousand times.

March 2017
Dear Diary,
We were all in disbelief: I had a huge growth spurt last month and it's something that almost never happened to me, especially from when I entered my 20s. We're not sure yet if it was this to trigger the high temperature or was the fever to trigger the growth. My mom also was impressed: having her little daughter shoulders as tall as the door it's not something more unique than rare.
ALEX GTS ARTIST

I rose on my tiptoes and watched my mom stare at my butt. It was nearly as tall as her and was standing in front of her face. I don't know if mom was envious of my round huge buttocks but she didn't say a word for a while. Meanwhile my boyfriend was enjoying the view and, if my mom wasn't there, he would have liked to touch it too.
ALEX GTS ARTIST

My mom, trying to do the same as me, stood on her tiptoes. The difference was that her butt wasn't as tall as my face but it barely reached my mid thighs. Mark made me notice that on her tip toes my mom is more or less as tall as him.

April 2017

Deary Diary,
This month I decided to move my camera to other rooms so I can show how tasks have become harder for me. This is my bathroom, it's the biggest we've at home and it's the most comfortable for me. Of course it has its limits, nothing is really suitable to an almost 8 feet tall girl.

ALEX GTS ARTIST

This room was re-built after they found out I was going to grow for the rest of my life. Everything was made for much taller people but they didn't expect me to become so tall. This sink for an average person is tall while for me is very short and if i need to wash my face, it's also very uncomfortable
ALEX GTS ARTIST

The shower is too short for me, I need to bend every time I need to wash my hair and face. It's uncomfortable. Most of the people are as tall as my left hand position and for them this height is good. What were they thinking when they placed the shower at 7 feet? In a few months I won't even be able to wash my breasts comfortably.

The bath tube is quite big, it's fine for me even if I have few difficulties because of my long legs. Sometimes I can fill it with water and relax for a while listening to some music. I would like to have a bubble bath with my boyfriend soon.
ALEX GTS ARTIST

This is a bit embarassing but I wanted to show how difficult it is for me to use a bidet. I should spred my legs really wide and sit near the edge. They don't make them bigger then this unfortunately.
ALEX GTS ARTIST

I wasn't sure whether to post this or not on my diary but whatever, I wasn't sitting for real. Usually I don't like to use my phone but i prefer to browse or read some magazines. The size of this toilet is comfortable for now, we'll see in the future.

May 2017
Dear Diary, can you read that? Did I reach 8 feet? I know I just barely reached them but damn those are 8 feet, it's quite a lot of inches for a human being! I'm impressed. I know I've grown 3 inches in a month recently but this is nothing less: it's 8 feet tall for a girl ladies and gentlemen!
8
ALEX GTS ARTIST

While I was changing clothes all of a sudden my brother burst inside the room. He saw me from behind and he noticed I was wearing just panties. When I turned he was already covering his eyes giving his back to me and saying sorry a million times. I said he was a naughty little big brother and he answered that he just wanted to share one good news.
ALEX GTS ARTIST

After I wore my t-shirt he finally told me what the good news is: he was going to be in the volleyball team. I burst out laughing thinking that my brother could be in a volleyball team. He was upset by my reaction so he told me he was going to play as setter.
ALEX GTS ARTIST

I asked him if he knew how tall was a volleyball net, he didn't know. So I refreshed his mind telling him it was 7 feet and 11 inches for men. Yes, I'm one inch taller than a male volleyball net! I asked him to jump a bit higher than that and the best jump he could do he was barely passing 7'11 with the tip of his middle finger. Maybe he could have a future with female volleyball teams where the regulations set the net at 7 feet and 4 inches, ha ha!
ALEX GTS ARTIST

We stood back to back in the most classic height comparison. Our difference was so huge he was looking like a little kid next to me, or from his point of view I was his amazon little sister. My butt was now standing taller than his own body and I'm sure it won't take a lot to stand in front of his face.

Another Family Reunion. We had to skip last year reunion because my dad was away working on a cruise ship. The room is a bit empty but we printed and added a couple of paintings from our previous reunions. The difference is really visible

I'm now way past 8 feet tall with heels. I should be around 8 feet 7 inches tall with these shoes on. I've completed my studies of Business and Managements and I'll start the Master soon.
With Mark everything is ok and he is now practicing as a doctor in our city major hospital.

My little big brother is always playing video games and doesn't study much, that's why he still didn't finish his studies yet. He doesn't do any physical activity and he doesn't have a girlfriend for a long time.

Mom is now responsible of 3 departments at her job and her wage is much higher than it was before. Way to go mom, I want to be like you one day! She also gained a huge quantity of muscle mass and her breasts are a few cup biggers than they used to be. She is also a bit taller it seems, maybe because of her now good posture? It's weird but time will tell.

Dad is now resting at home, he lost some weight but he isn't working as much as before. He is lazy, always my good old dad but he likes taking care of his home

ALEX GTS ARTIST

When it was my turn to check my height everybody gathered around me. With such heels I was only 1-2 inches away from scratching the ceiling with my head. These shoes lifted me up to 8 feet and 9 inches and it was funny to see that everybody around me was looking like a kid compared to me
ALEX GTS ARTIST

They started talking behind me while I was checking my phone. Dear Diary, tell me if this didn't look like they were talking with my ass? Because my butt was so tall it was standing almost at their head height. In the future it will be the same height as their head even without heels, for sure it isn't going to take a lot of time to reach my dad or brother height.

While my brother was really uncomfortable standing between me and my mom, my boyfriend was enjoying the view. Heels on girls are so cool, no matter your height they always make you prettier. Yes they're a bit uncomfortable but it's a good compromise as you don't need to wear them always. I'm glad me and mom are going crazy for them. It was a bigger change for her because she used to wear flats I, on the other hand, always dreamed to have cool shoes with high heels even more because I was shorter than my legs are right now. We love when we find cool shoes with tall stiletto heels and a good amount of platform.

August 2017
Dear Diary,
My father wanted to help me checking my height. He was standing on a chair and he was barely reaching my head with his hand! In his defense I can say that he wasn't on his tiptoes. This month I'm a little bit taller and I reach 8'1 which is impressive.
ALEX GTS ARTIST

I hugged my dad and he felt like a big sized doll in my hands. While he is standing on the chair I'm almost one head taller than him. Daddy has always been so positive and cheerful and I think I took such traits after him. Many girls would have thought that an endless growth is curse and that they would never find a boyfriend their size. I'm different, I really enjoy growing taller!

When he got down from the chair and stood barefoot on the carpet the difference from the last time we checked was obvious. I didn't have any heels and he wasn't even reaching my chest. If he turned he could poke his cold nose into my belly button. I guess I'm the tallest daughter a father ever had.

I laid and showed my dad how small my bed is now and that maybe it's time for a new one. He said that I was right but if I'm going to grow at this rate I don't need just a new bed but a new home. Well I suppose he was right too!
ALEX GTS ARTIST

Talking about life he confessed to me he thinks mom is different. For him mom is growing taller, not much like me but somehow she is growing. I told him that's it's an odd thing, I've a genetic condition and if mom had too then she should have grown before. He said that I'm right but then he started talking about how big her breast is now. We both agreed on this, she's really fit and usually breast tends to shrink with gym but hers are growing bigger.

No matter how much I'll grow, for him I'll be always his little daughter. Although he admits I'm already a bit too heavy to sit on his lap. I wasn't so enthusiastic about his comment.

One year ago I and my boyfriend compared our height back to back. The difference in just one year is huge: my legs are now as long as his whole body! We decided to arm wrestle to check if I was stronger than him. He was very positive this could be an even match or that he could beat me. That's because he is the strongest between his friends. He always won an arm wrestling match. Time to see how it's going to end with his cute girlfriend.

To his surprise I slowly moved my arm down watching him in the eyes in the process. His struggle was slowly becoming disbelief. October 2017
Dear Diary,
This month I had a big surprise, a very big surprise. Alicia came back to the city after leaving for many years. She was one of my school classmates and we were getting along so well. She transferred to another city because her father had a promotion and had to move to the HQ of his company. I missed her so much and now she's finally back here!
ALEX GTS ARTIST

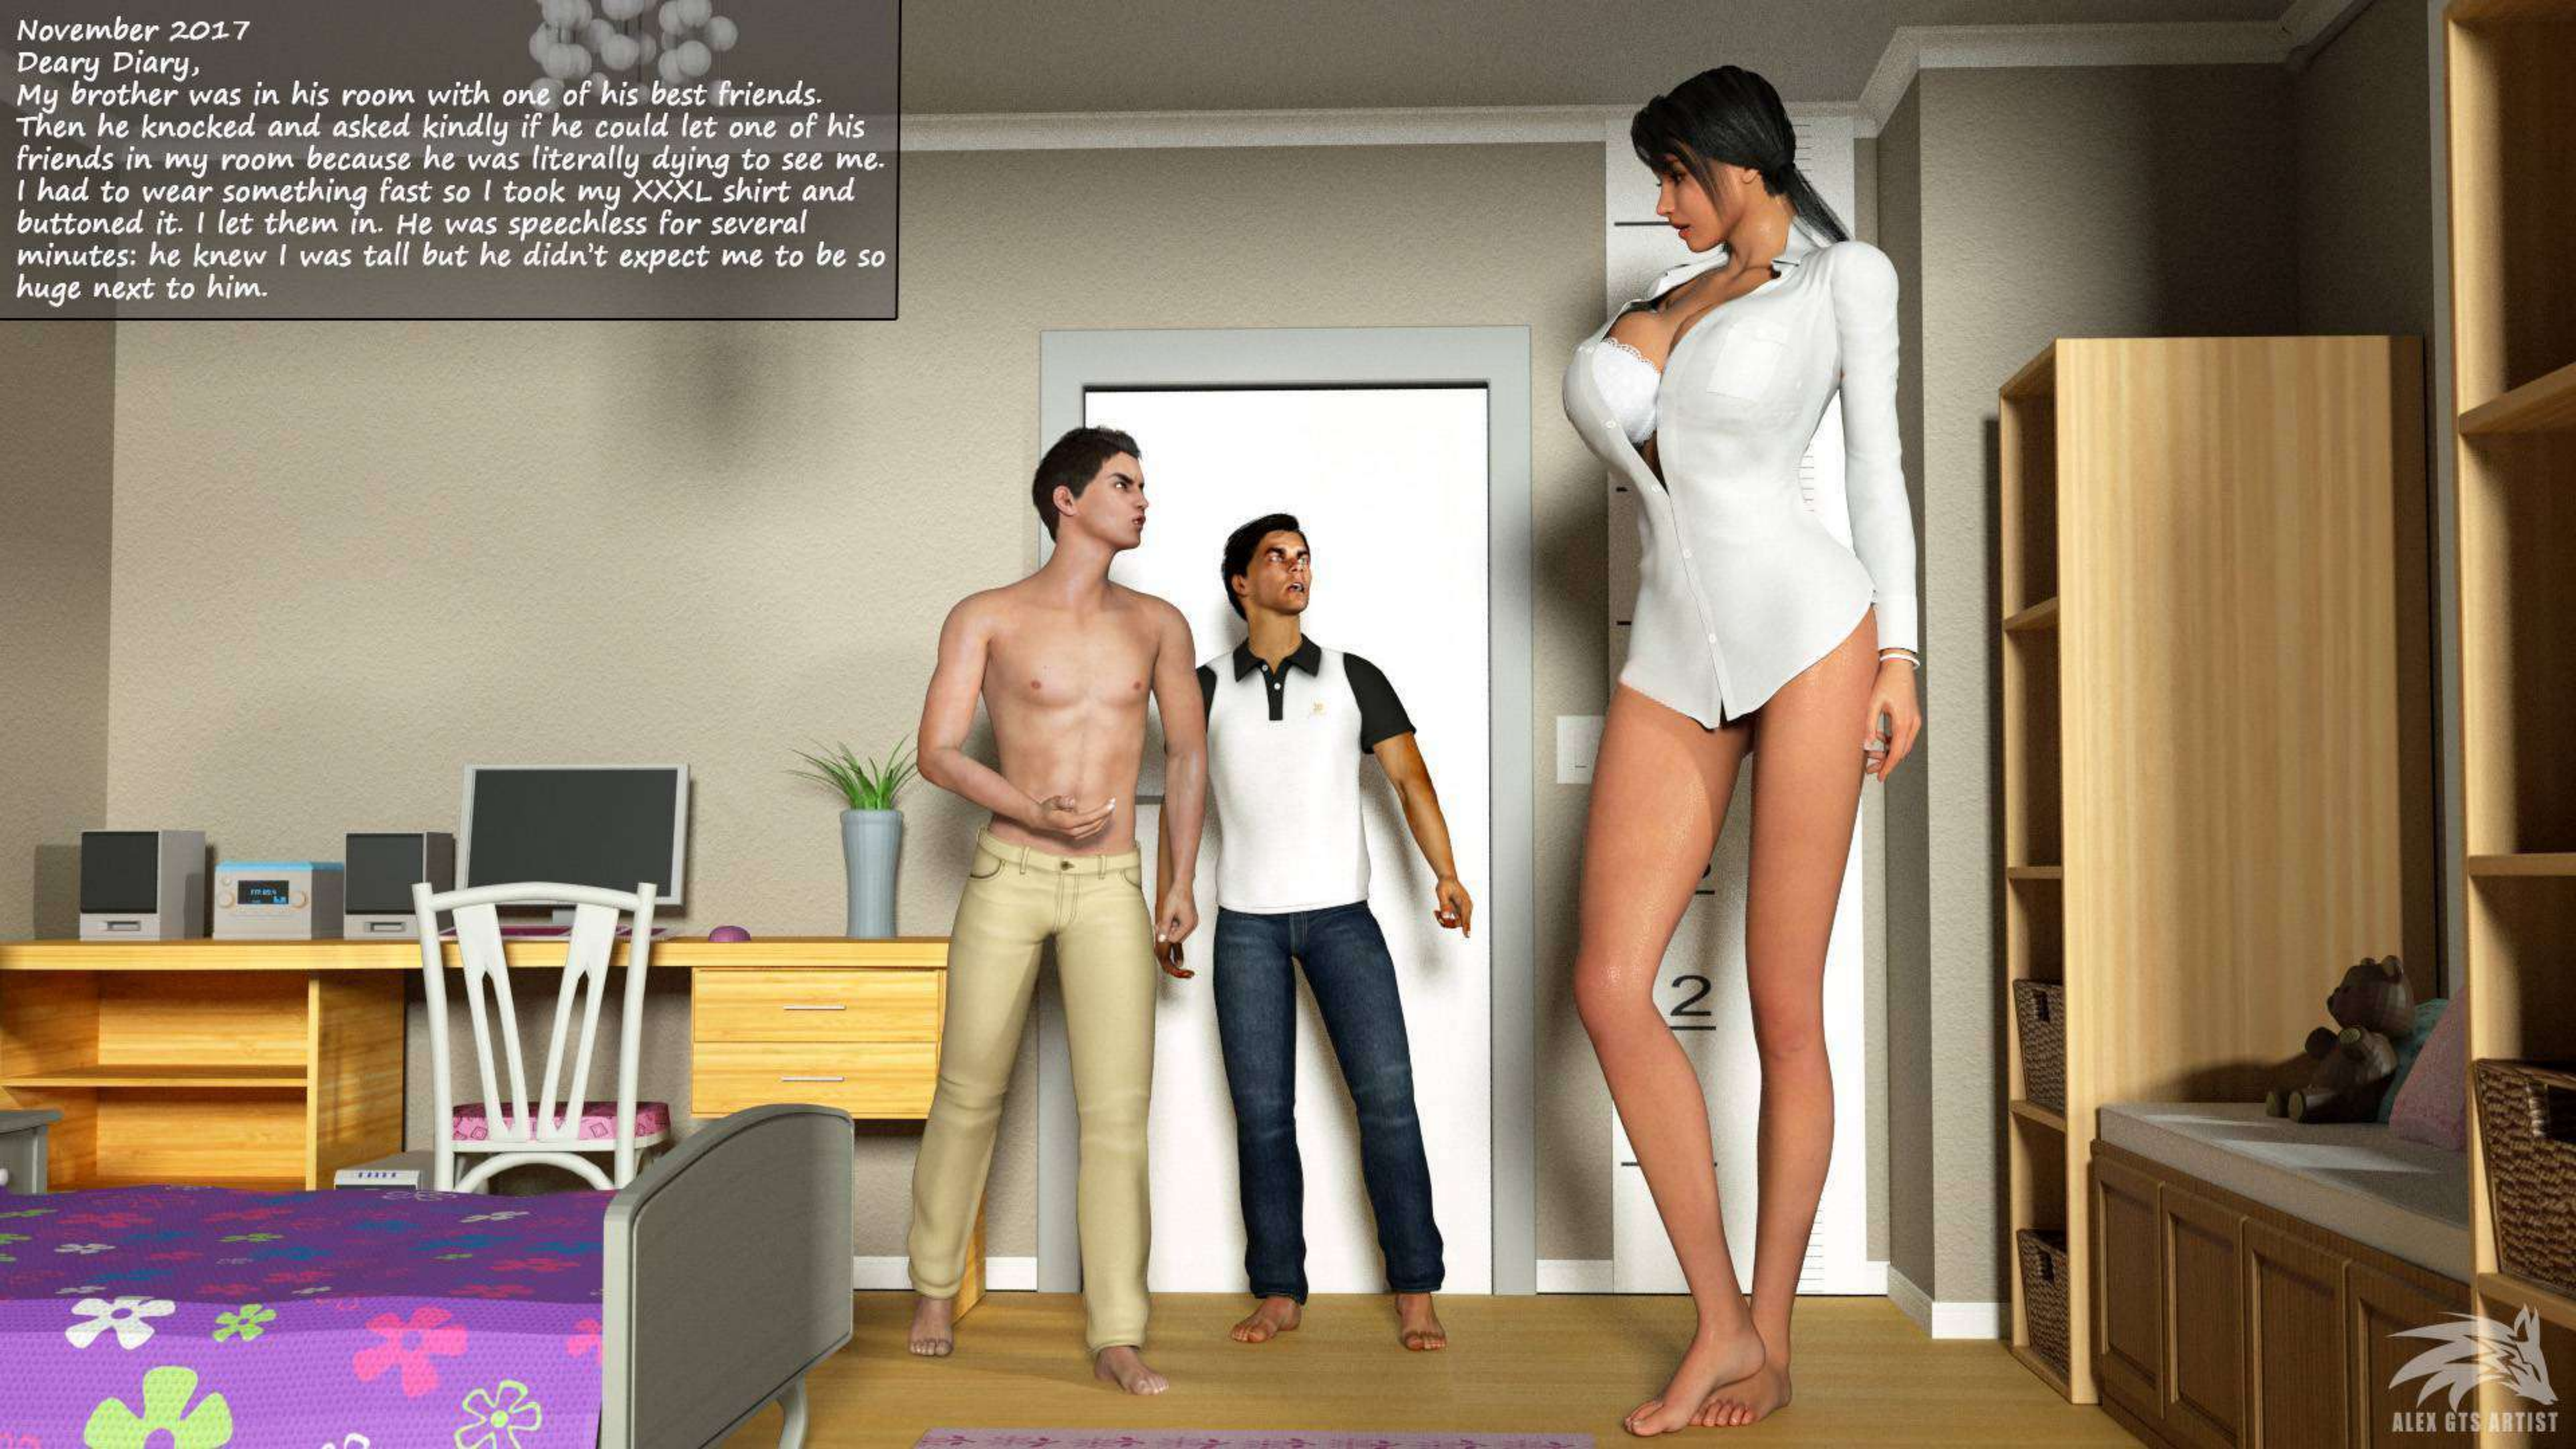

She wasn't so surprised to see me being so tall because I was all over the local news and she read about my height on a newspaper. However when she got close to me she realized we have almost the same difference as we had before. I was very short but she was really tiny and she is used to look up to me. Now we are both extremely tall and it was really a shock for me to see her a bunch of feet taller and much slimmer than she used to be.

Before I even started writing this Diary she left our city and she was a fat tiny girl that was barely standing at 4 feet. I guess puberty and a lot of will power hit her hard and she became a totally different person. From a shy, tiny and insecure fat girl she is now confident and extrovert 6'11 tall, beautiful and fit girl. We used to have 10-11'' difference back in school and now we have 1 foot and 2.5 inches difference. From her point of view I'm now slightly taller.
ALEX GTS ARTIST

My brother casually walked in my room and he found in front of him a familiar face or better he first found an unknown pair of breasts. Obviously he stared at them for a while before raising his gaze checking to whom they belong to. Me and Alicia were friends before she moved away when we were 15 back then she was shorter than me. Just before my brother entered she was telling me what happened to her: for the first couple of years going to her new school she didn't have any friends so she focused on her studies and because of that and the fact she has near genius level of intelligence she graduated high school at 16 and got a masters in bioengineering at 18...

...It was around this time that people were making fun of her for being weak and fat, so she started a workout routine and better diet all backed by her knowledge of the human body. In just one year she lost all her fat, gained some muscle and somehow grew a foot taller to 5' 10''., she said.
Meanwhile my brother started to realize who she was. Of course she needed to stare at him for a few minutes before his mind connected to whom this pretty face belongs to.
ALEX GTS ARTIST

She said that her growth and gains kept her going: with the way she was working out, eating and the way her body was she grew to her actual height around the age of 21, but at that time she also stopped growing more muscly and just got stronger.
Simultaneously she was checking my brother biceps. It was quite a delusion for her: my brother was much more muscular when she left. It seems he lost a lot of mass. Maybe she could become his personal trainer, that would be fun!

November 2017
Deary Diary,
My brother was in his room with one of his best friends. Then he knocked and asked kindly if he could let one of his friends in my room because he was literally dying to see me. I had to wear something fast so I took my XXXL shirt and buttoned it. I let them in. He was speechless for several minutes: he knew I was tall but he didn't expect me to be so huge next to him.
ALEX GTS ARTIST

As he finally was able to talk again he greeted me and we shook hands.His name is Gabriel, he has been a friend of my brother since high school. He is really the athletic type and he is very proud of his success.
ALEX GTS ARTIST

He was quite embarrassed but it didn't take long for him to ask about a height comparison with me. I think I should start charging for such things, I might get rich in no time!
ALEX GTS ARTIST

When we compared it was clear that my butt was taller than his shoulders, needless to say I was barefoot.
I asked him how tall he was exactly, he asked the same question to me so we decided to check our height.

December 2017
Dear Diary,
You cannot believe it but I received a little puppy as a gift from my boyfriend, it was the cutest thing ever! I named him Nero. He was very obedient and I was walking him around the park when something caught his attention

There was this guy sitting on one of the benches in the park and he had a puppy that was looking very similar to mine. They started to play and check each other like they knew already. They were so cute. Turns out that he and my boyfriend took these puppies at the same place.

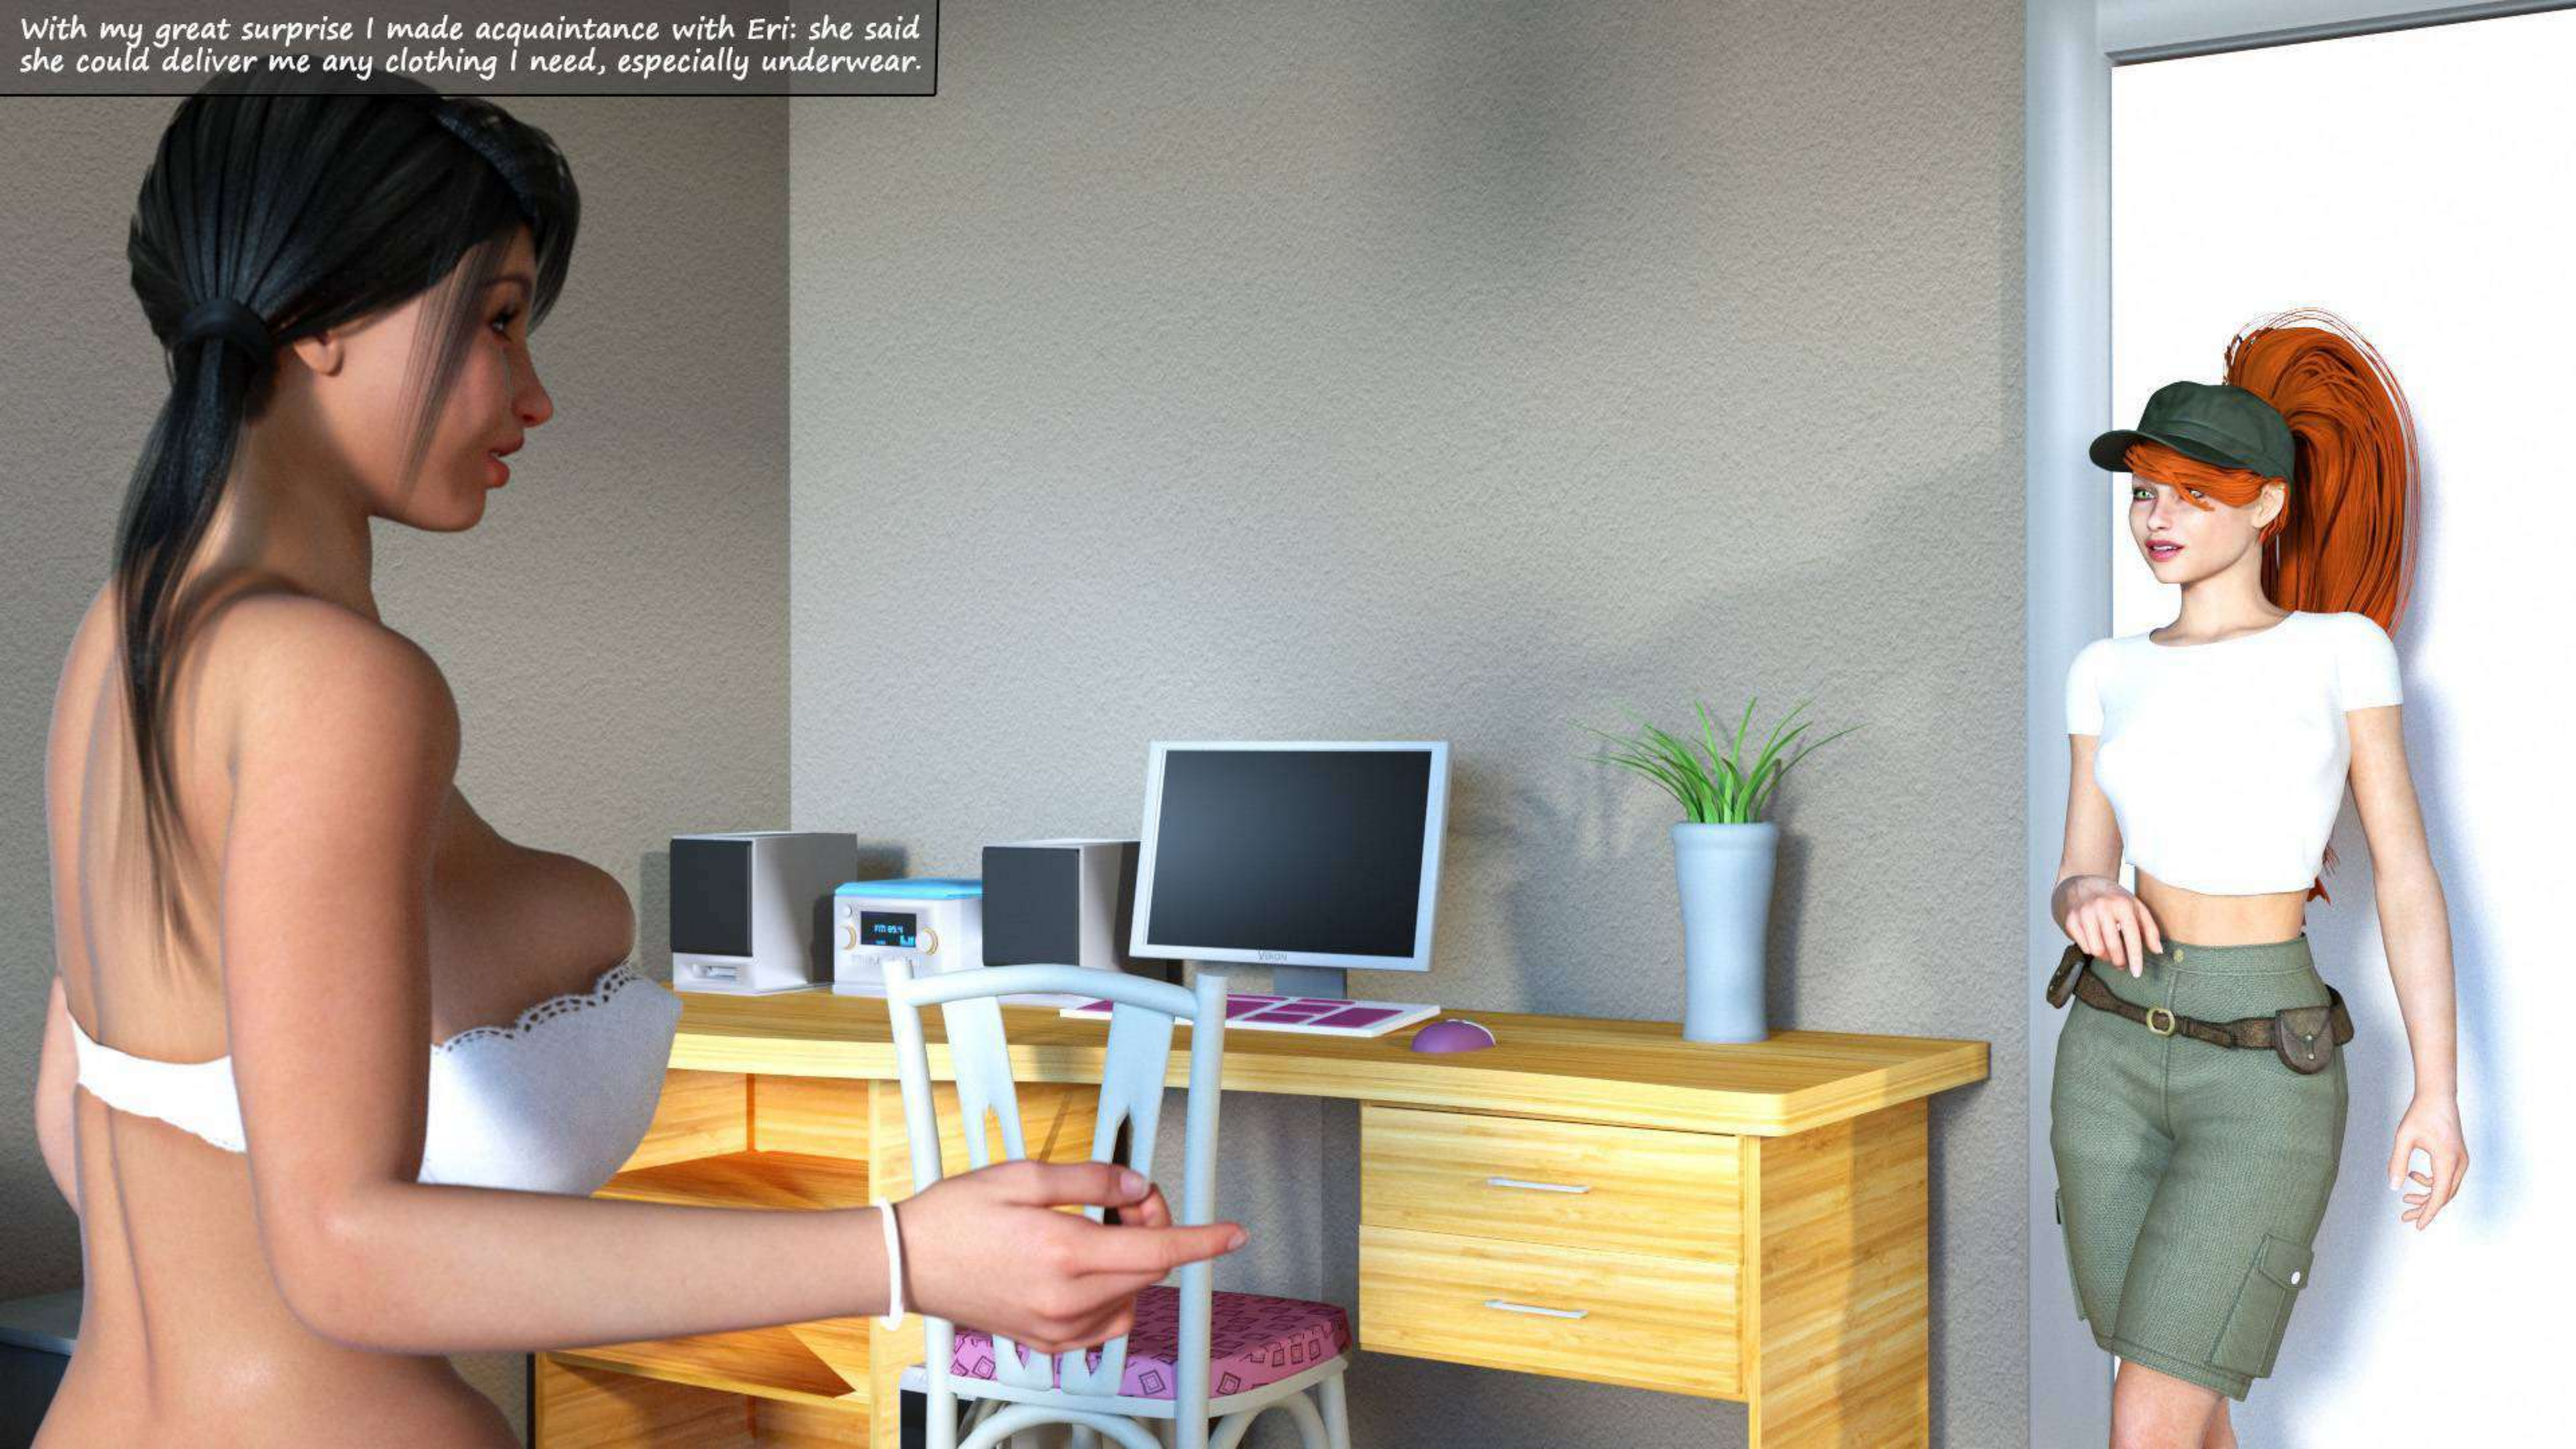

Our conversation went on for a while. It turns out his name is Wolf and he was a barman in a place I used to hang out with my boyfriend. He lived alone here so he decided to get himself a dog. He heard a lot of conversations at work and he said that many people are talking about an extremely tall girl living in the city. He even knew my name already. He just didn't expect me to be so tall. Lately I'm getting this a lot.
ALEX GTS ARTIST

He was going down the stairs and I noticed that he was at my breast level when he still had to go down two more steps to reach the ground. I was also thinking that one of my breasts must be quite bigger than his head
ALEX GTS ARTIST

Our difference was huge and he was looking at me in disbelief. I tried to make him relax by talking about how often I've been at his working place in the past. Lately going out for me is more difficult because I'm no longer a teen and I've work to do. However thanks to my puppy I believe we're going to meet again in this park
ALEX GTS ARTIST

He was as tall as my legs. I was wearing heels but his head was only reaching the top of my hips. We chatted for a few more minutes but then it was time for me to go home, Nero was already hungry.

Dear Diary,
All my underwear wasn't fitting me anymore. I was desperate and didn't know what to do, it's difficult to find stuff my size, especially bras. Little I knew my mom opened the door to somebody that could really help me.
ALEX GTS ARTIST

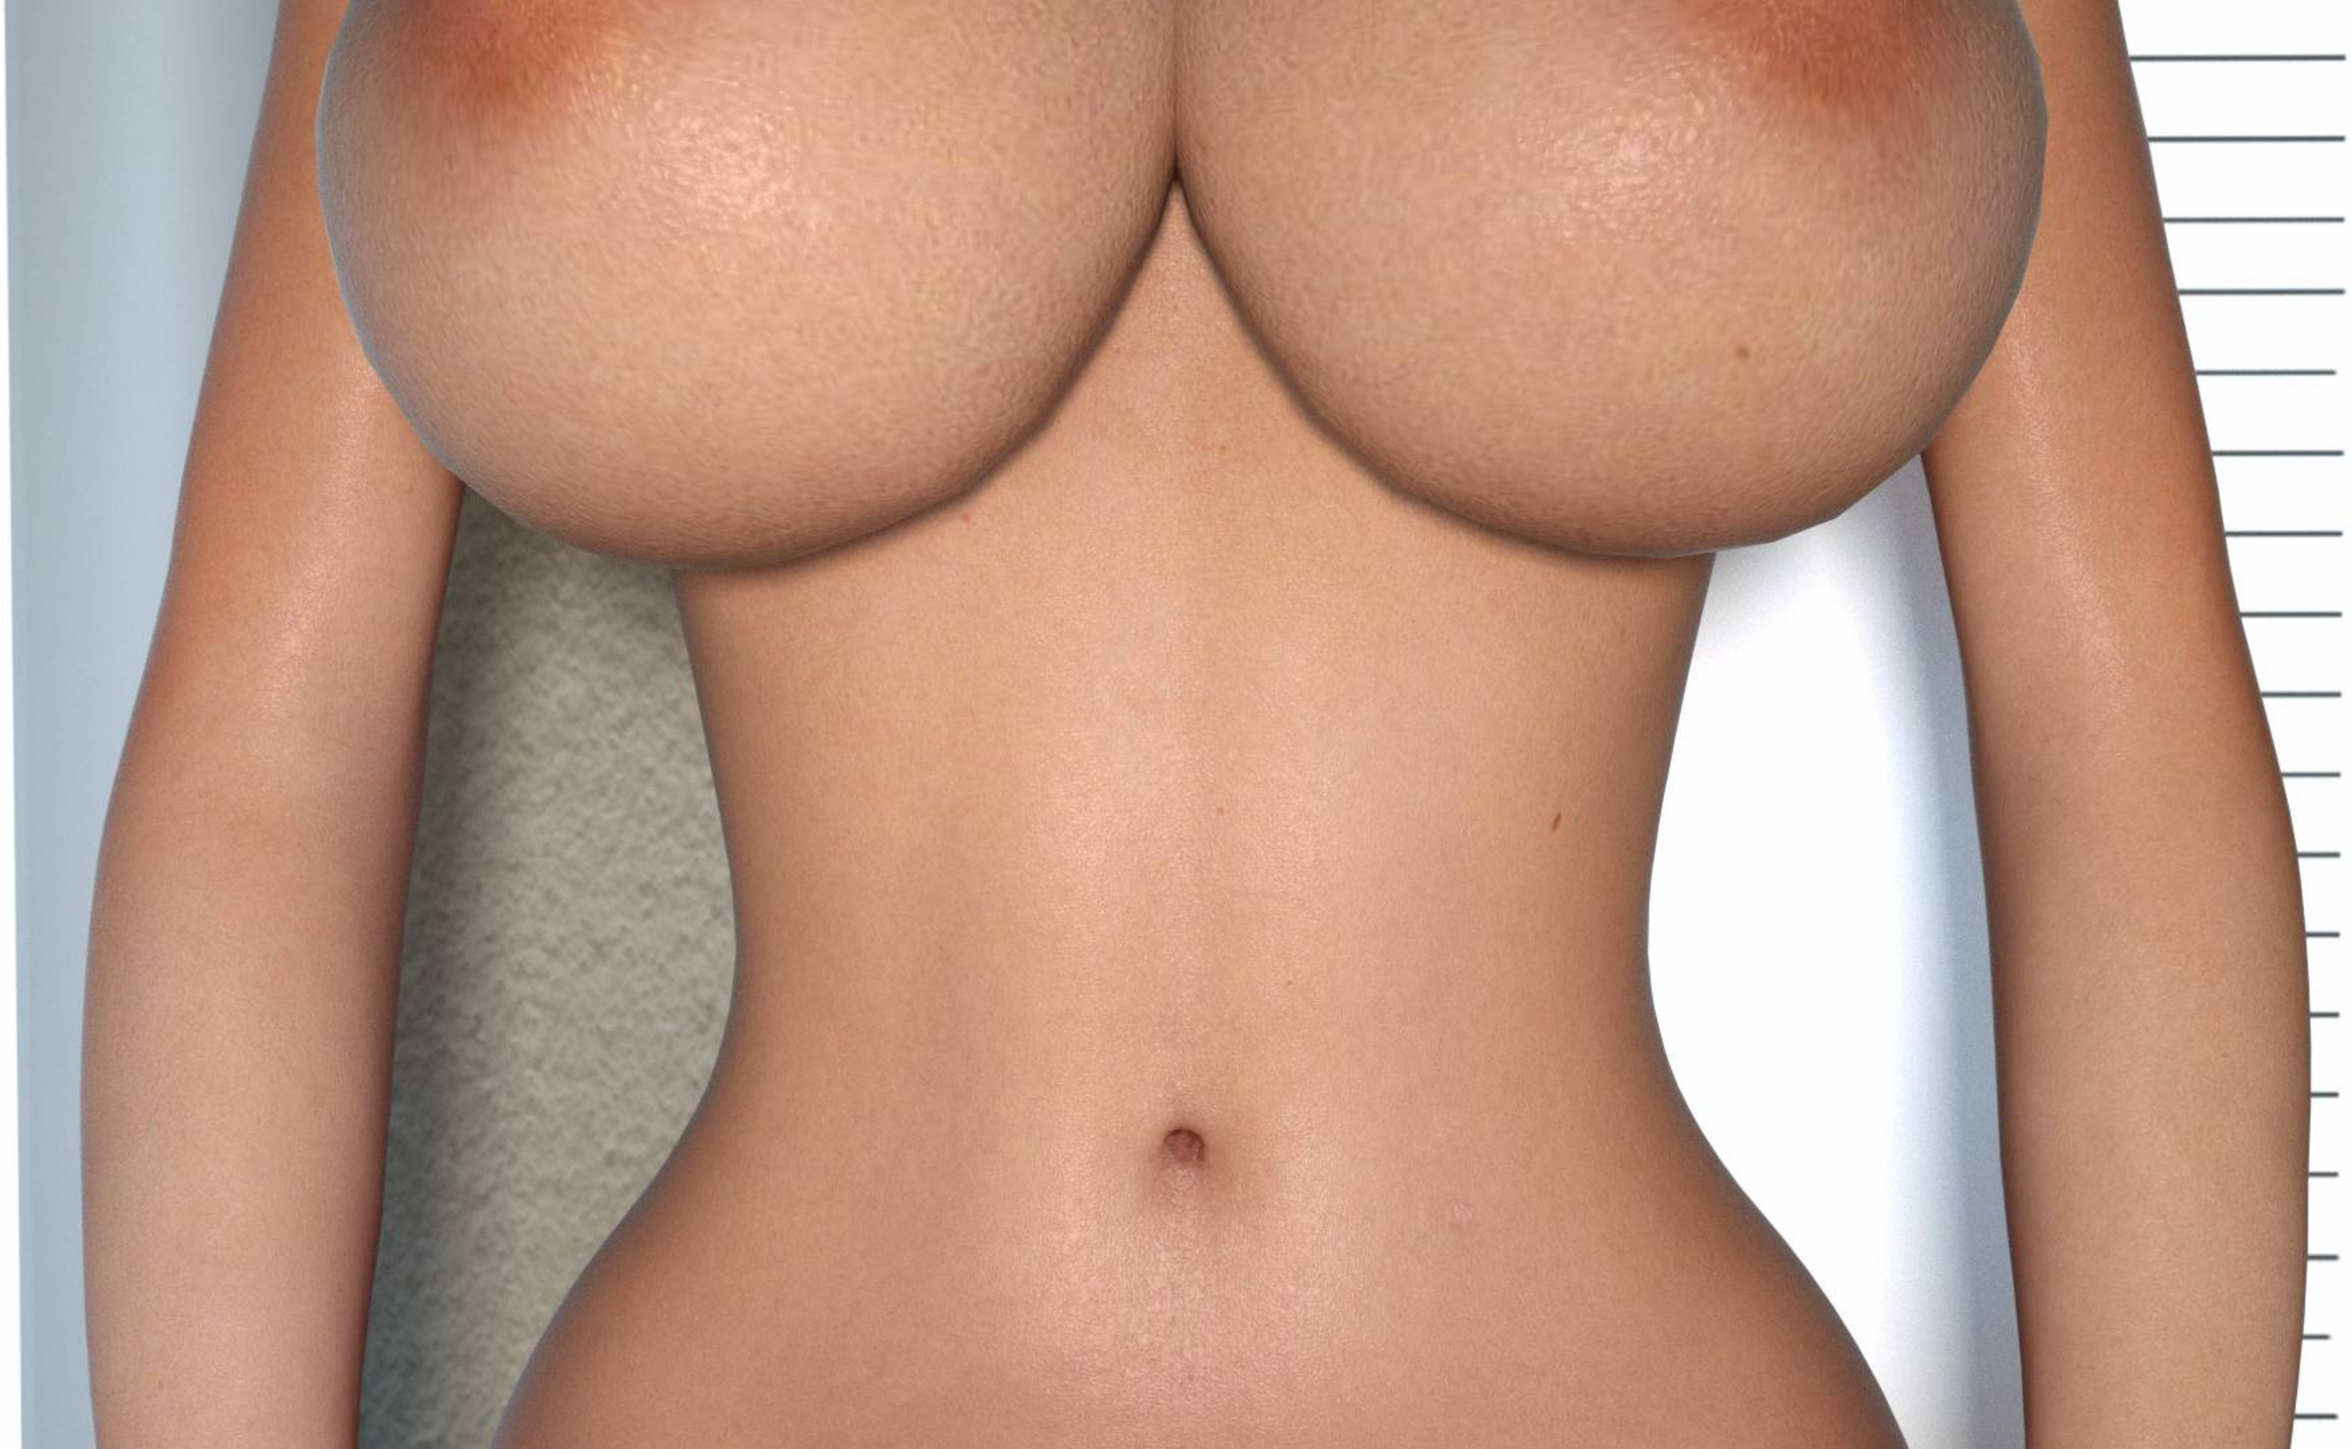

With my great surprise I made acquaintance with Eri: she said she could deliver me any clothing I need, especially underwear.

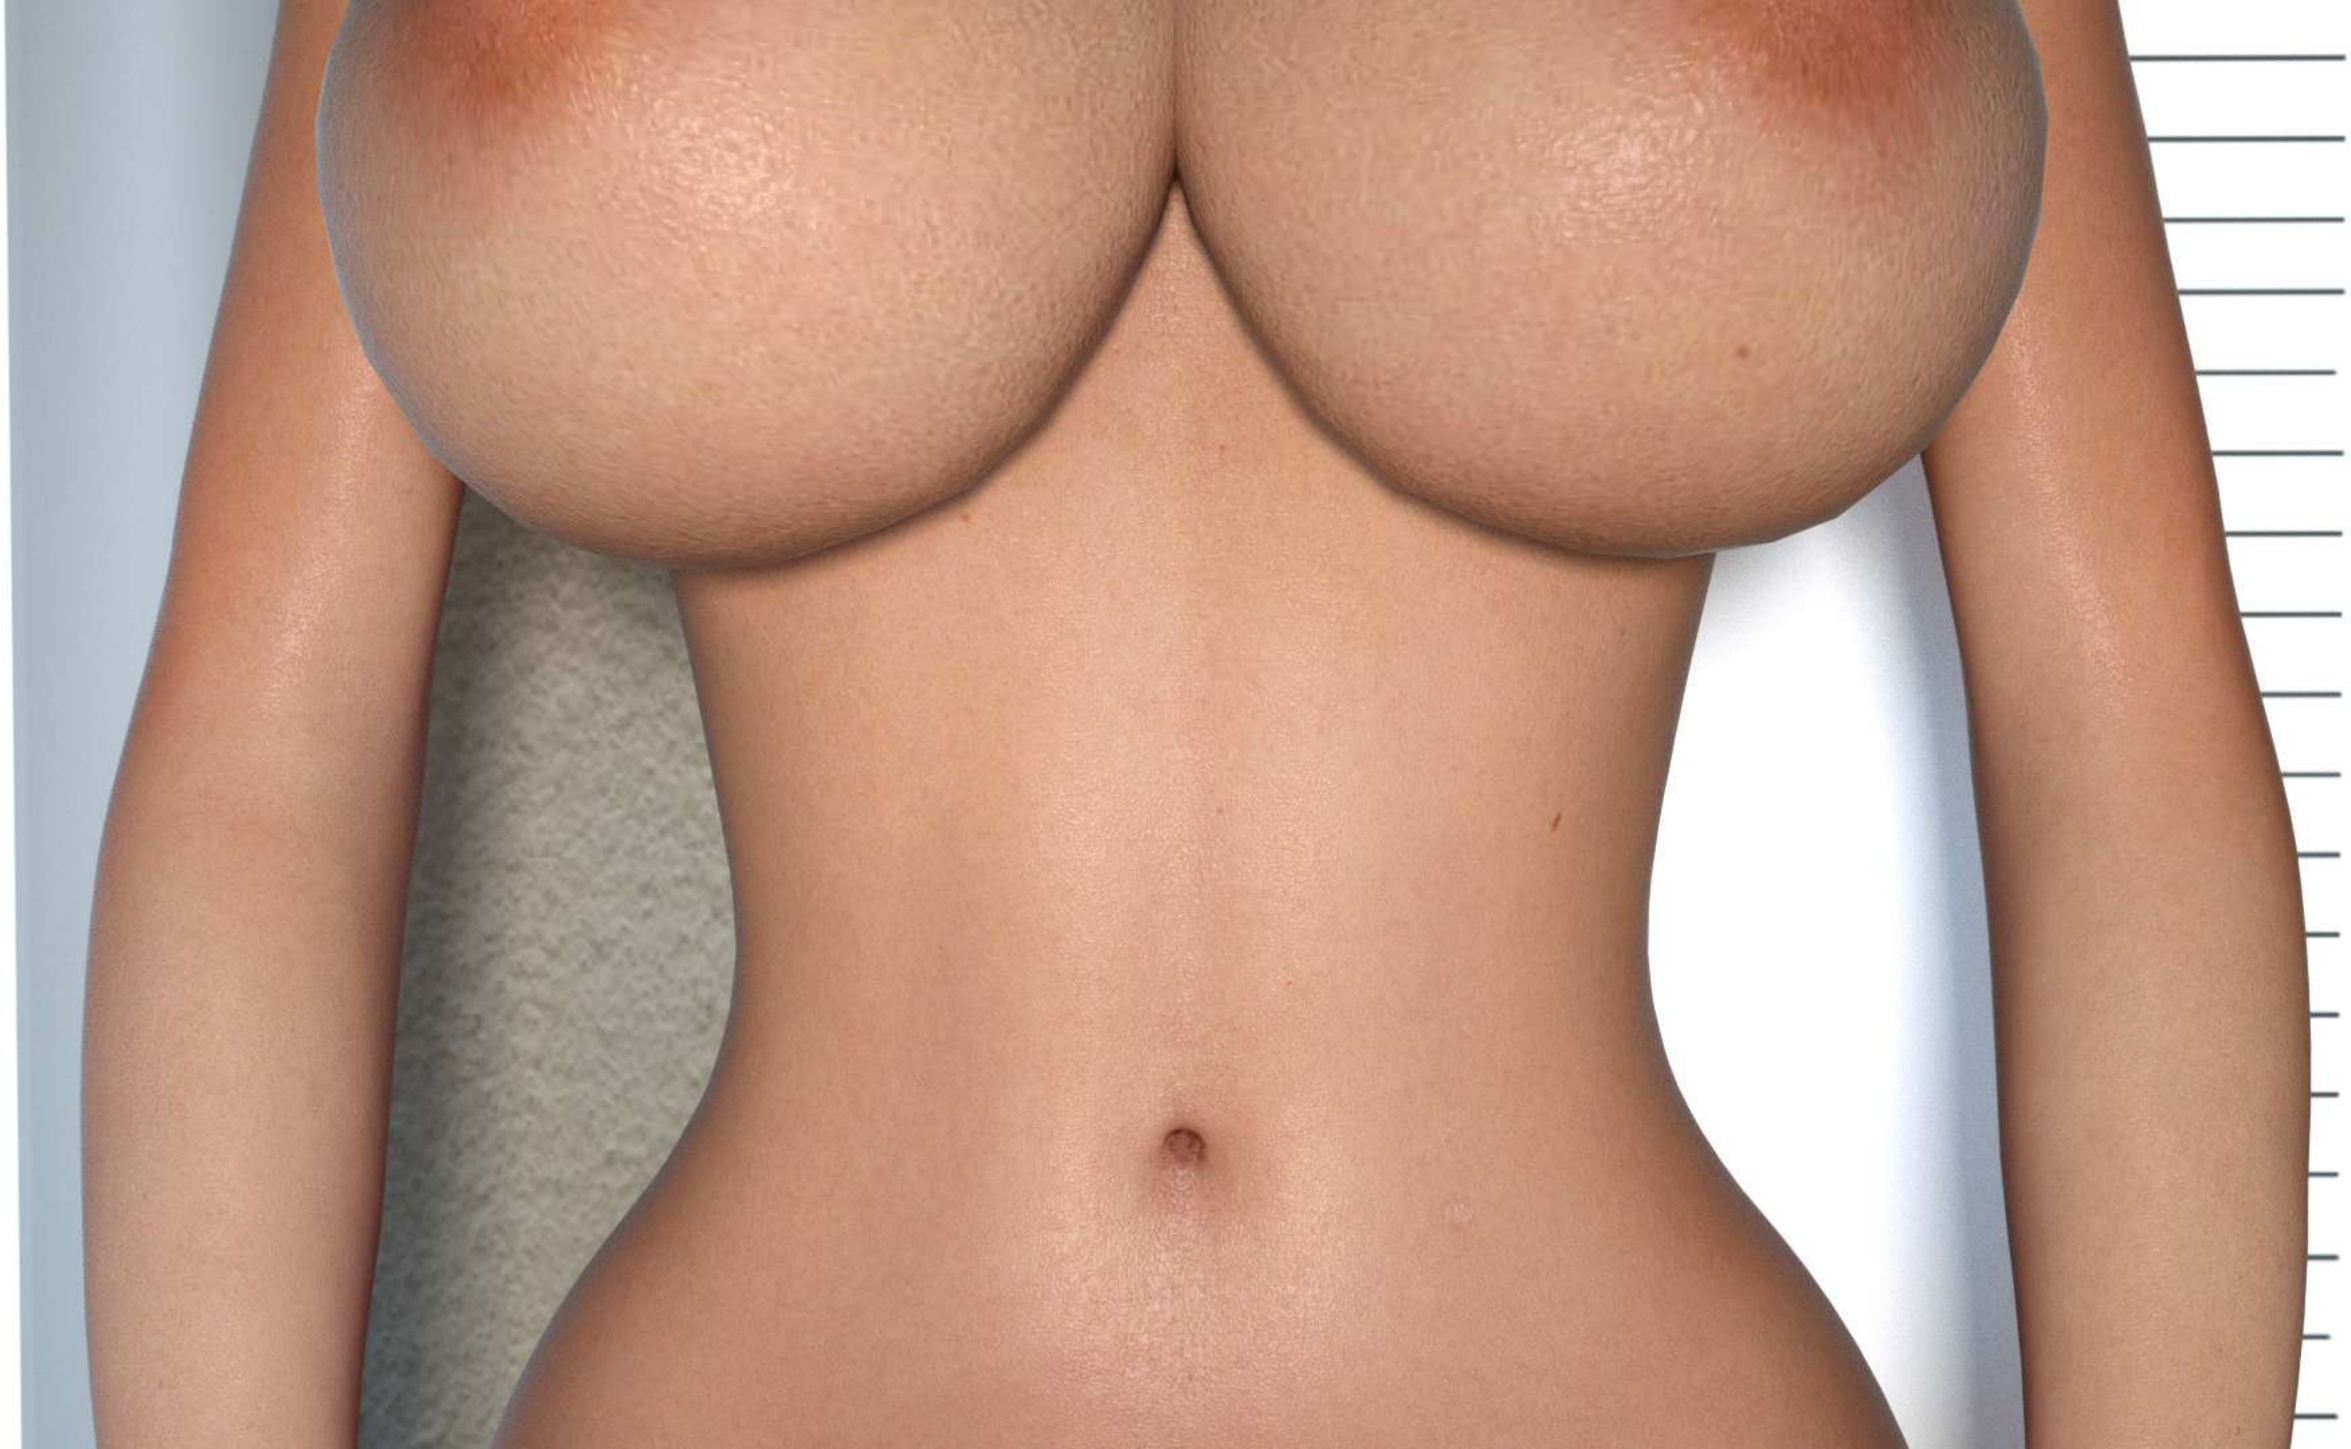

I immediately got rid of my extra tight underwear and I comfortably made myself naked in front of Eri. She was very kind and professional. She was watching me standing tall and without any clothes on while she was thinking what can be done.

Then she needed my measurements starting from my height. I now stand slightly above 8'2. I didn't grow much in the last month but it isn't the first time my growth slows down. My breast however is much bigger than a few months ago.
ALEX GTS ARTIST

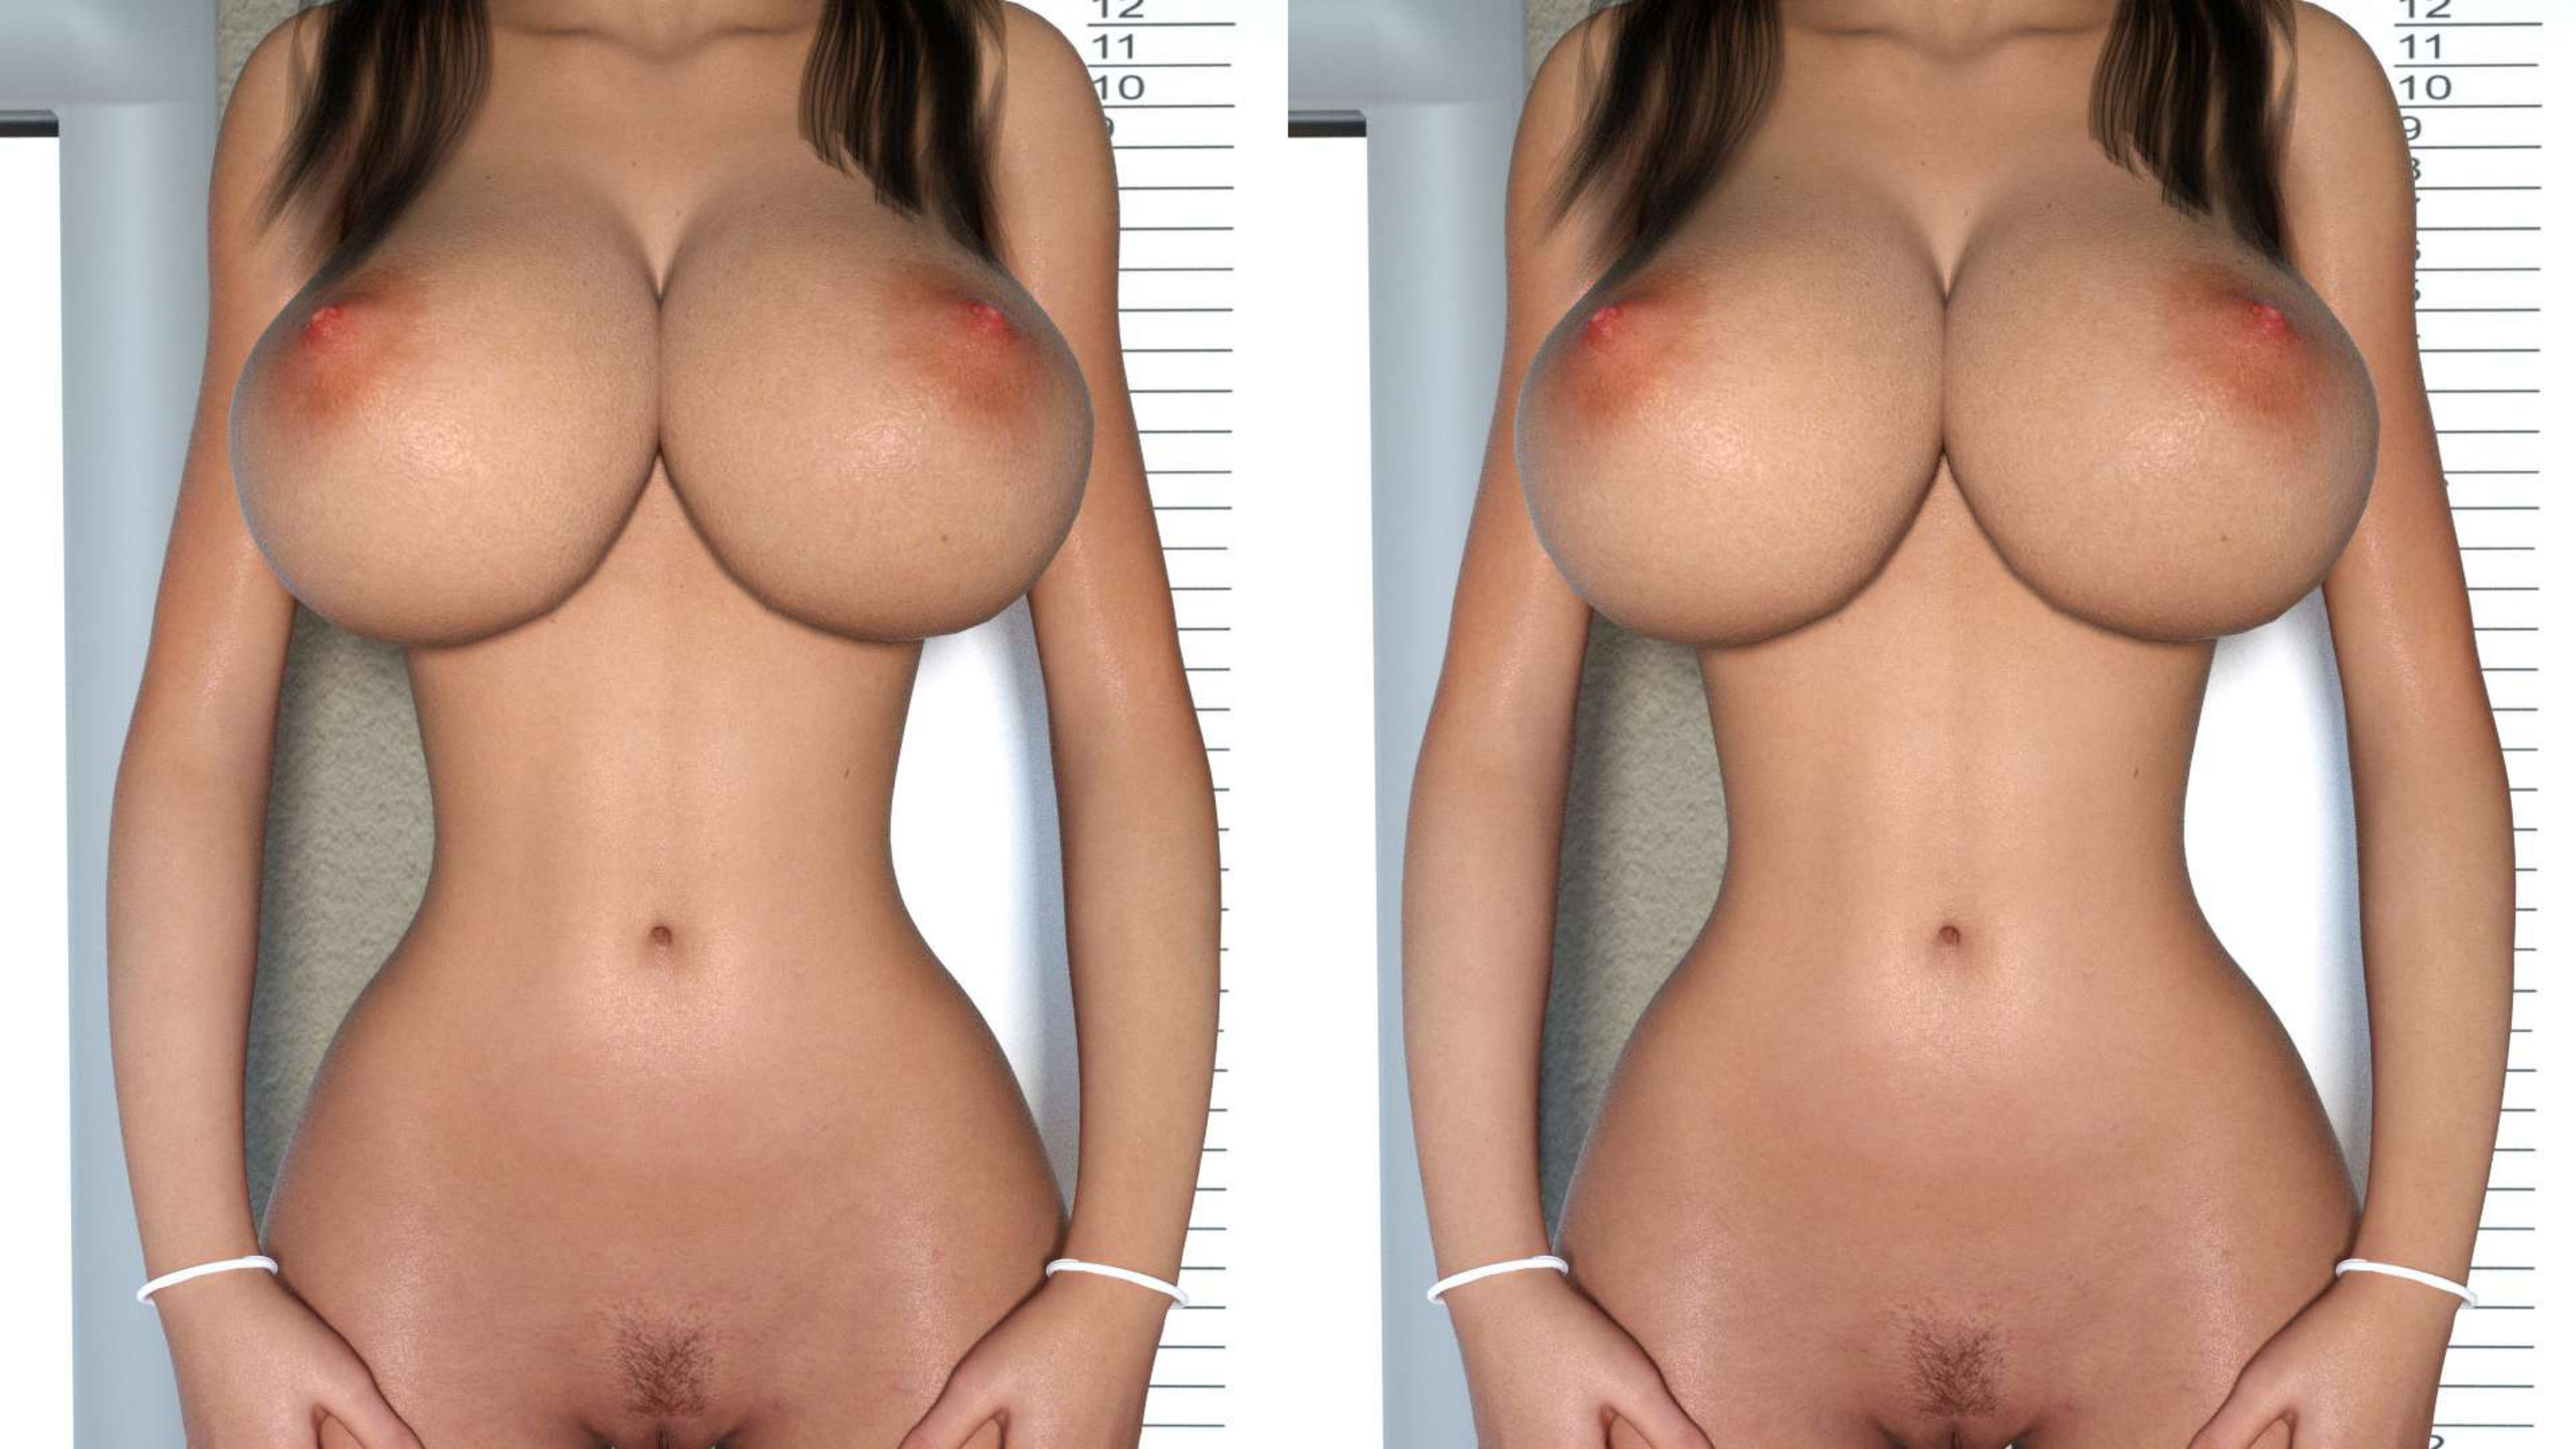

We checked some of my measurements.

It was time for her to go back to work. Before leaving she told me that is a really hard task to find clothes my size but nothing is impossible for her. I'm quite sure this cute little Eri will be pretty resourceful!

I stopped in a bar and asked for some water for Nero. While I was waiting, I noticed a girl with a very familiar face, but I couldn't exactly place her. Without thinking, I ended up staring at her and she seemed to be staring at me too. While I thought she was staring at me because of my height, I heard he say "Becky?" and it finally clicked.

I couldn't believe it was Erin! I was good friends with her older sister, Elizabeth, in college and it had been a long time since I'd seen her. There must be something special about little sisters, because she looked just a good, or better than her big sister. Anyways, she had filled out pretty well and looked great in her outfit.
ALEX GTS ARTIST

Erin was telling me all about growing up as a tomboy (she was pretty much a short, flat stick) in high school, where she working really hard to graduate early, and now she's currently enrolled in a prestigious university for Biochemistry.

For extra money, she's been working at the school library, which sounded more complicated than I expected for just handling books. There were digital systems to cover, coworkers to manage, and so many other things that she couldn't list them all. She's so smart.
ALEX GTS ARTIST

She told me about her new boyfriend, Joey, and how she's so happy with him. They met at a party, and after a little convincing, he finally agreed to date her. Although, she was telling me that he was Liz's boyfriend at one point, so she was feeling a little guilty/naughty about it. But she says it's worth it. She's keeping it as a little secret for now.

Erin was very interested in my own growth as well! She was telling me she was experiencing her own growth spurts and was asking so many questions about how I was handling it. I told her about my recent measurement and she couldn't help but ask if she could feel with her hands. She was very excited about it.

March 2018

Dear Diary,
This month I felt dizzy most of the time when I was standing up, so while I was talking with Mark I had to sit down. I was happy to be with him and I was teasing him again that he should stand on his tiptoes if he wants to kiss me even when I sit down.

He lifted one of my breasts with his hand and he admitted it was heavy. He said he could train his biceps by lifting my breast. I replied I have no problem with that. If he can train his biceps by just lifting one, think about me carrying both of them around all day!

I felt a bit better and I stood up. It was the first time Mark saw standing up this month. I was leaning down to him and he got a little scared. Why? I'm a kind girl, well my boobs might knock him down if they swing too much but it's not my fault!

When I was standing straight the view for him was different from usual. My breasts were taller than his head, my hips were taller than his shoulders and my navel was pointing straight to his Adam's apple. Only two years ago he was as tall as my shoulders.

We decided to check how much I've grown the last month and it was almost 2 full inches, taking me a quarter of an inch above 8'4". We both were impressed by this huge growth spurt, lately it doesn't happen quite often. Maybe that's why I was feeling so dizzy almost all the time.
ALEX GTS ARTIST

I stood on my tiptoes to tease him but he immediately hugged me. It was very sweet, he closed his eyes and told me again that no matter how tall I become he will always love me. He is doing his best to support me and I love him too!

April 2018,
Dear Diary,
This month my growth wasn't as strong as the last time but I think I'm a tiny bit taller. My mom changed her hairstyle and it's pretty visible her breasts are growing a lot. Also she is using a new lipstick. She looks even younger like this. I appreciate what she is doing and that she is so positive about it.

We talked for a while and I was impressed by what she told me. It looks like Eri is delivering clothes for her too lately. She didn't fit in the old ones. She was complaining that her breast was growing too much and, in the gym, every time she ran on a treadmill her chest was bouncing too much and there were guys, even less than half her age, staring at her all the time.

Her breasts were big but they were nothing compared to my huge ones. Ok, I have to admit that it's also because of my height. I was standing on my knees and I was about as tall as her. That means that even on my knees I'm taller than most of the girls in the world.

While mom and I were talking about how to deal with our heavy breasts in daily life Steve came into my room so happy and excited. He started playing "God of War" on playstation and he was really thrilled about it. Mom wasn't so much in videogames but I liked to play from time to time. So I told him I was going to give it a try in the coming days.

I stood up in front of my brother, he was way below my breast and part of him disappeared from my sight because of my huge chest that was hiding him. My navel was now taller than his eyes. My hips were above his shoulders while I was able to reach his hips with my knee on tiptoe

When mom stood up we were all pretty amazed she was standing taller than my brother. The difference was remarkable. Steve was shocked but after a while he realized that during the past months he perceived that mom was looking taller, although he dismissed this thought thinking it was like this because of her new shoes. Mom instead understood it when her pants started to look smaller but she can't explain why she is taller than 2 years ago

Dear Diary,
Alicia came back to visit me and she wasn't surprised to see me much taller than the last time. Although she remarked that I can't stop growing. She came to ask me if in the future I would like to hang out with her. Of course I agreed.
ALEX GTS ARTIST

My mom joined us. After a few pleasantries Alicia and she started talking about gym and exercises. They went on and on discussing about workout techniques, series, "reps" and load. Mom knew she has very strong arms and wanted to compare her strength with Alicia. Before anything would happen I wanted to check something...

We knew mom was taller, but we were shocked to find out she reached 6 feet tall. She was a woman in her forty and even if she looked much younger than her age she stopped growing at least 2 decades ago. It was possible that in the last years she grew about 3 inches.

Alicia, who knew a lot about such stuff having a master in bioengineering, supposed that my growth genes were inherited from my mom. She probably had them too, however they were inactive till now. Something triggered them. She kept supposing that her long gym sessions squeezed her body to the extreme, while promoting muscle growth they also pushed her bone structure to grow again.

To compare our strength Alicia decided to go for the deadlift. It's one of the most complete exercises. I decided to join in just for fun. We found this olympic bar and weight plates, belonging to my brothers when he was training, for a total of 255 lbs. The challenge was to complete the highest number of reps with this weight.

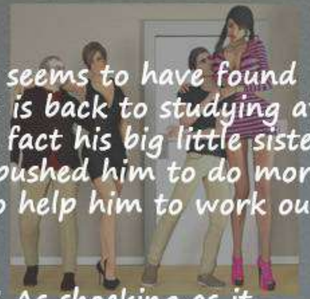

My mom started and she completed 43 reps before going down. Then it was my turn and I did 74 reps then my legs started to shake too much and I was exhausted. Alicia instead was on her 100th rep in this picture and she went on for 11 more. She definitely won this challenge... for now!

June 2018

Dear Diary,
Once again we stand to have our ritual Family Reunion photo taken. It might be the last one in this room. We added more photos to the wall to show changes me and my family are going through the years.

If I'd stand straight I would be taller than the room with these heels. It means I could be around 9 feet tall with them: yes, 9 feet. Bent like in the photo, my head is still touching the ceiling. I graduated with a Masters degree in Business and Economics and I was hired, even before finishing my studies from a branch of the company my mom works for. They said we share the same talent.

My cute little brother seems to have found his way and finally he is back to studying at University. Maybe the fact his big little sister is already graduated pushed him to do more. He also asked Alicia to help him to work out again.

Mom is... growing too! As shocking as it seems that's where I got my genes from. Unlike her my genes started to influence my growth when I was still young. To grow in her forties for a woman it isn't easy but her breasts have already doubled in size from the past year while she became stronger, younger and taller. She is always doing great at her job and every year she cashes a fat bonus.

My dad was caught in the photo enjoying the view of mom's huge breasts. He is still jobless but we're eating really good dishes every day. During the last year he lost more weight. He is very proud of his wife.

Dear Diary,
Gabriel my number one fan, came to visit asking if I could check my height since it was a while I didn't. My brother gossiped about it. I saw no harm in doing that so I stood near the wall. I was 8 feet 5 inches and a half tall.
ALEX GTS ARTIST

He said he was going to report this to my fan club, that guys would be really happy to know about it. So I bent and told him that I could find something more interesting for all my fans, I know what you guys usually liked. He stammered a few words because of his evident embarrassment and agreed.

ALEX GTS ARTIST

Here I was trying to stand straight as much as I could. The ceiling was in the way so I had to bend my head. This allowed me to have a look at him who finally raised his head. For him was the first time to be in the same room with a girl so tall that couldn't stand straight when she was wearing heels. To be honest for me was something quite new too.
ALEX GTS ARTIST

He climbed onto my desk and was really enthusiastic. He gained his confidence back and started to give me a lot of suggestions. One of which I really liked: to create an instagram account. I wasn't much into social media but I thought it was time to give it a try. You could find my new account under the name @Rebecca.TGD I hope I will get a lot of followers!

September 2018
Dear Diary,
This month I walked in my favorite bar and met Wolf again. It has been a while since the last time we met in the park with our puppies. Last time when I was here with Erin he had the day off so I couldn't see him. He was happy to see me again and reached out to shake my hand. By the way I was bent on the counter and I was still taller than him.
ALEX GTS ARTIST

While we were talking about what was going on in our lives he started to ask me if I was taller. Actually yes, I'm 4 inches taller than the last time we met. He wasn't so surprised, maybe he is following news about me or checking my instagram.
ALEX GTS ARTIST

He came near me asking for a comparison. As it was pretty clear already, while sitting I was head and shoulders above him and my knees were reaching his hips.When I get up and stand tall at 8'6 people start to disappear from my field of view.
ALEX GTS ARTIST

I was expecting that our difference would be more or less the same as when we met 9 months ago. The only difference is that now I don't wear any heels. Eri just brought me a beautiful pair of pumps and they are in my car, I could go and grab them. I asked if he wanted to see them, he agreed.
ALEX GTS ARTIST

I couldn't resist and I wore these beautiful shoes again, their gold color was so amazing and they fit me perfectly. As I had them on he was speechless and stared at me without moving for a few minutes, I was flattered. He really must have a good taste when it comes to shoes.

He asked kindly if I could stand up again and I did. He confirmed that these shoes are so perfect and pretty on me. Then we had a long discussion whether or not my hips are taller than him. We didn't come to an agreement but we easily agreed that my legs are longer than his whole body.

October 2018
Dear Diary,
While my growth was abysmal compared to my height, the biggest surprise this month was my mother, actually it was a really really big surprise. Mom rushed into my room and she was uncomfortable. Her breasts ballooned in size in a very short time. My breasts never grew this fast. They were huge sitting heavy on her chest. However, behind that uncomfortable expression of her I noticed that her breasts weren't the only thing to have changed. Her face also looked different, more feminine and, if possible, younger.

I didn't believe my own eyes, how could she hide this amazing growth spurt all this month? it must have taken all her best efforts. She wasn't supposed to expand this fast as her growth happened in her forties. Dad was the only one to witness this on a daily basis. Any bra she bought on a Monday didn't last till Sunday, including the one that snapped in front of my dad's face leaving a scar on his cheek. He lied to us telling us he hit against the edge of the door.

My brother entered the room after watching the second movie of a trilogy I suggested to him. He wanted to share his opinion with me. It took him a split second to notice our mom's impressive new cleavage. The scene was even more surreal for him as the movie he just watched was Back to the future part II and there was this scene where Martin McFly meets her mom in an alternative reality with augmented breasts. At that moment, in his mind, the idea that somebody took a time machine and altered his reality didn't sound so weird.
ALEX GTS ARTIST

If my brother didn't step into my room I was going to miss another huge change my mom had: she is now much taller! She used to be shorter than my brother, then they had the same height and now she is a few inches taller. On a second look the length of his pants is much shorter than usual, how did I miss that?

I was really curious so I asked her to come with me to check her height. She didn't know how much she've grown either and for all of us it was going to be a surprise. While she was getting near to the scale it was quite visible she passed the six foot mark. I double checked her height but both me and my brother were shocked to see her stand at 6'2. That's 2 inches more than she was! She was quite pleased by that. Is she in some sort of competition with me? I remember when I started to get taller she began to use high heels on a daily basis.
ALEX GTS ARTIST

Steve couldn't keep it anymore and bolted out, dad who was in the corridor and saw him running decided to check what was going on in my room. After asking mom what was wrong with my brother and after she gestured to show herself my dad understood everything and he just smiled and dove his nose into her cleavage. After that I decided to cover my eyes and to join Steve wherever he was.

November 2018
Dear Diary,
Eri entered the room and the first thing she did was to stare at my butt for a few seconds. Then she said that we have a problem, a very huge problem! These were her exact words. I don't know if it was because she was influenced by the size of my posterior compared to her head or because my size was really starting to be a huge problem for her.
ALEX GTS ARTIST

She was talking about my size. I, again, was too big for any cloth I owned. I had to call Erin, I really had to because I had a huge growth spurt. It happened in one month, outgrowing and ripping everything. My jeans middle stitches tore off for the joy of a group of guys who were sitting behind me in a pub. I think she wasn't happy because even for her abilities and knowledge it was hard to find clothes that could fit me.

Evidently height wasn't the only part of me to have undergone changes. My breasts expanded quickly this month and of course this complicates things more. She was thinking how to manage this situation and where she could get garments that would fit me. On a side note, I noticed that just sitting on my feet would make me taller than her.
ALEX GTS ARTIST

The time of truth has come. Eri asked me if I could help her to get a more precise measurement by lifting her. I had no problem about that so while crouching I grabbed her under her armpits and stood up. For Eri it was like a trip to the luna park, although she was scared to hit the ceiling with her head: I had to be really careful about that. 8 feet, 8 and a half inches she said while pointing her finger to the scale. I grew more than mom did last month, impressive!
ALEX GTS ARTIST

Eri had a lot to tell me so I decided to sit and make her hop on my lap. My breasts were a bit on the way, pushing her chest back so I put my arm around her neck to keep her from falling. Apparently she was able to find premade clothes for my size but she really had to travel a lot for them, she didn't say where, it was her secret. However the more I grew the lesser options I had.

December 2018
Deary Diary,
This month I met again the sister of my dear friend Elizabeth and she started to talk about her relationship with Joey. She was telling me every detail, how much he loves her body and all her curves. I was listening carefully as her words were remembering me of my boyfriend. She also admitted that she is still keeping it secret from her sister.
ALEX GTS ARTIST

We discussed clothes, she was complaining that finding her bra size was an impossible task. I told her about how difficult it was for me to always get new clothes every time I outgrow them. She was thinking I was talking mostly about my breasts because she noticed they are bigger than the last time.
ALEX GTS ARTIST

As I stood up she understood I was already much taller than the last time we met. She asked if I could check her measurements and I agreed. I was wondering why she wanted me to check and she said she was unsure what her actual size actually is.

We checked her height. She was 5'6 and it wasn't a surprise to her. Why did she want her height checked if she already knew about it? She answered that she hoped for more, I guess she would like to be a few inches taller. Next measurement was her breast, for that I asked her to get topless while I grabbed the tape.

When Erin undressed I noticed she had a beautiful natural breast shape. I started by measuring her under breast that was 80 cm (31.5 inches). I then measured her breast circumference and it was 102 cm (40 inches) making her a H Cup according to US standard bra size. Time to make her drop her skirt off and take more measurements.
ALEX GTS ARTIST

Her waist was only 56 cm (22 inches) and her hips were a wonderful 108 cm (42.5 inches). She had an amazing hourglass figure with generous curves. She said her growth in the past was consistent but now it's been a while that nothing has changed. I told her about Alicia, a genius in bioengineering. Erin said that it would be a pleasure for her to meet Alicia one day.

January 2019

Dear Diary,
It was the first day of the year, we were back from our night long party and we just had the best sex of our life. It has been a long night and we both have been dancing for hours. After all this sweating we really needed a warm long shower.

He was tired and didn't want to get up from bed. I decided to stand up and carry my lazy boyfriend in my arms. He tried to resist but I really wanted a shower right now.

Once in the bathroom he was awake again and it seems he wasn't the only one to be awake, if you know what I mean. It seems I had to take care of them both before showering.

After I helped him to calm down and we were finally ready to shower. I noticed that the taller I become the hornier he gets. I wonder if it's just because of my height or if there is something else too...
ALEX GTS ARTIST

Before entering the bathtub he started to notice that the shower head was at my chest level and there was no way in the world we both could take a shower together. I knew he was right, my original idea was slightly different and more relaxing.
ALEX GTS ARTIST

I opened the faucet and let the warm water fill the bathtub. Meanwhile I entered and sat, so did he after me. He sat in front of me and used my body like it was a reclined throne, my breast was like a huge ergonomic pillow rest for his head and neck. He was so relaxed and happy, so was I.

February 2019

Deary Diary,
I'm barely two fingers from reaching the ceiling. From the last time I checked my height with Eri I've grown a full inch. This month I wanted to recreate the same pictures I did the first time I started to write this diary. It's going to be a challenge and I'm not sure if they are going to be sexy or just funny but I want to give them a try.

One of the most difficult parts of this challenge was to find shoes that would fit my feet size and the same identical model I used almost 7 years ago. My little delivery girl only found fuchsia ones so they'll have to do. The difference in size is amazing, now I could barely fit 2 of my toes in my old shoes. I've grown so much, I almost doubled my height from when I was 18yo.
ALEX GTS ARTIST

Just for fun I wanted to try them on and as you can see only two of my toes can barely fit. A few years ago, when I tried them I could fit up to 4 toes inside. Now they are really tiny. I also found the same socks, it wasn't as hard as looking for the shoes.
ALEX GTS ARTIST

First picture of the diary, just a tad bigger than 7 years ago, right? The picture is not so bad, pretty similar to the original except my legs can't fit on the bed at all, my breasts are squished on the bed and my butt is much rounder
4
2
ALEX GTS ARTIST

The second picture was easier but the bed looks like a doll bed for me (and still I manage to sleep on this!). Comparing these pictures I can appreciate my narrow waist and my longer hair.
ALEX GTS ARTIST

The last picture shows should have been the easiest one but because of my height even if I zoomed out I couldn't fit in this camera angle frame, I also can't stand straight because my head hits the ceiling. In the end I decided to bend. My legs are so long now, several inches more than my former height.

March 2019
Dear Diary,
This month I had a peculiar request from my father. He wanted to know how my boyfriend and I managed our relationship when I became taller than him. If Mark did something special to be more interesting for me. He was preoccupied mom could lose interest in him. I had to know more, why was he so worried about this?

He told me a lot about their relationship changes. It was some intimate stuff but he was good to talk about such arguments without making the conversation embarrassing. I understood what he was going through. He was a middle aged man while my mom due to the recent growth changes was having the desire and endurance of a teenager. He couldn't cope with her desire, even with the help of some pills he was getting tired much earlier than her desire was totally satisfied and she had to continue alone. He noticed that at first this was ok for her while now she looks kind of disappointed.

I went to speak with mom about this, I wanted her point of view too. Dad wasn't wrong after all, he understood the situation but mom said she still loved him. She didn't know what happened to her but she was horny most of the time and she needed longer to satisfy her desire. She was sorry about her behavior. I went back to my room and told dad everything she said. I didn't have the same problem, however my libido grew with my height too. My boyfriend could still keep up but sometimes I also satisfied myself alone, even at work if I had to.

My father was feeling better but he still was a little preoccupied. Our topic, however, switched toward my life. How things have changed for me, how famous I've become. How people can easily recognize me in the street for obvious reasons and how almost everybody in town knows my name. He also started to stare at me, when I asked what was wrong he asked if I had another recent growth spurt. I didn't know yet, so it was time for us to check. After all this is my growth diary not my family drama one even if, as the time goes on, I talk about everything about my life here.

For my dad was the first time to check my height in a while and he was impressed that my head was almost scratching the ceiling. I was one quarter of an inch away. The ceiling is 8'10" and after that I reach or pass that height, I must be even more careful than now. This home is already way too little for me.
ALEX GTS ARTIST

I was quite surprised when I touched my dad's arm, it was quite firm. Was he working out? With a shy smile he admitted it in the end: he was practicing with Steve weights in the basement. I think he wanted to make a good impression on mom and that, in my opinion, was a good way to react to their situation.

I decided I wanted a drink and when I entered the bar I saw Wolf talking with Gabriel. I understood later they got to know each other because of me, they are my "fans". It was a while I didn't meet them and when they saw me coming their jaw dropped in amazement.
ALEX GTS ARTIST

They were still shocked that even after I greeted them it took them a few seconds to answer me. They were crafting theories about me and even if they wanted me to be taller they didn't expect I was so tall already, also thanks to my 7.5 inches heels.
ALEX GTS ARTIST

I decided to show them my shoes. When I put my foot on the table they were both impressed by my foot size. When they knew my feet were size 60 (EU) they were shocked. I had to ask more than once if they liked my shoes and just after a couple of tries they nodded while watching my foot from all the possible angles.
ALEX GTS ARTIST

They asked if they could touch my foot and my shoe to compare their hands with them. I agreed, of course there was no problem. They were impressed and curious, it was the first time for them. They also started to take pictures to post on social networks and their fan club page.
ALEX GTS ARTIST

They stood up from their stools but it looked like their height didn't change. Next to me they looked like kids, I suppose for them I must be some kind of gigantic girl. I actually am really close to the world record of the tallest human being that ever existed but thanks to my heels I'm already taller than that!

May 2019
Dear Diary,
This month my growth focussed again on my lower half as my butt and hips grew visibly and my thighs and calves got more toned. It was during one of my morning exercises that I was contacted by Alicia asking if she could be at my place together with Erin, of course I agreed

Erin arrived alone, she said Alicia stopped in her lab to take some equipment. That was enough for me to understand what the girls were about to talk and to ask. I trusted these girls, they were very talented and smart but they wanted to try the impossible.
ALEX GTS ARTIST

After 20 minutes Alicia arrived with a backpack in her hand. When she saw me she was impressed: she said I grew like weed. I asked her what was inside her backpack, even though I already had some ideas. She said not to worry about it, they just needed to talk to me first.

All the girls wanted from me was some blood. What they really wanted I had figured out already. In the past they both desired to grow more and they managed to boost their growth in some ways. Their goal was to create something that could help them but I have one question: was it really possible?
ALEX GTS ARTIST

They said that the first step would be to analyze my genome with next generation sequencing. They wanted to focus on chromosomes I received from my mom because they believed the key to my growth was laying there. Therefore they will also try to take my mom's blood. After that they'll need to execute the sequence with a supercomputer for several months until they can narrow down which of them causes my body reception of growth hormones to work like I'm always in a never ending second puberty.

It didn't take much for them to convince me to go along with their plan. I already wanted to know more about myself. While Alicia was getting ready to take a sample of my blood, Erin was eager to know how much my breasts were weighthing now: she said they were so heavy that if she did this once a day she would get super strong arms like Alicia.
ALEX GTS ARTIST

Once they had my blood it was almost all done for now. However we engaged in an interesting conversation about how things could be working in my body and how I keep gaining inches without having any growth related problems like other people suffering from gigantism.
ALEX GTS ARTIST

Alicia wanted to arm wrestle with me but Erin didn't want to waste any time and go with her to the lab, so she jumped on my neck while I was standing up. She screamed a bit when I stood because she was both excited and scared: it was like a ride on a rollercoaster for her. Then the girls left but I promised Alicia I'll wrestle her next time we meet.

June 2019

Dear Diary,
Our yearly family photo is back again. I can't believe but we're doing it again in the same room. Next year will be impossible because I already don't fit in here!

Last year I was as tall as I would be now without heels. With my heels I'm really close to 10 feet and that's why I've to bend so much in the room. I have worked for over a month now at the same company building as my mom, I moved up from the little branch I started with and I've my own office.

My brother has lost more weight and didn't train as he should have done with Alicia. He went to the first 2 training sessions, then he decided it was too hard and he quit. I'm doing my best to convince him to go to the gym again and I gave him a gym subscription.

Mom grew slightly taller during this year while her already huge breasts doubled in size. The reason for her growth is still not clear but I swear she looks younger than ever. She is working nicely bringing our company to devour any competitors.

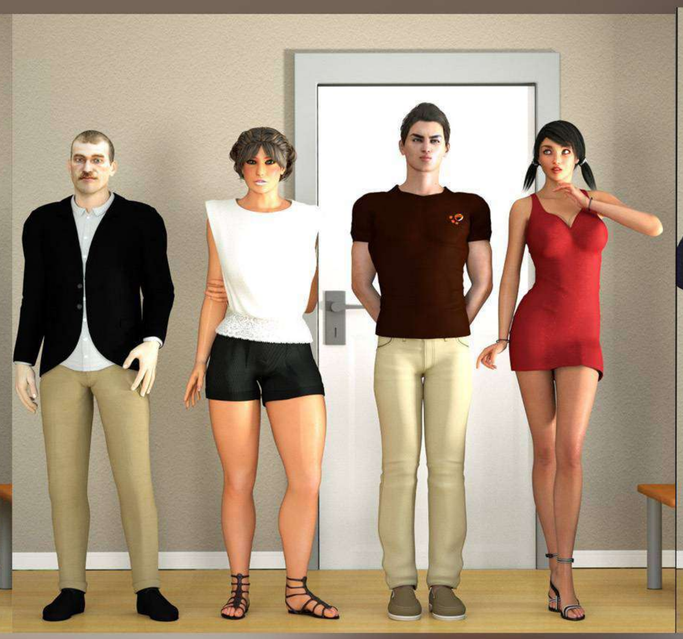

Dad slimmed down and he is working out in our basement. He gained some mass and he is looking better. However he is still not working and he is taking care of our home.

July 2019
Dear Diary,
This month I had a significant growth spurt, in the past I grew something like 1 quarter of an inch per month but this month was much more. I'm going to measure myself and for this reason I need to move my scale to the bathroom as it's the room with the highest ceiling. Although it starts to feel small compared to me
ALEX GTS ARTIST

I would spend a moment to show what I think would be Robert Wadlow's height compared to me. I passed him and became the tallest person that ever lived. I still needed an official measurement but I was pretty sure about it.
ALEX GTS ARTIST

As usual to assist me in all my measurement I've my trustworthy assistant Eri. When she was close to me she raised her head and my face was so tall I had to move her hat to make eye contact.
ALEX GTS ARTIST

After we brought the scale she tried to climb directly on the sink but it was way too short for her, she looked around and found a stool. She placed it on the sink and climbed on both of them. I must admit I was worried she could fall and tried to keep a hand near Eri to grab her in case she needed it. To the fun part, I passed 9 feet: according to her if we ignore my tuft of hair I was almost 1 inch above that.
ALEX GTS ARTIST

My other measurements were the following:
Legs length179.5 cm (5'11)
Inseam 145 cm (4'9)
Shoulder height 237 cm (7'9)
Waist 77cm (30")
Breast 154 cm (61")
Hips 156 cm (62")
Under Breast 110 cm (43")
Thigh circumference. 86 cm (34") Feet 40 cm (16")
After measuring she said that she isn't sure she can deliver clothes fast enough when I've huge growth spurts like this. When I asked what was the problem she simply shrugged

When Steve turned, he almost got a heart attack: for a few seconds he thought to have shrunken several inches. He noticed Eri was wearing my shoes and he started to breathe again. His reaction made us laugh a lot but he left the room without saying to me what he wanted and with his legs still shaking. Later in the evening I went to visit him in his room and give him a well deserved hug.

I was getting ready. This time I wanted to be really gorgeous and impress him. I wore a long pearl necklace, golden earrings and bracelets. I used much more makeup than usual: eyeshadows, eyeliner, blusher, mascara and glossy lipstick. I couldn't wait to see his reaction!
ALEX GTS ARTIST

As I entered the restaurant and called his name he turned and his jaw dropped in disbelief. He never saw me like this and, as he told me later, I was gorgeous like never before. I loved this dress and it took me more than an hour to get ready. Given his expression it was well worth my time.
ALEX GTS ARTIST

I stood in front of him, I felt statuesque and empowered. He was mesmerized by me and my new look and that made me feel admired, unique. We girls have the skill and art to make ourselves look even better than we already are and when it pays off with the right person is truly an amazing feeling.
ALEX GTS ARTIST

He was happy like a little kid, his smile was pure joy. I felt dominant and yet very feminine while keeping his head up avoiding his eyes to wander all over my body. I wanted to savour the moment and his emotions while driving him crazy.
ALEX GTS ARTIST

After dinner he started to ask me a ton of questions, sometimes he was joking and sometimes he was serious. I couldn't understand where he wanted to get but he was very enthusiastic about it.

We finished talking and I was walking toward the exit when I heard him calling my name: Rebecca. I turned and I almost burst in tears of joy. "Will you marry me, Rebecca?": My knees were weak and I was practically shaking. "Yes! Yes! YES!!!" I said.

Going through my old stuff brought me so many memories. Even a simple pencil case could be the key to open the shrine of several happy moments of your life. Steve shook me off my thoughts by calling me. He took one of the boxes and wanted to know where to bring it. I asked if it wasn't too heavy and he said he is a strong man. I giggled but I thanked him and asked to bring at least 2 more empty boxes on his way back.

I hugged him and I said I felt a bit melancholic: I will miss them, I will miss my room, my spaces, while at the same time I was happy to start a new life. Dad who was working as cook on cruises for the most part of his life, knew how it felt to start anew every time. Changing is an adventure that enriches you, he said, while your past is the strength that makes you go through it. He hoped as parents they have taught me well to live any adventure I want.

October 2019
Dear Diary,
Finally I'm living in my new apartment and I'm about to show you my new bedroom. As you can already see the ceiling is much higher than my parents' house. We bought new furniture and decorated everything. Fun fact: he didn't actually buy one new apartment for us, he had to buy two, one above another
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist

Here is the bedroom, there is much more space than in my previous room and the bed is way bigger than before. I might personalize it a bit more in the future but for now I'm happy with the results.
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist
ALEX GTS ARTIST

The mattress was custom made, it's about 10 feet in length, barely enough for me: we didn't want to exaggerate as it could become cumbersome. We'll change it when I need a bigger one. Mark loves this mattress because it's huge and comfortable for him. After years of sleeping on a cramped tiny bed, this one feels amazingly wide and big.

I still remember when I tried to reach the chandelier for the first time and I managed to touch it, but here I'm still far from reaching it. I'm now several inches taller than I was and I'm sure I'm at least one inch taller than the last time I checked.
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist
ALEX GTS ARTIST

And now the last detail before moving to the bathroom: the wardrobes. Which one is mine and which one belongs to Mark? Hard to guess, right?!

Also the bathroom has been customized to fit a girl of my size. There is a pretty long bath tube and the shower will still be good if I grow another foot.Everything in here is taller than usual but not too much to be uncomfortable for my shorter partner.
ALEX GTS ARTIST

This is the best compromise we could get and yet it's not so comfortable for either of us. On the bright side the mirror is very wide and tall, it allows me to apply makeup with ease. Anyway I really like the new apartment, there is a lot of room for me, much more comfortable than before and I'm really grateful to Mark.
ALEX GTS ARTIST

At some point while we were talking I started to feel really horny and I tried to send him some signals. He didn't understand so I decided to take care of it myself. I picked his 6'3 body up my shoulder and carried him to the bedroom.

November 2019

Dear Diary,
This month I was impressed by the girls' progress. Erin asked me to go to the park at 3 PM. When I arrived she was already there. She told me that they managed to create some sort of serum even though for some reason the test on pigs and monkeys failed. They isolated the genetic code, modified it into some intelligent mitochondrial RNA that should be able to target determinate cells and make them reproduce faster.

www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist

ALEX GTS ARTIST

She said they went through all the calculation all over again and there was no real explanation why it didn't work. Everything was correct, maybe they were missing something. She thought that maybe the small percentage of DNA difference with humans was the key, so she decided to try it on herself without saying anything to Alicia and asked to keep it secret for a while. I thought it was a bold move on her side but she was so anxious to see results.
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist
ALEX GTS ARTIST

We were almost finishing talking when Wolf passed by. He said he noticed me from half a mile away and he came to say hi. When he was close to me, he said he was impressed by my size, he didn't expect me to be this tall already. I said that I grew some during the last months and if he wanted to check I could stand up. He agreed with a huge smile on his face.

ALEX GTS ARTIST

He was really close when I stood up and my mountains were on the way obstructing our line of sight. I'm sure he didn't mind it that much. Before taking a step back I started to giggle because of the funny situation involuntarily giving him a sight to behold with my bouncing chest.

ALEX GTS ARTIST

Erin decided to leave and get back to the lab. I then spent some time with Wolf before heading home. He confessed that looking at me was hurting his spine and put him off balance because I was way taller than him. The last time I was standing in front of him like this I had heels but now, even without them, the difference was about the same.
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist
ALEX GTS ARTIST

At 6'11 Alicia was barely able to reach my shoulder with her hand. She was trying to read my height. Finally after finding a chair she was sure to read it correctly. I was 9 feet, 3 inches and a half. It was an impressive height, height no human ever recorded has ever reached. I was contacted by the world guinness record agency, we arranged an appointment for the next year.
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist
ALEX GTS ARTIST

Alicia started talking about their serum and that according to her, given the results, they forgot to consider something, she had no clue what, yet. After some technical speech that went on for about 10 minutes she asked me to swear for secrecy. I knew where this was going and I was right: she injected some of it without saying anything to Erin.This became an uncomfortable situation for me so I decided to suggest both of them to be open to each other in case something went wrong.
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist
ALEX GTS ARTIST

Mark came home and he accidentally heard part of the things Alicia said. He rushed into our room and accused them to be careless and to take risks for me and for them. Alicia started to reassure him everything was under control, they studied a lot and their expertise was beyond any other in their respective fields. I told him that they just collected a sample of blood from me. In the end he calmed down but he was still worried things could get out of hand.

December 2019
Dear Diary,
This month I had an unexpected guest in my apartment. My mom came with many luggages asking for hospitality. She and dad had a serious fight and now they need some distance to think about their relationship. So she is going to stay here for a while. I hope everything will be ok between them. Gabriel helped her to carry her luggages, it's been a while since we met.

ALEX GTS ARTIST

I didn't know why she took this decision to move, I just knew things weren't great from a while between them. She was looking really upset but also shocked and sad. She said that even though she wasn't the best mother and wife it was still better than my dad because she didn't hide any secret from him.

About 20 years ago they were on the verge of divorcing and they were separated at home without saying anything to us, they didn't want to make us sad because we were just kids. Dad left to work on a cruise for 4 months and during that period he met a woman, it was just an infatuation but mom came to know about it thanks to a letter dad recently received.

ALEX GTS ARTIST

This letter was from Miranda, the daughter that was conceived during that cruise. She is my half-sister! I have a sister that, despite all the problems this situation is causing, I want to meet. I'm sorry for my mother, it's already been one month since she knew about this and she has been suffering all this time. Dad didn't know about her either, but he never told mom about what happened.

Gabriel left due to an urgent call. Mom wasn't finishing telling us all the story when we noticed something odd, while standing she looked taller than Mark. We decided to verify and she actually was, she was taller than 6'3 now! I saw a smile on her face for the first time in a while. This little parenthesis distracted her and made her happy but a few minutes albeit Mark was still baffled. Later on she was going to drop "the bomb".
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist
ALEX GTS ARTIST

In the last month they tried really hard to talk but every time it was ending up in sex instead of resolving their issues. When my mother met my father 27 years ago it was just after she ended a relationship with another guy. A month after she found out to be pregnant. She wasn't sure whose kid he was but dad said he didn't care, he would have grown that kid like if it was his own anyway. A week ago, because of this never ending discussion, he decided to check if Steve was really his son and, when he showed mom what he did, she couldn't keep anymore and left. We were shocked: the results showed that Steve wasn't the son of my father.

Back to my old room. Gosh, I didn't remember it was so hard to go through doors and the ceiling is so low, now even bending I'm brushing against it with my head. Miranda told me that dad renewed the room before my arrival, from now on she'll stay here, I didn't ask why. I didn't want to sound rude.

I sat on my knees because I was growing tired to bend all the time, I felt like I wanted to stretch my back and I would have smashed the ceiling with my head. I was shocked on my return to see my drunk mom trying to force Mark to show her his "snake" like she kept calling it. Being stronger and taller than him, it didn't take much effort to pin him with her gigantic pair of breasts against the wardrobe . I shouldn't have left her alone, especially with a bottle of wine next to her.

I was infuriated, how could she do that to my fiance and to me? I told her this was something that would scar our relationship and trust forever. If it wasn't for what's happening out there I would already ask to pack her things and leave. She was really sorry for what she did, she was angry at my dad and men in general as she lost trust in them. She promised that wouldn't do that ever again. I trust Mark, if she'd ever do something like that again she wouldn't just be out of my place but also out of my life.

March 2020,
I'm afraid to admit that I felt different.I wonder if it's because of my growth. I checked and I was almost 9'6. That's almost 2 inches from the last time I checked with Eri. However that wasn't it, there was something else, but what?

That was it! I didn't wear this top in a month or so and finally I found out what was making me feel different: my breasts. They have grown significantly and along with my height growth they are stretching my top to the limit.

Once I got there Alicia was desperate and tried to explain everything to me. My bro was touching his still small biceps feeling like he was already very pumped. Apparently she left her backpack on the chair in the kitchen while they were away training. After 45 minutes when they finished the backpack wasn't there anymore. I understood what must have happened: my dad always needed to put order everywhere and so he must have moved it somewhere out of sight.

We started to look everywhere, even in the most unthinkable places. Steve was trying to call dad but he didn't answer. I was sure we would have found it somewhere, I really didn't think somebody came to steal it.
ALEX GTS ARTIST

While I was bending to look for the backpack my jeans, brought to the limit, ripped due to my buttocks pressure. If only I had time to change clothes this surreal situation wouldn't happen. Everybody was there. Alicia admitted she ripped some leggings during squatting but not as much as I did with my jeans. My half brother was in shock, screaming he was always in the wrong place at the right moment. My half sister, who just joined us in the kitchen, was watching my full naked butt cheeks in disbelief. To top off this situation, like a cherry on a cake, the phone was ringing nonstop: it was my dad, he was on his way home.

Dad came and he was sorry to make Alicia worry. He said he found the backpack upside down on the ground after it fell from the chair, some liquid was pouring from it. He cleaned everything and put it in a safe place. Alicia didn't care some flasks were broken, she was happy to have all the rest back. It turns out I was right and I finally can go home and wear some proper clothes.

April 2020
Dear Diary,
This month I was cuddling with my boyfriend on the bed and I realized he really felt small in my arm. He said that recently I really grew a lot. It's possible, when you're over 9 feet it's hard to tell if you're 1 inch taller or not. However I can see clearly that one of my breasts is much bigger than his head already.
ALEX GTS ARTIST

He insisted, telling me I didn't realize how much I've grown lately. While sitting I'm taller than him, my knees get up to his hips. Each one of my breasts could have a circumference larger than his waist. My butt could have grown exponentially. These were his words. Were they true? Only one way to find out...
ALEX GTS ARTIST

Before standing up, he decided to sit in front of me and he decided to use my body as his throne. It was kind of funny to see him fit between my legs while my right breast squished on his shoulder was looking enormous next to his face.

When we stood up in front of each other it was clear to both of us that my height has increased considerably. It was the first time for him to stand under my navel, shorter than the top of my hips or, like he prefers to say, shorter than my legs. It was definitely time to check my height again.
ALEX GTS ARTIST

This is so insane, my height jumped up 3 inches in just one month! It's one of my biggest growth spurts ever. I'm now 9 feet and 9 inches tall. Mark tried to read my height from his point of view but it was impossible for him. A chair also wouldn't have been of any help so I had to read my height on my phone using the front camera.
ALEX GTS ARTIST

Gabriel knocked at our apartment door. I grabbed some clothes from the closet. They were made to fit me but my recent huge growth spurt made them shorter than they should be. He noticed I was taller but he didn't ask what my actual height was right away. He told me that my brother was acting weird and freaking out on the phone with him.
ALEX GTS ARTIST

All of a sudden he stopped talking and stared at me. He finally realized I recently had a humongous growth spurt. He couldn't talk, he was stuttering and analyzing my body like if he had a scanner in his eyes. I was worried for my brother and I needed to know what he wanted to say.
ALEX GTS ARTIST

Snap out of it, Gabriel! I screamed, while raising his light body to watch him directly into his eyes. I wanted him to tell me all. Apparently he didn't know much, I'm sorry I frightened him but it was for a good reason. Miranda has a fever and Steve doesn't know what to do. My brother also couldn't tell me anything for some reason. I worried it could be this new virus but my instinct told me something fishy was going on.

May 2020
After two weeks of isolation finally Steve came to visit me. He was repeating the same lies over and over. I told him we were alone but he said there was nothing more to add. I was busy applying my makeup otherwise I would have cuffed him on his head. The only good news was that Miranda is better.

ALEX GTS ARTIST

I tried my best to crack him open but it was difficult. There was something going between him and Miranda. She sealed his mouth well. He never kept anything from me but this time it was like she cast a spell on him. The only option I had left was to ask Miranda directly. I knew there was something else beside her being sick, but what?
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist
ALEX GTS ARTIST

Before leaving the apartment, I asked Steve to stand against my leg like he was standing against the wall. In this position he was barely reaching my buttock that was pushed slightly upward by his head. Once we established once again who was the alpha female in our family he told me he felt my bottom quite heavy over his head. I replied that he should be thankful I'm kind and benevolent or I'd have a lot of ways to make him confess the truth. I swear I saw him gulp, cute!

ALEX GTS ARTIST

I finished to get ready, wore some cute sandals with heels and tied my hair to be more comfortable while wearing a face mask. It was time to meet Miranda. If my intel were correct she should be in the park. At least that was what she just showed on her most recent instagram story. Why was I carrying my bro under my arm? Well, apparently he didn't want to be there when I met Miranda. Obviously I disagreed.
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist

Once we got into the park I noticed my sister was comparing her height with Wolf. She pretended to have won the competition while Wolf blamed the little difference was due only to her voluminous hair. I was pretty sure she wasn't this tall a few months ago. Wolf was standing at 5'7 and she was about the same height as him. Was she still having a few growth spurts or was there something fishy behind all this?
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist

I decided to sit there and chat a bit with them. When the topic about height came up my sister started to get uncomfortable, tapping involuntarily with her foot. I asked her if she was taller, she answered that probably being only nineteen years old she might have a few spurts left but her body language showed that she was hiding something.

As Miranda was growing increasingly impatient, she asked me if I could go back with her to my previous home. I wanted to enjoy being outside because it was a rare thing this year. She was insisting for several minutes, so in the end I agreed. When I stood up she tried to push me to make me walk but she totally failed. She couldn't budge me at all, neither was she able to make me lose balance, all she managed to do was to raise my glutes. Guys were surprised and impressed but in the end we all had a good laugh.
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist

I was barely standing: I had to bend my knees and bow forward to fit under the ceiling. Steve was impressed by the size of my shoes. He said they were quite heavy too. Miranda asked if she could get my old measuring stand, the same I was using when I was living here. I said to her that it was in the basement next to the room where Steve has his training equipment. She avoided any other questions but by the time I got there I already connected all the dots in my mind, I didn't need any confirmation.

June 2020

Dear Diary,
This year it has been difficult to convince both my parents to take part in our yearly family photo. Only during the last week of June I managed to convince them to stay together for a few minutes in the same room.
I'm doing fine, my growth slowed a lot last few months after the big growth spurt I had. I almost don't feel any change. Work is going very well and the management board has already doubled my salary to assure my loyalty with them as they believe I'm an essential asset.
Miranda is our new entry in the picture. It hasn't even been a year since I knew her and as a good little sister she already had a couple of growth spurts, She is now over five feet eight inches, I'm pretty sure she hides something, I've a few ideas but I need more proof. She is also working out a lot and results are quite visible.
Steve is always Steve but he is happier than usual lately. I am used to him complaining about everything, so that's a good change. Probably Miranda has something to do with this.
Mom didn't grow at all or so it seems in the last few months she's staying at my place, she is working as hard as me and she is always the best at her job even if that little assistant is a distraction to her.
Dad is in better shape, I guess he is doing his best to be attractive again and have a chance to meet some woman. For now he is very proud of his new daughter.

July 2020
Working hard all the time due to the worldwide health emergency, my little Mark finally got some vacations. At last we could finally spend some time together in the morning and I could be playful with him. He really likes to feel my breasts, especially when I gently sit them on his shoulders. He admitted they gained some weight. Knowing him, I'm sure he is happy they got slightly bigger.
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist
ALEX GTS ARTIST

What is a morning routine without a bit of healthy workout? That's why he loves to do overhead military shoulder press reps with my breasts, which has become increasingly more difficult and he is honestly a bit out of shape. Usually after this exercise he is in the mood for something else that involves more muscles, helping the both of us to start the day with a joyful smile on our faces.
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist
ALEX GTS ARTIST

He really gave his best and then he deserved a few minutes of resting. He usually likes to lay there for a while while I tell him all about my upcoming working day. While sometimes I managed to work from home that day I needed to be in the office. Usually mom drives me there with a special SUV, I've a custom passenger seat that lets me fit in there for now.

I was observing for more than a minute his gaze lost between my legs while he was smelling my perfume. I knew he was inebriated. He raised his eyes up, staring at my underboobs standing well above his head. He swallowed. Then he rolled his eyes all around him, his vision was obstructed by my wide hips and long legs. Everywhere he tried to look there was me. His body was like a stone statue: he didn't want to leave but he didn't even want to touch me because that meant to give up to more temptation and he had no time. Only I could break this spell: in the end I pushed him out and he thanked me for that.

"Holy Macaroni" it's what Eri said as soon as she faced my taller derriere. Last time she was facing it directly she had in front of her but now she had to raise her head to look at it. She knew she would have a really difficult time measuring me and it would be even harder to find new clothes for me. My sexy blouse was supposed to close in the front and reach my thighs in length. It does neither of those now.
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist

It was clear that Eri once again needed an advantage point to check my height. From her point of view all the scale was unreadable. My head was appearing between 10 and 11 feet but of course it wasn't my correct height.

I raised her on top of Mark's wardrobe. Sitting from there she could read the number on the top of my head. I was 9 feet 10 inches. Exactly 3 meters. That was a huge milestone! I was also exactly twice my height from the start of this diary!

August 2020

Mom was concerned that she was fitting in the same clothes for a few months now. Her growth came to a halt for some reason, unlike mine: this month I was taller, bustier and with wider hips again. I suppose there was a reason for this and I was contacted by Alicia and Erin, they might have an explanation for what was happening.
I couldn't tell mom so I tried to convince her it was just momentary.

ALEX GTS ARTIST

The weirdest thing was that even though my mom has grown in the past, now her stature was the shortest it has ever been compared to mine. She was standing slightly shorter than my legs.
She tried to find an explanation but at no avail. I understood her mood wasn't at its best. I had to help her.

However, even if she didn't grow in the last months, her ample bosom was a sight to behold. On her small frame it was an eye catcher for every man or woman passing by next to her whether they liked it or not. At work it was more distracting than helping, she often had to repeat things at least twice. Was it painful for her to carry around? Not really, she worked hard in the gym and her back muscles are truly strong. Compared to mine we could have the same volume by now or maybe, even if it's hard for me to admit, she could still be bigger.
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist
ALEX GTS ARTIST

She started to think she shouldn't complain about what she had. It's leap and bounds more sexy than from what she started. She was sad and she had no confidence. She was shy and unsatisfied. The improvement for sure helped her mood a lot. Now she had sizes some girls would envy and most men would dream of. She came to the conclusion that it was fine to improve what one can but one should never be sad for his/her own limits and accept his/her body.
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist

Erin came to my place to tell me something important.I momentarily got distracted as soon as I realized that, by standing on tiptoe and stretching as much as I could, I was finally able to reach the beads of the chandelier. I was sorry but I had to ask her to repeat everything. It was an important achievement for me.
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist
ALEX GTS ARTIST

Erin told me they came to a conclusion that their serum could never work. It was missing something. They were about to give up when Alicia understood my sister grew a bit recently and it wasn't for a natural reason. Some serum was missing from Alicia's backpack, it was stolen. They suspect Miranda was the culprit. However if it wasn't supposed to work, how could it be possible she became taller?
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist
ALEX GTS ARTIST

That's when they figured out their mistake: it wasn't something I inherited only from my mom, also part of dad's genetic code was playing a role in my abnormal growth. That explained why Miranda was able to grow once she drank the serum. It was an hypothesis that needed to be confirmed but it was shocking nonetheless. Then again how was mom able to grow?
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist
ALEX GTS ARTIST

In the end she pointed out that mom wasn't growing from the moment she lived here with me. Erin also added that she didn't grow taller and bustier before because she didn't do a certain thing, also Miranda was hiding something and it could have been an affair with my brother. Yuck! When I figured out what it could be, I wanted to remove it from my mind already! That is absolutely something I didn't want to know!

September 2020
Dear Diary,
This month I noticed I'm less than a span away from the top edge of the doorframe. For an average hand it could be a full span, anyway it meant that in a few months I'll scratch or worse bump my head against it. Living in this apartment at my size was very comfortable but I'm afraid soon I'll need to duck to go from one room to another. I didn't grow much in the last month but I'm sure to be over 9'10 now
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist
ALEX GTS ARTIST

About one year ago when we moved into this apartment, I was shorter than Mark's wardrobe. I've grown so much that, as it's shown in this picture, I got almost one head taller than it. In the last 8 years I've grown nonstop, my body changed in the most amazing ways. My hips flared, my glutes got rounder and firmer, my legs grew longer and more toned, my breasts expanded hundreds of times their original size. While my waist did its best to stay almost the same, my arms, feet and hands grew longer beyond any garment size. Despite my look my muscles grew much stronger too, probably almost 20 times their original strength.
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist
ALEX GTS ARTIST

Watching the end of my wardrobe I was thinking when I'll reach that height. It was looking quite far from my eyes but maybe in a year from now my thoughts will be totally different. The same scale I used all my life to check my height isn't as tall as this wardrobe and it stops at twelve foot. One day I'll need to get a new one, even a twelve foot scale won't be enough for my height, yikes!

That day I decided to check my height alone. It was impressive to see I was 1 inch away from the "big" number. If I measured in meters, as I already stated in the previous pages, I was past 3 meters tall which is impressive. However, I never wrote my height with 2 digits for feet. It will be an impressive feat. The next big step in the next few years would be to double my actual height. While I was writing the last sentence I got goosebumps!

Right after my brother arrived, I felt so angry at him. I felt like he betrayed my trust. Miranda tried to convince me that it wasn't him to blame but her. October 2020
For a while I didn't have a nice walk outside and when I felt thirsty I noticed to be close to Wolf's cafe. Once inside, he raised his gaze all the way up, he was staring at me while I was walking. His head started spinning, he had to hold onto something: he got dizzy because of my height. He told me that he wasn't sure if it was me, the heels or both but I was huge compared to the last time he saw me. I actually was in heels the last time he saw me. Last month I didn't grow much but I grew taller. Did I reach 10 feet?
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist
ALEX GTS ARTIST

I decided to sit, unfortunately one stool wasn't big and strong enough for me so I decided to grab another one to sit more comfortably. Meanwhile Wolf came closer and we kept talking forgetting I needed something to drink. Even while sitting I was towering over him. It was funny to see my knees at the same level as his chest. I told what I could share of the last events, especially about Miranda, he was perplexed.
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist

After our long talk I was parched and I really needed something to drink. Wolf walked behind the counter. When he was pouring a drink and he was distracted I stood up and bent over to grab the glass. Once again he was impressed by my size. He was standing on a platform almost as tall as my heels but my bottom was still way taller than him. While he was paralyzed by my sight I slipped the tiny glass from his hands.
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist
ALEX GTS ARTIST

Of course the tiny glass wasn't enough so I kindly asked him to give me an entire bottle, in the end I chugged 6 of them under (or above?) his incredulous gaze. At my size it wasn't unusual drinking up to one hundred ounces of water when I was really thirsty. I'd better not write anything about the amount of food I ate one day that I was really starving
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist

At some point Gabriel came inside the bar but his attention was completely drawn by his phone. He walked toward me and without noticing my imposing presence he simply walked between my legs. I swiftly covered my lady part with my hand. Wolf tried to signal him there was me above him, but when he finally realized it was too late.
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist

I wanted to have a tête-à-têtes with Gabriel, for him it was very hard to stay focussed. He really tried but all he could do was stare at my cleavage for two seconds and then he tried to turn his eyes all around but ending his gaze there over and over while I was talking. I explained to him that it was dangerous to walk without paying attention to what's around him while using the smartphone. Also it was really impolite to walk under a girl's legs, no matter how tall she is.

ALEX GTS ARTIST

We did a few pictures to post on Gabriel's Instagram, I chose this one because even if I wasn't ready I think my expression was really cute. I actually should use mine more. A lot of people are asking me to post more on socials. Maybe it's about time to share with the world the wonders of being so tall like me.
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist

Wolf and Gabriel decided to check if I was taller than both of them this time compared to the time we did one and half years ago. Needless to say that I was already taller than them by half head, my head. Gabriel's head was much smaller, it could fit in my hand and it's a weird feeling if a grown man's head fits into your hand, you have to trust me on this!

Dear Diary,
After my last small growth spurt I finally was 10 feet tall. That's an absolute and fantastic milestone! To make sure it was correct Mark decided to check himself. He moved the desk, stepped on it. Watching down at him I was going to place my hand on his shoulders but at some point I got afraid that I could hurt him. In my mind, little as he was to me he seemed fragile. I could hurt him with my weight or if I'd squeeze too much. I've slowly grown over the years and like a flash of thoughts all at once, I realized he was saying "ouch" more and more when I was touching him and he was complaining I'm too heavy when part of my body was over his. Alicia called me and gave me shocking news. The serum has been perfected and it might work to some degrees. The effectiveness hasn't been tested on humans but she said it was a big step ahead. Miranda's case helped a lot in their research. She added that there won't be a world full of giantesses like me because there is a strong autoimmune response once the serum is injected and a lot of it could be deadly. Miranda was lucky because shared part of her genetic code with me. In a few weeks we should meet to talk more about it.

December 2020
Dear Diary,
After many months Alicia came to visit me. I must admit it was weird to see a girl 1 inch shy of 7 feet as tall as my waist. She was very friendly and beautiful as usual. I knew the reason for her visit and I couldn't wait to have more details. First minutes however, we talked about our lives. She is so committed to working out that she moved tons of gym equipment into her labs so she could "pump" some iron while their supercomputers were running simulations.

ALEX GTS ARTIST

She insisted that my breasts were bigger and taller than ever and that if she would step really close to me she would hide under them despite being almost seven feet tall. I discouraged her to do so because once while I was on the phone my brother stood right under them. A few moments later I tripped over him and he was really lucky he didn't break any bones.

The serum was based on a RNA sequence able to boost the growth of a female. It couldn't work on a male probably because the trigger was inside one of the thousand females extra genes included in the sex defining X chromosome. The growth wouldn't be the same for every girl. It could depend on her own genes. In short a girl like Alicia would probably get even stronger and a girl like Erin even bustier. That's what she said while flexing her biceps. My strength was no match for her, I wonder if I'd beat her now.

She told me in all honesty that, once injected, the serum had a strong side effect. We also have noticed that already when Miranda wasn't feeling well for days. The body will react in a very strong way due to the abnormal acceleration of the growth processes. The temperature will rise to critical levels and the immune system will try to stop the processes. The serum included some steroids that will speed up the process.

She explained why it worked for just 72 hours. After a few days our immune system will know how to counter the serum and will destroy its code. Host's body will keep growing for another 24 hours maximum. That was good because unlike me the growth was concentrated in a few days and it was very stressful especially for a body that wasn't used to growing. After the process the host was feeling tired, famished and dazed. It would be then impossible to inject again the same dose because the immune system will neutralize it before it would start working.

We had to test our strength. We needed to know who's the strongest now. We agreed to decide that with an arm wrestle challenge. My arm was way longer than her so she was holding it under my wrist while I was having my grip just around her thumb. She knew I had a few advantages due to my size but she didn't care. She wanted to challenge me anyway.
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist

She was really strong and held my arm still for more than 30 seconds but probably I had more stamina and my arm was longer. In the second half of the minute-long arm wrestle her arm started shaking because she was pushing herself to the limit. I could then push slowly but steady to my victory.
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist

To my surprise she was strong enough to keep part of my weight when I lost balance. She didn't even budge, that was really impressive. All she did was to smile and ask if I was fine. I told her I was impressed and she said that even if I beat her she kept training regularly and she was way stronger than she was two years ago.

Dear Diary,
Eri came back, of course she wasn't surprised I was taller than six months ago but she couldn't stop commenting on the size of my thighs. For her they were like tree trunks. My hips were now way above her head and when she was just a few feet away from me all she could see were my legs, they were like columns going up to the roof.

February 2021

Dear Diary,
The joy of growing again. I didn't expect this feeling to be so strong at my current height but here I am smiling and jumping around the room happy to be one inch taller. I stopped growing for a while and I had mixed feelings and thoughts about it but now it's clear to me that even if I'm out of any human scale object, growing taller gives me joy. It's uncomfortable but makes me happy. One more inch for the giantess next door. For Rebecca: hip hip hooray!

What could I do? Outgrowing clothes was my curse. Even if I liked this dress so much it was almost time to say it goodbye. However I didn't have much time to choose something different and I was already late for my dinner with Mark. This dress had to do. Probably it will be the last time I wear it, the new batch of clothes from Eri should arrive soon.

Arriving at the restaurant I met with Mark and we greeted each other, he made his usual compliments to me like he never saw me. He always told me how beautiful I am, how good I look, how beautiful my eyes are, how beautiful my lips are, hair and so on. He always made me feel comfortable and confident, he always got a genuine smile and a well deserved kiss from me.

In case of rain he could shelter under my skirt, no matter its length. It was really funny to puppeteer his face but he was kind of annoyed by it because he was trying to tell me something. I also noticed that with these sandals his legs are as tall as my knees. He is a tall man and every time I notice how much our difference increases and how much bigger I've become I'm amazed by my own growth.

To our surprise we got some company: Miranda and Steve arrived. We didn't expect them but apparently they booked for the same evening. Miranda went straight to Mark who greeted her with a big smile, it had been a long time since they didn't see each other. That made Steve jealous that without thinking hid between my legs trying to spy on them

After the dinner I got stuck in my personal reinforced chair. It's something that's happening more than often lately. However I had a bit of fun with the three of them. If I wanted I could have removed that stuck chair in a second but by slightly opening my legs and applying a little force on both sides of the chair I made them sweat a bit. I had a good laugh watching how hard they tried.

It was a really odd evening. My half brother and sister already left and, when we were also heading out, my mom arrived. She was apparently dating Kurt, her young work assistant. I wasn't surprised at all: I already knew something was going on between the two of them. I didn't expect it to last so long. Kurt was a kind person but to put it mildly he wasn't that sharp. Kurt is also one of the shortest guys I know. My idea was that mom was using Kurt to boost her ego after her breakup.

Mom presented Kurt to Mark and then they started chit chatting. If I didn't know it was for her ego to keep the attention of two men at the same time I would join the conversation too. However this was just compensation for her. Mark didn't realize that so I took his hand and said bye to everybody. We then discussed this on our way home, he realized I was right and he wished my parents would reconcile.

March 2021

Dear Diary,
This month I wanted to talk about my "growing problems". Despite the fact this apartment was built merging one floor to the upper floor things were starting to get too small already. This shower nozzle for example. It was already way below my head. Despite my fianceé's best intention there was no apartment or home in which I could fit forever.

I checked my height and I was already 10 feet and 2 inches tall. For comparison I also took a picture with Mark. During these days I felt full of energy and I liked to run for miles. My pace was way faster than any other person. I preferred to run when streets or parks weren't crowded because dodging people could be a difficult task due to my size and I didn't want to hurt anybody

ALEX GTS ARTIST

The next week I was checking my height again, I was surprised to find out I was already half inch taller. I didn't expect to have such a fast growth spurt at my age but I felt kind of energetic and my clothes were tighter and tighter during the week like I was getting fatter, except I wasn't getting fatter, I was getting taller!

ALEX GTS ARTIST

At the end of the third week I was amazed. I've got one more inch making me stand at 10 feet 3 inches and a half! All the hunger I had during the week and all the food I swallowed was because I was growing one seventh of an inch per day, that in the metric system translates to 3 or 4 millimeters per day. That's ten times what a beard grows in a day by comparison. I suppose if an observer was watching me long enough it would literally see me growing taller by the hours!

One more quarter of an inch? That was the fourth week of the month and I was still growing. I've slowed down compared to the previous one but I was still growing.
I haven't grown so fast in a while. If my memory doesn't fail me, one of the biggest growth spurts I had was when I had very high temperature for weeks. I'm 28 years old now and I still have such crazy size changes.

He never looked so short compared to me, our height difference increased so much that I'm 5 and three quarters of an inch taller than him. While I was standing on tiptoes he was looking the size of a toddler next to me.

A few hours later when I decided to do some stretching, Mark entered the room and smiled, sat behind me and hugged me. The tip of his foot wasn't even reaching my knee. My butt was covering all his abdomen and part of his chest. He then passed his head under my armpit resting with his cheek on one of my soft but firm breasts. He enjoyed it so much that my leg became sore waiting for him to move.

For both of us it was funny to lay on the bed and notice our size differences. Each one of my buttcheeks were twice his head and probably bigger than his shoulder span. His body wasn't visibly shorter than my leg and his torso circumference was probably less than one of my thighs. Also my feet were almost twice his.

April 2021
Dear Diary,
Mom was working from home and I had to take care of a few tasks she couldn't do remotely. One of my main problems was to be able to assign tasks to Kurt. He was easily distracted by my size. He was staring at my legs like they were ancient Greek columns. I had to explain to him over and over the same thing. Eventually he would memorize, except from coming back every now and then with silly questions.

Another huge problem was to type her password on the tiny keyboard and using the tiny mouse. Although neither the mouse or the keyboard were any smaller than regular ones I was hitting 2 or 3 keys at the same time with each stroke and I had to be extra careful not to crush or destroy the mouse button mechanism. I couldn't even sit properly in front of the desk because my legs couldn't fit. The only good thing on the desk was the monitor that could be tilted upward. Ten minutes and countless tries later I was finally in.

Apparently understanding the task wasn't Kurt's only weak point. There was also poor execution. I asked him for March invoices and he wasn't able to find them anywhere. He went back and forth along the whole archive room but he couldn't find them. I explained that since they might be useful to mom they might still be on the shelves in the room. Boop!

He strived to reach the top shelf with the binders. Even on his tiptoes his finger couldn't reach the hole to pull them to him. I watched him try for a few seconds and when I noticed there were some of them hidden from his sight on top of the boxes I swiftly stood up and in a fell swoop I reached them.

What was on the paper was shocking. Apparently the company was undergoing huge losses due to the current global economic situation. Mom was trying her best to find faster and cheaper suppliers but a lot of our products weren't sold. The marketing department was running out of budget and this letter was a draft meant to be delivered directly in the hands of our CEO.
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist
ALEX GTS ARTIST

I couldn't let this happen. I had to do something. So I decided to confront the parts and to find a solution myself. I didn't want our company to fail. It wasn't just me, there are a lot of families and lives depending on it. While I was angry I didn't notice Kurt was close to me and I walked over him. Luckily for him I didn't hurt or didn't trip on him: he got off with ruffled hair and deafening rubbing nylon noise in his ears.
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist

My first step was to call mom and ask her everything. She gave me useful information and I started to shape my idea on how to prevent our company from bankruptcy. Kurt, having nothing to do, was amazed how tall my thigh was over him. He could easily walk or even jump under the "bridge" I involuntarily created with my legs.

I sat on the couch but it couldn't keep up with my weight which, by the way, is proportionate to a girl this size. Dear Diary, what I'm trying to say is that I'm a larger than life girl but I'm absolutely not fat. Our CEO answered, I told him I was aware of the actual situation and I had a few ideas on how to keep this company going. He proudly invited me to present my ideas to the next board meeting. Needless to say I was thrilled!

Dear Diary,
This month the most crazy thing happened. I've studied and analyzed so much data in the last few weeks that my head was exploding. I had to attend our company meeting and I had to present everything to the CEO and other investors. Mom was there to support me. I explained to her what my idea was and she said she couldn't be sure they would accept. They were usually reluctant to make big changes.

As the moment for my speech was approaching I was really nervous. All of a sudden I was feeling like my idea was a mistake, that I oversighted something or that the board would think less of me and this would be the end of my career. I knew I had to keep my fears away, it would be too late to regret anything. I just had to concentrate on what I had to say and forget about anything else.

While talking I gained confidence and my enthusiasm started to show. I really put all myself into this project, I worked hard for weeks till late night and my alarm was always set at 6 AM. I calculated everything with different economic and math models, I researched new materials, I read a lot of scientific papers and how to adapt our knowledge. On the screen it was clear, without any change our company would stay in deficit for years while with my idea we would recover faster and with a much lower cost per unit. We could even reach zero carbon emission in a few years and create our own energy with a small investment that would cut huge costs for the years to come.

Carried by my enthusiasm I slammed my hands on the table and every object jumped about one inch in height. I was making my case also for all the workers. We didn't have to fire anybody, they had families and they needed money too, we had a huge responsibility toward our employees. We also had a responsibility toward our society and to our kids, we had to give them a better world. It was time to change!

The CEO's speech was touching. He told us that he dedicated his life to this company and that would hurt him deeply watching all his life efforts disappear all of a sudden. He had a technical team examining the papers I presented a few weeks ago. My ideas were innovative, my analysis was ironclad.He decided to step down and proposed me as the new company CEO. Everybody in the board was shocked by such an unexpected decision nonetheless the vote was unanimous: everybody agreed. He came close to me to congratulate me, my mom was in awe and I still hadn't realized what just happened.

June 2021

Dear Diary,
This year I was forced to take the family picture at my dad's place. Walking and bending all the time is so annoying, sometimes I feel like I want to stretch, smashing through the ceiling and standing straight.
As for my personal growth: I'm now the CEO of my company. It was a huge leap and I'm proud of myself. It's time to plan the marriage with Mark. About my height I think I've grown at least an inch this month, which isn't bad. In the last two years, my growth stopped during the spring, I wonder why. It's noteworthy that my butt is now taller than anybody else in the room.
My younger sister is also steadily growing. She is now 6'2 or even taller than that! She grew 6 inches in just one year. She is studying to be a lawyer, she is smart, she has a good memory and she is doing great. Steve is benefitting from Miranda's routine. He works out with her and he got a full time job at a videogame store. It seems he doesn't mind being the shortest one anymore.
Mom had a year without changes of any kind although she did say hi to dad this time. Maybe her resentment is going away. She was impressed by Miranda's growth and she had the chills thinking she might become taller than her.
Dad has grown his hair and his beard, he said he wants to have a long beard like a true biker. I truly advised him against it. He is really happy to have not just one but two daughters that are way taller than him now.

Dear Diary,
Early in the morning, before going to work, my 6'3" future husband never felt so little but was also excited to see my ass standing way taller than him. He was still sleepy when he joined me in the bathroom but at the sight of me, half naked bent on the sink, he froze. In an instant his eyes from barely opened were then wide open and his jaw dropped. What happened after that can't be written here.

Not again! When I was walking standing straight my hair was brushing against the top of the doorframe. Just one minor growth spurt and I'll end up scraping my head against it. Then there will be my worst nightmare: banging my head. I'd better start getting used to ducking every single time.

We're an odd couple, sometimes it can create funny interactions. I was standing still near the scale and Mark was running back and forth like a true working bee. He was determined to check my height from the right perspective. He didn't want me to lift him, no: too easy. It was better to pull the desk all across the room, climb on it and realize that this time he was too short for it. He cursed and that caused me to burst out laughing: poor guy! He didn't give up, spotted the chair, jumped off, piled up the chair, grabbed one of the books on the desk and finally he was able to check that I was 10 foot 5 inches tall. For his birthday I'm getting him a stepladder!

We started to talk about many things and one topic came back to our attention: it was time to plan our marriage. The world situation was about to get better. We could still plan it many months ahead to be safe so we decided we would get married in April 2022. We decided to start looking for beautiful and big places where to have the wedding. Being inside most of the buildings would be a problem for me so we opted for some nice park, maybe in front of some castle or villa.

We went far ahead with our imagination, we imagined having our kids. How fantastic that would be! We wanted at least two or three. Mark said he would like to have a girl that would look like me and that would be as smart as I am. I agreed, the world needs more successful girls and I hoped to be an inspiration for many girls out there whether she was my daughter or another kid.

He imagined me getting bigger boobs when I would be pregnant. I told him they were heavy enough, so to show how difficult it was I asked him to lay down. Then I lied next to him and I rested my breasts on his abdomen. He could barely breathe, he wanted to laugh but it was hard. I asked if he understood what I meant. He said yes, if they weren't so heavy they felt so good. I agreed on that.
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist

Still breathless he tried to crawl toward me but I had to leave, we already spent all the morning together and I had business to attend. He wanted a few minutes more together but I really couldn't, I had to keep him at bay. I would have enjoyed it too but duty calls.

August 2021
Dear Diary,
This month the girls were reunited in my dad's kitchen and they were talking about something. Actually they were whispering but while walking in the corridor I heard a few things. They said they had only one chance and there were some risks and side effects. Knowing them and knowing what they were doing the last couple of years I had an idea of what they were talking about.

ALEX GTS ARTIST

Despite my size I managed to sneak into the kitchen and they were all surprised to see me, maybe they were surprised by my size or both things. I asked why they were here already and they told me we would meet at a later time. Erin said that they casually met in a comics shop and then they decided to come directly here.
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist
ALEX GTS ARTIST

My worst fear was that they could experiment on my family again and I wanted to be sure they didn't hide anything from me. I admit I was a bit intimidating even for a big girl like Alicia but I didn't want them to hide anything from me. They swore that what they were discussing involved only the three of them and they would explain everything to me.
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist

They managed to create a more stable serum that, according to simulations, would be safe for humans. However this would have a very limited effect because antibodies will fight the serum being based on my DNA. They will detect it as harmful and thus will create side effects like high temperature, muscle pain, belly ache etc. The three of them, despite all the problems, decided to test it on themself.
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist
ALEX GTS ARTIST

They still need to perform a final comparison and for that they need a bit more of my blood. Once everything is ready they will inject the serum to one of them. They were drafted in this order: Alicia, Erin and then Eri. If all will be ok they will wait one month between one injection and the other. At the end of the discussion we were more relaxed and they started to compare themself with me. Eri was enthusiastic to be still slightly taller than me while I was sitting.
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist
ALEX GTS ARTIST

Erin was impressed my knee was as tall as her chest and that her whole hands were as big as my palms. Alicia was listening at the funny words Erin was making to avoid any foul language to express her astonishment. Who knows if with this serum they will catch up with me. I highly doubt it.
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist

Alicia, to demonstrate that serum or not, was considerably strong, decided to lift one of my legs (total weight well above 100 kg/220 lbs). She positioned herself on my back with her shoulder on my thigh and started to push forward until I almost lost balance. I had to quickly grab the beam over my head while she was continuing lifting it. In the end she succeeded in keeping my leg on her arms above her chest for more than a minute, that was really impressive.
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist

In the end we decided to take a group picture. Who knows: maybe in one of the next entries one of them won't be the same anymore, this picture could be used for comparison. I really hope everything goes well, especially for their health and that nobody will risk her own life. I won't have any problem if they get any taller, I kind feel lonely up here. Their growth, if there will be any, will be a metaphor of their greatness as women and human beings.

September 2021,
Dear Diary,
I went back to the cafè near the Park, as you know it's owned by Wolf. He placed some tables outside, during these years it became very common to avoid spreading diseases. I tried to look around but I didn't see him so I went inside and there was nobody. I also noticed that with these heels and my current height I had to duck under the beams if I didn't want to hurt my head or, at worst, destroy his roof. The ceiling fan was something else I needed to pay attention to, I kept hitting it with my boobs and it was wobbling and turning, hitting them again. I had to be extra careful.

I heard the toilet flushing and then someone washing his hands. I was thinking it was Wolf but to my surprise I met Gabriel again there. As usual when he saw how much I've grown his jaw dropped and so did his phone from his hands. Lucky for me this time he did notice me. Lucky for him my panties and my ass were very visible from his point of view and compared to his size the latter was way bigger than his head.

I was having a conversation with Gabriel, I asked if Wolf was working and where he was. He said he was outside serving and it's weird I didn't see him. Gabriel kept asking me questions about my current height and several sizes, I kindly answered each one of them. Meanwhile Wolf came in with empty glasses and cups, he pushed the door with his back as he used to do while carrying a tray.

Instinctively I raised my leg even more to catch him from falling, he finally realized what happened: I happened. Gabriel found the moment hilarious and wanted to snap a picture of Wolf lifted mid air over my leg like if it was laying on a tree branch.

Feeling sorry I helped Wolf gather the glasses from the floor. Fortunately only the martini glass was broken and the teapot was cracked. The rest was safe. Before getting up I noticed Gabriel was still there gathering measurements: while standing on my knees my butt was almost reaching his chest.

I knew both of them were my greatest admirers so I decided to tease them a bit. As usual they wanted to compare my height, while standing on top of each other, this time instead of standing straight I bent standing really close to Gabriel face, he was sweating and kind of embarrassed. He could feel my perfume and my huge lips close to his face. My breasts were slightly touching his thighs and the excessive weight aroused suspicion in Wolf that raised his gaze and swore he wasn't able to see my face or anything else because my chest was blocking his view.

October 2021
Dear Diary,
October arrived, everything was yellowing outside, leaves were falling and almost everything stopped growing except me. Apparently I was already 10 feet 7 inches tall. Mark made sure to be careful this time and he used a ladder like I suggested. You know, I didn't mind growing but it meant just one thing...
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist

I love being tall, and I'm grateful for the height genetics I've been blessed with. It has its advantages, like reaching the top shelf without a step stool or being able to spot my friends in a crowded room. But when it comes to doorframes, I can't help but feel a tinge of annoyance. To add to the situation, my fiancee, who stands at 6 feet 3 inches, finds it amusing.
I mean, I can understand why. The faces I make while I duck under doorframes must be quite funny .Maybe we should consider some home renovations, or at least invest in taller doorframes. It's going to become a daily struggle that I'll literally "grow" tired of.

My fiance, with his lively and seemingly endless sexual drive, was in his usual morning mood. But this time, I found a way to hold his desires at bay, quite literally. I reached out and placed my hand on top of his head, holding him just out of arm's reach. It was like a scene from a zombie movie. His arms flailed about, desperately trying to reach me, but his efforts were in vain. I couldn't help but burst into laughter, and he looked both frustrated and entertained at the same time. Of course, I didn't want him to be late for work, so I eventually released my grip, and he quickly composed himself. But the momentary power I had over his "zombie-like" desires was absolutely hilarious. It's moments like these that make me appreciate my height even more.

The next day, I was chilling on the bed when my fiance knelt in front of me, his eyes filled with curiosity and a mischievous smile on his face. To my surprise, he grabbed one of my feet, which happens to be longer than his torso is wide and much heavier than he expected. The look on his face was a delightful mix of surprise and amusement. Meanwhile, I sat there, grinning from ear to ear, really entertained: it was hilarious to see him struggle with the size of my foot. In the end I asked him if he would be willing to give my foot a well-deserved massage. A foot that big could use a little extra pampering, right?

I was standing tall in my killer high-heeled boots boosting my height well over 11 feet. I was waiting for the others to arrive. My sister walked in with the guys. We hadn't seen each other for a while, and boy, did she grow! I mean, both of us actually got taller in the past months. The moment they stood in front of me, the difference in our height was striking and we couldn't help but exchange amused glances. It was like a scene out of a movie.

It was my turn to give Miranda a hug, I placed my hands behind her, and with her arms already around my neck, I effortlessly lifted her up. Despite Miranda's towering height, she looked like a little toddler jumping onto the neck of an adult, embracing me tightly. The joy on our faces was evident, a reflection of the deep bond that is growing between us. Steve and Mark stood on either side, staring at us with a mix of admiration and amusement. It was a lovely moment.

We decided to sit down and relax. We found a cozy spot, the guys ordered some drinks, we were hungry and ordered half a dozen mouthwatering dishes each. White waiting we began catching up on each other's lives. We talked about our challenges to keep renewing our wardrobe every few months, but also about the exciting things that happened in our lives. Time seemed to fly by as we laughed talking of the increasing challenges ahead of us.

November 2021
Dear Diary,
Something quite unexpected has been happening over the past month. I've noticed a rapid and significant growth in my breasts, unlike anything I've experienced before. Although it may not be immediately noticeable due to my hourglass figure, I assure you that there has been a noticeable change.I can't help but feel excited about my upcoming measurement appointment with Eri next month. I'm eager to see the difference in numbers and witness the transformation myself. In the meantime, I decided to strike a pose to highlight the increased size. Can you spot the difference?
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist

As soon as I announced the change to Mark, he screamed from the bedroom that I shouldn't move and he was coming to do a medical examination to check if everything was ok. He jumped on the sink countertop, hugged one of my breasts and started to lift it. He then reported: "The breasts' shape is optimal, despite the humongous size they look firm, with no visible sign of sagging. To the touch however they feel soft and supple. Homogeneous consistency, warm and considerably heavy". He forgot to say that one of them is bigger than his own torso!
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist

I was so proud of my bigger breasts that I decided to use an old trick: make them look even bigger by pushing them on the side with my arms. As I did so they stretched out toward Mark looking magnificent. He really enjoyed the view of my grown enhanced bust. Note: the tip of my nipple is similar in size to the tip of his finger!
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist
ALEX GTS ARTIST

Sitting on the bed we found a moment of relaxation. He was looking for my nipple with his lips, then while closing his eyes and hugging me he rested his face on my breast like a pillow. He was really cute, I could feel the breath going outside from his nose and going inside from the side of his mouth.
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist
ALEX GTS ARTIST

Over time, while I was growing taller and bigger, one of his favorite positions has become the one where he sits between my legs. He pushed his head between my breasts with his ears covered where he would isolate himself from the outside world and could only hear my heartbeat and my voice directly from inside my chest. He was gently squishing the side of my boobs to adjust them or feel how soft my skin and my breasts are on his cheeks.
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist

A sweet hug, "I love you" whispered next to our ears. Our difference in size was noticeable. My breasts would be an obstacle to our hug if he didn't fit between them pushing them outward. It was like they were hugging him too.

I wanted to compare with a few things to which I compared in the past. One of them was the chandelier. Till last year I could barely get to the beads standing on my tiptoes. Laying flat on my feet (only one in the photo but it doesn't matter) I could easily reach the lampshade. It was a huge progress!
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist
ALEX GTS ARTIST

The second thing I compared with was Mark's wardrobe. Last year it was way taller than my shoulder, as you can see in the picture it was now exactly at my shoulder level! My growth makes me feel confident even if I'm already larger than life. Sometimes I heard people in the street telling each other something like "look, that's the famous giantess: Rebecca!" or "look how gigantic she is!" and I always answered: "and I'm not done growing, yet!".

December 2021

Dear Diary,
I didn't want my growth to slow down. I knew Miranda was growing tall, I didn't know how tall she grew the last two months but she usually grew half inch per month. I didn't want her to catch up on me. From October I grew 1 inch. That's more or less on par with her but I wanted to be the bigger sister in every way possible. I was upset, maybe I was being too emotional while Mark was trying to explain to me that it's almost impossible for her to visibly catch up on me. I've grown for 10 years and I'm almost 6 feet taller than my height when I was 18yo.

www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist

We were going for a walk into the park and I wanted to look even taller than I was, for that every girl has a little fashion secret: heels. Mark, however, needed to fix his look, too much contrast, too little fashion. Our difference in height was more striking than ever and from the point of view from a girl that wanted to be taller than ever was a small but significant consolation prize.

In the park we met Gabriel, he was running. Being a very sporty guy he is often there, sometimes even when it rains. I was happy that one of my most affectionate fans was there, I needed a boost of confidence today. Meanwhile Mark was trying to talk about something but I barely heard his voice: between the bird chirping, the river and the occasional barking he was too far from my ears.
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist

After the usual greeting he asked if he could snap a picture of me to post on his instagram for the other fans to watch. I agreed of course, nothing would make me happier than a few nice comments to read. In general I knew comments online had to be taken with a grain of salt, especially negative ones but that day at that moment I was happy with all that attention.

When Gabriel was looking at his phone, he didn't know where he was going. Mark saw him walking right beneath my legs while his eyes were glued to the screen. He wanted to stop him, but by then, it was already too late. Mark shrugged at me. I smiled because, unlike Mark, I knew this wasn't the first time it had happened.
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist
ALEX GTS ARTIST

He was so distracted that he didn't notice he was walking into the street lamp. I tried to warn him but it was too late. Being 10 feet and 8 inches tall plus heels brings my hips above almost anyone else, to regain Gabriel's attention I bent too much and my skirt raised above my ass. Mark, aware that I wasn't wearing panties, attempted to use his hands to block the view from passersby, but his efforts were not very successful.
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist

He bumped his head, lost his balance, and fell. He was okay, just a slight bruise on his forehead. His phone fell to the ground, and when I picked it up for him, I realized why he had been so absorbed in his phone. My head was hidden behind my breasts! What kind of picture was that? Was he planning to post that? While talking to him about it, he mentioned that's what fans enjoyed. Uh, seriously?!
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist

I chose to take a proper picture. Once he was feeling a bit better, I lifted him from the ground, positioning him so his head was beside mine, and supported him with my arm. With my other hand, I held his small phone and captured a selfie of both of us. He was so excited that he nearly disregarded the pain in his forehead. Later on, I ensured that he posted this particular photo rather than the one he had taken. Surprisingly, the picture received a lot more likes than even Gabriel had anticipated!

January 2022
Dear Diary,
This has been a peculiar month, filled with hope in the air. The picture I'm sharing was taken just a few days after the New Year. Eri came home and seemed upset that I wasn't ready to be measured. She was in a hurry because every year, measuring me takes longer due to my increasing size. She asked me to go to the bathroom and change, but I wondered why I should go there when I can change right here. After all, she's going to see me naked anyway.
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist
ALEX GTS ARTIST

I had to take off my boots, and with my long legs, it's a bit of a challenge to do it by myself. Usually, I ask Mark for help, but he was already at work. Eri offered to assist. She attempted to pull while standing, but she didn't have enough strength. So, she put one foot at the edge of the bed to gain more leverage, then added a second one, and finally, the boot started to budge.
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist
ALEX GTS ARTIST

She exerted a lot of strength, and when the boot finally came off my foot, she was launched into the air like a spring. I shouted her name as she flew through the air, but fortunately, her trajectory made her glide across the floor until she gently reached the wall.II hurried to check on her, and there she was, smiling. As I approached, she proudly held my gigantic boot in her hand like a trophy. I was relieved that she had a good time and didn't hurt herself!
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist

Eri, momentarily forgetting her hurry, decided that undressing me would be a challenge she wanted to tackle. With enthusiasm, she jumped onto the bed and asked me to move closer to its edge. Once I was in front of her, she began unbuttoning my skirt. She relished the uniqueness of the task, admitting that undressing someone my size was a wholly different experience. The strength required, the weight of the clothes, and the sheer amount of fabric made it an incredible experience for her.
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist
ALEX GTS ARTIST

The challenge of removing my sweater turned out to be even more difficult than taking off my boots. It got stuck on my ample bosom, and Eri had to put in a lot of effort to free it and lift it higher. Her attempts were hindered by the weight and softness of my breasts. As she tried to raise the bottom edge of the sweater, my breasts lifted along with it. In the end, she discovered a less exhausting technique: she positioned herself in front, holding my breast with one hand while pushing the sweater up with the other. She had to repeat this process ten times around my chest to succeed.

February 2022

Dear Diary,
This may look like a picture of just me, with no one else in sight. But if you look closely at the bottom of the frame, you can spot my future husband's head peeking in. It's right around the same height as the hem of my skirt. Taking photos of the two of us together has become increasingly challenging, especially in situations like this when I'm wearing heels. Despite him standing at a towering 6'3", I've grown so tall that with heels on even my legs dwarf his height.

www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist

ALEX GTS ARTIST

We were trying to find poses for our future wedding photoshoot. Every photographer we talked to wasn't accustomed to shooting a couple with such a significant height difference. Most of them suggested that we try a few poses at home in front of the mirror, where it was possible to have both of our faces as close as possible.With the help of our bed, and with me partially bending my knee and leaning my torso forward, we found a nice one.

www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist

Between the moments of success and the occasional failures in our quest for the perfect poses during the photoshoot, we managed to have our share of fun. Our relationship has seen many changes and evolutions. With my endless growth, we've learned to savor every moment and cherish our time together. Everything has transformed; when we first started our relationship, I had to stand on my tiptoes to steal a kiss from him. Now, if he stands on his tiptoes, he doesn't even reach my belly button. Yet, when he sits like a cowboy on my lap, we can gaze into each other's eyes, share laughter, kisses, and repeat.

After I removed my boots, things didn't change drastically. I'd say he's at just the right height for... well, dear diary, I think you know winks.
The top of his head barely reached the widest part of my hips. And, as we both couldn't help but notice, my foot, when standing upright, was as tall, if not taller, than his knees!

He hugged me, or rather, he hugged what he could reach: my leg! Using one of my butt cheeks as a pillow, he held my leg tightly and sweetly. I was taken by surprise as I felt his body pressing against my leg, his head and hair gently brushing against my butt. It was a display of affection, but it also became evident that he adored my stature, cherishing the fact that I was this tall, with legs as long as his.

While we were sharing an intimate moment and enjoying some playful time together, our laughter and screams drowned out the sound of Alicia, who, finding the door open, began to make her way inside. Neither of us saw or heard her approaching, and as she caught sight of us 'playing' together, she decided to cough to get our attention. To be honest, we were both taken aback and a little embarrassed. We decided that next time, we should make sure the door is properly closed!

She came to talk to me about something she didn't want to discuss over the phone. She had taken the growth serum and was prepared to experiment on herself. She asked me to keep it a secret from everyone else. Only Erin knew, as she assisted in monitoring her vital parameters. In case anything went wrong, she would need Erin's assistance and possibly mine as well. I wasn't sure whether to be enthusiastic or worried. She assured me that in one month, her growth should stop, and the serum would be fully metabolized.
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist
ALEX GTS ARTIST

Being tall is fun, and I actually love it, if it weren't for the never-too-tall doorframes that I, willingly or not, outgrew every time, forcing me to crouch when moving from one room to another. If she and other girls desire to be taller, why not? This world absolutely needs more intelligent, tall women to lead it in the future.

March 2022

Dear Diary,
It's already March, just a month and a few weeks until the wedding. Buying the wedding dress has been the most challenging part. I've been monitoring my growth spurts, but it's been two months and I've barely grown. Mark just checked, and I'm 10 feet 8 inches and a half—barely taller than when Eri measured me in January. A growth spurt a few weeks before the marriage could be unfortunate, especially if my breasts grow too.

A few days later, Alicia came to find us, appearing somewhat different, perhaps in more ways than one. As Mark approached, he was astonished by her height. Initially, he speculated that she might be wearing shoes, but that wasn't the case. Alicia had removed her shoes at the entrance, as usual. Since Mark wasn't aware of the serum, he briefly questioned whether his mind was playing tricks on him or if he had shrunk in some way. But no, it wasn't any change on his part: it was 'just' Alicia being taller.
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist
ALEX GTS ARTIST

Gabriel stepped in shortly after Alicia's arrival.He couldn't help but notice Alicia's change in height: after all he had a keen eye for such details. He was joyful to know another girl in town had joined the club. Excited, he began bombarding her with numerous questions, many of which she didn't know how to answer yet. Having been growing all month long, she was uncertain about her current measurements. Meanwhile, Mark was puzzled about how another girl, well past her puberty, had started growing again. He turned to me, seeking answers.
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist
ALEX GTS ARTIST

I joined them in the bedroom, feeling genuinely excited to see that the serum had worked on Alicia. Even from my perspective, I could tell she was taller. We refrained from discussing the serum in front of the guys, although I planned to inform Mark privately later and ask him to keep it confidential. Alicia's smile reassured me that everything had gone smoothly without any side effects.

We waited for the guys to leave before we began talking. Alicia confided that it hadn't been easy. Initially, she felt dizzy and weak.
She experienced a high fever for a week and nearly lost all hope before the 'miracle' occurred. Her temperature slowly subsided, and she suddenly felt ravenous. One of the first changes she noticed wasn't physical, but cognitive. She felt her mind sharpening, making it easier to comprehend things and gain a clearer perspective on everything, day by day.

She checked her height on my scale and found she was one inch taller, reaching 7 feet in height! It was an incredible result; in the last month, she grew one inch, surpassing my growth. When we stood back to back, I noticed she was slightly taller than my legs. My legs were less than one inch away from reaching 7 feet in length.

Another noticeable change in her was her increased muscle mass and density. She appeared more sculpted and defined, particularly in her abdomen and legs. She mentioned gaining a considerable amount of weight, largely due to increased muscle density. According to her, she felt significantly stronger than before.

Another significant change in her physique was evident in her curves. It seemed she had gained another bra cup size, and her bubble butt had become prominently rounder. She mentioned that her old leggings shredded into bits while she was squatting due to the increased volume of her glutes. Consequently, she now opts for shorts. The temptation to grab such a perfectly rounded shape is strong, even for me.

April 2022
Dear Diary,
The long-awaited day has finally arrived – my wedding day. For this special occasion, my diary won't just have pictures, it will also include recordings from this day.

I remember how everyone was filled with excitement that day.
I was particularly anxious about whether the dress would fit me.
Fortunately, it still turned out to be the perfect size.

REBECCA, FROM THE MOMENT I MET YOU, MY LIFE CHANGED FOR THE BETTER. YOU'VE SHOWN ME LOVE, KINDNESS, AND STRENGTH BEYOND MEASURE. EVERY MOMENT WITH YOU HAS BEEN A GIFT, AND I PROMISE TO CHERISH YOU FOR ALL ETERNITY, EMBRACING EVERY INCH OF YOUR HEIGHT.
patreon.com/alexgtsartist

At that moment, I felt so relaxed. All my problems and anxieties disappeared. I felt 'pure,' ready to embrace my new life. This was the moment.
patreon.com/alexgtsartist

Suddenly, a wave of dizziness washed over me, my head spinning with emotions I couldn't comprehend.
REBECCA?!
patreon.com/alexgtsartist
ALEX GTS ARTIST

My head kept spinning so fast that I lost my balance.
patreon.com/alexgtsartist

Fortunately, the wall stopped me from falling.
ARE YOU OK?
patreon.com/alexgtsartist

I never felt like this, but I had a hunch of what was going to happen as warmth pervaded my entire body.
patreon.com/alexgtsartist

I was still dizzy, so I clung to the wall.
patreon.com/alexgtsartist

And just like that, I grew like never before...
REBECCA...
patreon.com/alexgtsartist

My heart was racing in my chest...
... YOU ARE...
patreon.com/alexgtsartist

While I was getting bigger, everything I was wearing was getting smaller and smaller...
... GROWING!
patreon.com/alexgtsartist

And my wedding dress, unable to contain my curves, tore apart.
HOLY COW!
patreon.com/alexgtsartist

The reaction to my sudden growth spurts varied. Miranda had a lopsided smile on her face.
WAY TO GO, SIS!
patreon.com/alexgtsartist

My parents were shocked.
WHAT JUST HAPPENED TO MY POOR LITTLE BECKY?
THAT CAN'T BE REAL!
patreon.com/alexgtsartist

While others were either surprised, happy, or both.
THIS WAS EPIC, AND I'VE GOT IT ALL ON CAMERA!
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist

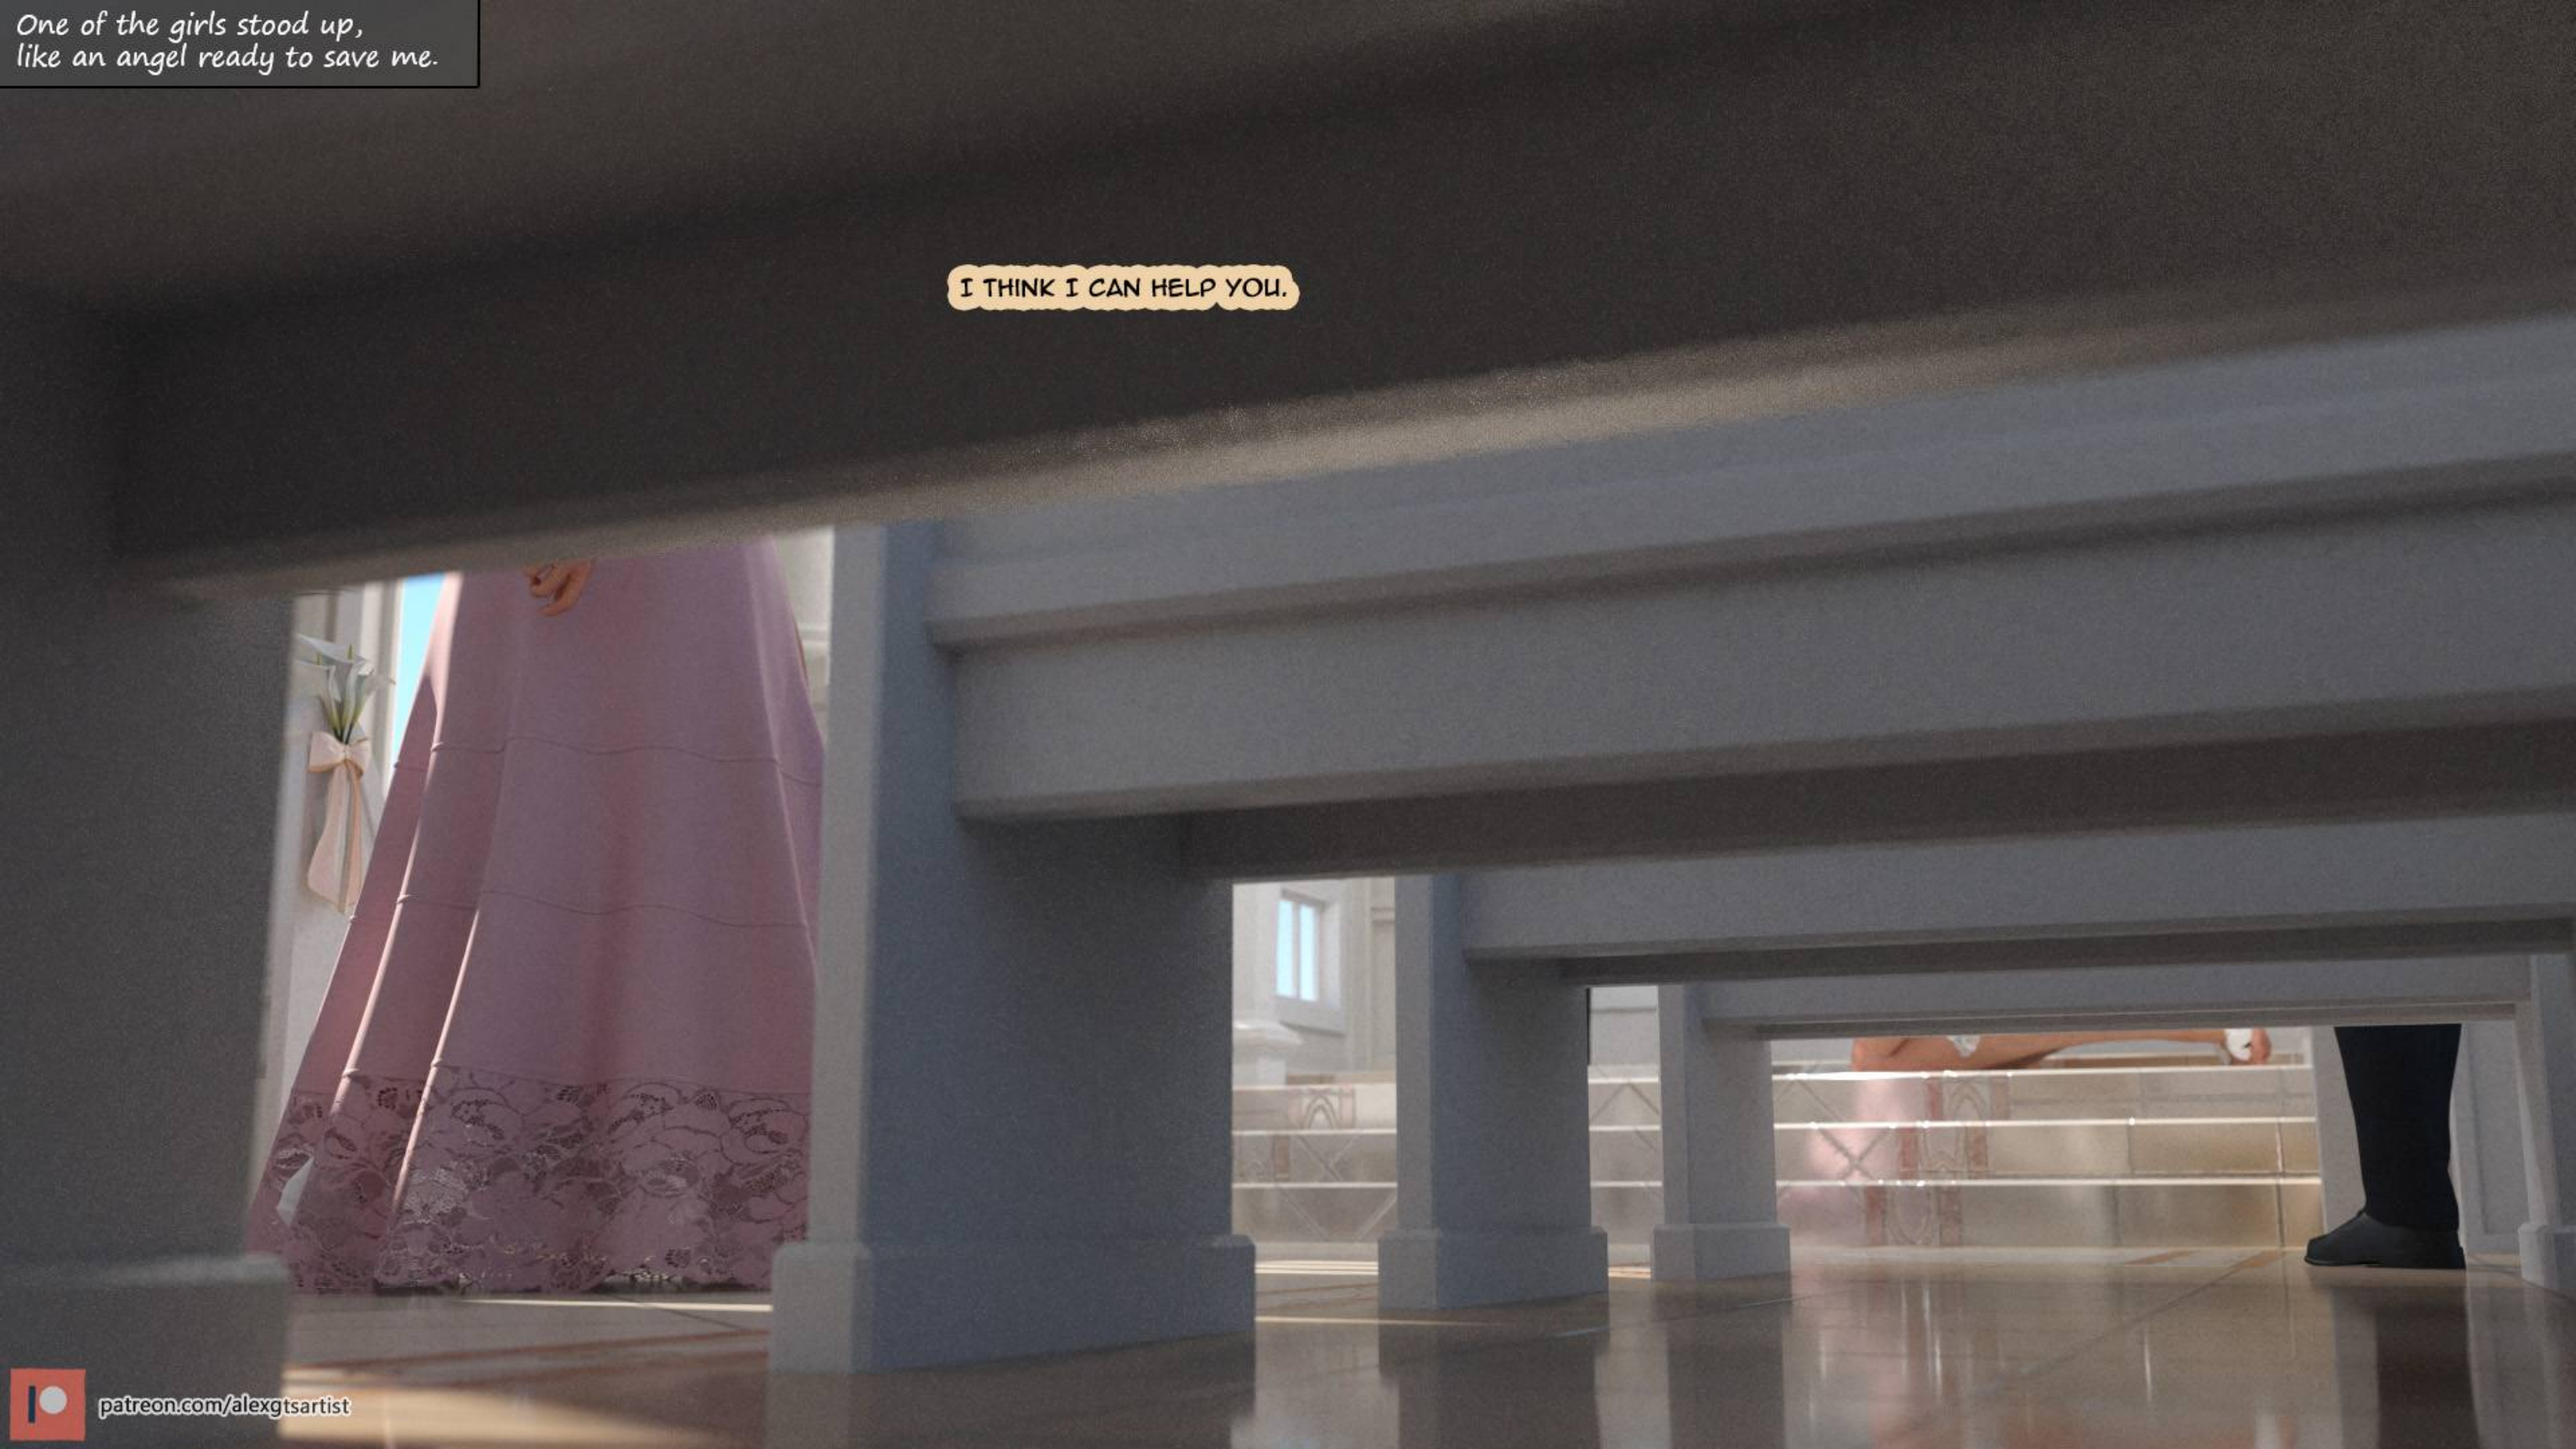

And back to my mom, it was too big of a shock for her.
OH, HER WEDDING THAT SHE WANTED TO BE PERFECT, SHE DID SO MUCH FOR THAT, AND NOW IT'S RUINED!
DON'T JUMP TO CONCLUSIONS YET...
patreon.com/alexgtsartist

But in the blink of an eye, she fainted, falling to the ground.
SYLVIA!
patreon.com/alexgtsartist

Dad tried to lift her up, but he was too weak for that.
UGH,
I CAN'T LIFT HER UP. SHE'S WEIGHING A TON.
OR IS IT BECAUSE OF HER HUGE BREASTS?
SORRY, SIR.
LET ME TRY. I THINK I CAN MANAGE.
patreon.com/alexgtsartist

And he regretted what he just said.
I, UH...
DON'T TELL HER I SAID SHE'S WEIGHING A TON.
I DIDN'T MEAN THAT. SHE HAS THE RIGHT WEIGHT FOR A WOMAN HER SIZE.
I MEAN, SHE'S OKAY... I MEAN...
SIR, DON'T WORRY.
I WON'T SAY ANYTHING. LET'S JUST TRY TO WAKE HER UP.
patreon.com/alexgtsartist

With every movement I made, the dress tore apart further and further.
I'M SORRY, MARK. I'VE RUINED OUR WEDDING. I DON'T KNOW WHY OR HOW IT HAPPENED, BUT I DON'T HAVE A DRESS ANYMORE.
SHH... SHH... CALM DOWN, MY LOVE. WE'LL FIX EVERYTHING. DON'T WORRY.

One of the girls stood up, like an angel ready to save me.
I THINK I CAN HELP YOU.

Eri directed all the people outside so that I could undress and fix what could be fixed.
PLEASE, I NEED SOME TIME ALONE WITH REBECCA, EVERYBODY TAKE A PAUSE FOR NOW, THERE IS A CAFE IN FRONT OF THE CHAPEL, YOU CAN SIT THERE FOR THE TIME BEING.

She's been proven to be the most resourceful person I've ever met and I was happy about it.
LET ME SEE. I THINK I HAVE EXTRA SLEEVES. I CAN REUSE SOME FABRIC FROM THE DRESS, AND I HAVE SOME LARGER SANDALS. IF YOU'D LIKE A MORE DARING BRIDAL DRESS, I THINK I CAN MANAGE SOMETHING.
AT THIS POINT, ANYTHING WOULD BE NICE. YOU'RE A DARLING.
OKAY, WAIT HERE. I'LL GET THE STUFF I NEED FROM MY VAN.

Instead of leaving straight away, Gabriel and Wolf enthusiastically rushed toward the altar, truly excited by the events.

The rings arrived, mine was visibly bigger than Mark's, almost twice his size. Who knows for how long I would be able to wear it before it needs an upgrade.
MARK AND REBECCA, AS YOU EXCHANGE RINGS, MAY THESE SYMBOLS OF YOUR LOVE AND COMMITMENT REMIND YOU OF THE PROMISES YOU'VE MADE TO EACH OTHER TODAY.
patreon.com/alexgtsartist

We didn't have any kids or pets to carry our rings, so we asked the smallest person we knew: Kurt.

May 2022
Dear Diary,
A few weeks after my wedding, life returned to normal—though "normal" is a relative term when you're almost twice the height of your husband, who stands at 6'3". Without getting into technicalities, my volume and weight were more than double his. The difference was staggering, as you can see from the picture. We were sleeping, and he was spooning me. Ideally, he should have been the big spoon, but next to me, he was anything but big.
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist
ALEX GTS ARTIST

While I was waking up, I turned to stretch until I heard a muffled grunt. Inadvertently, I had rolled over onto my husband. He couldn't withstand my weight, but the bed helped cushion him. He always jokes that it could be "death by snu-snu" when something like this happens, saying it's the best way to go. Even though he jokes about it, I absolutely don't want to hurt him, even if incidents like this happen.
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist
ALEX GTS ARTIST

When I turned to check if he was fine and to say sorry, another problem arose: my cumbersome breasts. No matter how I lay, whether on top of him or next to him, they are always between us like two pillows you can't remove. Most of the time he doesn't mind, but in this case, it was really hard for him to breathe. He said nothing for a while, and I think he was enjoying it until his face turned red.
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist

It was time to show him who's the real big spoon of the couple. I slipped one arm under his body, pulled him close to my chest, and quickly turned onto my side. There he was, comfortably nestled between my breasts, which enveloped his entire torso.
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist
ALEX GTS ARTIST

After a playful morning, it was time to check my height. I had been avoiding it since that huge growth spurt during my wedding. I still hadn't figured out what caused it—whether it was the tension or something else. As I sat on the bed, Mark looked smaller than ever in front of my gigantic body. My knees could serve as his armrests, and my hands could easily cup his cute little butt.

As I stood up, Mark was once again amazed at how tall I had become. My inseam was now definitely taller than he was. Even without heels, our difference was now striking. Gone were the days when the crown of my head barely reached his shoulders. Now, the top of his head was shorter than my crotch. What a journey, a decade long.

ALEX GTS ARTIST

From each other's point of view, we could barely peek at our faces from between the mountains of my chest. Most of the time, it was funny, occasionally, it was annoying. I often had to bend, crouch, or push my breasts out of the way to see what was closer to my feet. I had to be careful when walking outside. If people walked into my blind spot, I could accidentally knock them over, which had already happened more than once.
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist
ALEX GTS ARTIST

I lifted Mark over my head and held him steady in my arms. "Eleven feet," he shouted. "Eleven feet exactly." That was my height. I was now an eleven-foot-tall girl. I had grown an astounding four inches in a single day. I still couldn't believe it. I had gotten used to growing taller over the weeks, but I had never gained so much in one single day. I don't freak out easily, but that did scare me. My imagination ran wild, picturing me fifty feet tall and sleeping in a barn.

June 2022

Dear Diary,

This year has brought significant changes for all of us. One of the biggest changes for me was my rapid height growth, which, for the first time in my life, was so fast that I ripped my own wedding dress. Yes, the other significant change, a very welcome one, is that I got married. I married this amazing man who you can now see proudly in the family picture. Despite the shock and panic, it was the most beautiful day of my life. My work is steady, and my salary will allow us to relocate once I start to outgrow our two-story apartment.

Miranda has outdone herself. She is now close to seven feet tall, having grown almost eight inches in the past year compared to her previous six inches. I wonder if she will keep growing faster each year. Her studies are going great, and she is almost a lawyer.

Steve is totally in love with Miranda. He continues to work out, but his progress isn't anywhere near as impressive as Miranda's. He's still at the video game store and remains the shortest one in the family.

Mom has gotten curvier and, I'm not sure, but is she slightly taller than usual? It's hard to say. However, the real plot twist is that during my wedding, she reconnected with Dad. They forgave each other and realized they missed being a couple.

Dad is fitter than ever. Being alone had the positive effect of making him invest in himself, and for his age, he looks better than before.

In our family, all the girls are taller than the men, and this is really cool.

July 2022
Dear Diary,
As the hot summer scorched outside, we stayed indoors to escape the relentless heat. There was no better place than Wolf's café. It was cool, air-conditioned, and we could order as many beverages as we wanted. Erin had something important to tell me, and we used our code to speak about sensitive matters without being overheard. What she told me, however, made me chug my glass of wine.
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist
ALEX GTS ARTIST

She suspected someone had used the serum on me right before my wedding. Due to my natural growth, it acted as a catalyst, accelerating it so much that I grew several inches in a matter of seconds. I had thought it was just stress that blocked my growth for several weeks, and when I finally felt relaxed... We discussed and agreed that it could be a mix of factors, but that it wouldn't have happened without the serum.
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist
ALEX GTS ARTIST

Erin told me that she had also decided to test the serum herself. She was enthusiastic and couldn't wait for the results. She opened her shirt to peek into her cleavage, eager for her 'babies' to swell up in size even more. She was so passionate that she didn't notice her button holding her shirt together heroically, like Spider-Man trying to stop a train in that movie.

ALEX GTS ARTIST

Unlike Spider-Man, her button wasn't strong enough to handle the pressure. In a split second, three buttons popped off in quick succession, leaving her generous chest bouncing free from the confinement of her shirt. It was hilarious: she squealed in surprise. Wolf quickly turned to see what was happening, but I promptly covered his eyes.

Erin had a few pins in her bag and used them as makeshift buttons. I stood up and approached the bar counter. I didn't remember it being so low. The last time I leaned on it, my ass definitely didn't almost reach the lights hanging from the ceiling. Wolf had to painfully crane his neck to look me in the face. I stared at him for a few seconds as he seemed to get dizzy from the sight. Then, I smiled and asked for the check.

A couple of weeks later, I met with Eri for my semiannual measurements. We started talking about my wedding and what happened there. She said she kinda enjoyed it. It was a lot of extra work for her, but it was worth it.
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist

Measuring me was a challenge. The taller I became, the harder it got for her. As visible in this picture, even walking on my knees with my back arched, I was taller than Erin! Most of my circumferences or lengths were wider than her arm span or height. Anyway, with a little help on my side, we managed to take all the measurements again.

August 2022
Dear Diary,
Talking with Mark while walking was usually a complicated task. I had to bend down, and he had to crane his neck up. With all the city noise, we often found ourselves shouting—especially him—just to hear each other. But in the park, things got a little easier, thanks to a walkway with both a lower path and an elevated path running side by side. As we strolled, I told him about one of my latest changes: my breasts had gotten even bigger. My top, already stretched to the point of being sheer, strained under the extra weight, threatening to rip with any sudden, hard bounce.
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist
ALEX GTS ARTIST

As we were walking, we eventually came across a maintenance worker who needed to change a burnt-out light bulb on a lamppost. Apparently, he had forgotten to bring his ladder. When he saw me, he started waving, and I assumed he was a fan, so I waved back. But when we got closer, he asked if I could help him out. I have to admit, I had fun switching out the bulbs, but joked that he owed me a coffee for my trouble. though it would've been safer if they had turned the power off first. Mark was smiling the whole time, saying I should start a side business as a giantess with impressive handyman skills!
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist
ALEX GTS ARTIST

A few minutes later, as we continued along our path, we noticed a familiar figure approaching. As she drew closer, it became obvious that her silhouette had, well, significantly enhanced since our last encounter. Her breasts were larger, straining so much against her shirt that the buttons looked like they might pop at any moment (I later found out she'd reinforced them!). Her hips had a more dramatic curve, and her legs appeared even more toned. The serum must have done its job on her too! I couldn't help but smile, she looked like she was loving every bit of her new self.
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist
ALEX GTS ARTIST

My little big man, who had no idea what was happening, couldn't believe his eyes: Erin in heels was now almost as tall as him, probably just an inch or two shorter. She was just as surprised and didn't waste a second teasing him, "I almost caught up to you!" The extra 5 inches from her heels definitely made a difference, but it was clear she wasn't 5'6" anymore. I was tempted to ask how tall she'd gotten, but for now, I was just enjoying the amusing scene right in front of me.
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist
ALEX GTS ARTIST

Erin then ran toward me and hugged me—or rather, leaned in and wrapped her arms around my breasts, squeezing them over her shoulders as much as she could. She remarked that they looked bigger and heavier, quickly realizing she wasn't the only one who had grown last month. One of my breasts was larger than her entire torso, and she's pretty busty herself! While she had shot up in height, I hadn't grown any taller lately.
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist
ALEX GTS ARTIST

She hadn't checked her height in over a week and wasn't sure how tall she'd gotten. That's why we decided to head over to my parents' house. For me, moving around in there is a nightmare. I have to bend, duck, and I can't even stand straight. Have you ever tried walking through an attic with a really low ceiling? That's only a small taste of how it feels for me. I squeezed myself through the door and entered Miranda's room, only to find my brother Steve sitting at her desk with his laptop. He was reading a comic where a guy stood between a giant woman with equally giant breasts. He quickly slammed the laptop shut, laughing nervously and stammering, "It's not what it looks like!"

Erin walked into the room, and we quickly switched topics. Steve stood up, immediately noticing how much tighter her shirt was than usual—and that wasn't the only thing different about her. She wrapped her arms around his neck, and it finally hit him: with her heels on, she was a few inches taller than him. Before, they were the same height or she was only slightly taller. From where I stood, I could also see that her backside had gotten a noticeable boost—not as dramatic as her chest, but enough to catch anyone's attention.
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist
ALEX GTS ARTIST

While Steve offered to measure her height himself, Erin casually mentioned that she felt a bit sharper mentally too, like she was understanding and solving things faster than usual. I recalled that Alicia had experienced similar changes. Without getting off-topic, as you can see in the picture, Erin had grown nearly two inches. She was just a hair shy of 5'8. Pretty impressive for such dramatic changes in just one month!

September 2022
Dear Diary,
It's been, what, 5 months now without a growth spurt? Has my growth finally stopped for good? If it has, it sure went out with a bang. That spurt during my wedding was straight out of a movie. I was upset at first—ruining my dress and delaying the celebration—but honestly, it felt incredible. There was this intense rush: tingling warmth all over my body as my arms and legs stretched longer, my breasts swelled, and my hips widened. It was exhilarating, to say the least. I can't really complain though—this height has been perfect for "certain" things... at least until...

We didn't need to say anything: I rushed to the height scale on the wardrobe, with Mark following close behind. I struggled to fit my hips in front of it—my hips were far too wide, bumping into the wall on one side. Mark gestured for me to pick him up. As soon as I did, I watched his expression change as he ran his hand over my head, trying to see if it was just my hair making me look taller. But it wasn't. I was just shy of eleven feet and five inches. I had grown nearly five inches in a matter of seconds, again.

He didn't wait to test my new size. Using my butt as a pillow and my legs as a bed, he lay there, completely comfortable. It always amused me how someone considered tall by normal standards could look so small next to me. He wasn't even as tall as my legs were long.
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist
ALEX GTS ARTIST

At one point, he turned and started playfully biting my butt cheek, nuzzling his face into it. I was startled—one moment, he had been relaxing, and the next, he was acting like a cat.
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist

For our more intimate moments, the size difference had always been remarkable, but now it was even more pronounced. He was so short that when he lay on top of me, his head nestled between my enormous breasts, each one easily more than twice the size of his head. The contrast had always been striking, but with my recent growth, it was almost surreal. He didn't seem to mind, and honestly, neither did I.
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist

Before he left for work, proud and happy, I tried to keep him in bed with me. I was strong enough to hold him there easily, my arms playfully gripping him across the chest. He turned and smiled, telling me that if he wasn't a surgeon with patients depending on him, there was no place he'd rather be than in bed with me. His kindness and sweetness always touched me.

October 2022
Dear Diary,
My husband has a new favorite way to relax or fall asleep. He sits with his legs wrapped around my waist, facing me, then grabs one of my breasts—now as big as his whole torso—and hugs it tightly. He rests his head on top, nestled into the softness until he drifts off. He swears it's the most comfortable way to relax, and honestly, watching him so content, I believe him.
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist
ALEX GTS ARTIST

He swore my breasts had grown even bigger this month. Each one now dwarfed his head, and as I bent over him, they reached all the way to his shoulders, with his head nestled between them like a baseball or softball by comparison. One thing was certain: I was definitely going to need a much bigger bra!
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist

Comparisons never seemed to end. As I lifted my leg over the creaking sink countertop, he realized he could stand completely under it. My thigh brushed the top of his head, and the look on his face was priceless—he hadn't expected I'd ever grow this much. But here I was, taller than ever and still growing.
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist

My new clothes finally arrived. When Mark grabbed my jeans to see how big they were, he was shocked to find he could barely hold them up—he was struggling just to keep them straight, and they were barely touching the floor! They were definitely bigger than him now!

One of the recurring photos I take every autumn is me trying to reach the chandelier. This year, for the first time, I didn't have to stretch or raise a foot. I could reach it easily with just my hand. Looking back at those pictures always reminds me of how far I've come over the years. Will I be able to touch the ceiling next year?

When I put on the top Eri sent me, I ran into a problem: it was too small. Well, too small for my boobs. Mark tried calling Eri to see if we could get a bigger size, but it was impossible for now. My clothes aren't made of simple cotton, they're mixed with silk stronger than Kevlar or Spider Silk. I get it now—one of my bounces could probably be detected by seismographs!

November 2022
Dear Diary,
This November, I ran into Gabriel again after such a long time. When was the last time I saw him—during my wedding? He was absolutely stunned to see how big I had become, and so was Wolf. Wolf had seen me back in July, but even he couldn't believe how much I'd grown, both in height and in bra size. Speaking of which, Gabriel got quite the view because I still hadn't gotten a new shirt from Eri, leaving me to squeeze into this one that barely held my chest in.
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist
ALEX GTS ARTIST

Gabriel, unexpectedly, said nothing at first—just walked up and hugged my leg. It was sweet but caught me off guard. Later, I learned that, to him, I was like a living dream. Every time he saw me, I made him happy. Those were some really kind words from my little friend and one of my biggest fans.
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist
ALEX GTS ARTIST

As fans, they couldn't resist doing it again: Gabriel climbing on top of Wolf's shoulders to compare their height to mine. This time was different, though. I wasn't even wearing heels, and I was still a whole head taller—two heads, if we're counting theirs stacked together! Gabriel, being his cheeky self, made sure to keep his hands nowhere near my chest, but he couldn't help joking. He said he was tempted to "accidentally" fall forward, teasing that my breasts were big as a mattress to him and would surely cushion his landing. Comments like that don't embarrass me, honestly, they just make me laugh. After all, when you're as big as I am, everything becomes larger than life—including such jokes!
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist
ALEX GTS ARTIST

Gabriel couldn't help but bring up a memory from last year. Back then, my thigh—up to my ass—was as tall as his mid-torso. This year, my knee alone was reaching the same height! The difference was staggering. My leg, just up to my knee, was taller than his entire legs combined. I have to admit, such comparisons must have been driving him crazy.
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist

At one point, I decided to sit on the table to chat with Gabriel and Wolf.
Even standing at their full height, they were still so small compared to me, so I asked if they wanted to hop onto my legs to keep the conversation going. I didn't have to ask twice—they were thrilled by the idea.
They tried to climb up by themselves but weren't quite successful, so I extended my arms and scooped them both up like they weighed nothing.
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist
ALEX GTS ARTIST

Just to clarify, this isn't what it might look like! Gabriel, being his adventurous self, decided to climb up the wooden beams in the room to reach the roof while I was chatting with Wolf. Mid-climb, I heard his foot slip, and without thinking, I quickly bent over and pushed my round derriere toward him to stop him from falling. Nothing inappropriate, I was just saving my little admirer from a nasty fall, okay?

www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist

After Gabriel was safely back on the ground, we ran a silly but oddly entertaining comparison. While I was sitting on the floor, I was still taller than him. The top of his head barely reached my eye level. Wolf had been expecting a tie, so the shocked look on his face was priceless.
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist
ALEX GTS ARTIST

Then came Gabriel's special request—a tradition of sorts. A couple of years ago, he had casually walked under my legs, and ever since, it had become his favorite thing to do. Of course, I agreed—I didn't mind it at all. This time, I decided to stand on my tiptoes, and to his delight, he could comfortably walk under my legs without even brushing against me. For him, it was another milestone of my growth, and I could see how much joy it brought him.

December 2022

Dear Diary,
We went to a restaurant again this month. Mark looked dapper in a white short-sleeve shirt and chinos, while I was stuck in my usual attire: jeans and a top so small it barely covered half my boobs, leaving plenty of underboob on display. Honestly, it felt like it could explode if I so much as sneezed.
Mark tried to lighten the mood with a story from work. A really tall woman broke her leg, and the nurse, a short guy, decided to lift her himself instead of asking for help. Long story short, he sprained his wrist and ended up in a hospital bed beside her. "Maybe next time he'll consider teamwork," Mark said, grinning. At least his jokes made me forget about my wardrobe situation... for a little while.

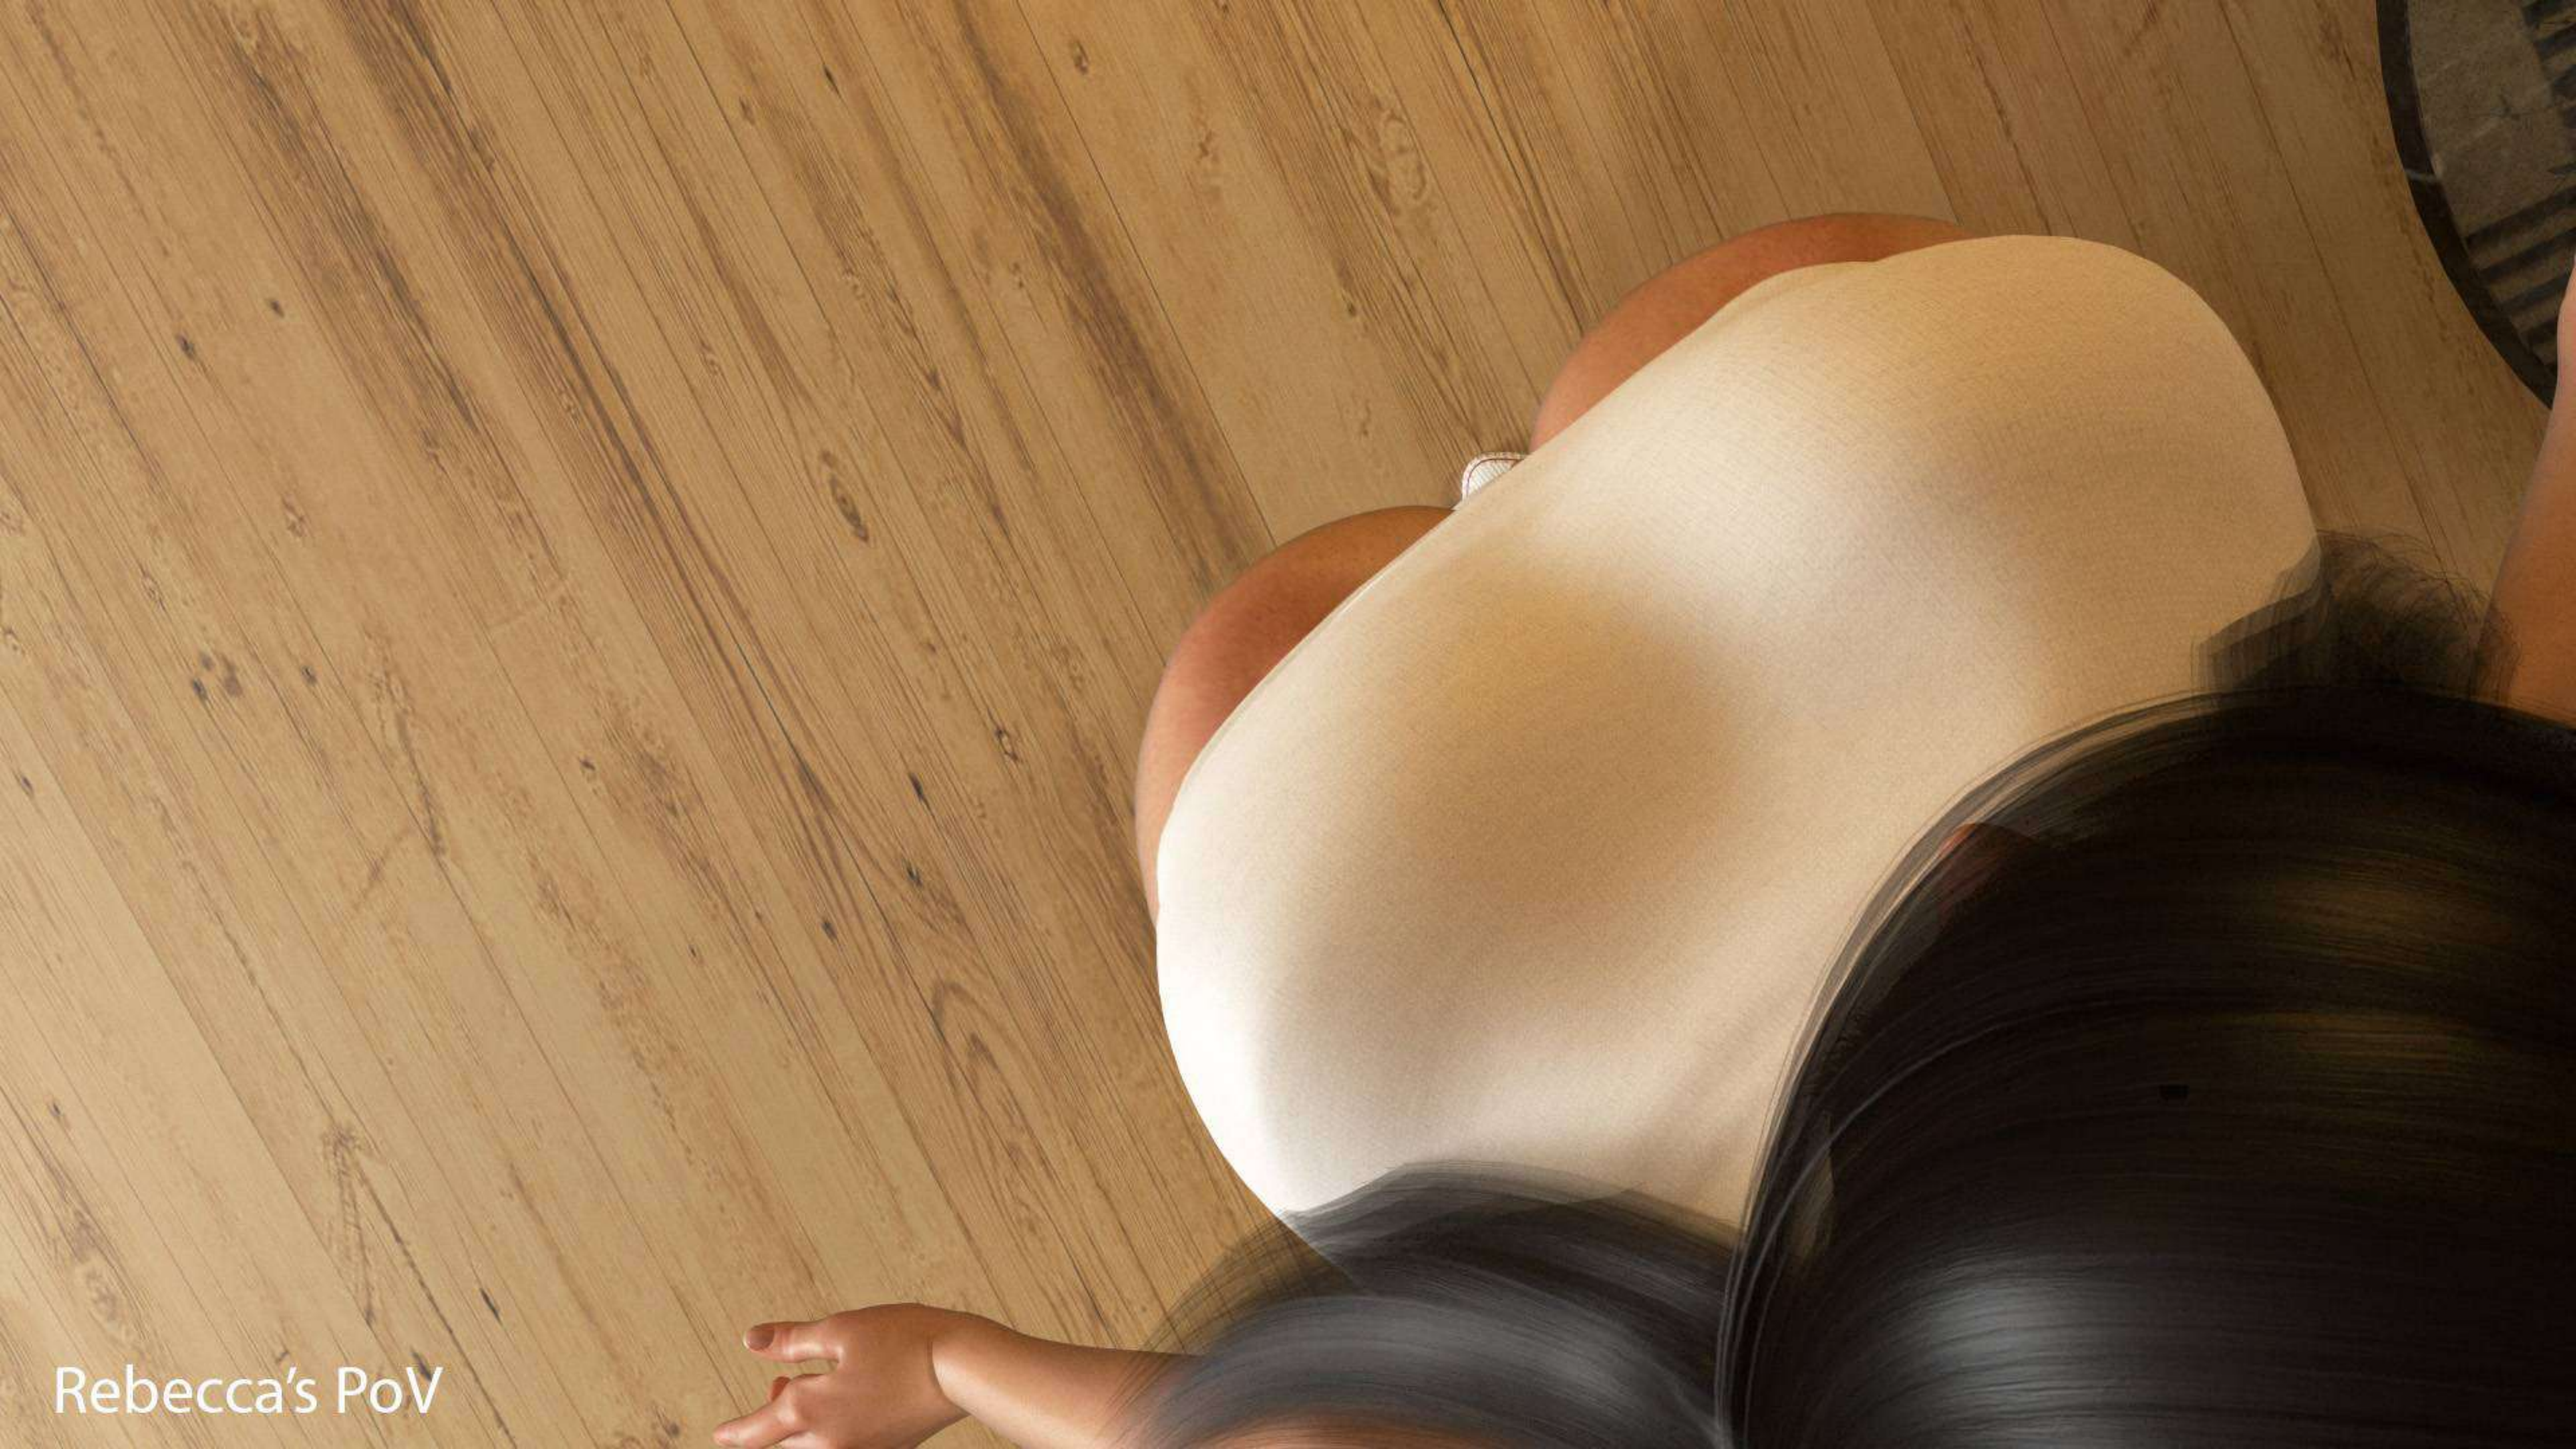

Today, I tried to sit on my custom-made reinforced chair, but my butt has officially outgrown it. I thought maybe if I wiggled and shifted my weight a bit, I could make it work. My loving (and very concerned) husband stopped me, pointing out the ominous creaking coming from the chair. "It's not worth the risk," he said. I reluctantly gave up.
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist
ALEX GTS ARTIST

As we were talking about how much harder it's been for me to do almost anything lately, I suddenly felt a small poke behind my leg—uh, thigh.
I turned my head but didn't see anyone. Weird. Was I imagining things?
Curiosity got the better of me, so I turned around completely.

Alternative View

Nobody was there—or so I thought. Thinking it was some kind of prank, I moved as far forward as I could, craning to look past the curve of my body. Even then, all I could see was the tip of my shoe. Still, I heard Mark laughing softly behind me, so I called out, "Anyone there?"

Rebecca's PoV

That's when Steve leaned back and peeked out from between my breasts, looking sheepish and giving me a little wave. I realized then that both my boobs and ass had gotten so massive they'd completely blocked him from my view, front and back! He explained that he'd come over to greet me and was now heading back to the entrance to pick up Miranda.
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist
ALEX GTS ARTIST

I hadn't seen Miranda in a while, so I was completely taken aback. When she walked in, my eyes widened in surprise. She'd grown—a lot. I'm still the tallest woman on earth, but with those heels, she was definitely towering over eight feet tall. She smirked at my expression while Steve stood beside her, arm wrapped around her waist. His hand barely made it there, and her waist was now at his eye level!
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist
ALEX GTS ARTIST

Even though she wasn't remotely as tall as me—her head barely reached the bottom of my breasts—Miranda carried herself with the confidence of someone who owned the room. She bent down and kissed my navel, catching me and Mark completely off guard. Steve, of course, just stood there grinning, enjoying the whole show.
Afterward, Miranda straightened up with a playful glint in her eye and said, "I'm the only one who gets to bend down to kiss your navel." Sure, her heels helped, but still... that was bold.
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist

After greeting me, Miranda glanced around the room looking for Mark, but she couldn't spot him. Realizing he must be "hidden" behind me, she asked me to step aside. Once I moved, she greeted him with the same confident energy she had with me. She cupped his now smaller-looking head in her hands—despite him being three inches over six feet—and smirked. "I can see the surprise all over your face," she teased. Mark, indeed, was visibly flustered. All he managed was a stuttered "hi," followed by an awkward pause and a hurried "I... I need to go to the bathroom." Poor little hubby—her dramatic changes were clearly a lot for him to process.

January 2023
Dear Diary,
Steve came over for a visit today. It had been a while since we last had a proper chat, just the two of us. But honestly, it was getting harder and harder to think of him as my big brother. If I wanted to, I could lift him with one hand... one hand!
He sat on my lap, his legs dangling several inches above the floor, looking absurdly small compared to mine. When I took his hands in mine, I had another realization: my thumb alone could almost cover his entire palm, and one of my fingers was as long as his whole hand! It was almost comical. No matter how much time passed, these moments still managed to catch me off guard.
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist
ALEX GTS ARTIST

While Eri and I were deep in conversation, debating whether it was worth taking my measurements again (after all, I hadn't had a major growth spurt in a while), Steve finally returned from the living room, where he'd spent the past hour on the phone with Miranda. Eri was so caught up in our discussion that she didn't even notice him approaching. Steve decided to surprise her, but things didn't exactly go as planned...
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist
ALEX GTS ARTIST

As soon as she turned, something big, much bigger, made Steve's eyes widen in disbelief. His mouth started forming the word "Surprise," but after the first "S," all that came out was a sharp exhale, like air escaping from a valve. He was awestruck. Eri's breasts were bigger, much bigger than before. For a brief moment, I could see the wheels turning in his head, probably wondering if she had gotten implants. But that wasn't the case. This was "almost" all natural.
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist
ALEX GTS ARTIST

The serum had a different effect on Eri. She hadn't grown taller,at least not in any obvious way,but her curves had filled out dramatically. Most noticeably, her chest had swelled at least three cup sizes, straining against her shirt. Catching Steve's wide-eyed stare, she smirked. "Noticing anything you like? Here, have a better look!" With that, she grabbed the hem of her shirt and lifted it. Steve, ever the shy one, instantly shut his eyes, threw a hand over his face, and stumbled backward in a blind retreat. I had a feeling Eri expected that reaction, what she didn't expect was my arm shooting out to grab her and spin her toward me. Because if anyone was getting a better look, it was going to be me.
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist
ALEX GTS ARTIST

As she pulled off her top, I couldn't believe my eyes. Her breasts were stunning: perfectly shaped, symmetrical, and easily between a full C and a D cup. And to think she was almost flat-chested just a month ago! I needed a closer look. Without hesitation, I scooped her up effortlessly, lifting her like a doll until her chest was right in front of my face. What a sight!
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist
ALEX GTS ARTIST

I wanted to feel her new size, and just two fingers were enough to cup a breast that, despite its new fullness, looked almost tiny in my grasp. It was soft yet firm, warm and supple, pressing back gently against my touch. Her skin was impossibly smooth, radiating a pleasant heat. Eri reached out to feel mine in return. Her entire palm barely covered a fraction of my breast, her fingers sinking into the plushness. She traced my skin slowly, her touch light at first, then more deliberate as if trying to take in just how vast I was compared to her.
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist
ALEX GTS ARTIST

The feeling of watching everyone else grow while I remained the same was indescribable. I felt hollow, like a part of me had vanished. Then, a fire ignited deep inside me—an intense, spreading warmth that tingled from the roots of my hair to the soles of my feet. I had only felt this twice before...

... and just like that, a massive growth spurt hit me in seconds. My jeans tore apart as my legs and hips expanded, my top struggled before giving way to my swelling breasts, spilling free as I surged taller. It was a crescendo, building like a climax, then suddenly stopping. My body buzzed with exhaustion, but I was drenched in the afterglow of pure pleasure.
Eri had to leave but promised to measure me next week—and to bring clothes that could actually fit me.

February 2023

Dear Diary,
At the beginning of February, Eri came to visit as promised. To measure my height properly, she stared at me for a few seconds, then grabbed a book and asked me to lift her onto my closet. From there, she bent over, pressing the book against the top of my head to get an accurate measurement. I had measured myself before, but she confirmed it:
I'm now almost 12 feet tall!

Eri struggled to measure my hips, stretching the tape as far as she could. Even on tiptoes, she barely reached, her fingers just brushing against my skin. She huffed in frustration, adjusting her stance, but it was hopeless, my sheer size had completely outgrown her reach. "This is ridiculous," she muttered, looking up at me with a mix of awe and exasperation. I couldn't help but smirk. "Need a ladder?"

March 2023
Dear Diary,
The long-awaited shipment with my new clothes finally arrived! Among the items was a striking new pair of high heels. I asked Mark to bring them to me, and watching him struggle made me realize just how massive my feet have become.
The shoes were almost comically huge in his hands, the heels alone over a foot tall. The weight made him wobble a bit, like he was lifting gym equipment instead of footwear. But they were stunning, and made perfectly to match my size and presence. Just imagining how towering I'd look wearing them got me excited to try them on.
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist
ALEX GTS ARTIST

When I tried them on, I shot up to well over 13 feet and the difference between Mark and me became jaw-dropping. He barely reached the middle of my thighs. Since the heels added all the height from below, my hips were nearly two feet above his head. I was absolutely towering over him. He looked up at me in a mix of awe and disbelief, and from where I stood, he seemed so adorably small. We both couldn't help but smile at the sight: we really do love these kinds of comparisons.

April 2023
Dear Diary,
This month, Mark and I spent some time talking about our future. We found ourselves aligned on so many things—it felt natural, easy. I won't spoil anything just yet, but let's just say there are some exciting changes ahead. I couldn't stop chuckling during our conversation. My knees were nearly at his armpits, and he casually rested his arm on my leg like it was the back of a couch. I was sitting on the bed, and even then, I was still a full head (my head) taller than him. He didn't seem to mind. In fact, he looked perfectly comfortable down there.

Later that evening, things took a more tender turn. He slipped off his t-shirt, stepped up on the bed, and gently threw himself into my arms. His hips nestled between my breasts as he wrapped himself around me in a warm, full-body hug. His whole frame, stretched out, still didn't match mine. But in that moment, the way he held me—completely, lovingly—I felt every bit of his affection and desire. It was sweet, hot, and deeply comforting all at once.

ALEX GTS ARTIST

I went back to my parents' place. Oh—and I think I forgot to say—they had gotten back together. Apparently, what happened at my wedding helped them reconnect, and I couldn't have been happier about it. The kitchen was still the only place where I could stand upright without needing to bend or kneel. Though getting there wasn't easy—I had to crawl through the narrow hallway just to make it in. Mom was telling me she had been feeling different lately. To prove it, she wore the same dress that fit her perfectly last year. Now it was tight in all the right places. She had also gained a few pounds, but honestly, from where I stood, it was hard to tell if she was taller or not. Everyone looked tiny next to me anyway.
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist
ALEX GTS ARTIST

When Dad arrived (and yes, he had clearly been working out) it became obvious that Mom was indeed taller. Even though she had always been taller than him, he had never been eye level with her chest before, not even when she wore heels. I asked them to stand back to back barefoot.
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist
ALEX GTS ARTIST

And yes, she was taller. After a couple of years without any noticeable growth, something had changed. Dad's head barely reached her shoulder, and that hadn't been their difference the last time I checked. It was an unexpected surprise, and while I think I know why it happened. But hey, let's definitely not think about that. Nope. Not today, or ever.
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist
ALEX GTS ARTIST

There was only one room equipped to measure tall women—it used to be mine, but now Miranda stayed there. The only issue was getting to it. I had to squeeze through a narrow, low-ceilinged corridor that, by my standards, felt more like a crawlspace. The doorways were even worse—tight, short, and barely wide enough for my hips. I had to bend, kneel, and twist just to get through. Did I mention how much I hate that hallway? And every time, it just gets harder.

www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist

Miranda wasn't home, but I ran into Steve. He found me sitting on my knees, with that usual cheeky confidence, climbed onto the desk and then onto my back, settling himself on my butt and using it like a plush seat while resting against my back. For all his bravado, I barely noticed the weight. But I was focused on something else: checking Mom's height. And sure enough, she had grown—by a good two inches, maybe a little more. She now stood at 6'6". That kind of spurt at her age left both me and Steve stunned.
7
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist
ALEX GTS ARTIST

Steve came back a moment later carrying my heels—they were lying near the entrance—and commented on how surprisingly heavy they were. Then he said he wanted to check one thing: whether, in heels, my ass would be as tall as the ceiling. I humored him, slipped them on, and straightened my legs. He wasn't wrong. The hem of my skirt brushed the ceiling—my hips practically met it. The room where I had grown up for 24 years was now barely tall enough for my legs alone. When your little brother's right, he's right.

May 2023
Dear Diary,

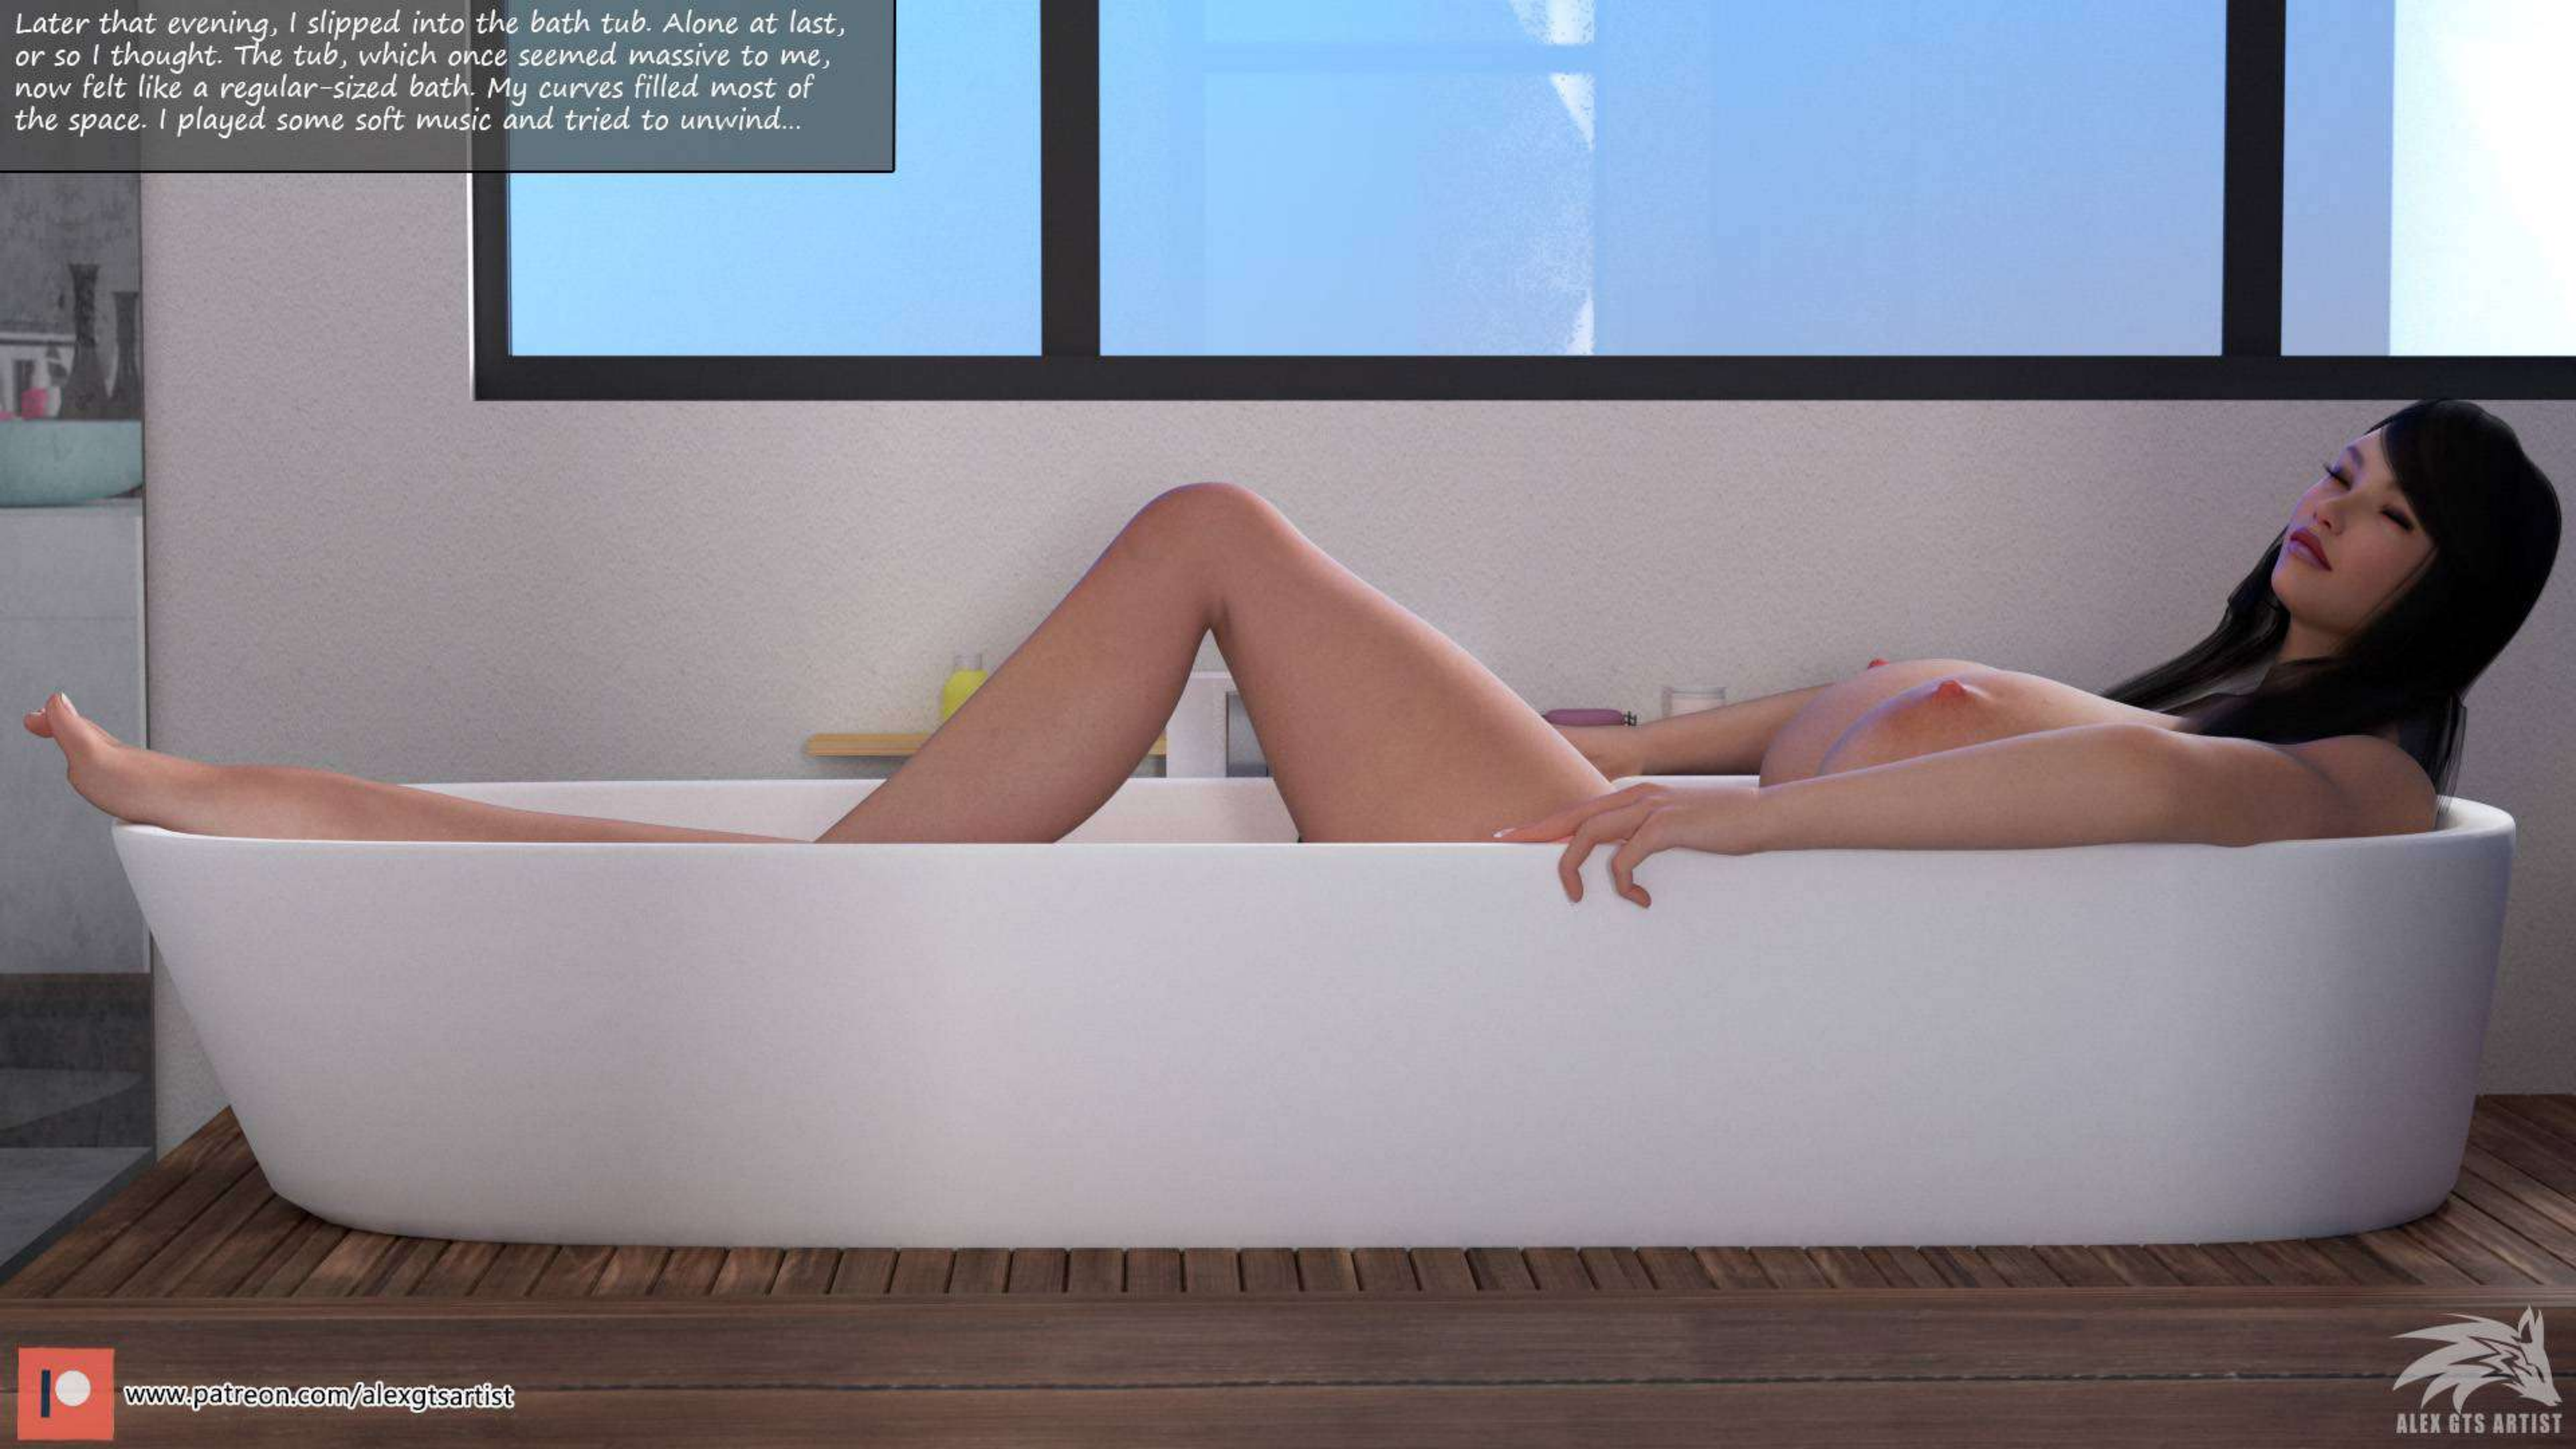

After a few months apart, I invited Erin over. She immediately noticed how much I'd changed—how could she not? She suggested we measure my height in heels. No surprise: I was taller than the 12-foot scale, likely by a full foot. I told her that without the heels I was eleven feet and eleven inches. She didn't believe me and insisted on checking herself.

www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist

"Twelve feet!" she confirmed—maybe even a tad more. That was interesting. Since my wedding, I'd been going through sudden, intense spurts, but this time it felt different. Slower. More stable. For the first time in over a year, I might actually be growing normally again. Naturally, the scientist in Erin perked up. She was intrigued.

Then again, Erin being Erin... her hands couldn't resist. She grabbed hold of one of my breasts with both hands—though "grabbed" is generous. Her tiny fingers barely made it halfway across. She squeezed and lifted, visibly struggling under the weight. "How is this so fucking heavy?" she laughed. (Her words, not mine.) She swore she'd never complain about her own "babies" again. Compared to mine, hers were featherweights. We spent a couple of fun hours together before she rushed off to the lab—always the busy bee.

Later that evening, I slipped into the bath tub. Alone at last, or so I thought. The tub, which once seemed massive to me, now felt like a regular-sized bath. My curves filled most of the space. I played some soft music and tried to unwind...
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist
ALEX GTS ARTIST

...but surprise—Mark was there too. You couldn't see him in the previous picture because he was completely hidden between my curves. His head was nestled between my pillowy breasts, and his body was cozily tucked between my thighs. For me, it was pure relaxation. For him? Probably the comfiest little hiding spot imaginable.
We had just settled in, and the water hadn't even started running yet. I made sure to keep an eye on him once it did—wouldn't want my husband to drown in my cleavage.
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist
ALEX GTS ARTIST

It's been a few years since I've been taller than the showerhead, but now the water, if I don't crouch, barely reaches my breasts. Showering on my knees or sitting on my legs is uncomfortable, which is why I still prefer the bathtub. Mark doesn't complain—in fact, he often helps me wash my legs before I crouch. With his relatively small hands, it takes him a while, but I enjoy every second of his touch.
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist
ALEX GTS ARTIST

I was sitting on the edge of the tub when Mark suddenly started tickling me. I lost my balance and fell backward into the water (can you believe the tub didn't crack?). Instinctively, I kicked out—my foot pushed him away and he nearly tripped, but luckily no harm done!
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist
ALEX GTS ARTIST

After we finished in the bathroom, he climbed over me— he's getting good at that—and wrapped his arms around my neck, asking me to carry him to the bedroom. It's playful moments like these, that remind me how lucky we are. Despite our growing differences, we've learned to enjoy them— with a smile and a bit of naughtiness.

June 2023

Dear Diary,
Another year, another family photo. Last year my growth came in bursts—huge, unpredictable spurts. But lately it's been slower and steadier, just enough to push me over another milestone: I'm now officially 12 feet tall. I wonder how much further I'll go... and how fast.
Speaking of speed, Miranda absolutely outdid herself. She grew a full foot in just one year—averaging an inch a month. I've never had a growth rate that consistent, and honestly, I doubt she managed that without a little help. She's graduating this month too, and I couldn't be prouder.
Mom surprised us again. After years of staying the same, she started growing too—two inches over the last year. We checked just last month. I can't help but think Dad has something to do with that. Back when they were apart, she didn't grow at all. So... you do the math.
Mark, my little husband, is happier than ever—both at home and at work. Everything's going smoothly. Still, I encouraged him to start bulking up. Let's be honest, handling a wife my size might require more than emotional strength!
Steve is now officially 5'9". I'd had my doubts for a while that he was any taller, and now it's confirmed. At least he owns it.
And Dad? He's a whole new man. He went from chubby to buff—a full transformation. Ironically, the separation might have been good for him. Unlike Mom, who paused her growth while they were apart, he used that time to work on himself. Now they're back together and both looking—and feeling—better than ever.
Until next time—and I'll probably have to bend even more to fit in the frame!

Dear Diary,
How tall was I in this picture? Hard to tell when you've outgrown the 12-foot height chart. Luckily, for comparison, I always have my not-so-tall-anymore husband. He swears I've grown at least a centimeter—that's almost half an inch. Is it true? Hard to say. Clothes feel tighter lately, especially my work outfit. Maybe I've grown again... or maybe I just got a little fatter? Either way, things are definitely snugger.

When I arrived at my office, Kurt was already there. He opened the door, and all he could see—from the floor to the top of the frame—was legs. Just legs. My legs.
He froze, puzzled... or maybe excited. Maybe both. He probably wondered how I could even get through the door, or maybe he was secretly hoping to watch me try.
"At least open the other door for me, will you?" I asked.

Once both doors were open, I began my entrance ritual. With a sidestep, I slid one foot inside. Then came the bend—back, knees, hips—anything to tuck my oversized ass under that poor, outdated frame. Next, I swung the top of my body through, curling and ducking until I could finally bring the other leg inside. Then I stood up.
Well, as much as I could stand up.
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist
ALEX GTS ARTIST

Walking into the office wasn't easy—I had to bend forward, just enough to squeeze through, but even then, my head still brushed the ceiling with every step. In heels, I was clearly taller than the room itself. I started briefing Kurt on today's tasks, listing all the reports he had to bring to my desk. But after just three steps, I noticed he had already fallen behind. Poor guy had to jog to catch up. Let's just say... keeping up with me isn't exactly easy these days.

A few minutes later, right on schedule, Miranda arrived. She was already familiar with the office—she'd been here just a few weeks ago, though we didn't get to meet back then due to... unforeseen circumstances. (Read: wardrobe malfunction) I couldn't help but notice she and Kurt seemed to get along surprisingly well. Maybe a little too well?

As we got to the reason I'd called her here, we naturally fell into symmetrical poses. (There's actually research suggesting people who mirror each other's body language tend to get along better—and we definitely were.)
I proposed she join us as our company lawyer. Yes, she's my sister, but I've read her entire curriculum and I know how dedicated she is. She'll make a great lawyer, and we need her. She was over the moon and accepted without a moment's hesitation. There's still more for her to study and some training ahead with the other lawyers, but she's going to be a real asset to this company. And while we were talking about all this... well, as you can see in the picture, Kurt was in the background doing "Kurt" things.
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist
ALEX GTS ARTIST

I must admit, she was more thorough with her questions about the job than I expected—already a reassuring confirmation that I'd made the right choice. Her determination to achieve and get what she wants was a decisive factor. A clear example of that drive is how quickly she's grown—literally. She wanted to be taller, stronger, curvier. So she didn't just hit the gym every single day; she also found... other ways—some of which I still don't fully understand—to become eight feet tall. And she did all that while studying and excelling in everything else she set her mind to. We definitely share the same blood.
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist

Once Miranda went back home, I asked Kurt to retrieve my chair from the storage room next door. The thing is so huge it made him look really small while pushing it. My shoes, on the other hand, felt oddly tight—maybe my feet were swollen... but it was only morning. Strange.

August 2023

Dear Diary,
I was taller. Bigger. I can tell by how much smaller Mark keeps looking beside me—or, to be precise, by how much I keep growing. One Sunday morning in August, we were lying in bed, hugging. His face next to mine looked so tiny—and it's not like I have a huge head, just... proportional to the rest of me. His legs? Way shorter than my arms. I swear I could wrap my whole hand around his thigh and still have room to spare. But our love was bigger—bigger than I could ever become.

ALEX GTS ARTIST

I sat on the edge of the bed, stretching lazily after our long morning together. As I raised my arms, I felt his little hands wandering around my hips, tickling me as he tried to pull me closer. His upper body barely reached my ass—and of course my ass was far wider than him. With a grin he kissed my lower back, his brave attempt at hugging me from behind ending, quite literally, in hugging my behind.
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist

As my stretching session continued, Mark proposed to help. He told me that my hamstrings are connected all the way up through the glutes and lower back, so if they're tight they can pull on everything else and cause strain. All I wanted was a good stretch, but he was being very caring, explaining how to ease into it without bouncing, to hold the position and breathe so the muscle could actually lengthen instead of fighting me. It was sweet—me trying to stretch, and him lecturing like I was back in school.
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist

From stretching to massages it was only a small step. His hand "slipped" — purely by accident, of course — right onto my breast, and before I knew it he was massaging there instead. To be honest, I didn't mind one bit.
www.patreon.com/alexgtsartist

Afterward, we decided to check my height. I had grown since last month, after all. The problem was the height chart ended at 12 feet, so we had to guess how much I was above it. "One inch?" I asked. "Two," Mark said.

And then—bam! In just a few seconds I started growing again, creeping higher, taller, broader. I thought those sudden growth spurts had stopped, but no—they were back. And what was new this time was that I still kept growing normally, month after month, as if my body couldn't resist.

Mark and I were both stunned. I love growing, but I don't love surprises. I've rewatched my wedding video countless times, seeing my face as I suddenly shot up like Ginormica—thankfully not that big. Still, it brought back the same shock. We called the lab, and luckily both Alicia and Erin were there. We explained what happened. They were just as surprised, but reassured me not to worry. They'll run a blood test and get back to me.

In the end I also called Eri, and she gave me a thorough check-up—measuring everything, top to bottom. The results showed quite a difference compared to my last measurements just half a year ago.

September 2023
Dear Diary,
While I was getting ready in the bathroom, I heard voices coming from the bedroom. It didn't take long to recognize my mother's tone — she was talking with Mark. The last time I'd left the two of them alone hadn't ended well. I tried to remember how long it had been since Mark last saw her. She'd started growing again last month, and I was sure she'd use that to tease poor Mark — who by now was at least three inches shorter than her.

I opened the door to find Mark standing with his face only a couple of inches from her cleavage, which now ended just below his nose. I gasped; the sight caught me completely off guard, especially remembering what had happened before. Sure, she'd had a breakup and was now back with Dad, but it was obvious she still found Mark attractive. Mark quickly waved his hand, saying, "It's not what you think!" while Mom wore an unmistakable "uh-oh, I've been caught" look on her face.

While I argued with Mom, Mark decided it was wiser to slip away for a while — maybe take a walk and return later once things had cooled down. But just as he turned, Miranda appeared in front of him, blocking the exit. She towered over him so much that he had to crane his neck just to realize her cleavage was now literally above his line of sight... and that was without heels. In that moment, he felt as if some strange prophecy had just come true.

The scene was starting to look more absurd than serious. Both Miranda and Mom flanked my poor husband, who at six-foot-three suddenly felt like a child lost in a forest of giants. They burst out laughing together — was this some kind of prank they had staged, knowing exactly how we'd react? I could see on Mark's face a cascade of emotions flicker by: from startled, to confused, to oddly excited.

ALEX GTS ARTIST

I didn't get the point of the joke. Was it just some silly prank made up on the spot? Or was there something more behind it? Did they actually want to get their hands on my husband? I was pissed, not entertained — and I could feel Mark's nervousness radiating. He forced a shaky smile, probably fearing I'd have one of my outbursts, and at my size those never end well. Desperate to change the subject, he pointed out that Mom looked bigger than she had back in June.

When they stood back to back, the difference was glaring. Mom wasn't just taller — she towered, and it was clearly more than the supposed four inches. Miranda, of course, couldn't resist poking fun, teasing that when Mark married me he thought he'd only have to handle one giantess. Instead, he got a whole family of them! And honestly, if things kept going this way, she might have been right.

We headed to the scale to measure my mom — and surprise, she was taller! A full inch taller than just a few months ago. She now stood at six feet seven. No wonder the difference between her and Mark looked so striking. She seemed happy, not even surprised... she probably already knew she'd grown!

Before leaving, Miranda had a "brilliant" idea: she helped Mark climb onto Mom's shoulders to see if he could finally reach my height. Of course, he couldn't — I was still a head taller. So I bent down, meeting his eyes, and he smiled at me in that sweet way of his. We kissed, while the others watched, amused and happy that, after all, everything ended on a warm note.

October 2023

Dear Diary,
This month I was sitting on my reinforced chair at my desk. My legs don't really fit under it anymore, so I usually lift it a little with my knees, it's much more comfortable that way.
We were going through last month's pictures and Mark wouldn't stop complaining about how small he looked. He said it had to happen during his thirties, right when he thought of himself as a tall man his whole life. He kept pointing at one picture in particular, saying he looked tiny, shorter than Sylvia, breast level with Miranda, and shoulder level with me while I was on my knees. I wonder what he will say when he sees this month's picture of him standing next to me.

patreon.com/alexgtsartist

I was looking for something to wear before heading out, but Eri's latest package with new clothes was delayed and hadn't arrived yet. In my wardrobe I found a pair of jeans from a couple of months ago, though I already suspected they wouldn't fit after my latest growth spurt. I was right. I managed to pull them up past my hips, but the moment I tried to button them, the seams gave up and started to rip apart. In a few seconds I had two big holes on my ass and a couple more on my thighs.
patreon.com/alexgtsartist
ALEX GTS ARTIST

I must have sounded really convincing, because as soon as the delivery company heard my name, they moved heaven and earth to get my package delivered just a few hours later. Inside were some new jeans, stretchier than the last pair, which, for a growing girl like me, is definitely a good thing. Still, stretchy or not, they were tight, and getting them past my hips was a real challenge. Even Mark had to jump in and try to help me pull them up.
patreon.com/alexgtsartist
ALEX GTS ARTIST

Finally, success! ...and they didn't rip! These jeans were amazing: long enough to cover my ankles and even reach down to my heels, something every tall (or giant) girl dreams of. Perfect, with a little room to grow... or so I thought. When I looked in the mirror, though, I had to pause. Was my ass bigger? That would explain a lot.
patreon.com/alexgtsartist
ALEX GTS ARTIST

I put on my new crop top, and we started debating (strictly from an average-human point of view) whether there was too much underboob showing. Since everyone has to look up at me anyway, we needed to be sure it wasn't too daring. With my size, hiding everything is basically impossible unless the top is extra long or tucked into my pants... which would really limit my options.
So I finally asked the most important question: could he see my nipples from down there? Mark checked, shook his head, and said no. Perfect. Test passed!
patreon.com/alexgtsartist

I picked a pair of ankle boots (yes, with heels) because these jeans beg for boots. Honestly, the jeans could've been even longer, but I wasn't about to complain the way Mark did. Apparently the heels were "a bit too much." Really? Was he suddenly getting height-complex issues? He's been handling this just fine until now!
patreon.com/alexgtsartist
ALEX GTS ARTIST

Once I put on my boots, he suddenly stopped complaining. His whole attitude softened. Maybe it was just a momentary outburst... or maybe he really is getting a little intimidated by me. He even looked me over one more time and said I looked good. Well... thanks, I guess.

November 2023

Dear Diary,
I was in my room, dancing, with the music turned way up, so I didn't notice Alicia standing in the corridor. Without saying a word, she started tapping her foot to the beat, swinging her hips, and then she joined me. That's when I noticed her long, beautiful red hair bouncing through the air. I turned and bent down as much as I could, and soon we were dancing together.
If she was here, it meant she must have some answers to my questions.

patreon.com/alexgtsartist

After dancing for a good thirty minutes, I dropped onto the bed, still breathing fast, waiting for the adrenaline to calm down. Alicia sat right on my leg and, without asking or warning, grabbed one of my boobs and lifted it slightly. "Heavy," she said.
Coming from her, that actually meant something. She isn't exactly weak. Still, hearing it out loud made me smirk. She asked if they'd gotten bigger lately. I told her yes, they had. "Interesting," she said. Despite the surprise in her voice, that was all she said.
patreon.com/alexgtsartist

Alicia told me a few things. Apparently, traces of their serum were found in my blood. Because it's derived from my own DNA, my body didn't reject it. Somehow, and this was the part she didn't expect at all, instead of being useless it actually accelerated my growth exponentially. That made no sense. I never drank the serum. So how was it possible? Who could have done this to me? Alicia said she looked into it. And she found out who was responsible.
patreon.com/alexgtsartist
ALEX GTS ARTIST

It all started at my bachelorette party, in late March 2022. I had been dancing for a long time and I was completely parched. I wanted something to drink, so Kurt told me he would get it for me. There wasn't a bowl or any oversized glass around that could work for a girl my size, but he noticed a magnum bottle of champagne standing near the table, next to a row of already filled glasses. He carefully refilled the bottle and then handed it to me. At the time, I didn't think twice about it.
patreon.com/alexgtsartist
ALEX GTS ARTIST

Apparently, his glass had been spiked with the serum. It was careless, but Miranda had hoped that little Kurt would grow, or at least part of him. I don't think he took more than two sips before pouring the rest into the bottle.
When Miranda later told the story to Alicia, she said she tried to stop me, but the music was too loud and I didn't hear her. By the time I drank from the bottle, it was already too late. After that, she pretended nothing had happened.
That explains everything. During my wedding, while I was growing and my dress was tearing apart, she had that smirk on her face. She knew exactly why it was happening.
patreon.com/alexgtsartist
ALEX GTS ARTIST

According to Alicia, my body had been adapting to the serum all along. Even though it wasn't rejected, it didn't integrate in a stable way either, and that's why my growth happened both gradually and in sudden spurts. I asked her if this was dangerous for me. She said that aside from the extra stress caused by growing so fast, no, it wasn't. Over time, the spurts should fade, or at least become less frequent and less unpredictable. The kind of growth that had accompanied me throughout my adult life would return instead, stronger than before. But that process would take time. Maybe years.
patreon.com/alexgtsartist

The experiments were still ongoing. The serum that once could be taken only once was now close to being improved. They believed it might be possible to take it at least one more time. The real problem was the antibodies the body develops after exposure. Still, Alicia admitted, almost like a confession, that for a while they had a subject able to withstand the improved serum, and the results had helped the research significantly.
patreon.com/alexgtsartist
ALEX GTS ARTIST

I made it clear that I didn't want anything else in my body, not willingly and not by mistake. Alicia assured me they would never use me as an unaware test subject. That would go against their ethics. Then she looked at my face, stopped, and understood.

December 2023
Dear Diary,
I had no idea what my little hubby was looking for in my wardrobe. When I asked, he was vague, just saying it was something from the past. Fair enough. You could say my wardrobe is a timeline of my life. The problem is that only a handful of those clothes are still wearable, since I tend to outgrow things pretty damn fast.
patreon.com/alexgtsartist

He didn't find it. It was Sunday and we had nowhere to go and nothing to attend, so we ended up relaxing on the bed, talking about our life. Ten years ago, I could never have imagined things turning out like this. I knew I was growing, I knew I would never stop, but I never expected that, so close to my thirties, I'd be over twelve feet tall. And for him, being a doctor, it's even harder. There's no clear medical explanation for how I'm even possible. Yet here I am. I exist, I live, I breathe, and I can engulf almost his entire body with just one arm.
patreon.com/alexgtsartist

I have strong back muscles, but even so, with my breasts getting heavier and heavier, moments like the one in the picture can be painful. I really needed a massage. Mark noticed my back seemed higher than usual. Maybe he's right. It's been a while since I last checked my height. We'll do that later. For now, I really needed a proper massage.
patreon.com/alexgtsartist
ALEX GTS ARTIST

"Twelve feet and seven inches!" he screamed right into my ear. I hadn't grown much in the last six months, but I was still taller. Compared to the last time I checked, I had gained three inches. The fast growth spurts seem to be gone, but if Alicia is right, one could still happen at any moment, adding a few inches in minutes instead of months. I wonder how Mark would react. If he'd have another breakdown like the one two months ago. That was... weird.
