

HOLIDAY JOB

Story by Berseh
Illustration by Alex Hellmann
January 2018

« Dear Mom and Dad,

Too bad the mike and cam of my phone don't work 📶.

At least I can text you!

It's been a week now that I'm working on the job uncle John offered me for the holidays. I'm doing just fine 😊.

He's been training me to be his secretary, isn't that great? In his own affectionate way uncle John makes sure that I fulfill the job exactly as he wants.

The whole family here said they would help try myself at different professional opportunities.

Kiss, B. »

« Dear Mom and Dad,

Always the conservative woman, Aunt Suzy says being a housewife is a real job that can lead to economic, social, even spiritual (sic) achievements 🙄.

She insists managing a household can be a real plus, even for a "modern woman" as she says 🤪.

She's teaching me how to best maintain a happy functional household: table dressing 📄, guest welcoming, house decoration, strict posturing, etc.

I wish you could see me, I've made a lot of progress! »

« Dear Mom and Dad,

Cousin Greg is becoming a very talented photographer!

He volunteered helping me become a model. He says I have great innate aptitudes for this, that I only need to overcome my natural shyness.

Greg particularly loves my smile. Says I open my lips for the camera in a rare, graceful way. Together with his best friend he promised to guide me start a career.

Wouldn't that be just soooo too much 😊?

Kiss, B »

« Dear Mom and Dad,

Cousin Sally says I must definitely build a large network of contacts, on and offline.

She's decided to help 🧑🏻‍💻 🧑🏻‍💻 me develop social skills by making me meet a lot of people around here.

She says collecting the rewards of such an approach is like a gift for her Everybody's so nice, you wouldn't believe it!

Big kisses 💋, B »

« Dear Mom and Dad, everybody here is so happy with my commitment, they want to keep me three more months, an offer I couldn't refuse 🍀 I'm so lucky! Hope you are well, kisses, B. »

Aunt Suzy turned off her niece's phone.

"That's it guys", she said to son and husband, "I've just sent today's message to my dear sister so when you're finished don't forget to put the dumb slut back in her cage."

Turning to her daughter: "Sally darling, how much did she do today?"

"Enough for the three stars restaurant we're going tonight, Mommy. And to pay for the devices and chains Greg wants to use on her for his next photoshoot".

Suzy nodded with satisfaction. Up to now it had been so much fun to write the short text: she knew her sister by heart, that made it easy to fool her.

THE END