What do you want, Kira?

The research team has been cooking something up to increase the strength of our troops.

They want me handing out a few samples of the serum to see how it works on our lower class fighters.

You want to see if this makes us stronger or has any nasty side effects.

So we're basically test subjects.

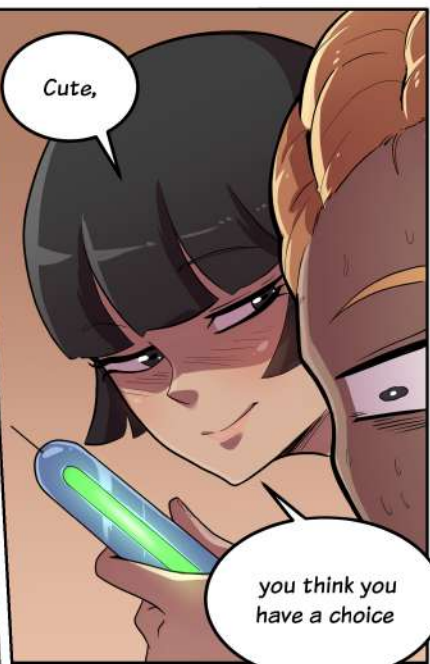

Think of it as proving your loyalty to the horde

Besides, you two want to climb up the ranks right? We'll I'm offering you the solution"

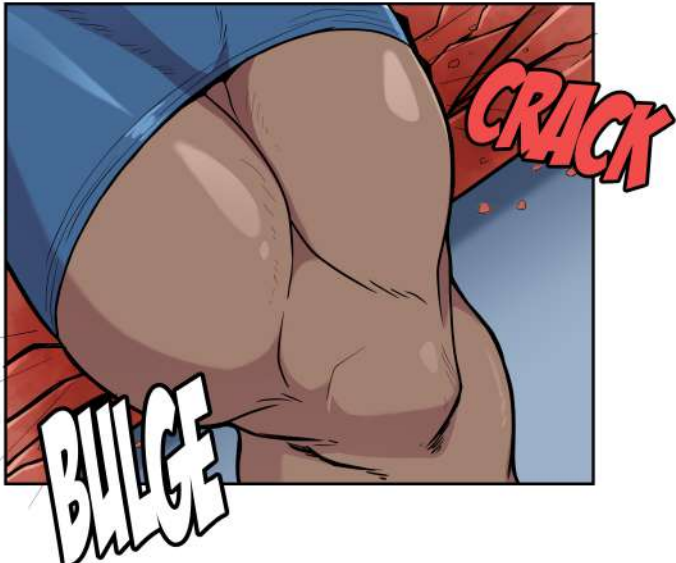

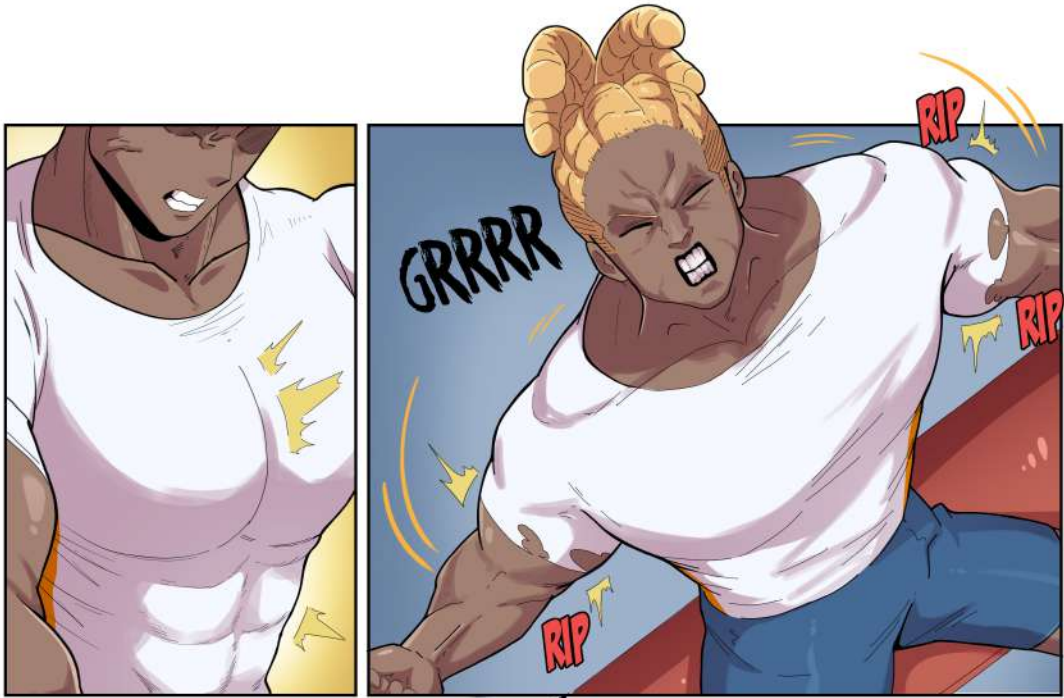

Could we... have a moment to think about it?

After that sheer plowing you gave us, you still have the energy to train?

What can I say? I've got stamina for days

"Aren't you going to be deployed oday?"

Yup, just doing a light workout to get ready

Hmm, you really turned into the horde's greatest soldier

I'll be finishing the battle in no time, so I can come back home and 'claim the spoils'.

How about you come here and give us another taste of your 'battle prowess'?
