

Panty Queenening a Wanker

A mistress queening her submissive male usually culminates with the lady experiencing one or more orgasms, and the wimp under her also may be treated to the release of his tensions. Allowing the male to shoot spunk into the panties he has on should be a reward for him only if he does an outstanding job of entertaining his dominant female and making her ride on his face the ultimate in her excitement.

She can play with his nylon panty-covered penis during the squat, taking him ever higher sexually and deeper into shame by taunting and teasing him while masturbating him to get him to take her to even further heights. And she's in an ideal position to punish his genitals if he doesn't perform up to her expectations. By controlling him, she has great control over her own excitement as she directs his oral ministrations to her cunny and buttocks. Having the female wear panties during the face ride results in her pussy juices being captured in the nylon, intensifying the aromas he has no choice but to imbibe.

For her to force the male servicing her to wear panties adds greatly to their mutual thrills. Compared to a simple queening, a greater experience can be had with both the mistress and the submissive wearing pretty nylon panties. The female can easily reach behind herself to tease his penis through the panties he has on or, better yet, she can sit on him facing his feet, which gives her easier access to his pantied penis and nylon-cover balls as well as a constant view of him in his shamefully frilly panties. For him to know that she is above him gleefully talking and laughing at him as she looks down on him with his hips, butt and genitals in saucy feminine panties, surely adds to his shame.

A further experience would be to continue the queening after the wimp spunks his panties and he is give a clean pair to replace them. Then, his sperm-laden panties are put over his head with the cum-saturated front precisely positioned over his nose and mouth before his mistress goes back to sitting on his upturned face. Then she goes for a second round of him administering to her quim, but this time through two pairs of thin nylon panties. The mistress should experiment with wearing both snug-fitting and loose-fitting panties to discover through which her pussy lover can give her greatest pleasure.

For the superior female to gaze down upon her panty boy is surely embarrassing for him, even if he is a full-fledged panty fetishist because his shame comes from knowing she is watching his penis wrestle around inside his panties until it eventually leaps for joy at it twitches and erupts. She can revel in the discomfort he experiences as he is forced to inhale both the womanly cum on her panties and the ejaculate in the panties he had been wearing.

In addition, the mistress has a great view of the male penis swelling to its extreme proportions as he becomes excited while adoring her through this form of soiled panty sniffing queening that ensures he receives the ultimate in both the wetness and aroma of their combined orgasms.

Many mistresses might want to start a session with the male slave made to don exceeding feminine panties and then made to stand before her in a brightly lit room and masturbate himself as she taunts him for being a sissy, pantywaist and sorry little panty wanker. With him quickly drained of his juices, he then won't prematurely ejaculate and have the stamina to excite her for as long as she cares to ride his face. She often can be brought to many orgasms before he tires or once again ahs the need to spurt up the insides of his own frilly panties.

Of course, the submissive panty fetishist loves nothing better than to toss-off with his mistress's panties, but to make him do it front of her is quite a different matter, and one about which he'll entertain great misgivings. A panty loving sissy feels the utmost of abject humiliation with a woman doing nothing but sitting before him and staring as he humbles himself with a vigorous panty wank — something he loves to do in private but not before a grinning female. The mistress can easily increase his embarrassment with taunts like, "Call yourself a man? Men don't wear ladies' panties! Look how long it takes you to get it all the way up with me watching. How long have I have to wait before I see your panty boy cream spurting into your lace-edged panties!" And "I'm still waiting to see you lose your spunk inside my silky panties — come on, now, let me see that little wet spot in my panties that will make you look like the silly panty wanking fool you are. Well, I'm waiting! Are you impotent or too ashamed to show a woman the real you — a miserable panty loving wimp?"

As he masturbates his prick with more vigor and the agitating nylon arouses him to a peak, he may become so lost in his panty rubbing that he loses his self-control and screams out his innermost secret panty yearnings that would expose him as a disgusting, lowlife, an immature boy who never progressed beyond the teenage boy stage of playing with himself in stolen girlie panties.

"Are we going to have those panties well spunked today or tomorrow?" the dominatrix asks. "I think I'll have to have you under my soft, pantied bottom again in a minute if you can't shoot into my panties for me!"

A nice twist is to make the male put on the panties his mistress has just removed after she has her first face-squatting orgasm. Her warmth of the secretions in the panties -- that quickly become cold and clammy and the accompanying aroma can play havoc with a panty wanker's mind.

Sometimes, however, a woman's panties saturated with her juices is so slippery and slithery that the inferior male has little difficulty in adding to their slipperiness with his own cascade of slimy sperm in double-quick time. However, here again the woman can be all-powerful in her vicious verbal chastisement of him for not being able to control his sexual impulses and rave at him for spoiling her precious panties. "You dirty little devil — you've spunked my best panties just after you put them on! What a fucking failure you are as a man. Can't you stop yourself, you selfish chauvinistic pig! Perverted men like you have no self-control!"

For the well-trained male, his mistress's the all-important panties can be the basis that increases her power and the slave's shame as well as the key to the utmost in her face-squatting pleasure. In addition, once a lengthy session is over, the mistress can make her pantied slave timidly beg to let him keep her panties to repeatedly wank into them and relive the moment in his privacy at home!

Alternatively, when she is fully satisfied and the session is about to end, she can say, "I'm not finished with you yet, panty boy. I demand that you put on my soiled panties and again wank yourself silly as I watch. I order you to have them dripping with your weak, watery sperm before you go home — understand? Any resistance from you while you get on with your little panty love fest will be rewarded by me gagging you with these panties once you've creamed them. And if you don't cum, I'm going to put your head between my thighs and make your panties ripple with the hard strokes of my cane — so come on, you scum, rub my panties against your swollen prick and let's see your balls empty!" #01420-M
