Dear Mr. Duvet,

I've been married to a beautiful woman for several years. I'm deeply in love with her, but could never work up the courage to tell her my little secret. You see, I'm also in love with feminine things! I've been secretly buying nylons, panties and high heels on the Web and wearing them when my wife is not around!

She's always been a sharp dresser with a preference for tight skirts, silky stockings and stiletto heels - Important for an attorney to look her best at the law firm. I just couldn't help myself from sneaking in her drawers sometimes and I would often ask her to wear nylons when we made love. Well, one night she got tired of my innocent requests and made me wear the stockings! That's when my sissification began!
