"Kay, are you sure this is a good idea?"

Christine was concerned and rightfully so. A free, all-expenses paid trip to a "sexual escape" would always be a one of the top sells of a con-job. But she was shocked, both by her arrival at the seemingly flawless resort, as well as her best friend Kayana's anticipation to put the words "sexual escape" to the test.

"I don't see why not, unless you're not MAN enough to handle me anymore sweetheart!"

Kayana was quick to perch herself over the table. The two were floored with the amount of devious toys littering their entire living arrangement. They were set up to act not unlike sexual guinea pigs, which made Kayana all the more excited to know she was probably being watched every step of the way.

Christine slowly made her way behind Kayana, making sure to flaunt her chiseled body and large hips with every step she took. While she was still concerned just about the level of perfection of their current situation, she couldn't help the allure of her friend's near-perfect figure. She grabbed a toy off the table and prepared to go to work. Yet Christine was surprised as she heard an exaggerated sigh from Kayana right before they began.

"Of all the toys they left us here, you REALLY went out of your way to find a small one huh?"

The comment was enough to make Christine smirk,

"Well, I have to start somewhere. Watching your ass eat up this toy will give me some fun of my own you know..."

"Ohhhh, I love it when you talk like that!"

"Starting slow? There a problem back there?"

If there was one positive aspect to Kayana's near rampant sexual desire, she was always a fantastic dirty talker. But for every once of good Kayana was at talking, Christine was equally prepared for her own retorts. Even so, what she was about to say was every bit true...

"Apologies, took a moment to enjoy the sight."

"Oh... Now That's more like it!"

It started off slow, but Kayana was immediately all-in on their time. Christine was intentionally reserving herself to begin, she knew how badly Kayana wanted the dildo but didn't want to let her be the one in control. Kay was basically pleading for the toy at this point, Christine knew she had her well-endowed friend in the palm of her hand now. She slowly began sliding the dildo into Kay's wet pussy. Her moans quickly began shortly thereafter.

"Ohhh... F... Faster..."

"Th... That's it... Keep going! De... Deeper!"

"I don't think you have the right to say anything about what I do back here anymore..."

God her ass is so hot...

"H.. Hm... Hmmmph..."

Kayana was reduced to a wet, incoherent mess. Christine had her fun and Kayana was reduced to a sex doll exactly as she wanted to be. But while Christine took a minute to stop, Kayana only kept herself going further. She couldn't help but to continue to fondle at her pussy as it continued to spill her love juices all across the table beneath her. Her loud moans of pleasure making Christine want to pleasure her friend further. That is, until a peculiar event began...

"K... Kay? Are you..."

"Holy shit! Yo... You're getting bigger!"

Kayana had no idea, she was too busy enjoying her own body to notice. But Christine could tell immediately that something was amiss. Her friend was starting to grow taller before her eyes. Like it was nothing, Kayana slowly ascended upwards...

And the larger she got...

The more turned on Christine found herself as she now stood in the presence of a giantess...

A scene from a game showing a woman with long blonde hair and large breasts in a room with orange walls and a potted plant.

Kayana found herself a moment's respite. Opening her eyes to see the ground below from new heights. She was confused at first, but quickly turned around to try and see Christine. Instead, all she saw were the two round balls of flesh attached to her chest. Not only had her body grown upwards, but her breasts had slowly ballooned outwards as well. Kay couldn't help but laugh at her friend being blocked from sight at first, but attempted to compose herself.

"What's wrong down there short stuff? You're acting like you're basking in front of a god or something!"

Christine couldn't believe it. Her friend just casually grew, far past the height of their luxurious living arrangements and now used that as yet another sexual advance. But... Christine knew it was working. She thought Kayana's body was already perfect, but now her body larger and even thicker than before. Luckily for Christine, Kayana's obstructed view kept her demeanor blocked for a moment, until Kayana noted bright colors out of the corner of her eye.

"What are those?" Kayana asked.

As she grew, the larger Kayana had no issue accidentally tipping over the table she had been using to balance herself upon. Underneath was another treasure trove of toys. Dildos of a myriad of colors, shapes and sizes were left, as if begging to be used upon somebody. Christine looked down towards the area and gasped. Kayana looked down towards the trove of toys and smirked.

"Oh Christine..." Kayana said in a sultry tone, "I think I know where I'll be placing these..."
