SATISFYING THE BOSS'S HUNGER

PART 13

THE FIRST HALF

Sheryl crouched next to her fiancée to whisper into Jen's ear as the organ music changed. "There's our cue, my love. Are you ready to marry me?"
Jen smiled back. "Of course I am. Just remember that snacktime isn't until after the ceremony." She said. "After all, we did invite some people who I'd like to keep around."

Despite her confident words, Sheryl felt her hunger grow as she and Jen took their places at the altar. She glanced back at the guests, friends and family who would serve beautifully as delicious little morsels. Her excitement and nervousness at marrying Jen only seemed to increase her hunger, and she began to wonder if she really could make it through the ceremony.

She turned to face Jen to exchange vows, and felt a twitch from between her legs. Katherine was clearly excited by her part in the ceremony, and Sheryl barely managed to speak her lines without moaning in pleasure as the woman inside her pussy wriggled around.
Jen winked at Sheryl as she spoke her own part, and the expression on her new wife's face just made Sheryl more aroused.

As the minister began to finish the ceremony, Sheryl squeezed Katharina tightly, her hungry pussy trying to find release by sucking the woman up all the way inside. But her pet's grip was strong, and she stayed outside, teasing Sheryl as she wriggled more.

Sheryl closed her eyes and imagined what would happen if their toy made her lose control completely and give in to her hunger. It would be so easy to rampage through the crowd to fill the ache deep inside her. She felt her breath quicken with excitement as she lost focus on the ceremony and began to daydream.

She would start by pulling down her top, to relieve her aching nipples.

"Naughty, naughty girl, Katharina." She would say, reaching for the hem of her billowing skirt.

Sheryl could imagine the surprised look on Katharina's face as she exposed their secret to everyone watching. Their guests would be scandalized, but Sheryl wouldn't care. Neither would they, once she finished with them.

Only when Sheryl shoved her panties down, out of Katharina's grip would the woman realize she had gone too far, and by then it would be far too late.

Her screams and struggles would do no good, of course, but they would feel wonderful as Sheryl finally let her pussy consume the little tease.

That first orgasm would begin as Katharina made one final bid for freedom, only to be silenced by Sheryl's pussy.

Of course, Jen would be upset that Sheryl was interrupting their wedding, but Sheryl be too hungry to care.

Katharina would flail her arms, looking for an escape, but her as she slid deeper inside.

As she was sucked deeper inside, Katharina's outstretched hand would grab desperately for something to hold onto, until that, too, was sucked inside of her.

Sheryl imagined the guests scattering as she finished off her first snack. She hadn't eaten in over a day, and the wedding preparations had worked up an appetite. Sheryl was always hungry, but now she was positively voracious. As she imagined her body rapidly digesting Katharina, she wanted more. Needed more.

As she came down from her orgasm, Sheryl would realize that the ceremony was ruined. Still, why let a good crowd go to waste? Katharina wouldn't truly satisfy her hunger, not all by herself.

"Now it's your turn!" Sheryl imagined herself saying as she scooped up the closest two guests.
"Sheryl, no! Let them go!" Jen would scream, but to no avail. The hunger had Sheryl, and she would not stop until she was full. Jen would have to understand, wouldn't she?

Then, Sheryl imagined the feel of her prey's head filling her mouth. She would wrap her lips around the woman's neck and swallow.

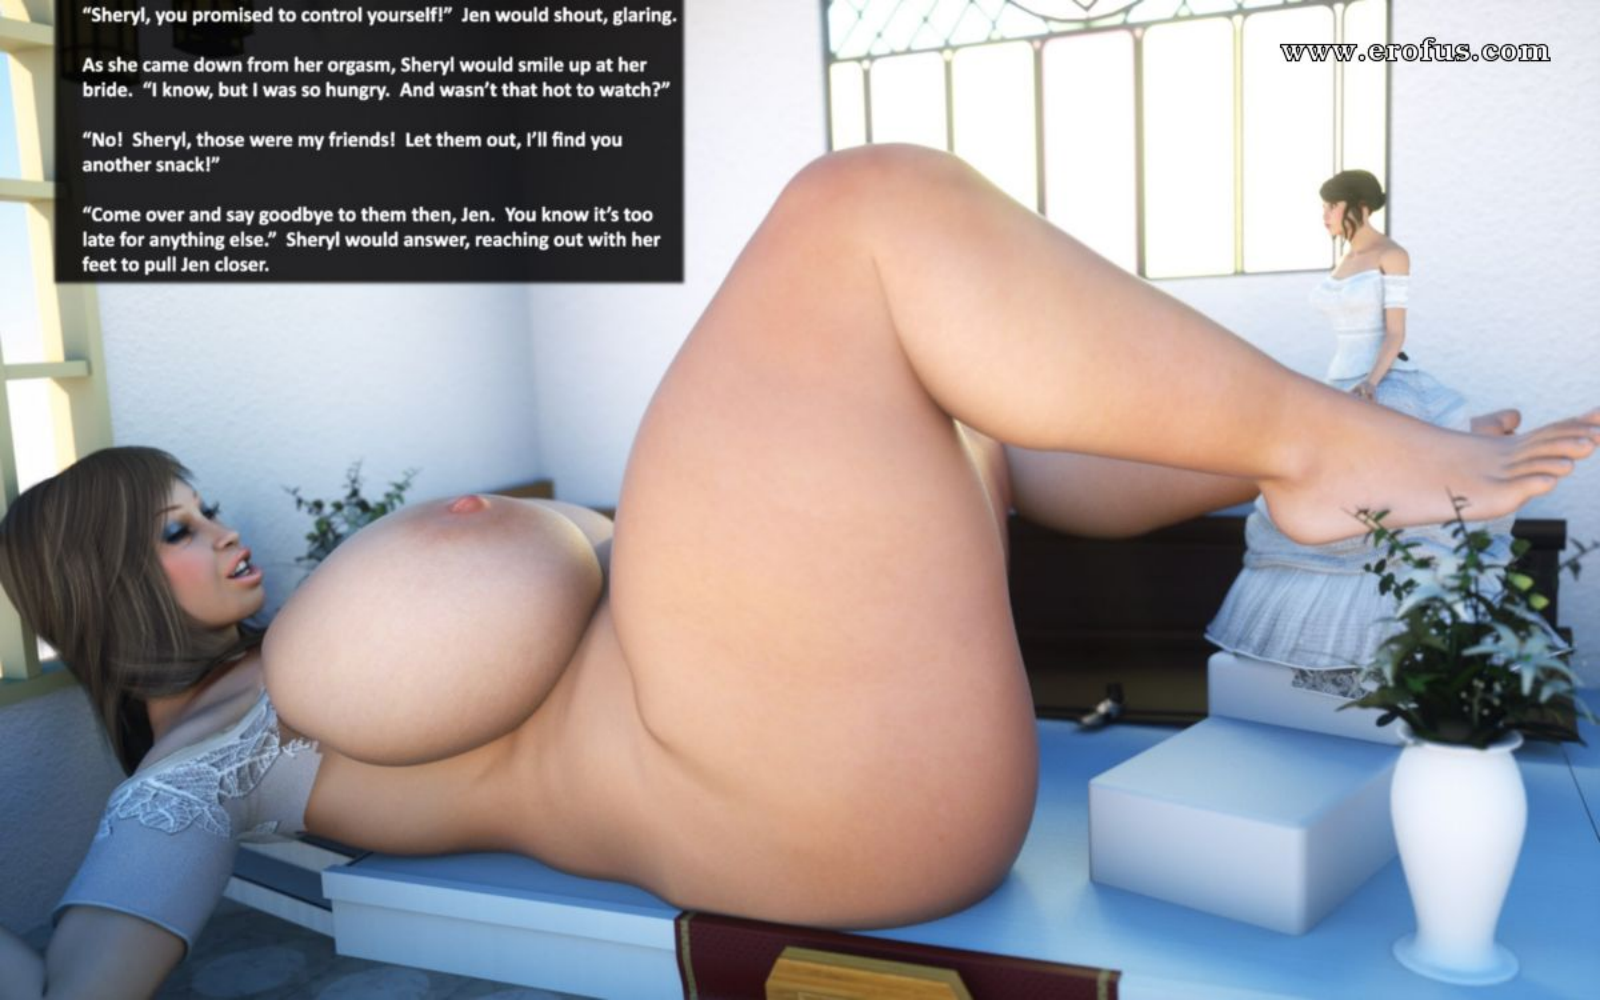

The woman in her other hand would scream in horror, and that would be the moment when Sheryl plunged the woman feet-first into her drooling pussy.

A thrill ran through Sheryl as she imagined swallowing with both her mouths at the same time. Her belly rumbled at the thought, and a quiet moan escaped her lips.

She would take them slowly, savoring their struggles.

While she was distracted, the rest of their guests would run for the exits, trying frantically to escape this disaster of a wedding. The outer doors would be locked, of course, but Sheryl would let them try to escape while she finished her current meal.

As the last of her prey slipped inside, Sheryl would reach down and bring herself to orgasm once more to send them off.

"Sheryl, you promised to control yourself!" Jen would shout, glaring.
As she came down from her orgasm, Sheryl would smile up at her bride. "I know, but I was so hungry. And wasn't that hot to watch?"
"No! Sheryl, those were my friends! Let them out, I'll find you another snack!"
"Come over and say goodbye to them then, Jen. You know it's too late for anything else." Sheryl would answer, reaching out with her feet to pull Jen closer.

"Come closer, Jen. They're almost gone, so you'll have to be quick." Sheryl wouldn't be able to help rubbing it in, even though she could tell Jen was not enjoying this the way she usually did.

Sheryl would reach out and grab her wife gently but firmly, pulling her close. "Don't worry, they'll always be with us now, just like all the others." She would say soothingly, but a part of her would know that she had finally gone too far.

"I needed them," Sheryl said, staring distantly at Jen. "I needed them all inside of me..."

"Sheryl, please. This was supposed to be our special day, and you've ruined it!" Jen would sob as she saw Sheryl's body absorb her friends.

"That's why you need to be part of me, Jen." Sheryl would answer. "You and I will be together forever now."
Jen would only have time for one final scream before being silenced by her wife's pussy.

That lovely silk dress of Jen's would tickle Sheryl in all the right places as her wife slid deep inside, sending Jen would kick and struggle, her dress cushioning the impact. Sheryl's voracious pussy pulled Jen inside of her, dress and all.
