Journalist saved

As reported yesterday, the journalist Simone Simpson was kidnapped. Due to many numerous clues and Ms. Simpson's notes, a slave trafficking ring was tracked down and the entire gang was arrested.

Including Ms. Simpson, they held 15 girls in captivity, which were tortured and forced to work in their mines under the most adverse conditions.

As the investigation revealed, stinking cheese was produced in these mines and the cheese sold on the black market.

Miss Simpson was physically and psychologically totally exhausted and taken to Tomsen Town Hospital. According to the doctors, however, she is already on the road to recovery.

So far Miss Simpson could not be questioned by the police.

It must be mentioned that it was only thanks to the meticulous work of Mrs. Simpson that this slave-trading ring could be uncovered.
