

Smoking Hypnosis 2

Yes, she wants to prove her innocence with a cross-examination.

Contrary to Mia's statement, she's claiming she never brainwashed any women.

According to her, she was just the club manager, and Mia was the true mastermind behind all these crimes.

What?!
I didn't expect her to be that shameless!

There's no way we can play her game right now! Mia is still recovering and needs rest.

I can do it.

Mia!

I'm not surprised she's denying everything.

If a cross-examination is the only way to get her to talk, then lets get it over with.

You know how hard its been for me endure each day, right?

Please, I just want to be freed from this nightmare and move on with my life.

Of course.

I can't admit to something I didn't do.

Quit playing games.

You know you're never getting out of here just by denying your involvement.

I remember everything clearly.

All the terrible things we did.

Acting dumb won't hide the truth,

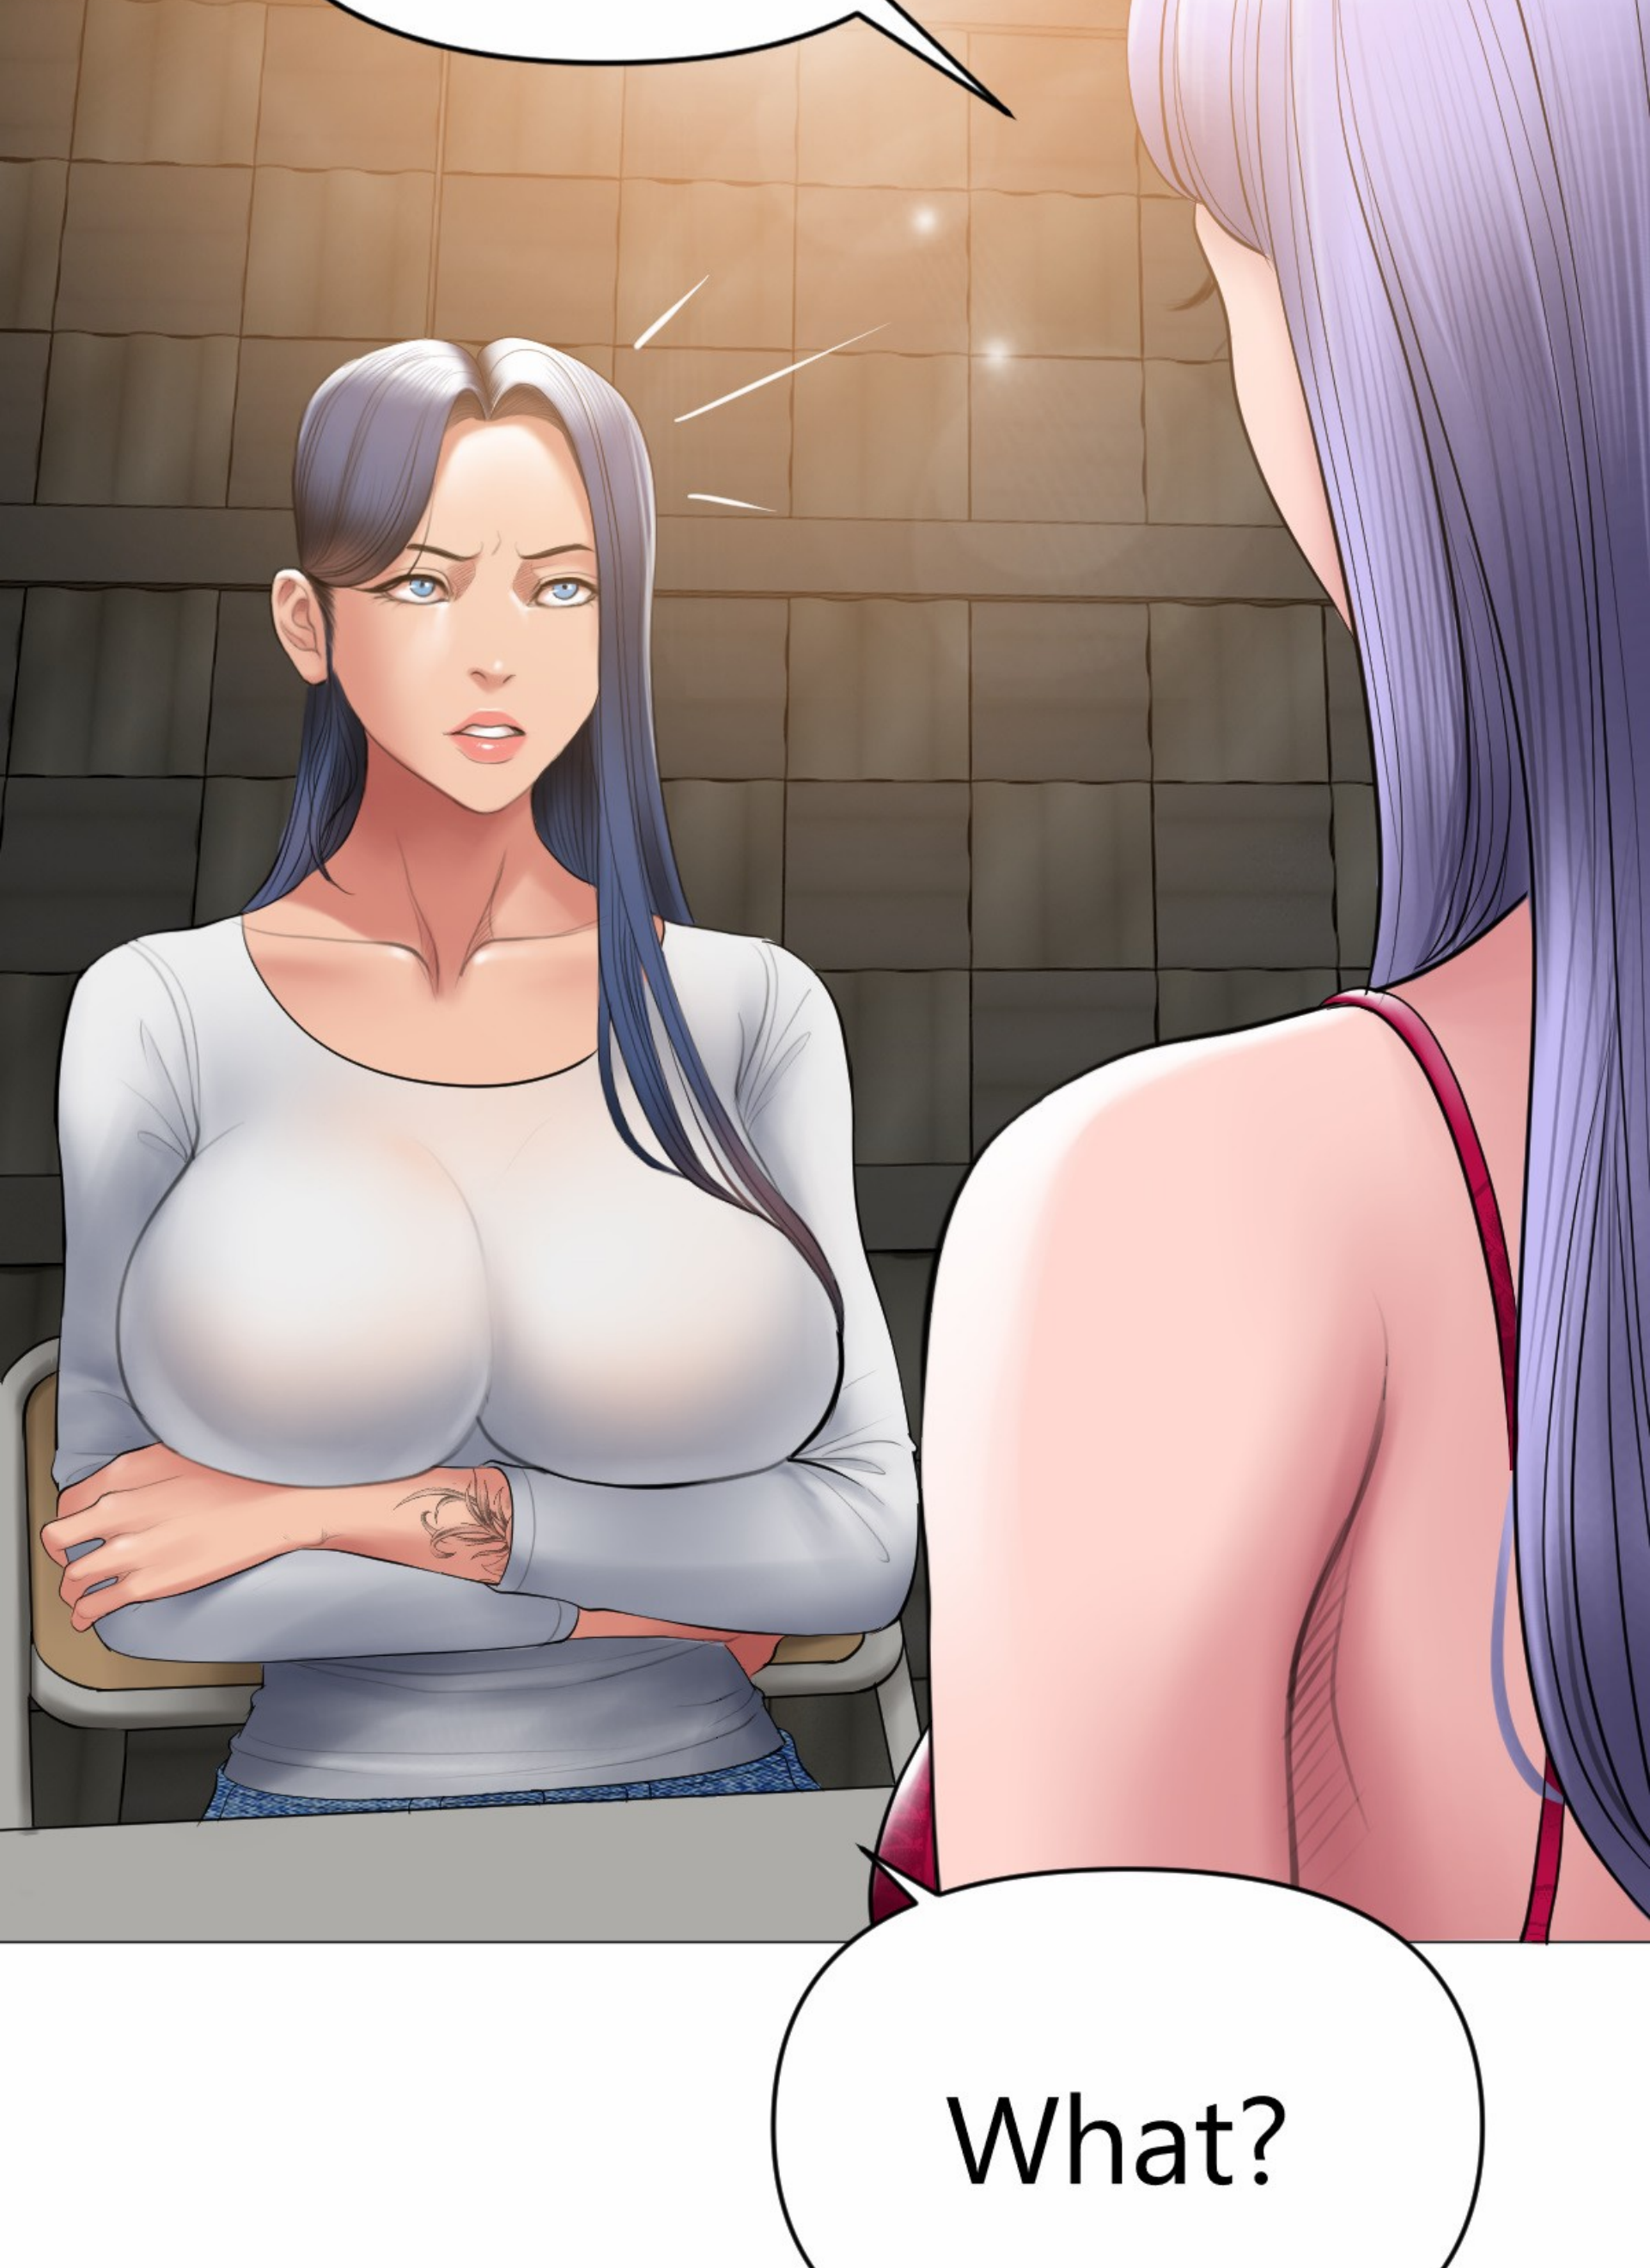

I won't let you hide it.
