

The goblin invasion of earth was in full swing. Several countries had already fallen to the little creatures and women were enslave for breeding purposes or for slave work. However, some women were kept as trophies to be displayed for all to see or to be used as war banners. On such woman used as a war banner was the former mighty superheroine known as Power Girl. She had been defeated in battle with the goblin by their mages and was now used as a war banner to inspire the goblins and to demoralize the humans.

Goblin mages used their magic to conjure up a stone golem and from there, the Power Girl war banner was attached to the top of it so that all could see it. She was naked, exposed for all to see with her body covered in goblin writing. Power Girl was bound and gagged to a wooden frame of sorts that made sure her entire body was on full display. Her arms were tied spread eagle to a wooden pole behind her back with leather strips around her wrists, below and above her elbows. Her hands were encased in leather sacks that forced her hands into fists, ensuring she could never use her fingers to get free. Her legs were pulled back and over her shoulders with her ankles tied off on the same pole right where her wrists were bound. IN turn, Power Girl's pussy and ass were exposed and there was nothing she could do to cover herself.

Another wooden pole ran vertical to that one behind her back to which a collar was wrapped around her throat, binding her to said pole. This was the main pole that held up Power Girl and the goblin magic casted upon it ensured it would never break unless the spell was broken or dismissed. To keep her moans garbled, the goblin's had fitted a large ring gag into her mouth, ensuring that she drooled all over herself as her mouth was kept open. Saliva trailed down her chin and onto her chest, mixing with the sweat and goblin cum coating her chest. Further below, Power Girl's nipples were now pierced with goblin talismans that gave off a dark energy that gave the goblin army strength to keep fighting. Around the base of each breasts, the goblins had tied rope around them, leaving her breasts swollen and aching.

Affixed to the main pole was a small wooden platform that Power Girl's ass rested upon and connected to this platform was a large curved wooden dildo that went into her ass. Said dildo acted as a further measure to keep Power Gill attached to the pole, taking some of the weight off of her arms and legs. The final touch was the ring piercing through her clitoris from which hung a wire metal frame that bore Power Girl's old uniform.

This was done as a mockery to Power Girl and to the humans to let them know that one of their superheroine's had been defeated.

"Angh," moaned Power Girl as the golem marched in formation with the goblin army towards their next destination. It had been several months since her defeat. Several months since she had been captured by these creatures and turned into a trophy. Goblin cum leaked from her mouth, pussy and ass. Moments ago, her Master had fucked her in all her holes as a sign of good luck for him. Now she back on display as a banner. Her weary eyes looked over at some of the other banners and then back down to the ground where her mind wondered how Wonder Woman was doing. The last time she saw the her friend, Wonder Woman was pregnant, being used for breeding purposes to give birth to stronger goblins. Power Girl let out another moan as the pole shifted, causing the dildo in her ass to shift too. Power Girl was no longer a superheroine. She was a war banner for the invading goblin army and she would remain so.
