quickly looked at her reflection, smiling at her appearance and flexing a bit in the mirror. However, this didn't last long.

This was the moment everything changed for the young girl. The next thing she knew, she had fainted, and woke up to the sound of sirens, and was rushed back to the hospital. For the next week, the doctors had been monitoring her vitals and doing all sorts of tests.

It seemed that she was fine, and that she hadn't absorbed anything, and after running some tests, the doctors merely concluded that Jenny must've gotten startled and fainted. After another week, Jenny had been allowed to return home, and things had gone back to normal for her.

Suddenly, Jenny fell backwards onto her bed, groaning and writhing as she moaned, her whole body being overcome with a mix of pain and pleasure, though leaning more towards the latter

Her thighs began to thicken and grow in size, her hips widening, and her skirt growing tighter, as her panties became uncomfortably tight against her rapidly growing butt. Her hips swayed back and forth, her ass growing bigger and bigger and essentially starting to swallow her panties whole.

Jenny sees a crime in progress on the way home from school, and ducks into an alleyway to transform in secret! Thank god she has her modified gym outfit in her conveniently off screen backpack! -- I'll upload another actual Jenny sequence at some point, I'm just having too much fun doing mid transformation images

That night after getting home, she had her first transformation, , and from then on had become the superhero She-Hulk, defending the city from criminals. Her expression became one of determination as she knew what she now had to do. She snuck out of the school building, and lept out into the city, determined to save the day once again.
